

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 561 You Should Learn More from Me

Connie's eyes were red. She lowered her head and apologized to Richeal. "I'm sorry..."

Green quickly put her arm around Connie's shoulder and looked at Richeal. "Richeal, that's not the truth. Connie is already very responsible. Please don't blame her."

"Don't talk!"

Richeal glared fiercely at Green.

Lottie was speechless.

"I know you want to speak for her, but is it really good for them to do this?"

"Let's not talk about how many things you have encountered during this period of time and how many insults you have been scolded by the network trolls. There are even countless posts on the Dingdong forum that cursed you in many groups. Now the number of posts has accumulated to 100,000! Do you know how hard those netizens scolded you?"

"Don't think that you are so popular now! With Ralph backing you up, do you think everything will be fine? You hit people at will, do you really think you are a queen? You can settle everything, don't you? Do you think that the entertainment industry is so easy to deal with? No one can stop you, and you can do whatever you want, right?"

Green hadn't seen Richeal so angry yet, so she was stunned for a moment.

The others also looked at each other, not daring to speak.

Ralph frowned. He himself couldn't bear to lecture Green like this. How would Richeal dare?

"Of course she can." Ralph said, "She can do anything she wants to do. I will remove all obstacles for her."

Richeal sneered. "Stop boasting."

Ralph was speechless

"If she wasn't smart enough to fight, she would have been bullied to death by Bridge Joshua when you saved her!"

"And also Rose and Lincoln. These two have been missing for a long time. Do you really think they'll give up so easily?" Richeal glared at Ralph. "What's more, those like Rubby, Hamish, and the others... because Green is your Ralph's wife, how many people have elbowed her out and criticized her?"

"Do you think you can help her return to the entertainment industry? On the contrary, why don't we say that you are her biggest obstacle?"

"Richeal!" Green frowned. She felt that Richeal had gone too far.

She patted the back of Ralph's hand comfortingly, signaling him not to take it to heart.

"I have a lot of negative news about me, which has nothing to do with Ralph. Those who look down on me, whether I am Ralph's wife or not, will still look down on me. And..."

How could Richeal say that Ralph didn't protect her well? If it weren't for Ralph, she wouldn't have the courage to expose Bridge Joshua's evil deeds.

Ralph had even set up a movie set for Green, tailor-made the script for her, and fully supported her work.

How did he become an absolute obstacle for her?

"What the f*ck are you talking about? You don't have the strength, do you? Do you think you can't get out of the show without the identity of Mrs. Chapman? With your acting skills and analyzing the script, can't you get a good script by yourself?"

"Without him, Ralph, the Bells family can't support you?"

Green said, "This is two different things. Richeal, I know that I have done something that was not quite well. I have no objection if you criticize me, but the others..."

"Now am I that wicked person?" Richeal snorted. "Well, it's my fault, isn't it?"

Richeal threw down the things in her hand, got up, and left the lounge.

Silence.

Green felt a little uncomfortable. She got up and said, "Richeal may not be in a good mood. Don't take it to heart. I'll go and see her."

Ralph stretched out his hand and grabbed Green.

Green looked down at him.

"Go ahead. Don't wrong yourself."

"Don't worry. She's doing this for my own good. She won't let me suffer."

Green squeezed out a smile and chased after Richeal out of the lounge.

Connie lowered her head as she watched the two of them leave, one after the other. Tears streamed down her face.

Connie said in annoyance, "I'm sorry, it's all my fault."

If she hadn't caused so much trouble, Richeal wouldn't have been so angry.

She was indeed a disaster.

She would bring trouble to the people around her.

Natalia sat down next to Connie, reached out to hold her shoulder, and comforted her softly, "Don't think too much. Richeal didn't mean to target you. Besides, you are also the victim. We can't blame all the mistakes on you."

Connie shook her head and burst into tears.

Natalia looked at Kayden helplessly as she comforted Connie.

Kayden silently took out a tissue from Natalia's bag and handed it to her.

Natalia took it and wiped Connie's tears.

Kayden cleared his throat and approached Ralph. He said softly, "Uncle, you were so fierce just now."

Ralph rolled his eyes at him.

"In any case, Richeal is also a member of Lottie's maternal family. She treats Lottie as her family, so she said those harsh words. In essence, she is doing this for the good of Lottie. You can just listen to her at this time. Why you helped her to argue? Isn't this adding fuel to the fire?"

No wonder Richeal was so angry.

Now everyone was embarrassed, and the atmosphere was really awkward.

Ralph frowned slightly and said, "But Richeal blamed her for saying that Lottie was not good."

"She didn't say that Lottie was not good. She was worried about Lottie." Natalia also said, "Just like me and Zack, if I did something that made him worry, he would be very angry."

Zack touched his nose speechlessly. "Sisters would be always worrying about their brothers. Why are you still making an exception for me?"

Natalia smiled.

"There's no other way. Zack is more capable than me!"

Zack's expression was cold, but he was very happy in his heart.

Kayden bumped into Ralph's shoulder and said, "Did you see that? In the situation just now, as long as Lottie acted like a spoiled child and said a few nice words, you could take her there. But you insisted on arguing with her. Are you embarrassed now?"

Ralph was speechless.

Kayden patted Ralph on the shoulder and said, "Even you are quite capable in the business world, you have to learn more from me when dealing with domestic affairs."

Ralph agreed, but he glanced at Kayden.

"How can you please your parents?"

"What do you mean by flattering? That's what we should respect for parents-in-law and mother-in-law! If they hadn't raised Natalia with hard work, where could I find such a good wife?"

Ralph said expressionlessly, "They haven't raised Lottie for a few days."

They let Lottie go out and let Claudia's family bully her.

When Green had just married him, he still remembered how she had been injured in order to take one or two shots.

Kayden spread out his hands helplessly and said, "This is also caused by Jenna. The Bells doesn't want to."

Ralph snorted and said, "Alright, I understand. You'd better worry about your own business. After Natalia returns to the entertainment industry, she has so many young fans. You have to take good care of her."

He meant something, but Kayden understood.

"Don't worry, I've arranged everything. I can announce it in two days."

Natalia comforted Connie while taking time to listen to their conversation. She asked curiously, "Announce what?"

Kayden blinked and said, "Nothing. It's a surprise. You'll know soon."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 562 From Now On, I Am Not Single

Although Natalia was very curious about what the surprise was, seeing that Connie was still crying so sadly, she had to put down the question first.

"Don't be sad. You can't be blamed for what happened this time."

Natalia comforted Connie and asked her at the same time.

"But who is the man who splashed your paint today? Did your family encounter any trouble?"

Connie stopped wiping her tears.

In fact, she didn't want everyone to know the relationship between her and Steve, but now, she couldn't hide it anymore.

After thinking for a while, she decided to tell everything.

After Connie spoke, the whole lounge fell silent and listened to her story quietly.

Perhaps because she had cried last time, Connie did not lose her composure this time. Her tone was particularly calm, with a hint of self-mockery.

However, Natalia and the others felt even worse.

While Connie was giving instructions, Green also caught up with Richeal.

"Richeal."

At this moment, Richeal was standing in front of her office's French windows, her back facing Green as she looked downstairs.

She didn't turn around when she heard Green's voice. She didn't even respond.

Green gently closed the door.

"Did something happen?"

Richeal finally turned her head and swept her gaze across Green.

"What are you doing here?"

"When will York return?" Green didn't answer.

Richeal frowned slightly and said in a bad tone, "How would I know about him? If you want to know, why not contact him directly?"

"Why was you so angry? Did he make you unhappy? "

Green approached him with a smile, sat down on the sofa, and then made tea for Richeal fluently.

Richeal snorted and said, "Why did you involve him for no reason? I thought you came here to apologize to me."

"Shouldn't you apologize to me before I apologize?"

Richeal looked at her with uncertainty.

