

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 381

Where Did Your Today Come?

Natalia's words made Yara's face turn pale in an instant.

She looked at Ian with a guilty conscience and then looked up to glare at Natalia's face.

"What nonsense are you talking about?"

Her reaction made Ian frown slightly.

Natalia said that she couldn't do something like asking a man to sleep with her and taking sexual photos to blackmail him.

Why did Yara have such a big reaction?

Thinking of this, the man only felt a "bang" in his head.

Could it be...

He turned his head stiffly and stared at Yara, who was next to him, with disbelief all over his face.

No! No!

Ian kept comforting himself in his heart.

No way!

"Yara is deeply in love with me. She will never do such a thing!"

Absolutely...No...

Just as the man was persuading and comforting himself, Natalia took out a small projector.

When the projector connected to the computer, it instantly became quiet in the whole room.

Yara looked at the projection on the wall in surprise.

Why...

How could it be! ?

She had saved something in the disk. How could...

Ian looked at the documents full of foreign men's names and could not move as if he had been struck by lightning.

He knew several of these men!

There was even his foster parents' son among them!

Although he didn't know every name in this folder, but...

Every single one of them he recognized had had improper thoughts about Yara.

Especially the son of his adoptive parents.

He not only coveted Yara, but also beat him to half death for her many times!

But now, he appeared in this folder...

What did this mean?

Perhaps Lottie had read Ian's mind, so she raised her eyebrow and glanced at him.

"Brother, it seems that you know many people here."

"Why don't you tell us which one you want to see first?"

Ian was silent for a long time. Finally, he took a deep breath and pointed to the folder of his foster parents' son. "This one.

Natalia chuckled and raised her hand to hold the mouse.

"No, no-!"

Just as Natalia was about to open the folder, Yara, who was tied up in the sheet by Ian, suddenly struggled to free herself.

She was only wearing an underwear. She rushed in the direction of Natalia in disheveled clothes and grabbed her hand holding the mouse.

"Don't open it! No!"

Every document inside could not be seen by Ian!

Ian did not want to kill Ralph with her and get the assets!

If Ian saw the relationship between her and another man and knew her plan using him...

She really had nothing left!

However, Yara forgot that when Natalia put her finger on the mouse, she grabbed her hand...

That was to say, she opened the folder herself.

As the voice of the system sounded, it was too late for her to hide everything.

On the projected wall, photos of her and Ian's foster father's son appeared.

Each picture showed two naked people lying on the bed.

All kinds of postures and angles.

All of them were secretly taken.

In some of them, Yara even smiled at the camera.

He flipped through the photos one by one.

Ian's eyes widened, and he almost stumbled a few steps. Finally, he grabbed the edge of the cabinet behind him to prevent himself from falling down.

He stared at the projection on the wall in disbelief, with his head rumbling.

How could it be...

Over the years, Yara had been the purest, kind, and gentle girl in his heart.

All of his warmth came from her.

She told him that he must be loyal to their love and that he could not flirt but remember her good even if he was handsome.

He kept every word and sentence in mind.

He remembered it clearly.

But now...

Reality seemed to be mocking his loyalty.

For the sake of Yara, he did not have sex with others. He thought that she would really give him the most precious thing on the night of the wedding as she said.

For this promise, he had been keeping himself clean.

Except for Yara, he had not approached other women.

Even if his business had improved over the years, he would clearly refuse some girls who gave him hints.

Because he had a fiancée.

But now, looking at these photos, he felt that his persistence over these years had become a joke.

After flipping through the photos, he saw a form.

The document clearly recorded the process of Yara and this man's acquaintance, and...

The money she had blackmailed this man.

After browsing through one folder, Natalia opened another one.

It was still the same as the folder before.

When the folder was opened, it was full of limited-level photos.

At the end of the photo was Yara's extortion list.

Ian only felt his head rumbling.

He turned to look at Yara with a pure pale face.

"Yara, these photos..."

"What's going on?"

Looking at the photos taken by herself on the big screen, Yara collapsed to the ground.

It was over.

It was over.

Everything was over...

All of her plans had been ruined by Lottie and Natalia!

Ian even asked her what was going on.

What was going on?

This was the real side of her.

She wasn't Natalia who didn't have a peerless appearance, nor was she Lottie who had a set of martial arts skills that could make money for herself and protect herself.

When she pretended to be sick and left Rexwell, she only had more than a thousand yuan on her body. However, she was robbed on the way.

She was not willing to work hard or suffer, so she had to find some men who looked rich nearby to sleep with them and asked for money.

Later, she targeted those married men, seduced them, took photos, and blackmailed them.

Many of these people had families. They would rather pay her than make it public.

Therefore, she could escape unscathed from every extortion.

That was why she was more eager to get Ralph's money...

She smiled bitterly and turned to look at Ian's face.

"Didn't you see it?"

"You even asked me to explain?"

"If I explain that these are all fake, will you believe it?"

"Ian, can you deceive yourself?"

Hearing the woman's words, Ian bit his lip and said nothing.

Yara took a deep breath, closed her eyes, and sneered.

"You're still asking me what's going on?"

"Do you think the start-up funds of your business before are really clean?"

"No, that's how I earned it!"

"Ian, if I didn't do these things. If I didn't sacrifice myself in bed..."

"Where did your today come from?" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 382 Hand It over

Ian subconsciously took a few steps back, and his face looked extremely pale.

Even the color of the wall behind him was much better than his face.

He couldn't believe his ears and couldn't believe that these words came from his gentle and kind Yara.

Everything that happened today shocked him too much.

Including the things that Lottie and Natalia had taken out, as well as everything that Yara had said.

He even thought that he was dreaming.

If it weren't for his dream, how could Yara have become so non-disciplined and said such things to him?

But if it was really a dream...

Why did his heart ache, and he felt so real?

Lottie frowned and swept a cold glance at Yara.

"You said that without the start-up funds for Brother Louis, he wouldn't have been who he is today."

She narrowed her eyes and said, "Yara, how much did you give him to make him so grateful?"

Yara snorted.

"100,000!"

"100,000 yuan may just be the price of a dress and a pair of shoes for you two now."

"But do you know what 100,000 yuan means to Ian back then?"

"If it hadn't been for the 100,000 yuan, Ian would have been a small worker who dragged the mop on the ground and washed the dishes in a small town in the snow in the north!"

After that, she took a deep breath and pulled the coat to cover her body.

"Ian, do you think I'm dirty now?"

"Why didn't you feel dirty when you started your business with my money?"

"You want to kiss me again and again. Why don't you feel dirty when you want to sleep with me?"

The more she said, the prouder she became. Her face, which had been regarded by him like the white moonlight in the past, was now full of twisted smiles.

"Have you forgotten what you said before?"

"You said that I am the only sunshine in winter. Most of the reasons why you survived are for me."

"What? Are you denying it now?"

Ian's face instantly turned pale.