Green calmly poured her a cup of freshly brewed tea and pushed it in her direction.

"Shouldn't you apologize to me after your venting of anger to the people around me because of your personal emotions?"

"York was the one who provoked you. If you vented your anger on me, then I would be wronged. It had been terrible that I had been scolded in the trending search, and I would have been scolded by you when I came back. It's normal for me to be a little emotional, right?"

"What's more, you scolded me so much. I just retorted with a few words and didn't get angry with you."

Richeal was so angry that she laughed. "You still want to get angry with me?"

Green rubbed her nose and said softly, "Do I dare?"

"I think you have nothing to fear."

After Richeal finished speaking, she walked over and sat opposite her.

Green quickly revealed a fawning smile and pointed in the direction of the teacup. "Drink some tea to calm down."

Richeal swept her eyes over Green, then picked up the teacup and took a sip.

"It tastes good," Richeal commented.

The two of them didn't express their feelings. Their conflict just now had dissipated in this cup of tea.

"I know that you don't really want to scold me, but you are worried about me. At the same time, you have something else to worry about, so you can't control your emotions, right?"

Richeal snorted and said, "You know yourself well."

"Of course." Green smiled and said, "What happened?"

This time, Richeal was silent for a long time before taking out her phone. She played with it and moved the screen closer to Green.

Green took over the phone and took a look, only to find that it was York's What's App Moments.

It showed: From now on, I am no longer single man.

And below was an intimate photo of York with a woman. They held hands and smiled sweetly.

"What's wrong with this photo? Did York have a girlfriend?"

Green was shocked and subconsciously turned to look for her phone. "Why didn't I see this on What's App Moments?"

After searching for a long time, she remembered that her phone was still with Ralph.

"You don't have to look at it. I've asked someone to confirm that this What's App Moments is divided into two groups, blocking us."

Green was confused.

"Since he had blocked all of us, how did you see that?"

"I added him with a secret account before," Richeal explained simply.

Perhaps it was because York didn't set up a group for her secret ID, or maybe it was because he only blocked a few specific people.

But no matter what, York did find a girlfriend and wanted to hide it from Richeal.

Therefore, Richeal did not feel well.

When she accidentally browsed this What's App Moments, she felt that all her blood was flowing backward. She didn't want to recall this feeling again.

She felt her limbs go numb. Richeal had mocked him for so many times for not being able to find a girlfriend, but the man turned around and gave her a hard slap in the face.

No wonder York was so active when Ralph asked him to send Elijah and the others abroad.

It was no wonder that York was so happy that he forgot about it after he went abroad. He even delayed his return and even said directly that he would not come back for the time being.

It turned out that he had found a girlfriend abroad.

What was ridiculous was that Richeal had been waiting for him to come back, thinking about how to continue to cheat him with her secret account.

As a result, she turned around and faced a critical blow, but she was not in the position to question York why he did so.

"Richeal, are you alright?"

Green could sense that Richeal was in a bad mood. She sat down beside her worriedly and asked softly.

Richeal shook her head. She had just drunk tea, but her throat was still a little dry.

"I'm fine, but I'm a little unhappy to be blocked by him."

"We've been friends for so many years. How can he hide this from me?"

"Who does he think I am? He really has no conscience!"

However, Green could see clearly that apart from being unhappy and angry, there was also pain and sadness hidden in Richeal's eyes, as if someone had betrayed her.

"Maybe he just doesn't know how to confess to us, or maybe he's just having fun with that girl?"

Green tried her best to find an excuse. "Look, he didn't even tell me or you. He's probably just pretending to have a girlfriend. You know, he's definitely going to attend some banquets with my parents abroad. Perhaps all of this is just for social activities."

Richeal shook her head with a smile. "There's another possibility.

He and that girl are true love. He didn't tell us, just afraid that we would break them up."

"Why should we break them up? This doesn't make sense."

"You don't understand."

Green thought to herself that she didn't understand them, let alone the obscure relationship between them.

They were still fine before going abroad, but why did the relationship between them suddenly become tense?

"Richeal..."

"Well, I'm fine. I'm just a little angry." Richeal obviously didn't want to say more and began to change the topic. "Let's talk about the matter of being splashed."

Green looked at Richeal worriedly. The more Richeal pretended as if nothing had happened, the more serious the injury in her heart became.

However, Richeal had always been strong-willed. If she didn't want to say anything, Green wouldn't be able to pry open her mouth no matter what.

"There's actually something else behind splashed paint."

Green picked a part of Connie's story and hid some details and inside stories. She only mentioned the relationship between Steve and Connie's mother and Steve came to ask Connie for money.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 563 York Is Indeed A Jerk

Richeal didn't look well at first. After listening, she slammed the table and the water in the teacup was shaken out.

"Oh My God! What a bastard!"

After that, Richeal turned around and was about to go out.

Green hurriedly pulled her back.

"Where are you going to?"

"I'll find someone to kill him!"

Lottie was speechless.

Richeal also said that Green was bold. It was clear that she was the unreasonable one!

"It's a society ruled by law now. It's against the law if you do whatever you want," Green persuaded earnestly.

"Look at that bastard, for the sake of money, he even did not care about his face, he should be taught a lesson. Otherwise, he will dare to do this next time! Do we have to continue to be entangled with this kind of person?"

"Connie is the victim of this matter. Before we do anything, we have to think about her mood."

"I'm just thinking about her mood, so I'm going to find that bastard! If Connie has the ability to deal with him, why she had been bothered by him for so long?"

"But..."

"You don't have to intervene in this matter. I'll solve it."

As she spoke, Richeal left the office with her phone in hand. Green couldn't even stop calling her behind her back.

Green knew that Richeal was good at martial arts and had many methods and connections. She was more than enough to deal with Steve.

If it had been any other time, Green would have been very assured to leave this matter to her.

But now, Richeal's condition was obviously not good. No one could predict what she would do on impulse.

Green hurriedly ran back to her lounge. When she pushed open the door, her face was filled with worry.

"What's wrong, baby?"

Ralph was the first to notice that something was wrong with her expression. He immediately stood up and walked towards her.

"Didn't you have a good talk with Richeal? Did she still want to tease you?"

Ralph's face was very dark. No matter if Richeal was from Green's family or not, he would not forgive Richeal as long as Lottie was sad.

Green shook her head repeatedly. "No, it's not between us."

Green was very anxious. She quickly told Ralph that Richeal had gone out to look for Steve and that York had a girlfriend.

"What kind of moments on What's App? Did York really have a girlfriend?" Kayden's ability to grab the key points was excellent.

Last time when they were holding the meeting at Ralph's home, Kayden had left York's contact information, and the two of them had also added friends.

When Kayden heard that, he opened York's what's app moments at the same time, but he didn't see the evidence of so-called York's girlfriend mentioned by Green.

Natalia glared at Kayden and said, "Stop watching the show, okay?"

Natalia was very helpless: "It's not the right time for you to make trouble here, Kayden!"

Kayden had been very calm before, but now he was less and less concerned about his image. Natalia didn't know whether it was good or not.

Green looked at Ralph and said, "I did see that What's App moments on Richeal's phone. York sent it himself and the photos of him and others. He must have deliberately blocked us."

Ralph knew that it wasn't that Green had been wronged, so his face looked much better.

Ralph saw how flustered Green was and hurriedly said, "Don't worry. I'll find someone to follow her now. I'll definitely not let anything happen to her, okay?"

Green nodded. She was afraid that Richeal would get herself into trouble because she was in a bad mood and was too rash. Lottie was not afraid that Richeal would be bullied by someone like Steve or would bring trouble for her.

Ralph went to call Sean, Green heaved a sigh of relief and looked at Connie, whose eyes were wet.

"Connie, Richeal didn't mean to hurt you just now. She was too anxious, and her mood was not good. You knew her, who was stubborn and soft-hearted, and she said that she would help you just now."

Connie shook her head and said, "She shouldn't have gone."

Steve was especially disgusting. Connie was really worried that something would happen to Richeal.

And this should have been solved by herself, but now she let these friends worry about her.

Connie was both guilty and moved. At the same time, she was a little worried.

If Richeal was injured because of this, she would blame herself to death.

"Don't worry. Richeal has always been by my father's side and has learned a lot of skills.

She can fight better than me! Steve has absolutely no chance of winning against her!"

"But..."

"Besides, Ralph would also find someone to follow her. It won't make things difficult for her to settle," Green said. "If you don't believe me, you must trust Ralph, right?"

Connie looked at Green and then looked at Ralph, who had just finished his call.

Mr. Chapman glanced at Connie with an expressionless face. He was not angry but dignified, with a convincing aura.

Even Natalia nodded at Connie. "Since Steve is not related to you by blood and has no legal relationship with you, he shall be a stranger to you."

"You don't have to worry so much. Don't be afraid of Steve's threat."

Hearing Natalia's words, Connie still looked worried.

She had always been threatened by Steve not because of herself, but because she was afraid that she would implicate Alfred and Green.

Steve had said before that if she dared to make trouble for him, he would expose her relationship with Alfred. In addition, he would also reveal the fact that Alfred once liked Green.

While ruining Alfred's reputation, it would also bring a lot of trouble to Green's career.

This was not what Connie wanted to see.

Connie wanted to say something several times but stopped on second thought. Suddenly, a hand reached out and grabbed her.

The warm palms pressed against each other, giving off a sense of peace and strength to her.

"It's okay.

I promise that we won't be affected at all."

Green stared into Connie's eyes and said word by word.

Connie nodded with eyes filled with tears.

"I see. I'm going to issue a statement now to minimize the impact of this matter."

Work might also be a way to adjust one's mood.

Green nodded in agreement. "Go ahead."

Connie greeted everyone and told them that if there was any news from Richeal, they should inform her as soon as possible. After that, she went back to work and took Zack away to help.

In addition to splashed paint, there were also fanatical fan events that needed to be handled in time.

Connie soon devoted herself to her work. She was not in the mood to think about anything else.

After Connie left, Green looked at Ralph with a frown.

"York blocked us with his What's App Moments. What did he mean by that?"

York didn't need to hide his love affair anymore. It was enough for him to keep it as a secret from them.

If he showed it openly, would they not give him blessings?

Ralph raised his brows.

"You're not happy that he's no longer single?"

"Of course I'm not happy," Green said without thinking.

She thought that York and Richeal would get married in the end, because wise people could see that they had a chemical reaction, but she didn't expect that York would secretly find love instead of Richeal.

Was not it like breaking up a real couple?

Green couldn't help but complain, "York is a jerk!"

Ralph's face darkened.

He suddenly remembered that in order to anger him, Green had deliberately pretended to be a fake couple with York.

Did Green have any other good feelings for York? .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 564 I Suddenly Think I Should not be Here

At first, Green hadn't felt anything wrong until Natalia bumped into her arm.

She only raised her head to look at Ralph's gloomy face.

The low pressure all over his body showed how bad the man's mood was at the moment.

It took Green a while to realize what Ralph was angry about, and she didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

Green couldn't help but poke Ralph's chest.

"I said he was a jerk because he lied to Richeal. It has nothing to do with me."

Ralph sized her up calmly and said calmly, "Is that so?"

Green winked at Ralph ingratiatingly. "Of course, I'm telling the truth. It has nothing to do with me whether York has a girlfriend or not. I'm just angry that he has hurt Richeal's heart."

Ralph's face finally looked a little better. The atmosphere in the lounge, which was about to freeze, suddenly relaxed.

"I think so." Ralph said.

Green turned her head and snickered, pulling him to sit down on the sofa.

Kayden was still browsing through York's What's App Moments. He searched from the top to the end, but he really couldn't find that moment of York and his girlfriend. Finally, he put down his mobile phone.

Seeing Ralph sitting opposite him, Kayden couldn't help teasing him, "Uncle. I found you were too jealous. Even I know that York is not your threat. You need not to be too cautious about him."

Ralph glanced at Kayden and said, "If you're not jealous, then why do you have to swear your love to Natalia after the audition?"

"Shit! I was just in a special situation!"

Ralph sneered and ignored him.

Kayden was obviously not better than him, but he still dared to laugh at him.

Green and Natalia looked at each other helplessly.

At this moment, Connie knocked on the door and walked in.

"I just received a call from Mr. Heron. The list of actors has been released. The actors have decided to let you and Natalia play the two leading actresses of "The Twins"."

Green nodded, not particularly surprised.

However, Natalia was a little surprised. "Me? Really?"

"Of course it's you. There are so many actresses in the audition. Which one of them is better than you?" Green said.

Connie also nodded with a smile and encouraged her, "The director and screenwriter both think highly of you. Mr. Heron also just said that he won't let you down."

"But... what about Sherry and Hamish?"

"It's hard for both of them to protect themselves. Now, they have officially withdrawn from the project of "The Twins".

The production staff and producers have changed. The new producer and production staff all approve of your acting skills and external conditions. They think you are the best candidate to play Anna."

Hearing this, Natalia could not help but let out a sigh of relief.

"That's good."

There was a hint of a smile on Green's face. She patted Natalia's shoulder to comfort her before asking Connie, "Who are the other roles?"

"Hey, this is a temporary acting cast."

Connie handed over a form.

Green and Natalia immediately gathered around to take a look.

"Alfred played the role of the prince regent, and the small royal child was played by Quy. If everything goes according to plan, the two of them will be you two's official couple in the play. During this period of time, the crew may have relevant reports, which can be regarded as propaganda for the movie. It won't go too far. It's just that the heating of love reaction among you in the play."

Connie explained while carefully observing the reactions of the two big shots.

Sure enough, Ralph and Kayden's expressions immediately became gloomy.

Ralph said, "Why do you have to propagandize like this?"

Kayden said, "I can't believe it's that brat Quy. Is there anything wrong with your director when picking actors?"

Connie shrank her neck and said, "Well, 'The Twins' is originally a light comedy in costume. Sweet love shows are the biggest selling points. What's the point of marketing without that trick? And Quy, he matches the image of the small royal child."

"Since they've entered the entertainment industry, this level of business must be done."

In fact, Connie's heart was sour. Alfred used to like Green so much, and this time he could take advantage of the opportunity to get in touch with her. Alfred might be very happy in his heart.

However, no matter how jealous she was, she'd better not reveal her emotions.

She was a professional agent and could not affect her own work just because of personal feelings.

Ralph's expression was unfriendly. He glanced at Connie and did not say anything.

Green knew the knot in his heart and comforted him. "Didn't you read the script a long time ago? There's no kissing scene.

At most, we'll just hold hands, and we won't even hug each other very much. Besides, we don't want to hype the real love affair. We just want to let the audience feel personally on the scene, and we can just occasionally interact with each other during the publicity. There's nothing else."

Ralph agreed. Even so, he still felt a little uncomfortable.

His desire to own Lottie alone was too strong. All he wanted was for her to belong to him forever.

"Well, don't be unhappy. I promise I only love you in my heart."

When Ralph saw Green smiling at him, the corners of his mouth twitched as well.

Connie let out a sigh of relief when she saw that Mr. Chapman was being coaxed by Green.

It had to be said that Mr. Chapman's pressure was too strong.

Kayden's face was also dark, but he was not as confident as Ralph in front of Natalia.

However, he acted like a spoiled child. "In the crew, you have to stay away from that brat Quy."

Natalia didn't know whether to laugh or cry: "We have so many opponent scenes. How can we stay away?"

"Then stay away from him when out of the scene!"