It was not only because his white moonlight and the winter sunshine had changed.

Also because...

How could Yara be so straightforward? In front of the two outsiders, Lottie and Natalia, she took out all the love words that he had once said and the vows between the two of them as a joke.

He bit his lip and clenched his hands into fists.

"Yara, you weren't like this before..."

Yara looked at Ian's face with a sneer.

"Yes, I was not like this before."

As she spoke, her eyes suddenly turned cold.

"It's all because of you!"

She stared at Ian fiercely.

"Didn't you say that I am half of your life?"

"Didn't you say that if I don't want you anymore, you'll go to die?"

"Then you die now!"

Ian's face turned pale.

He took a deep breath and took out everything from his pocket.

Then, he took out all the things that belonged to Ralph and placed them beside Lottie.

In the end, he put all the cards and certificates that belonged to him in front of Yara.

"Yara."

"You say that the money I used to start my business was earned by you like this."

"You still say that without you, I wouldn't have been who I am today."

"I admit that you're right."

"So, I will give you all the assets in Han City."

"This is my savings over the years."

"You're right. Without you, I'm still a cleaning worker."

"So, I can give you everything over the years."

Finally, he heaved a long sigh of relief. "But Ralph's things are not mine. I can't give them to you."

"This life..."

The man smiled bitterly and silently took out a silver-gray pistol from his waist. He pressed it against his temple.

"If you are not what I think, my life is indeed meaningless."

He looked at Yara seriously.

"Yara, you saved my life."

"If it weren't for you, I would have been sentenced to death because of the fire."

"I have no way to invade Ralph's property as you said."

"I can't accept a person like you, either."

"So, I choose to kill myself!"

After that, he closed his eyes and slowly pulled the trigger with his fingers-

"Coward!"

Just as the man's finger was about to pull the trigger, a cold voice of a middle-aged woman came from the suite inside.

As the woman's voice sounded, a black figure rushed directly to Ian.

Jerryl kicked away the pistol in Ian's hand.

The silver pistol fell to the ground with a bang.

Yara and Ian were stunned by what they saw.

The next second, Yara was the first to react.

She picked up the pistol on the ground and pointed it at Lottie.

"Hand over what Ian just gave you!"

Since Lottie was able to take out all the things in her disk, it meant that she had already obtained the recording.

Maybe...

Maybe that recording could really wake Ralph up!

Therefore, she had to get Ralph's things before he woke up!

Just now, she saw with her own eyes that Ian had given Ralph's things to Lottie.

Now she had a gun in her hand. It was the best chance to get what she wanted!

Yara knew very well that at this point, she had no way to take away Kayden's love and Ralph's assets according to the original plan.

But...

The item that Ian had given Lottie just now could allow her to get tens of millions of yuan in a short period of time and run away!

Before Ralph woke up, she only needed to take these things and run away.

She could sell them abroad and then conceal her identity...

No one would ever find her again. She did not have to pay for what she had done before!

Lottie narrowed her eyes and looked at the pistol in Yara's hand.

"Are you sure you want what I have?"

Yara sneered and put her hand on the trigger.

"Lottie, I don't have that much patience."

"You'd better give me everything now."

"Otherwise, if my fingers shake... even if Ralph wakes up, you won't be able to see him."

"Your three children will have no mother from having no father."

"Oh, no. Maybe they will become orphans. If Ralph wakes up and sees you die, he may die with you."

After that, she glared at Lottie.

"Hand it over?"

"What if I don't hand it over?"

Lottie walked over and pointed the gun at her forehead.

"Shoot if you dare."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 383

Daddy Is a Bit Angry

Lottie's arrogant actions caused Yara's eyes to widen instantly.

She gritted her teeth and glared fiercely at Lottie's face.

"Don't think I don't dare to shoot!"

Lottie raised her eyes and looked at her indifferently. "You don't dare to shoot."

"If you shoot, everyone in this room can testify for my death."

"At that time, not only will you go to jail and be bullied by a group of dead row inmates, but you will also be shot and end up like me."

She sneered. "You won't be willing to die."

"Yara, how can an extremely selfish person like you bear to put yourself in danger?"

"So, what you would do is to scare me. You want to get Ralph's things and quickly go abroad to sell them. Then, you will continue to live in seclusion. Wait for a chance to stage a comeback, right?"

Lottie exposed all plans that Yara had made.

She bit her lip tightly, and her face turned extremely pale because she was exposed.

"Lottie, don't force me!"

"Did I force you?"

Lottie continued to sneer.

"You are obviously forcing us."

"Don't think that we didn't know your plans."

She turned to look at Natalia.

Natalia opened the folder named "Ian".

The contents in the folder shocked Ian.

The documents revealed all the plans that Yara had deliberately made to approach him over the years.

Especially, they exposed that in order to make Ian trust her absolutely, Yara set fire to the house of his adoptive parents and then framed him to it, and helped him to reconcile with them using money...

She schemed everything to make Ian fall in love with her.

And the reason...

It was all because of Ralph!

Every documentation would be marked by Yara with very arrogant words in the end.

"I will definitely get all Ralph's property!"

"The Chapman Group will be mine sooner or later!"

"With Ian, I will definitely succeed!"

Every word was like a steel needle, stabbing into Ian's heart.

He had felt sorry for Yara before.

After all, Yara had said that if without her money, he wouldn't be what he was that day.

However, at this moment, when he looked at the plans made by Yara on the projection screen, his heart was broken.

Broken into pieces.

So...

From beginning to end, Yara had been using him!

Because he and Ralph looked exactly the same, Yara knew that his face would be useful sooner or later!

Ian closed his eyes. He remembered that Richeal and York found him a few months ago...

At that time, Ian and Yara were having a happy time in the far north.

In the beginning, he only owned a small store, and finally, he had several large shopping malls in Snow City.

..

He felt very satisfied and happy. He wanted to stay in that small city for the rest of his life with Yara.

Later, the coming of York and Richeal broke their peace life.

On that day, he heard York and Richeal talk about Rexwell. When he learned that he had a younger brother named Ralph...

he didn't want to leave Snow City at first.

It was Yara who grabbed his hand excitedly and coaxed him, saying that he must meet his relatives and reunite with them.

When Ian was persuaded by her, his heart was still warm.

He felt that Yara cared about him so much that she had to let him reunite with his family.

But he didn't expect...

It turned out that these were exactly what Yara wanted.

Even without York and Richeal, she would have brought him to Rexwell sooner or later.

Ian closed his eyes and sighed.

After a long while, he looked up at Yara, who was pointing a gun at Lottie.

"Yara, let it go."

"Although..."

"Although you have been using me all the time and have never been sincere to me."

"But at least you have accompanied me for a long and hard time. Thank you."

"I will convince Lottie and the Chapmans not to hold you to account any further.

"Take the money you gave me and leave Rexwell forever. Don't come back anymore."