"It's not good, is it? After all, we are colleagues. If we are photographed and posted online, others will think that I am bullying the young entertainers. He has a lot of fans."

"Do you want me to replace him?"

"The director has been selected. If you change him again, someone will gossip."

"Then..."

"In the past, you never cared about my filming."

"Can we compare it to the past?" Kayden was getting anxious.

"Quy is just looking naive on the surface. Maybe his heart is dark! He's here for you at first glance. He must have ulterior motives!"

"You have to be careful of him. Don't be fooled by such a little bastard."

Natalia was speechless.

Connie looked at the two couples who were whispering to each other and suddenly felt that she was redundant.

She rolled her eyes at the air and couldn't help clapping her hands.

"That's enough. Please stop flirting. Alfred and Quy are not the key figures. The key figures are the second and third female lead. You should take a good look at them."

Hearing Connie's words, Natalia and Green looked at the other lists.

Then they found something.

Princess Angela was played by Harleen, and her junior sister was played by Rubby.

"Harleen actually succeeded in auditioning for the second female lead!"

"Why is there still Rubby?"

Natalia and Green spoke at the same time, but their focus was completely different.

But it also showed that these two figures shocked them.

Connie nodded and said helplessly, "You finally found the point."

"Let's talk about Harleen first. I only know that she is a new actress signed by F.Y. Entertainment. She has never played a movie before, and she was not graduated from the Film Academy. It is said that she has only received half a month's closed-door training in the company. But after her debut, she can get Mr. Heron's second female lead. Her strength can't be underestimated."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 565 Tell Me The Truth Quickly

Green and Natalia looked at each other in dismay. They could tell from each other's eyes that they were on guard.

Harleen was indeed not simple.

"Also Rubby..."

Connie paused for a moment before speaking of another person.

"Originally, based on Rubby's performance at the audition, I had thought that she could not win against you for the leading actress. She should give up this opportunity. But I guessed wrong."

After all, Rubby was the movie queen, and since she could not get the leading actress, at the very least, she had to get a second leading actress for showing off her status.

As a movie queen, it was one thing to be a supporting actress for Natalia and Green, but now she had become a supporting role for a newcomer. If it had been the previous Rubby, she would not have agreed.

Hearing Connie's words, Green's interest was piqued. She asked curiously, "That's right. Why would she agree to act as the third female lead?"

Connie said, "Because of her agent."

Maria did have a set.

Rubby's actions during the audition had reduced her reputation to the minimum.

Some wicked netizens who already edited the video of Green's performance as Sienna and added the captions compared with Rubby's version.

And the video clip was compared by one frame after another, very detailedly.

It was obvious who was superior. It wasn't an exaggeration to say that Green's acting was good enough to beat Rubby.

In addition, Rubby ran away without fighting. At the beginning of the audition, Rubby's speech was quite arrogant. In the end, she was slapped in her own face.

Under such circumstances, Rubby's award became even more unworthy of her reputation.

Maria had tried her best to minimize the negative impact, but she still could not stop the netizens' sarcasm.

Therefore, Rubby did not have many business resources.

"So, Maria simply asked Rubby for the third female lead."

Connie explained to them.

Ralph commented: "It's better to catch up than to avoid the sharp edge."

After hearing this, Natalia also nodded. "Rubby lowered her status and took the script of the third female lead, which is enough to show that she can tolerate the newcomer in the entertainment circle. Moreover, she is in the same crew as us, so there will be a lot of topics to talk about next."

Connie pointed at Natalia with the folder.

"Natalia is right. Maria has already revealed to the outside world that Rubby is going to take on the role of the third female lead.

The two endorsement deals that she has just lost have been immediately replaced by a new business deal."

This was Maria's cleverness.

Since Rubby had come so openly, the netizens felt much better about her.

At the very least, people did not continue to mock her for being a movie queen.

Green shook her head with an unclear meaning. "It looks like our days in the crew won't be boring anymore."

"It should be said that there will be more troubles." Connie said angrily, "It's not that I said that, Lottie, you should take good care of yourself and avoid provoking unnecessary people."

Richeal had already said that the most important thing now was to have a good work to rely on.

Like Natalia and Alfred, they had the confidence to do anything after they got awards.

Green knew what Connie meant. She spread out her hands with a smile and said, "I also want to behave myself, but I didn't want to provoke others."

It was obvious that it was someone else who had provoked Green first, so she had to fight back.

Just like that show, she only wanted to debut as the center. Who would have thought that Rose would stir up trouble for her, and then Bridge Joshua would jump out and disgust her?

When it came to Rose, Lottie suddenly remembered something very important.

She turned to Natalia and asked, "By the way, is there still no news about Rose?"

Natalia shook her head. "I didn't hear Kayden mention her whereabouts."

"That's strange." Green frowned. For some reason, she had a bad feeling in her heart. "According to Rose's personality, she doesn't look like someone who'll be defeated so easily."

According to Green's experience, if the villain roles were not completely eliminated, they would definitely jump out and make trouble!

Just like Yoyo at the beginning, Lottie only thought that she was a small character who would make a little trouble. She did not expect that Yoyo would cause so much trouble later and even want to compete with her for his identity.

"And her mother's past has been exposed. For the sake of Rose's mother, and her own dirty tricks in 'Treasure 101', she won't be able to survive in the entertainment industry.

" Natalia said casually.

Green looked at Natalia and said meaningfully, "If she's alone, then there's nothing to be afraid of. But have you forgotten that she has someone backing her up?"

Natalia was silent for a moment before asking: "You mean Lincoln?"

"He wasn't found, was he?" Green confirmed with Ralph.

Ralph shook his head. Lincoln was too cautious, and his hacker skills were also very high. Perhaps it was because of his experience in selling forbidden drugs abroad and using the Deep Web, his anti-searching ability was also first-class.

Ralph sent someone to investigate secretly, but he could not find him.

It wouldn't work even if he used Rose's mother as bait.

Lincoln was terrifyingly calm and was even more ruthless than Ralph had imagined.

Lincoln did not care about Sherry's life or death, nor did he care what Rose would encounter in the rest of her life. He just wanted to achieve his goal.

Such a person, without weakness, he would become a more terrible existence.

Seeing Ralph's gloomy expression, Green quickly comforted him.

"It's not your fault. Lincoln is too cunning."

Ralph pursed his lips and looked at Green seriously. "Don't worry. No matter how deep he hides, I will find a way to pull him out! Just focus on filming. I won't let anyone affect you."

Hearing this, a sweet smile appeared on Green's face. "I believe you."

Seeing the two of them enter a sweet state again, Connie helplessly touched her forehead.

She ignored the couple and turned to look at Natalia and Kayden.

"Although Hamish and Sherry are in trouble now and have no time to fight with you, their previous words and attitude still have a certain impact on you.

Natalia looked at Kayden and clenched her fists. "I understand."

"Take a good shot after you enter the group and prove with your strength that Mr. Heron's choice is right."

"I will."

Connie nodded and told them to read the script more recently. Javion Heron would have to choose other roles and other trivial things like setting up a scene. It would take about ten days to start it.

These ten days were reserved for them to adjust.

After the discussion, Connie continued to deal with the public opinion on the Internet, while Kayden left with Natalia.

After everyone had left, Green collapsed lazily onto the sofa and yawned.

"I'm so tired."

Ralph approached her and hugged her. "Take you home to rest?"

Green shook her head and looked at Ralph. "Now that everyone is gone, can you tell me what you and Kayden are plotting?"

Ralph looked at her in surprise. "I remember when Kayden was preparing for the surprise, you were not in the lounge."

Green sat up straight. "What kind of surprise?"

"Didn't you guess that?"

"No, I saw you two secretly exchanging glances. There must be something I don't know. Tell me the truth!"

Green knew Ralph too well. Seeing his expression, she knew that he was hiding something from her. .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 566 I Can't Let You Endure So Much Pain

"I planned to take it as a surprise."