After that, Ian took a deep breath and turned to look at Lottie.

"Could you promise?"

Lottie frowned and glanced indifferently at Yara, who was pointing at her with the gun.

"I do want to agree, but look..."

Ian frowned and turned to look at Yara. "Yara."

Yara pursed her lips and put down the gun.

After putting down the gun, Yara looked at Ian with grievance.

"Ian, keep your word."

Ian nodded.

He took a deep breath and looked at Lottie, who was tidying up her clothes. "Lottie."

The man hesitated for a moment before kneeling down in front of her.

"I know Yara could not be forgiven easily by you and Ralph for what she had done."

"After all..."

"If it weren't for your quick-witted response, she might have succeeded."

"When the time comes, the consequences will be immeasurable."

"But..."

He stared fixedly at Lottie's face.

"I hope you can still spare her for the sake of what I have done for Ralph during this period of time.

"Please take it as returning her kindness for me."

"If she would do anything harmful to everyone in the future, I won't care about her anymore."

Lottie pursed her lips and looked at Ian in front of her.

This man not only had the same face as Ralph, but also was responsible as Ralph.

Ralph had been left in the Chapman family by Jenna since he was a child. As such, he had become the current Ralph.

Ian had been sent away from his childhood and lived a poor life in the distant north.

However, neither the poor past nor the scheme of Yara changed his mind. He was also a person that everyone liked and trusted.

Moreover, he was Ralph's brother.

She had no reason to refuse.

She believed that even if Ralph knew, he would not refuse Ian's request.

Thinking of this, Lottie took a deep breath. "Okay, I'll promise..."

Before she could finish her words, the phone in her pocket suddenly rang.

It was the exclusive ringtone of Elijah.

Lottie was stunned!

She quickly picked up the phone.

On the other end of the phone was Elijah's excited voice.

"Mommy, Mommy!"

"Hurry up and dress up. Come to the hospital!"

"Daddy is awake!"

"But..."

"Daddy is a little unhappy. He doesn't want to see the three of us!" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 384

Thank You Anyway

The words from the other end of the phone instantly made Lottie frown.

How could it be?

Ralph loved the three children not less than loved her.

Why would he be unhappy when he saw the three children?

The woman bit her lips and nervously held the phone as she walked out.

"Fabian, tell Mommy what happened to your daddy?"

"Does he... forget you?"

Fabian sighed.

"No, he remembered everything. He didn't lose his memory..."

The little fellow bit his lip and said in an aggrieved voice,

"Mommy, didn't Uncle Hank and you say that the recording can help Daddy to open his mind and wake him up?"

"That's why I asked Brother and Stella to get a three-dimensional, 360-degree sound system to be placed in Daddy's ward and play it constantly."

"In the beginning, Uncle Hank and we were very worried that if Daddy couldn't wake up with its help, there might be no other way."

"But God didn't let anyone down. After we played it for more than three hours, Daddy really woke up!"

"We all happily rushed in and hugged him, but he asked us to turn off the sound system as soon as possible..."

"After we turn off the sound system, although Daddy is very weak, he still very gratefully grabbed our hands and asked us who had the idea to record for him..."

"Later, when he knew it was us, he was very angry and drove us out."

"Now the doctors in the hospital have barely finished a full-body examination for Daddy, which proves that his body is gradually getting better. After that, he only needs to rest."

"But..."

Fabian said with a tearful.

"Daddy has locked himself up in the ward right now. He doesn't want to see anyone. He just wants to wait for Mommy to come..."

"Mommy, what's wrong with Daddy?"

Lottie furrowed her brows.

She didn't know exactly what was going on.

She had to wait until she arrived at the hospital.

"Lottie!"

As soon as she got into the elevator, Natalia chased after her.

She was out of breath and looked at Lottie. "How is Ralph?"

"Let me send you there."

Lottie nodded.

It was indeed not suitable for her to drive now.

Natalia pulled her out of the hotel and onto the car. She lowered her voice and asked about Ralph.

Lottie sat in the passenger seat and looked out of the car window worriedly while telling Natalia what Fabian had just said on the phone.

Natalia, who was driving, held the steering wheel and hesitated for a while. She couldn't help laughing out loud!

Lottie frowned and turned to look at her in confusion.

"What are you laughing at?"

"I'm laughing at Ralph!"

Natalia laughed so hard that her stomach hurt. She said, "Lottie, when you go to see Ralph later, don't tell him that you recorded the recording first, let alone the idea was come up with you together with Hank and the three children."

"Disassociate you and the three little bastards first and calm Ralph down. Let's talk about other things later."

Lottie looked at her profile in confusion.

"What do you mean?"

Natalia glanced at her helplessly.

"You and your three children are usually very smart."

"Why cannot figure it out now?"

Lottie still didn't understand.

Natalia could only let out a long sigh of relief and said seriously while driving,

"Think about it carefully. Although your recording can open his mind, what is it about?"

"It's the recording that Jenny was recruiting her to plot against Ralph, making him think that he and Jenny had sex!"

"Ralph is a man who has been proud for a lifetime. In the end, because he went deep into Jenna Kennedy's base, he was almost killed by a woman like Jenny..."

"And then, when he was unconscious, he was surrounded by this woman's recording..."

"If you were him, could you accept it?"

Natalia's words stunned Lottie.

After a while, she finally understood.

The woman patted her forehead. "So it's the reason!"

After that, she could not help laughing out loud.

She could even imagine how angry and embarrassed Ralph was.

During this period of time, she had been trying every means to wake him up, but she forgot that he was a proud man.

Although the method of waking him up made him embarrassed, at least he woke up. This was the best result.

But...

In order to make this man not angry with her.

Lottie could only follow Natalia's words and disassociate with the three little guys and Hank.

Soon, the car arrived at the hospital.

Lottie got out of the elevator. The three little guys and a big fellow were already quietly standing side by side in the corridor of the hospital.

Seeing Lottie coming, Stella walked over and grabbed her clothes, aggrieved.

"Mommy, what should we do? Daddy used to like me the most, but now he doesn't want to see me anymore..."

Fabian sighed. "I used to be his favorite man, but now he doesn't love me anymore."

Elijah helplessly swept his gaze over his brother and sister before looked up at Lottie.
"Mommy, go in and take a look at him first."

Lottie took a deep breath and walked over to push open the door of the ward.

Inside the door, the man who was weak but still angry with pale face.

Hearing the door open, he frowned.

"Didn't I already say that I won't see anyone other than Lottie?"

Lottie looked helplessly at the man in front of her who felt very embarrassed because of being schemed. "Then do you want to look up and see who I am?"

The man, who was looking down at the medical record in his hand, paused and quickly looked up.

In front of him, the woman in white tilted her head and looked at him with a sweet smile.

He hadn't seen her for a long time.

In fact, during this period of time, he had vaguely heard what she had said in his ear.

However, he felt that he had let her down and was not qualified to return to her side...