"I don't want to be surprised. I want to know now."

"All right."

Ralph told her that he and Kayden were going to hold a concert for them.

"Are you serious?" Green's eyes sparkled.

To be honest, they had really paid a lot for the public performance!

The sweat flowing in the practice room every day was not fake! In order to adapt to the songs, they had also wasted a lot of brain cells!

After learning that 'Treasure 101' had gone offline, the stage was canceled.

Although Green didn't say anything on the surface, she still secretly felt a long time of regret.

She did not expect Ralph to think of filling her up with this regret.

She immediately threw herself into Ralph's arms and hugged him tightly.

"Why are you so good?"

"Or else? My little fool."

Ralph changed into a comfortable position to hold her in his arms and lowered his head to scratch her nose.

"You are my wife, and I will spend the rest of my life with you. Who am I good to if I am not good to you?"

Green's nose twitched, and then she giggled.

She felt very lucky to be Ralph's wife.

Although Green had mistaken her parents and was betrayed by her ex-boyfriend and best friend, she had successfully met Ralph.

When she didn't know what to do at first, she replaced Claudia and married the so-called cruel and cold Mr. Chapman, then she seemed to have been reborn.

Ralph not only helped her change her bad habit of being soft-hearted, but he also made her so satisfied.

More importantly, they had three thoughtful children, parents who loved her, friends who shared the same ideals with her, and the dreams that were being realized by her.

And him, Ralph.

At this moment, Green even felt that even if she died at this moment, it was worth it.

"I want to be nice to you too," Green said in a low voice.

Ralph smiled and his chest shook.

"You have treated me very well."

"How about I treat you better in the future?"

The corners of Ralph's lips curled into a smile. Green felt that she was lucky to meet him, and she was also his savior as well.

Although his past life was relatively smooth, he had been walking alone in the darkness.

If it weren't for the fact that Green had appeared and given him a few adorable children, he might have long lost the motivation to move forward.

At that time, even he himself did not know what would happen to him.

Only when Green appeared did his world shine.

The bright and gentle moonlight was also the warmth he dreamed of.

"If you really treat me better, then, how about giving me another gift?"

Green was still immersed in her emotions.

Hearing this, she asked, "What present?"

"Give birth to another daughter?"

Lottie was speechless.

"Look, Fabian and Stella are always quarreling. If there was a little princess accompanying Stella, she would not be too lonely in the future."

"You have got three children, Elijah, Fabian and Stella, isn't that enough?"

"Yes, but we still lack the child named as Scarlet. Let our second princess called Scarlet. What do you think?"

Green was so angry that she laughed. "You've already chosen the name?"

Ralph nodded. "It proves that I am serious."

"What if I don't give birth to a daughter?"

"It doesn't matter. Leave the name Scarlet Chapman to my daughter. Give birth to our third boy, Dennis Chapman."

Lottie was speechless.

"What's wrong?"

"Are you going to let me give birth to a basketball team?"

Ralph hummed and said, "The football team doesn't seem bad, right?"

Green's gratitude instantly turned into bubbles. She withdrew from his embrace and looked at Ralph coldly.

"What do you think I am? A breeding machine?"

"Forget the football team. The basketball team only needs five players, and the football team needs at least 11 players, okay?"

Why didn't this man just go to heaven?

Ralph laughed and rubbed her head.

"Just kidding. I can't bear to see you to experience so much pain."

It was said that the pain during the process of giving birth to a child was equivalent to seven ribs breaking at the same time. Ralph knew that Green had always been afraid of pain, so how could he bear to let her suffer so much?

Green's expression softened a little. "Then why did you say that I would give birth to a daughter for you?"

Interesting. Men always change their minds.

"Can't you hear it? Is it expressing my dissatisfaction for my sex desire on you?"

Lottie was speechless.

If it weren't for the fact that Ralph had taken measures every time and the fact that their frequent sex life rate was so high, Green would have long been pregnant.

However, he still kept this from Green. Seeing her secretly complaining and worried that she would get pregnant, Ralph felt that she was extremely cute.

Green pushed Ralph's face away with a calm expression.

"Don't talk nonsense during daytime."

Although she said that, behind her ears, Green's entire body was burning red.

Ralph grabbed her hand viciously and said, "It's not easy to send these children out of the country. We should cherish our time of being together."

As soon as he finished speaking, Ralph's cell phone rang.

He took it out and saw that it was actually a video request from Elijah.

Green leaned over and looked at Ralph mockingly.

Look! How could Ralph expect that the children could destroy their couple's time abroad!

Ralph couldn't help but reach out his hand and press Green's shoulder. He hesitated for a moment before answering the phone.

Although there was a time difference, it was still half past five in the afternoon in the country, and it was half past five in the morning in Odense.

At this point, it was only before the dawn at abroad.

There must be something wrong with Elijah sending him a video call at this time.

"Mommy!"

As soon as the video was connected, the excited voice of Fabian came immediately.

Ralph turned his head to look at the smiling Green, feeling slightly displeased.

His boy could only see your mommy in his eyes.

"Baby, how are you doing abroad?"

"We are very good, but we miss you so much!"

Fabian's mouth was very sweet and would make people happy.

As expected, Green was very happy. She immediately replied, "Mommy misses you too!"

"Mommy, I've heard that you'll have a concert in two days. Can we come back to attend?"

Elijah's calm voice came from the other end of the video.

Green looked at Elijah in surprise.

"How do you know there is a concert?"

"I saw a lot of information about the concert from Brother Kayden's computer."

"From Kayden's computer? You guys?"

"We watched your audition live with Sister-in-law Natalia. Grandpa and Grandma are also there."

Green blinked. "So?"

"We all saw what happened in the audition. Grandma called grandfather and asked him to help us."

However, when Aiden was about to take action, Ralph and Kayden had already taken action one after another. He had no use for them at all.

But he couldn't do nothing, otherwise he would be hated to death by Yuki.

He had no choice but to personally visit the Bells and teach them some skills.

Who was Aiden? The man who had single-handedly strengthened the Bells.

His hacker skills were no worse than Ralph's. After his guidance, Elijah had made great progress.

In order to test Kayden's ability, Elijah deliberately tried on Kayden's computer.

He felt that with Kayden's vigilance, his computer must be very efficient. He didn't expect that it would be broken so easily.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 567 I'm Just Selfish

It was so easy to invade Kayden's computer.

This caused Elijah to have no sense of accomplishment at all.

Fortunately, Kayden's computer had given him a lot of information, including the concert and Kayden's proposal.

How could the three of them be absent on such an important occasion?

Before going to bed in the evening, when Elijah talked about this matter with Fabian, Fabian immediately couldn't sit still and urged Elijah to make a video call to Daddy and Mommy.

They were separated from Stella's room, so Stella didn't know about it for the time being.

If she knew, she would be the first one to make a scene and return home.

Green had only just heard about the concert. When she heard what Elijah had said, she couldn't help but narrow her eyes and look at Ralph.

"You even made a proposal?"

Ralph, who had originally wanted to hide it from Green, was speechless.

"I didn't have time to tell you earlier," Ralph said.

Green snorted coldly. She actually could still tell whether he wanted to do or not.

Damn it, Ralph didn't believe her and was afraid that he would leak the news to Natalia.

He didn't trust me!

Seeing the unfriendly look in Green's eyes, Ralph decided to tell her the truth.

"I was also going to propose to you at the concert, but Kayden kept begging me. Since I knew you wanted a unique proposal ceremony, so I didn't join him in the end."

Green glanced at Ralph in surprise.

"We've got married. You don't need to do that."

Although she said so, Green's mouth was about to split open to her ears, and her cheeks were burning slightly.

"But I still owe you a formal wedding." Ralph said solemnly, "I also want you have what others have, and what you have should be better than others."

Green's heart skipped a beat.

Hell no! Green felt that her love for Ralph had deepened.

This man really knew how to seduce her.

"Hey!"

"Daddy, Mommy, don't busy showing off your love. You haven't answered our questions yet!"

Fabian was on the other side of the video, trying his best to prove his presence.

Green snapped back to her senses and realized that her sons were still looking at them. She was a little embarrassed and annoyed.

"I have no objection. Listen to your daddy."

She also wanted to take the children back. She hoped that the babies would not be absent at her concert.

However, it was related to the safety of the children, so she still had to listen to Ralph's arrangement.

Ralph raised an eyebrow. Hearing Green's obedient words, he couldn't help but want to kiss her.

"You can come back if you want, but you have to let York personally send you back, and ensure your safety.

Fabian said, "York may not be able to come back. Can't we go back by ourselves?"

Green recalled the What's App Moments that blocked them, her expression turned serious.

"Why can't York come back? Does he really have another woman abroad?"

Hearing this, Fabian looked towards Elijah.

Elijah shook his head, "We don't know either, but he does often go out on dates."

Date?

Was that the solid evidence?

York, you were really a jerk!

Green didn't forget to remind Fabian "Don't learn from York in the future. That kind of behavior can't be taken lightly!"

Fabian was confused.

What did it have to do with me? I was still a baby!

And why didn't you mention my brother?

Ralph didn't know whether to laugh or cry as he patted Lottie's shoulder.

"Whether or not you can persuade York to come back with you is up to you. If you can't fulfill these two requirements, then don't go back."

Ralph ordered his two boys.

Fabian pouted and wanted to say something, but was stopped by Elijah.

"It's a deal. We'll handle it."

Ralph smiled and said, "Then I'll wait and see."

"Daddy, just you wait and see!" Fabian's fighting spirit rose as well.

"Well, it's a good thing to be ambitious, but are you guys itching for it?"

The Stellar Elijah: "What?"

"It's too late. Did you stay up all night?"

Both Fabian and Elijah were speechless.

"If you keep sleeping late at night, be careful not to grow taller."

Fabian felt a little guilty. "We fell asleep. It's just too early to be waken up!"

"Are you sure?" Ralph raised his brows.

Fabian still wanted to argue, but Elijah took the lead in admitting his mistake. "We're wrong, we're going to sleep now."

"Good." Ralph was very satisfied.

After saying goodbye to Ralph and Lottie, the call from Elijah ended.

Green leaned over and sighed, "Nice baby."

"It's not necessarily true that they're obedient. It's just that they can't beat me now, so they barely do so."

Elijah was actually very scheming!

However, only then would he look like Ralph's son!

Green couldn't help but laugh. After laughing, she couldn't help but worry: "Could Elijah and the others bring York back? And if he comes back, will Richeal be even sadder?"

"I believe in Elijah's ability. In addition, no matter what, York shouldn't be a deserter. It's better to make it clear."

"But I'm worried about Richeal."

"Don't worry. Richeal is stronger than you think. She knows what to do."

Whether she was going to become close to York, or to become a familiar stranger for York in the future.

It was all Richeal's freedom.

Green let out a long sigh. "Natalia finally has a home. What I'm most worried about right now is Richeal and Connie."

"Are you just worried about them?"

"So?"

"And Violet Lena and Jessica, maybe there will be more friends in the future. With your worry, can you hold back and ignore them?"

"Look at what you said. It's as if I'm a matchmaker, worrying about their lifelong affairs all day long."

Ralph smiled and held her in his arms.

"It's not that I think you care too much. It's also one of your advantages to be good to friends, but I'm selfish and want you to pay more attention to me."

"Haven't I paid enough attention to you?"

Ralph approached her and kissed her.

His voice was dark and hoarse as he said, "It's not enough. It's far from enough for me."

After a deep kiss, both of them felt a little out of breath.

Ralph reached out to wipe her lips and wiped away the hickey. He coaxed her in a low voice, "Leave the entertainment circle after you get the movie queen, okay?"

Green raised an eyebrow. "Didn't you say you would fully support me in my dream pursuit?"

"I've said that I'm selfish. I want to hide you. It's best that only I know you in the world."

Green smiled. "Mr. Chapman, today's jealousy has gone too far."

Ralph sighed and said, "I really want to do nothing but hold you in my arms."

"You only know how to coax me into being happy. Don't think you'll be able to bring the matter of keeping it a secret from me." Green pushed his hand away. "Tell me, are you hiding something from me other than the concert and proposal?"

Ralph was speechless.

He paused and recalled his plan. After making sure that nothing went wrong, he said, "No."

"You're lying," Green said firmly. "I'll give you one last chance. Think about whether or not you want to say it or not."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 568 Steve, How Could You Lie?

Their eyes met and Ralph sighed helplessly.

"Lottie, you know me better."

Green snorted smugly and then looked at Ralph seriously.

"Tell me the truth. If you resist, I'll punish you."

Ralph laughed softly.

"Kayden deliberately left the proposal documents on his computer."

Green frowned slightly. "Why did he do this? Does he know that Elijah is going to investigate his computer?"

Ralph shook his head.

Green pondered for a moment and quickly figured out the key point.

"It's either leaving it for Elijah or someone else. Are you attracting for Lincoln to lure him out?"

Ralph's eyes were filled with approval. The woman he liked was indeed very smart.

"Lincoln has been hiding in the dark. It's always a hidden danger."

As long as the hidden danger was not removed, Kayden and he could not rest assured.

Green understood. Lincoln might not care about Sherry's life or death, but he still had a deep obsession, that was Natalia.

If Lincoln knew that Kayden was going to propose to Natalia at the concert, he would definitely make trouble.

"But it's not like the concert hasn't been officially announced yet. How can you be sure that Lincoln will take the bait?" Green asked.

Ralph smiled but said nothing.

Green stared at him for a long time and understood.

"Judging from your expression, the fish must have bitten the hook, right?"

Ralph pulled her closer and hugged her tightly. He said with a smile, "Although Lincoln has hidden himself very well, it's not as if he's nowhere to be found. I've installed surveillance cameras at the other end of our phones and computers. Natalia is my key monitoring target."

Green snuggled into Ralph's arms and asked softly, "Did you find him?"

"He is very cunning. I can't figure out where he is hiding, but I have almost figured out the track of his recent activities."

In addition, Ralph also learned that Lincoln had been secretly monitoring Natalia and Kayden's every move.

Given how much he valued Natalia, it was impossible for him to remain indifferent at the concert.

At that time, they could find Lincoln easily and remove this hidden danger completely.

The background of Kayden's computer showed that in addition to Elijah, there was another hidden IP visitor.

"No wonder you are so confident."

Ralph's eyes darkened as he confessed everything to her, "I'm not particularly confident."

"What? Do you lack manpower?" Green said, "If there are fewer people, you can tell my parents. They should be happy to help."

Ralph laughed. Green really didn't treat him as an outsider right now.

"It's not about manpower, but mainly because Kayden is a little worried."

"What was he worried about?"

"It was previously a carefully prepared proposal ceremony, but it didn't seem very pure. He was afraid that Natalia would get angry when she knew it."

So until today, he did not dare to tell Natalia about it.

On the one hand, Kayden was afraid that it would reveal her surprise. On the other hand, he was worried that it would not give Natalia the best.

Green could quite understand this feeling. "I don't think so."

"Although luring Lincoln out is to protect Natalia, but Kayden's motive for proposing is not pure after all," Ralph said.

"Natalia is not the kind of person who makes trouble for no reason. Tell her later. There won't be any problems."

Ralph smiled and said, "You're right. If anything happens in the future, please help me to say something nice and persuade Natalia."

"So you've been waiting for my help here for a long time."

Green found it funny. Mr. Chapman's little care had been spent on her.

Ralph picked her up and led her out.