At this moment, he finally knew that he had never let Lottie down.

He also knew that when he was unconscious, she had done a lot for him, a lot...

The man looked into Lottie's eyes affectionately, and his lips trembled slightly.

"Lottie..."

"I am here."

Lottie walked over and gently hugged him. "Honey."

She hugged him tightly, and tears fell silently from her eyes.

"You can wake up..."

"That's so great..."

Ralph sighed and hugged her tightly.

"Thank you for asking them to disgust me without a dead end." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 385 I Can Only Be a Child Who Is hated

The man's words caused Lottie frozen.

She still remembered that Natalia had told her to separated herself from the three guys and Hank.

So the woman coughed softly and tried to make her voice sound innocent and confused.

"Honey, what recording are you talking about?"

"What did the three guys do to you? Did they upset you?"

"Do you want me to beat them up?"

Ralph could not help but smile at the woman's words.

He raised her face, grabbed her jaw, and gently kissed her.

"Okay, beat them up and show me, including the culprit."

Lottie felt a little guilty.

However, she still looked at him with a smile.

"Well, the culprit is Hank."

"I will beat him too."

"Honey, tell me, how to beat him?"

Ralph narrowed his eyes with a smile and stared fixedly at Lottie's face.

"In addition to Hank, there is another one."

Lottie frowned. "Really?"

"Isn't that all?"

"One more."

The man smiled. "The woman guided Jenny to say those words in the recording. Is she the culprit?"

His words instantly froze Lottie.

She looked at Ralph dazedly. "The recording... Is there another woman's voice in the recording?"

"Yes."

The man curled his lips, pressed her on the bed, bent down to kiss her neck, and held her earlobe in his mouth. He said in a low and magnetic voice.

"That woman's voice is exactly the same as Mrs. Chapman's."

"Mrs. Chapman, can you give me an explanation?"

"Is that woman Mrs. Chapman?"

Lottie's eyes instantly widened.

She looked at the ceiling, felt the man's kiss, and the warm air sprayed on her ear when he breathed.

"That woman..."

"I..."

"Don't move."

Ralph smiled and gently kissed her ear. "Let me see if it is Mrs. Chapman herself."

As expected, Lottie didn't dare to move.

Because...

She really felt a very dangerous thing was..

Ralph had been in a coma for so long and was still very weak. He could not do such a thing at all!

So he was right. She really couldn't move or stimulate him now...

But Lottie and Ralph had forgotten...

They were now in the ICU ward.

The scene of how they kissed on the bed showed through the huge floor-to-ceiling glass.

"It's not suitable for children!"

Hank silently covered the eyes of Fabian and Stella.

Elijah turned his face away sensibly and held the hands of his brother and sister. "Let's go, let's go take a breath of fresh air."

The three little guys walked side by side in the corridor.

Stella said, "Daddy and Mommy loved each other so much."

Fabian said, "Of course! Otherwise, how could we be here?"

Elijah said, "Don't talk nonsense. When Mommy gave birth to the three of us, they were still not familiar with each other."

Stella said, "I don't care about that. What I care about is that Daddy and Mommy have kissed. Then, would Daddy forget about how we disgust him?"

Elijah and Fabian sighed at the same time.

"Sister, you underestimated our daddy's ability to hold grudges."

Fabian helplessly rubbed his eyebrows. "I guess we won't be able to eat anything cooked by Mommy in the next month."

Elijah sighed too. "In the next year, the three of us can forget about sleeping with Mommy."

"Once Daddy gets angry... Mommy can only belong to him alone. We can't take her away even if we're their own children.

Stella's eyes widened. As she walked, she continued to ask her two brothers,

"Is it so serious that Daddy gets angry..."

At Rexwell Airport.

Ian packed up the luggage and handed it over to Yara.

"All the things I can give you are here."

The man sighed and glanced at the woman in red in front of him, with a sad smile on his face.

"Although you have been using me, you have been with me for so many years."

"My ability is limited. I can only protect you this time."

"I hope you don't destroy other people's love in the future, and don't covet others' property anymore."

Yara took the gift from him and rolled her eyes silently.

"We've already broken up. Don't be verbose."

"But I will remember what you said. I will be more careful in the future."

After that, she waved at Ian.

"Goodbye, my little pawn."

The woman's words made Ian embarrassed.

In fact, he didn't like to be called a "little pawn".

He had tried his best and even used his identity as Ralph's twin to make a request. That was why Lottie no longer blamed Yara.

However, Yara was not only not grateful to him, but also called him a "pawn".

He now knew that he was just a pawn in her eyes.

However, Ian could not help but feel uncomfortable when he heard her words.

Of course, Yara could tell that he was uncomfortable.

But she did it on purpose!

Ian actually had a chance to let her plan go!

However, because of his kindness and his so-called care for his family, he stupidly made all her plans which she had planned for so many years fail.

Thinking of this, she squinted at Ian.

"Ian, I guess you will regret it.

"You let me go today. No matter how you explain it to Ralph in the future that you treat him as his brother, he won't believe."

"Ralph is very suspicious. As long as you do something that draw him into suspecting you, he won't trust you anymore."

"You want to get affection of your family by using me? Dream on!"

"You will regret it sooner or later!"

After that, she dragged her luggage and left.

Ian stood still and watched her leave. His hands were clenched into fists.

He...

"Can't I really get my long-cherished family love?"

Ever since he was a child, he had envied the children of his adoptive parents who had their own parents.

And he...

He could only be a child who was despised.

Now, he finally found his biological father and brother.

But...

Would they really think that he had bad intentions and that he is hypocritical? Would they never afford him the family affection that he wants just like what Yara said?

When Yara dragged her luggage to the security checkpoint, she couldn't help looking back.

The tall man was still standing there with dim eyes.

She curled her lips and couldn't help but chuckle. Just as she was about to walk into the security checkpoint, a man's voice sounded in the distance.

"Yara!"

This voice...

Yara frowned and turned around. "Kayden?" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 386 Now the Result Is Out

At the entrance of the airport, Kayden, who was sitting in a wheelchair, was pushed by a nurse to Yara.

Looking at the expressionless Kayden, Yara smiled awkwardly.

"Kayden, why are you coming to me at this time?"

If it had been before, Yara would have been able to tell how much he loved her.

But now...

When all her motives had been exposed by Lottie and Natalia, Yara suddenly didn't know how to face Kayden.

She was not sure if he knew about what had happened that year or if he knew that she had taken advantage of Ian...

The woman looked at Kayden uneasily. "Why... why are you here?"

Kayden smiled faintly and said,

"Let me see you off."

Yara smiled awkwardly and pretended to be helpless.

"I'm sorry, Kayden."

"I wanted to come back and have a good catch up with you this time."

"However..."

The woman sighed, her eyes full of melancholy. "Maybe it's my fault. If we're not fated to meet again, it's also my fault."

Kayden narrowed his eyes and watched her perform quietly.

After she finished speaking, the man took a deep breath and looked up at her indifferently.

"If we're not fated to meet again, it might be my luck."

Yara was slightly stunned by the man's words.

She stared at Kayden in a daze, feeling that something was wrong.

The woman bit her lip. "Kayden, what... do you mean?"

"What a coincidence."

Kayden smiled and looked at Yara's face coldly.

"The news that you had a conflict with Natalia two days ago was spread everywhere.

"The dean who used to be in the orphanage of the Sea City and a few friends there also saw it."

The man's words made her face turn pale in an instant.

She bit her lip and stared at Kayden's face.

"Kayden, what... what do you mean?"

"Don't you understand?"

Kayden laughed coldly.

"The director of your orphanage said that when you were a child, you always bullied other children and got separated from your family. Finally, Natalia came to the orphanage."

"She even brought some videos of you bullying her."

"But I don't know if you remember that my little princess, who has been writing letters to me, began to complain to me that she has always been bullied by other children."

The man's words made Yara's face turn pale in an instant.

Kayden continued,

"There are also a few friends who know you in the orphanage. They all came to Rexwell and found me. They said that Natalia was a good girl. Although she was always bullied, she was the only girl in the orphanage who was willing to talk to Yara."

Later, you were taken away by Natalia's parents. Natalia pleaded with your parents.

"But when you were in the orphanage, you began to imitate her handwriting. You wanted to use the handwriting and her token to be taken home by her parents."

"As for the later..."

Kayden sneered and said, "I finally know who it was talking to me and who it was learning the handwriting of the little princess.

He looked at Yara coldly.

"At that time, maybe didn't learn Natalia's handwriting in order to compete with her for me. You just wanted to use your handwriting to pretend to be her to do something bad."

"But when you found the communication record between me and Natalia, you deliberately cut off the letter between her and me. You pretended to be her and talked to me in her tone..."

The man stared at Yara's face with his deep eyes.

"Yara, I've never thought that I've always regarded you as a real little princess and the one I love the most."

"But you..."

"But you treat me like a fool!"

After that, the man took a deep breath and threw all the letters sent by Yara, who imitated Natalia, to the ground.

"It's been so many years since I treated them as treasures!"

"But now, these have become a joke!"

"I mistook her for someone else and treated the person who loves me the most as mistress. I kept hurting her!"

He even agreed to her divorce this morning.

He gave her a marriage without love and made her despair about them.

Now that Natalia was leaving, he could not even find a reason to persuade her to stay!

Because everything was his fault, his fault!

If he had been more rational and listened to Natalia's explanation and investigated the people he had interacted with in the past...

Then the ending would not be like this!

Yara stood where she was and looked at the letters that had thrown to the ground. The expression on her face changed from happiness to sorrow to despair.

In the end, she laughed.

"I still can't hide it.

Her lips curled into a charming smile.

"Kayden, you fool. I didn't expect you to be so smart."

"I thought you wouldn't be able to find it in your whole life!"

"Tsk ts, I didn't expect you to be smarter than I thought!"

She laughed coldly and wildly, like a crazy woman who just ran out of a psychiatric hospital.

"But what's the use of knowing now?"

"Natalia is extremely disappointed. She doesn't love you anymore!"

"Otherwise, she wouldn't have given up her marriage with you for Lottie and Ralph!"

"Is it because they are more important to her?"

"No!"

"She wanted to escape from you a long time ago, but she couldn't find a better reason!"

"Kayden, do you know what's the point of all this? Even if you do, you're just a cripple sitting in a wheelchair."

"How can you save her?"

After that, she took a deep breath and said, "Actually, Kayden, do you know that there is a better way now..."

"You can pretend to know nothing and continue to regard me as your little princess."

"In this way, I don't have to be sad, and you don't have to be sad either."

"So that Natalia will be the only one to be sad. Isn't that good?"

Kayden narrowed his eyes and looked at her crazy look. A cold smile appeared on her lips.

"I won't pretend that nothing had happened."

"And you shouldn't have pretended that nothing had happened."

The man took out a pathological diagnosis sheet from his pocket.

"You pretended to be terminal. I thought there was something wrong with your body."

"So, a few days ago, I took you to have a general physical checkup. Do you still remember?"

"Now the result is out."

"Do you want to know what cancer you have?"

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 387

Cultivating Brothers' Feelings

##Yara was stunned.

She looked at the man in front of her as if she didn't understand what Kayden had said.

"Kayden, are you... are you kidding me?"

She was in such good health. How could she have cancer?

Although she had said before that she had a terminal disease, she was more healthy than anyone else!

Even if Natalia had cancer, she wouldn't get it!

Kayden smiled faintly and threw the sheet on Yara. "I give this list to you because you used to be my friend. So that you can have a timely treatment."

When the test sheet was thrown on Yara, it fell to the ground lightly.

She hurriedly went to pick it up.

Probably because she was too nervous, she trembled on her hands when she picked up the test sheet. The test sheet floated in her hand several times and finally fell to the ground lightly.

Seeing this, Ian frowned.

In the end, he sighed and walked up to her. He picked up the piece of paper and glanced at it indifferently.

At a glance, he saw the words on the test sheet.

The words of "Advanced cervical cancer" appeared.

The man paused slightly.

Without saying a word, he handed the test sheet to Yara.

Seeing the words on the test sheet, Yara swayed and instinctively wanted to fall in Ian's direction.

But this time...

He did not support her as usual.

The man turned and left indifferently without looking at her again.

With a bang, Yara fell to the ground.

The intense pain made her instinctively clench her teeth and glare fiercely at Ian in front of her.

She was sick, but he was still avoiding!

"Ian."

Kayden turned to look at him with a faint smile on his face. "You and my uncle are brothers. According to the seniority, I should call you uncle."

"But I don't think so, so I call you Ian. Don't you mind?"

Ian paused and smiled. "No, I don't mind."

As he spoke, he reached out to Kayden and said, "According to the experience of being cheated, you are still so experienced."

Kayden laughed and reached out to hold Ian's hand. "If you don't mind, we can have a drink together and have a chat."

Ian smiled and glanced at Kayden's legs in the wheelchair.

"Can you drink?"

"My leg is broken, not my mouth."

After that, Kayden glanced at the nurse pushing a wheelchair behind him and said, "You can take a vacation now. Leave me to Ian."

The servant nodded and handed everything to Ian before turning to leave.

Before Ian pushed Kayden away, he couldn't help glancing at Yara.

"The money I gave you should be enough for your sickness."

"If you recover in the future, remember not to sleep with a man casually."

After that, he pushed Kayden away.

Yara lay on the ground, holding the test sheet in her hand. Looking at Ian and Kayden walking away, she bit her lip.

What was wrong?

These two men should have surrendered to her, bowed to her, and finally become her best puppets!

Why did they leave her behind and turn around to leave now?