Green screamed out in surprise. Afraid of being seen, she quickly buried her head in Ralph's chest.

"What are you doing?"

"I'll take you home."

"Are you kidding? There are so many people in the company.

Let me go, and I can go by myself!"

"Didn't you say you were tired? I'll take you back, so you don't have to go by yourself."

"But it's a shame!"

Mr. Chapman didn't feel embarrassed. It would be the most embarrassing thing if her made his wife tired.

Ignoring the gazes of the others, Ralph carried her all the way down the stairs and into the carriage.

Ralph helped to fastened the seat belt thoughtfully and happily took her home.

Rexwell, inside the center village.

In the backyard of a convenience store, there were three or four gambling tables.

Some were playing cards on the gambling table, while others were playing chess.

Amidst the smoke, the players kept shouting, and one of them had the highest voice.

"I've told you that my daughter is rich! That girl is so lucky to be the agent of a big star. A big star's a small amount of money would be enough for us to spend several months together!"

"Look at my new clothes. She bought them for me!"

"She doesn't pay much every month. Just over 100,000 yuan. Anyway, I don't have to worry about eating and drinking. If I have time, I'll come out to play cards."

While playing cards, Steve did not forget to brag to his friends how good his life was.

Sitting opposite Steve was a woman in her thirties, who was dressed up in a mess.

"If you are really so rich, then why did Gary say that you haven't paid his gambling debts?"

Steve's smile froze, and his eyes were full of malice. "When did he say that?"

"Just in the morning. When I met him, I said that you didn't pay him back 20,000 yuan and always tried to avoid him."

"Bullshit! When did I hide from him?"

"Steve, you only know how to brag. If you have more than 100,000 yuan a month, why you still come here to hang out with us? You should have had a good time!" A middle-aged woman on the right side touched a card and couldn't help but join the mocking team.

Those who could live in the center village were locals with low income, or a group of workers from other places.

Everyone's life was generally not very good. A monthly salary of 1600 dollar would be the big sum.

Not long after Steve came to Rexwell, the place he rented was not a good place. Everyone had seen how much he spent a month. He was not as rich as he said.

It was one thing for him to brag and lie to the little girls, but now he was bragging too much, like he could earn the money of more than 100,000 yuan a month.

No matter how rich a superstar was, there was no actual relation with the agent. As a daughter, it was even more impossible for her to keep giving money to Steve, the lazy master.

The woman opposite her immediately smiled. "Steve, how can you lie?"

When the woman smiled, her dimples were exposed, which were so sweet.

Steve's heart skipped a beat as he stared at the woman in shock.

Since Connie's mother passed away, he had been single for a long time.

Now that he had a crush on a woman, he especially wanted to get her.

"I'm not lying. I do have money!" Steve raised his voice and said, "The star my daughter brought with her is called Lottie. The woman surnamed Green seems to be Mr. Chapman's wife! Do you know Mr. Chapman? He is the richest man in Rexwell!"

"You are getting more and more outrageous. Who is Mr. Chapman? How can he have anything to do with your daughter? Steve, were you still drunk for last night's hangover?"

Steve was anxious and threw the cards. "I'm not lying!"

While they were shouting, a man with a sneaky look suddenly came out of the door. It was Gary, who had just poured the paint on Connie! .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 569 Who Are You

"Gary! How dare you come back!"

"You've ruined my reputation all day long. Haven't you returned the 20,000 yuan I owe you before?"

Seeing Gary, Steve suddenly kicked the stool and wanted to get even with him.

Steve thought to himself: Gary, why you choose this time to rush the bill? Why didn't you give my face at this time? Then it was not my fault for taking this opportunity to show off in front of the woman you liked!

Gary's face turned blue, and he looked extremely flustered. Just as he was frightened, he saw Steve, the chief culprit, and became angry.

Seeing Steve get up, Gary rushed over with his fist raised.

He heavily punched Steve in the face. Steve immediately fell on the table and destroyed all the cards on the table.

"What the hell are you doing?"

"Are you looking for trouble? Why not you guys fight to the side?"

The courtyard was filled with curses.

"How dare you shout! If you hadn't instigated me to find Connie, she wouldn't have targeted me! I was almost caught and beaten to death. It's all your fault!"

"Are you really going to make trouble for my daughter?"

"She doesn't recognize you as her dad at all, you coward!"

Steve was a coward. He only knew how to show off in front of women. When outsiders were stronger than him, he didn't even dare to say a word.

Gary was so regretful that he wanted to curse again, but he heard a big sound.

The door of the backyard was kicked to the ground from the outside.

When the door fell to the ground, there was a loud noise, which shocked everyone in the courtyard.

When everyone heard this, they looked over and saw a female elite in a professional suit standing at the door. She just stopped kicking the door, and her high heels were shining with crystal light.

She had light makeup on his face, short hair, and a handsome face.

"Who is Steve?" Richeal's voice was exceptionally cold.

Seeing the indifference in the woman's eyes, Steve suddenly burped.

Seeing this, Gary quickly raised his hand, pointed at Steve, and said, "Steve is here!"

Richeal walked in step by step. Everyone in the backyard was silent as they watched her walk toward Steve step by step.

Steve's legs were shaking. He wanted to turn around and run away now.

Seeing that Richeal was looking for Steve, Gary heaved a sigh of relief and wanted to slip away.

As a result, Richeal tilted her head and waved her hand in the air.

Four strong men rushed out from behind her. They were all wearing black suits and looked cold.

The people here had never seen such a scene before. They were so scared that they didn't dare to make a sound.

The strong men quickly suppressed Gary and Steve. Gary wanted to scream for help, but someone stuffed a piece of rag into Gary's mouth. Suddenly, he couldn't make any sound.

"Steve is spreading rumors and fraud. Gary is his accomplice.

Now that they have been accused of evil deeds, I will take them to the police station now." After saying that, Richeal looked at the others and asked, "Who is the boss here?"

Everyone looked at each other. Finally, a middle-aged man with flattop haircut came out of the crowd.

"I... I'm the boss here. This beauty, what's the matter?"

Richeal took out a dozen red bills from her pocket and handed them over.

"Is this enough to pay for your door and chess table?"

The convenience store owner was flattered and took it.

"Enough, that's enough."

Richeal nodded and apologized to everyone. Then she turned around and left with the two under her pressure.

Seeing that there was nothing wrong, the others packed up the table and sat back on the table.

Only the woman, who was "liked" by Steve, looked at Richeal's back and glanced at the cash in the boss's hand. Her eyes flashed.

"I didn't expect Steve to be such a person. He's not only a liar, but also a bad person."

The auntie who had complained about Steve just now shook her head and sighed. She didn't forget to poke the woman whom Steve liked.

"Maggie, are you alright?"

The woman named Maggie came to her senses and smiled at the middle-aged woman, revealing two deep dimples.

"Aunt Leda, I'm fine."

"It's good that you're fine. Steve probably fell in love with you just now. Fortunately, you weren't fooled by him.

You're just a widow. If you really fall in love with such a person, I'm afraid you'll have a hard time in the future!"

The smile on Maggie's face froze. She hated being called a widow the most, but when she saw Auntie Leda's indifferent expression and the sympathetic eyes of others, she paused and finally swallowed her words.

Maggie thought to herself: I was just trying to make a living, even playing with tricks should be forgiven.

If she could live a good life in the future, so what if she was mocked by others?

There was a flash of darkness in Maggie's eyes. She responded perfunctorily, but no one could tell what she was thinking.

On the other side.

After Richeal escorted Steve and Gary out, she ran into Sean and the others.

Sean breathed a sigh of relief when he saw Richeal. He hurried forward and looked around Richeal.

"Miss Lee, are you hurt?"

Richeal glanced at Sean from the corner of her eyes. "Look down on me?"

Wasn't she just catching Steve? Was there a need to get hurt?