Just as Yara bit her lip and was not convinced, a boarding warning sounded behind her.

She clenched her fists and her eyes were full of hatred, but she still picked up the things and turned to leave.

She could no longer stay in Rexwell.

If she continued to stay, when Ralph woke up...

"I won't spare her!"

Ian and Kayden had a relationship with her, so they were willing to meet her.

However, Ralph was different!

This man was so cruel and merciless that she could not resist at all!

Thinking of this, she quickly turned around and entered the boarding entrance with her luggage.

But unexpectedly..

Before she could enter the boarding gate, someone stopped her.

The person who stopped her was not someone else, but...

It was Ralph's personal assistant, Sean.

At this moment, he had a faint smile on his face and reached out to stop her.

"Yara."

"Why are you leaving just like that?"

"Our master has just woken up and hasn't talked to you yet."

"You just admitted in front of everyone in the city that you are his fiancée. Why are you leaving now?"

"He has seen the video of you saying that you are his fiancée."

"He was very interested in having a fiancée out of thin air, so he asked me to stop you and take you back to find him."

"By the way, explain to him when he asked you to be his fiancée."

Sean's words instantly scared Yara out of her wits.

She clutched her suitcase, tears almost welling up in her eyes.

"I'm talking nonsense! I'm talking nonsense!"

"Mr. Holland!"

"The most handsome assistant, Mr. Holland!"

"Please let me go, please let me go!"

"Tell Mr. Chapman that you didn't catch me and didn't find me, okay?"

Sean looked at her crying face and forced a smile. "But if I really told him that I didn't find you, he might think that I was incompetent."

"At that time, it's fine when I receive the punishment, but if my salary is deducted...

Hearing Sean mentioned the salary, Yara's eyes lit up instantly!

She quickly took out the cards and check from Ian's bag and stuffed them into Sean's hand.

"The password is my birthday!"

"There are also several million inside. Mr. Holland, please accept it!"

After that, she directly dragged her luggage into the security checkpoint without looking back regardless of his reaction!

Holding the money and cards in his hand, Sean couldn't help smiling.

The man sighed, put all these things into his pocket, and then found a corner to pick up his mobile phone and make a phone call.

"Master Elijah, we've already done as you said."

"Yara is indeed afraid that he will settle accounts with her, so she gave me all the money your uncle gave her."

"Now she has escaped into the security checkpoint. She should never come back again."

"Yes."

Elijah's faint voice came from the other end of the phone.

"Did you record what I told you?"

Sean paused for a moment and nodded. "You're saying that Yara admitted that she was talking nonsense. Is she his fiancée?"

"Don't worry, I've already recorded it. I'll send it to your email later."

"Okay."

On the other end of the phone, the little fellow's voice was very steady. "The video doesn't need to be sent to my email. Just send it to Daddy."

"As for the money, just give it to Daddy. Let him personally hand it over to Eldest Uncle. It's not bad to nurture our brotherhood!" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 388 Are You Sure You Want to Shoot?

##Lottie and Ralph hugged and kissed in the ward for a long time before Hank knocked awkwardly on the door.

Lottie raised her head.

The scene at the door made her stiff in an instant.

Sensing her reaction, the man who was kissing her neck also raised his head.

At the door of the ward stood a dozen doctors.

There was someone with less hair, more hair, thick glasses, and no glasses...

They were neatly arranged, tall and short, looking at the two people in the ward with embarrassment.

Hank coughed softly and said in a low voice,

"Well, I heard that Mr. Chapman has woken up. All the doctors who have treated him recently have come in a hurry..."

His face turned red with embarrassment.

"Well... since he's a young man, we can understand even if we are doctors."

"But..."

"Mr. Chapman, you and your wife have been kissing for more than ten minutes."

"You have been in a coma for so long, and your physical strength is limited. If you continue to kiss her, you will be in a coma again."

Ralph was speechless.

Lottie didn't know what to say.

In the end, she scrambled out of his embrace, covering her face as she escaped the door.

Hank coughed awkwardly as he watched her leave. He glanced at the doctors at the door.

"Mr. Chapman's wife is... a very reserved person."

A dozen doctors all lowered their heads.

"Reserved?"

"Are you kidding?"

She had been so enthusiastic when she had just kissed him...

"Ah-! It's so embarrassing!"

Sitting in the coffee shop opposite the hospital, Lottie covered her face with her hand.

"It's too embarrassing!"

She only knew that Hank had taken the three children away when she and Ralph were hugging each other.

As such, she hugged and kissed him without any worries.

She was so surprised and excited that he could wake up!

But how could she have thought...

Hank would take so many doctors out to watch the show!

Sitting opposite Lottie, Connie Houghton and Natalia held back their laughter at the same time.

"I think Doctor Hank didn't do it on purpose... Who dares to disturb you when you meet again after a long separation?"

"That's right.

he is still Lottie's little fan. Maybe he is addicted to seeing your kissing scene and forgets many doctors around him!"

Lottie looked up at her two best friends in front of her with resentment. "Come on."

"I really feel too ashamed to go back to the ward."

If possible, she really wanted to find a hole to hide in.

Connie Houghton and Natalia looked at each other and realized that Lottie might really feel embarrassed, so she stopped joking with her.

"That's normal. It's normal for husband and wife to kiss and hug after a long separation."

"Yes, in the eyes of doctors, the patient is just a piece of meat. What those doctors saw just now was two pieces of meat hugging and kissing together. It's nothing."

Lottie didn't know what to say.

Why did she feel that the comfort of these two people was worse than mockery?

Just as the three women were chattering, Natalia's cell phone rang.

The beautiful woman picked up the phone with a smile. The number on it made the smile on her face disappear instantly.

Lottie and Connie looked at each other and then turned to Natalia.

"What's wrong?"

"Is Kayden looking for you?"

Natalia waved her hand and shook her head. "No."

She took a deep breath, got up with her mobile phone, went to the corner outside the door, and picked it up.

"Zack, how's Mom?"

On the other end of the phone, Zack Ross's voice was a little low.

"Mom's still not feeling well..."

"The doctor said it's a very serious disease. If she has to be hospitalized for surgery, she has to do at least... more than a dozen times."

"The 300,000 dollars you gave me are not enough."

Natalia instantly gasped. "What about the insurance? I remember that I used to give money to my family every month and let Dad buy you three insurance."

Zack was silent for a moment.

"Dad has always been reluctant to use the money for the insurance to buy insurance..
."

"He saved up all the money to invest and do business."

"In the end, he was cheated. You know... all bets are off..."

"We really don't have money at home."

Natalia squatted in the corner and closed her eyes in despair.

This morning, a phone call came from his family. His father was cheated because of business, and all his savings were gone.

As her mother was in despair and sorrow, she saw her announce that she would leave the entertainment industry and marry Kayden...

He was even more desperate, so she chose to jump down from the 12th floor.

Because Zack called the police in time, the fire team arrived and put down a life-saving air supply below, and managed to save her life.

But her mother's body was seriously injured, plus she had not been cured for many years...

Natalia's savings of 200,000 were simply insufficient.

She asked someone to sell all her expensive jewelry and barely managed to get 100,000 dollars.

But 300,000 was still not enough for her mother.

Taking a deep breath, Natalia glanced at Connie and Lottie in the cafe.

She knew that if she asked, no matter how much money it was, Lottie would ask Ralph to lend it to her.

But...How could she repay it?

She had declared that she would leave the entertainment industry forever.

She had agreed to give up all Kayden's property.

In the future, she would even find it hard to live herself, so how could she return the money that Lottie had lent her?

No matter how close they were, she did not want to owe others too much.

Taking a deep breath, Natalia bit her lip.

"Did the doctor say how much money was required? How long will it take to get all the money?"

Zack sighed.

"More than 1.2 million... in a month."

Natalia held her phone, feeling desperate for the first time in her life because of lack of money.

One month.

1.2 million.

If Natalia was still the previous movie queen, she could get the money in one week.

But...

When she was in a coma, Kayden had spent too much money to treat her.

When she woke up, she had already calculated the money one by one and secretly gave it to Kayden's mother.

She didn't want to owe him anything.

She had lost her job and had to pay back Kayden's debt, so she was already at her wit's end.

Originally, Natalia wanted to use the remaining 200,000 dollars to maintain her life and find a proper job.

But the accident at home instantly made her penniless.

Where would she get 1.2 million dollars?

"I'll think of a way."

After that, the woman hung up the phone.

Putting away her phone, she casually found a reason to say goodbye to Lottie and Connie.

In the taxi home, Natalia looked through the contact list over and over again, feeling extremely annoyed.

In the end, she stopped her finger at a director's contact information for a sexy model advertisement.

She closed her eyes and smiled bitterly.

"If I can't enter the entertainment industry again, can I take a photo advertisement as a model?"

Thinking of this, she dialed the director's number.

The director on the other end of the phone laughed. "Beauty Natalia, are you sure you want to shoot?"

"It... contains explicit contents here!" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 389 This Work Doesn't suit You

##Natalia took a deep breath and closed her eyes.

The director on the other end of the phone laughed. "Why don't you speak, Queen Natalia?"

"If you still can't let go of your identity of Movie Queen, forget it."

"Although you have already left the entertainment industry, the savings of these years should be enough for you to live."

"Although we have a lot of money in this kind of advertisement, it is indeed harmful to your identity as a super star."

After that, the director directly hung up the phone.

"No... no!"

Natalia bit her lip and quickly stopped the director. "I..."

She took a deep breath and pinched her fingers tightly. "I can."

"I can take photos now. I can sign an agreement now."

As long as the agreement was signed, she could not regret any longer.

That was it.

Natalia told herself.

Although she used to look down on the advertisement of this sexy underwear, now, it could really save her life.

The director said that according to the reputation she had accumulated over the years...

One set would earn 200,000 yuan...

As long as she followed the director to shoot six sets, she could solve all her family problems!

And she could do it one set per day.

In this way...

She could get one million and two hundred thousand in seven days.

Her mom could be saved.

As long as her mother was still alive, her father would not die because of self-blame.

Zack Ross would not be dispirited, and the whole family would have hope to survive.

Reputation?

Honor?

In the face of the health of her family, it was worthless!

"Are you... sure?"

The director on the other end of the line frowned, as if he was surprised by Natalia's quick decision. "Didn't you just announce that you would quit the entertainment industry yesterday?"

Why was she so short of money now?

"Don't ask so many questions."

Natalia gritted her teeth. "Tell me your address."

After a moment of silence, the director directly sent Natalia an address.

Natalia quickly gave the address to the taxi driver.

The director's studio was in a basement in the city center.

In addition to the dimness of the venue, the company was relatively formal.

Seeing Natalia coming, the director personally came out to meet her.

"Hello, Ms. Ross. Just call me Director Parry."

He led her into the conference room.

In the conference room, except for Natalia, it was full of men.

In the middle of the conference room, there was a sexy underwear with so little cloth that it could almost be ignored.

After bringing Natalia in, Director Parry pointed to the box on the table and said, "Miss Ross, this is a formal studio. I don't mean to make it difficult for you."

"They are the photographers and assistants of our film studio."

"Let's first confirm that you have the courage to put on these clothes in front of us. Only then can we be willing to sign the contract with you."

Natalia paused for a moment. Looking at the things in the box that could not be called clothes, she instantly felt her scalp numb.

In front of these people...Was she going to wear this to take photos?"

Her teeth were tightly clenched together. Her body was very stiff.

A photographer at the side sneered. "I told you she couldn't do it, didn't I?"

"Over the years, she has been spoiled by Kayden's management company in the entertainment industry."

"Let's see how many people in the entertainment industry have not taken sexy photos."

"She's the only one. She doesn't take any nude shows, sexy ones, or wear clothes with too little cloth."

"She's so well protected."

"Yes, she is raised by the management company to make money. Those who don't know it will think that she is the wife of the owner of the management company."

Those words made Natalia's face turn pale in an instant.

Indeed.

For so many years, the company had never let her know about these things...

In fact, Kayden would even order his management company to reject the gel advertisement of showing her back.

As the photographer said, she was...She was so well protected.

He had no courage to do such a thing at all.

Thinking of this, Natalia bit her lip and made up her mind. She picked up the box on the table and went into the locker room beside.

But what she thought was one thing, and what she really did was another thing.

Standing in the locker room, Natalia looked at the box in front of her.

She could not take off her clothes.

She really couldn't pass the test in her heart.

But...

If she didn't do this, she really didn't know how to get 1.2 million yuan within a week.

Was she really going to borrow money from Lottie and Ralph?"

But if she borrowed money, how would she return it?

She knew very well that her mother's illness would not only cost such little money.

In the future, she would have to spend the money of her and Zack Ross's working for her mother's nursing.

Then, how could she return Ralph's money?

No returning?

Sorry...She had the bottom line of life and would not allow herself to do such a thing.

Thinking of this, Natalia took a deep breath and finally reached out to unbutton her shirt.

"Thump thump thump."

At this time, Director Parry knocked on the door.

"Miss Natalia, come out."

Natalia was stunned and hurriedly continued to take off her clothes. "What's wrong?"

"I, I haven't changed yet."

"You don't need to change. Get dressed and come out."

Director Parry's words stunned Natalia.

She bit her lip and finally fastened the button. Then she lifted her legs and walked out of the door.

There was only Director Parry left in the conference room outside the door.

The others had already gone to deal with their own business.

Natalia paused. "Director Parry..."

Director Parry waved his hand at her and said with a smile, "Miss Natalia, as I said, this is a formal sexy underwear advertisement."