Sean was completely relieved when he heard that.

Then he looked at Steve and Gary and said, "Miss Lee, it was Mrs. Chapman who asked me to come to you. She was worried about your safety and was afraid that you would get hurt. So, let us deal with these two people, right?"

"Lottie just loves to worry." Richeal snorted. "Am I looking so horrible?"

Sean smiled apologetically and said nothing else.

At first, Richeal wanted to beat them up and vent the anger. But now, Sean appeared.

She suddenly felt bored.

"Forget it, I'll leave these two to you. I'm leaving.

"

Sean immediately followed her. "Miss Lee, where are you going?"

Richeal suddenly stopped. "It's none of your business where I go."

Sean asked her men to take Steve and Gary away first, and then he looked at Richeal.

"Madam said that I must send you home safely."

"Stop! Are you tired?"

Richeal began to get impatient. "That's enough. Who are you to me?"

Her parents didn't care about her and let her wander around since she was a child. If she hadn't met Jerry later, she would have been no different from a scumbag like Steve in her life.

They were all not deserved the respect.

The most important thing was that her company and faith had betrayed her at this time. How could she accept it?

Sean smiled awkwardly but politely.

Richeal glared at him, opened the car door, and sped away.

Richeal didn't look like she would go home well.

Sean let out a long sigh in his heart. He thought to himself: What did Madam arrange for me? Then he drove helplessly and followed her.

Soon, Richeal parked the car beside a bar.

Sean followed her into the bar and took photos to report to Ralph.

As soon as the message was sent, Richeal had already sat in front of the bar counter and hooked up with a handsome man. The two began to drink.

"Was your heart broken in love? Me too."

"Come, cheers to our fate!"

"Handsome guy, what's your name? What do you think of me?"

"Why don't we get together and let those two scums get out of our mind?"

"Continue drinking!"

Sean had just answered a phone call when he came back and found that Richeal was almost drunk or unconscious. He suddenly felt dizzy and hurriedly squeezed up to hold Richeal's hand.

Richeal's eyes were wide open as she turned to look at Sean: "Who the hell are you?"

The man sitting opposite Richeal got up and stared at Sean warily. "Who are you? Is that the scumbag she mentioned?"

Sean was speechless. "I'm not a jerk. Sir, please behave yourself. I'm this young lady's friend. I'm taking her home now."

"Why should I trust you? I would also like to say that you came to the bar to pick up corpses!"

"Pick up the corpse" was a jargon. It referred to some bastards who came to the bar to pick up some drunk men or women to take them back to have sex. Then, they would deceive their money to make a fortune.

Sean quickly took out his ID card. "I am indeed her friend, but you, don't mess around here. She was drunk just now. Don't take it seriously."

"You're the one who's pestering her! Let her say it herself and see if she knows you!"

The drunkard was about to come up and pester Sean, but Sean couldn't control the two drunkards with one hand. Without any hesitation, Richeal ran away.

When Sean finally called the bartender to get rid of the drunkard behind him and then went to find Richeal, he found that she had disappeared.

Sean's scalp went numb and he quickly called Ralph.

Ralph picked it up quite quickly and asked in a cold voice, "What's wrong?"

"Mr. Chapman, I was entangled by an alcoholic just now. In the blink of an eye, Richeal disappeared."

Ralph paused and said, "Give me the address."

"Okay."

Half an hour later, Ralph hurried to the bar.

Sean had already found the bar owner and was looking around according to the monitor, but he could not find any trace of Richeal.

"Mr. Chapman, I'm sorry!" Sean immediately apologized when he saw Ralph.

Ralph glanced at him and said, "Forget the apology, how is the situation now?"

"We've almost searched the entire bar, but we still haven't found Richeal."

"Are you sure she's still at the bar?"

"We've checked the surveillance footage. We've searched the front door and back door, but we didn't see her leave the bar."

Sean also felt helpless. He didn't expect that Richeal would disappear as if she had just been distracted. It was really weird.

"Is there a private room in the bar? Have you found it?"

The moment the boss saw Ralph, the cold sweat on his forehead flowed down.

As the owner of a bar, the most important thing was to run connections. Mr.

Chapman was so famous that he recognized the identity of the visitor at a glance.

He immediately took out much caution and carefully replied, "We've already searched the empty rooms. As for the other rooms..."

The guests who opened the private rooms here were either rich or noble. Even the bar owner did not dare to disturb them, so there were still four or five private rooms that had not been checked.

Ralph ignored the boss's expression and gave Sean a look.

Sean understood and immediately took people to check the private room.

Ralph stood in the lobby of the bar. The deafening music filled the entire space.

There were also all kinds of unknown perfume and cigarettes mixed with the smell of wine, which made Ralph, who had a serious mysophobia, frown.

It was not that he couldn't bear it, but Lottie was deeply hurt by it. He was afraid that he couldn't get into bed after returning home.

He immediately said to the boss, "Please clear the place."

The boss was stunned. "And the expenses?"

"All the expenses tonight are on me."

Money was easy to do. The boss immediately smiled and asked the waiter to clear the place.

After a while, everyone got up from their seats and left.

At this moment, two drunk women directly bumped into Ralph.

Ralph frowned and supported the woman in his arms with his hand. Then, he pushed her away.

The woman who thought she would succeed was speechless.

She stood there awkwardly.

She slammed into the corner of the table and gasped in pain.

Her friend immediately stepped forward to support her. "Are you all right?"

The woman shook her head and bit her chin, her eyes full of unwillingness and desire.

She saw very clearly that the man was so imposing that the clothes he wore could not be seen. They should be handmade. This was the symbol of rich people!

Looking at how respectful the bar owner was to him, it was likely that he was an excellent man in the entertainment industry!

If she could get on well with him, even if she was not the principal wife, she could lead a better life!

But she didn't expect that this man would be so chaste that he refused her bold actions.

Her friend obviously understood what she meant and pretended not to understand Ralph's status. She pointed at his nose and scolded, "What's wrong with you? Not only did you not help when you saw a beautiful woman drunk, but you also pushed her away. If my friend is injured, can you afford it?"

Ralph glanced coldly at the two women in front of him.

"How much?"

The woman's friend froze and almost could not continue.

"Is this about money? Do you have any manners?"

Ralph sneered and said, "Do I need to be polite to you?"

"You..."

The two women were very angry at Ralph's sharp tongue. They wanted to stir up trouble, but Sean helped the drunk Richeal out of one of the private rooms.

"Mr. Chapman, we've found her."

Ralph did not even look at the two women. He quickly walked forward and looked at Richeal.

"Where did you find her? Did she suffer a loss?"

Recalling the scene he saw in the private room, Sean shook his head speechlessly.

"It's better to say that it's others who suffer."

Ralph choked. "Did you apologize?"

"I apologize carefully."

"Okay, send her back.

Sean's body stiffened. "Mr. Chapman, you asked me to send her back. Isn't that good?"

Richeal was usually hard to deal with. After getting drunk, she was several times harder to deal with. He was not sure if he could control her alone.

However, Ralph took it for granted and said, "Who will send her if you don't? Me? I don't want Lottie to misunderstand."

He was now a married man. He had to be clean.

Sean was speechless.

Ralph patted him on the shoulder as if he believed him. "I'll leave him to you. You must send her home safely."

Sean wanted to cry but had no tears. He watched as Ralph and his boss made up for the compensation and parted ways.

In the end, Sean could only grit his teeth and take Richeal away.

After they left, the two women who had been rejected and humiliated by Ralph gathered together.

"That man seems to be Mr. Chapman."

"Mr. Chapman? That's Green's husband?"

"It seems to be him."

"Wow, in this case, when I'm on the same set as her wife in the future, we'll have a chance to meet again."

"Are you still not going to give up?"

"Such a high-quality man is a heavenly art. Whoever gives up will be stupid!"