"Why are you so hesitant and unwilling to cooperate? It seems that we force you to be a prostitute here."

"After our discussion, we all agree that you are not suitable for this job, so forget it."

Director Parry's words made Natalia's head stunned like an explosion.

Even...Couldn't she even shoot an underwear advertisement?

What should she do?

How could she get 1.2 million yuan in a week?

What else could she do?

Thinking of this, she bit her lip and rushed to Director Parry. "Director Parry, please give me another chance."

"I... I will definitely do it!"

"Really!"

Director Parry shook his head. "Forget it, Miss Ross."

"You can do a lot of things, so you don't have to do our job."

"But..."

Natalia bit her lip and said with difficulty, "But I'm short of money now."

"I want to get 1.2 million within seven days, so I really need this job. I..."

Director Parry sighed and looked Natalia up and down. "Our job is indeed not suitable for you."

"But there is a job more suitable for you. I don't know if you are willing or not."

Natalia's eyes widened instantly.

"What is it?"

"It's..."

Director Parry looked Natalia up and down again. "I have a male friend in his sixties, a widowed man..."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 390 You'd Better Persuade Him in Person

"Natalia, the former movie queen, has fallen into the company of a man in his sixties!"

"She announced that she would leave the entertainment circle. Then she would appear in the villa of a 60-year-old rich man. The reason why Natalia quit the entertainment circle is a mystery!"

"What made a former movie queen fall to such a state! She actually hooked up with a sixty-year-old man!"

A few days later, all kinds of gossip about Natalia climbed to the headlines of Rexwell.

There were many photos in these news reports.

Some photos showed that Natalia and the old man were chatting and laughing as they got in the car.

Natalia entered the old man's villa alone and left early in next morning.

More importantly, the two of them entered the villa while chatting and laughing. The next day, the old man seemed to be sending Natalia out in pajamas.

All of a sudden, the news that Natalia had fallen to accompany the old man spread like wildfire in Rexwell.

Early in the morning, at the hospital.

As soon as Lottie finished helping Ralph with his rehabilitation exercise, she received a call from Kayden.

"Lottie."

On the other end of the phone, Kayden took a deep breath and said, "I know. Uncle has just woken up. He needs your care for a week. He can't leave you for a minute."

"But..."

The man lowered his voice.

"About Natalia... Did you see that?"

Lottie frowned. As she took out her phone to search, she frowned and said,

"What's wrong with Lottie?"

She had been busy taking care of Ralph these days. Indeed, she did not read the news, nor did she ask about Natalia's recent situation.

"Natalia, she..."

Kayden sighed. "After reading the news, I contacted Zack Ross urgently and found out that something had happened to Natalia's family."

The man on the other end of the phone said anxiously and helplessly.

"Lottie, tell me. She has a friend like you, and she have an... ex-husband like me."

"If she is short of money, more than a million yuan is just a casual thing for us. Why does she have to sell herself?"

"The news about her is spreading throughout the city. It's really embarrassing..."

"How could she become such a person..."

The man sighed with anger and sadness in his voice.

"Does she know it?"

"I've spent so much effort to protect her from being defiled by men!"

"It's so hard for a single woman in the entertainment industry to protect herself! If it weren't for me... she would have..."

"

"Forget it. Although we were married before, I've never done anything to her..."

"But after she divorced me, because she was short of money, and because of more than a million yuan, she slept with that kind of man..."

The more Kayden spoke, the more uncomfortable he felt.

Lottie couldn't help frowning.

"What nonsense are you talking about?"

She knew exactly what kind of person Natalia was!

In order to protect her, Natalia was taken away by those people. They did not do anything to her while she was drunk.

However, Natalia had been in a coma for so long because she could not overcome the hurdle in her heart!

But now, Kayden said that about Natalia?

On the other end of the line, Kayden sighed and said, "Lottie, it's not that I'm saying bad words."

"But..."

He took a deep breath and said, "The news is clearly written and there are also photos."

"Look at it yourself."

"I hope that as a friend, you can help me persuade Natalia."

"Even if... I can pay for her."

"Tell her to stay away from that old man as soon as possible!"

After that, he hung up the phone.

Lottie frowned and casually flipped through the news.

Those reports and those photos made Lottie furrow her brows involuntarily.

Looking at these photos, the relationship between Natalia and that old man...

It was indeed hard to explain.

However, in these photos, Natalia and the old man did not do anything outrageous.

If that was the case...

An old man in his sixties had found a young and beautiful lover. How could he be so polite?

"What's wrong?"

Ralph, who was slowly recovering with his cane, saw Lottie stare at the phone.

He walked over and glanced indifferently at the contents of the phone.

Lottie pursed her lips and looked up at Ralph. "Do you think Natalia is such a person?"

Ralph raised his hand and gently pinched her nose. "Do you think Natalia is such a person?"

Lottie shook her head. "I don't think so."

"But..."

"Kayden called just now, right?"

Ralph sat down on a chair by the side and asked lightly.

Lottie quickly nodded. "He asked me... to persuade Natalia."

"You don't have to persuade her."

Ralph laughed and looked at the white clouds and the blue sky in the distance.

"Tell Kayden that you can't handle it. Let him do it himself."

"Natalia's reputation is her own choice. It has nothing to do with you."

The man's words made Lottie frown involuntarily.

She turned around and sat down beside him. As she opened the mineral water and handed it to him, she bit her lip. "Why are you so calm?"

Logically speaking, Ralph knew Natalia longer than she did.

Moreover, Natalia used to be Kayden's wife...

This was also related to the reputation of the Chapman family. Why was he so...Indifferent?

Ralph took the bottle of water and took a sip. There was a faint smile on his lips.

"Because I know this old man in his sixties.

The man looked into the distance. "This old man named Philip Sidney got his genitalia cut off when he was in his fifties because of illness."

After that, he turned to look at Lottie. "So, even if he has a young girl as his lover, he can only look at her."

"Moreover, this old man has always been pure-minded and has practiced Buddhism for many years. It's impossible for him to meddle in the common affairs."

"But he has a headache for one thing."

Lottie hesitated for a moment. "What's the matter?"

"This old man has a daughter."

"His daughter? She used to like pursuing stars, and her favorite star was Natalia, the movie queen."

"Now, in order to follow Natalia, she was admitted to the acting university. However, Natalia quit the entertainment industry, so she has been very depressed and has not been studying at home."

"In order to make her happy, Old Master Philip Sidney personally invested in making her the heroine and shot a movie. Because of her personal reason, all of them were suspended."

The man's words stunned Lottie.

She flipped through the photos again...

"So..."

Ralph curled his lips up. "I guess that the reason why Natalia went to find this girl every night... is probably because this girl has a habit of staying up late."

Lottie was instantly enlightened.

She quickly took out her mobile phone and called Kayden.

"I'm sorry. Natalia doesn't listen to my advice."

"You'd better persuade him yourself."
