

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 571 My Wife Will Always Be the First

The next day.

Lottie went to SFLE Media with Ralph early in the morning.

She held the script and recited the lines in the lounge until Natalia came to her with red eyes.

"What's wrong?"

Lottie pulled Natalia over and sat down on the sofa. She poured her a cup of tea and handed it over.

Natalia held the teacup silently.

Lottie frowned, "Did Kayden bully you?"

Natalia shook her head with her eyes still red.

It was obvious that she was being bullied. How could Lottie bear it? She got up and wanted to get even with Kayden.

However, Lottie was grabbed by Natalia, "It's none of his business. I was too greedy."

"What are you talking about? Why are you greedy?"

"I..."

Before Natalia could finish her words, someone knocked on the door of the lounge, followed by Richeal with an unnatural expression.

"Lottie, are you free now? I have something to ask you."

"Richeal, I..."

Lottie turned to look at Natalia.

Natalia forced a smile at her, "It's okay. You talk to Richeal first. I'm fine."

Hearing what she said, Lottie had no choice but to go out and talk to Richeal first, but she still worried about Natalia.

Why didn't they feel good when she didn't meet them just one night?

Richeal took Lottie to her own office, making coffee and finding snacks for her. After a long while, they didn't talk about key point.

Lottie went straight to the point, "Richeal, don't be too busy. What can I do for you?"

Hearing this, Richeal clapped her hands in embarrassment and slowly walked over to sit down next to Lottie.

"What's wrong?"

"Well..."

Richeal's face turned red and she looked embarrassed.

"Richeal, you are not an indecisive person."

Lottie purposely made fun of her.

Richeal was stunned by her words. She paused for a moment and decided to confess, "Forget it. It's embarrassing. Let me ask you, did you and Ralph take me back from the bar yesterday?"

Lottie, "?"

"Who?"

"I called the barkeeper and asked him. He said yesterday it was Ralph who asked all people to leave, and he also took me out of someone else's private box."

Lottie had a kind of vacant look on her face.

Did Ralph go out after coaxing her to sleep yesterday?

Did he go to the bar? How could he help to clean up so much mess?

Why didn't she know anything?

Wait, she remembered that when she helped Ralph get his coat this morning, she did smell something unusual.

Lottie had thought that it was just an illusion, but she hadn't expected it to be the perfume of other women.

So, did Ralph go to the bar to hang out with other women at night after she fell asleep?

"I fell sleep very early last night. Are you sure it's Ralph?" Lottie kept calm, "Could it be Sean?"

Richeal's face darkened. She took out a ring box from her pocket and handed it to Lottie.

"I found it in the hotel."

Lottie took it over and took a look. The ring was custom-made, and the diamond was large and flashing. It was obviously very valuable.

The most important thing was that there were four letters engraved in the inner circle of the ring, which were exactly the acronym of the names of Lottie and Ralph. There was also a heart pattern connecting their names.

It was obvious that Ralph prepared this ring for sending to Lottie.

Perhaps it was used for proposing.

"I called Ralph this morning and found out that my number was put on a blacklist by him. I wanted to ask him about it, but I didn't expect him to go to other controlled companies to patrol."

"I can't hold back my words, so I asked you."

Richeal didn't want to ruin their relationship.

However, when she woke up, all her clothes were changed. The hotel room was in a mess, her body was sore and tired, and her waist was in great pain.

She had to find out what was going on.

Ralph and Lottie loved each other so much that they seemed to have the siamese twins no matter where they went. That was why she thought that it was Lottie and Ralph who brought her back last night. That was why she dared to ask Lottie for confirmation.

Richeal hadn't expected Lottie to say that she had fallen asleep very early last night.

Lottie's expression was solemn. She put away the ring box and looked at Richeal seriously.

"Richeal, don't worry. I'll get to the bottom of it for you."

Lottie took out her phone and asked Richeal, "Richeal, did anything else happen after you were sent to the hotel?"

It was hard for Richeal to speak, but when her eyes met Lottie's sharp gaze, she still chose to tell the truth, "I.

.. I think I was drunk..."

Lottie was speechless.

She pursed her lips and looked pale, but she comforted Richeal. "Don't worry. Ralph definitely didn't do this. It may be a misunderstanding. I'll ask it for you."

When Lottie and Ralph parted in the morning, Ralph's expression was exceptionally calm.

Ralph even pestered her to kiss him a few times before letting her go back to the lounge to recite the script.

If Ralph had really done something guiltily to Lottie, he wouldn't have acted so perfectly.

Lottie still trusted Ralph very much. She was just worried that he left Richeal alone after sending her to the hotel last night, causing her to be bullied by others.

In that case, it shouldn't be like this.

Richeal nodded agonisingly. She was still able to calm down.

For other women, they might have taken it to heart.

Lottie called Ralph twice, but he didn't answer. When she called him again, the phone was powered off.

This was outrageous.

Lottie's heart sank to the bottom.

"How's it going?"

"He didn't answer. His phone is powered off now." Lottie glanced at Richeal and said, "I'll ask Sean first."

Lottie turned to call Sean, but he answered in no time.

"Madam?"

"Where is Ralph?"

"Mr. Chapman is in a meeting."

"Is his phone at your place?"

"No, he brought it with him, but it must be on the silent mode during the meeting."

Sean realized that Lottie's tone wasn't very normal. He asked softly, "What's wrong, madam? Are you looking for Mr. Chapman for something urgent?"

Lottie paused and asked, "When will the meeting end?"

"This meeting is quite important. It will take about three hours."

Lottie hesitated for a moment.

Sean had cleverly knocked on the door of the conference room.

Hearing this, everyone looked over.

Ralph looked up at Sean sitting at the chief seat.

"What's wrong?"

"Madam's call."

Ralph's expression changed when he heard that it had something to do with Lottie. He picked up his phone and looked at it. The phone was automatically powered off.

He hurriedly got up, "I'm sorry, everyone. Please pause the meeting."

When Ralph was about to leave, the middle-aged man closest to him frowned.

"Mr. Chapman, this meeting is very important. Should we deal with private matters later?"

Ralph glanced at him indifferently and said, "My wife will always be the first one in my heart."

"If you are dissatisfied, you can leave now."

After that, Ralph looked away and strode out of the door. .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 572 How Dare He Provoke Him Again

"Baby? Sorry, my phone was out of power and automatically powered off. I didn't get your call."

"Ralph, aren't you in a meeting?"

"It's okay. Your business is the most important."

Lottie paused for a moment, her mood very complicated.

"What's wrong?" Ralph's gentle voice came in her ears, making Lottie's eyes turn inexplicably red.

"I have something to ask you."

"Go ahead."

She took a deep breath and asked, "Did you go to the bar to pick up Richeal last night?"

Ralph immediately understood what was going on. It was most likely that Richeal asked about the situation after she woke up.

"I did go to the bar. Richeal was indeed drunk."

"Why didn't you tell me when you went out?"

"I didn't want to disturb you when you fell asleep last night. Then I didn't have to tell you when everything was settled."

"Why not? Do you know that Richeal was bullied last night?"

Ralph was stunned.

"What happened?"

Lottie looked at Richeal, considering her mood. She told him everything that Richeal had told her in a low voice.

Hearing this, Ralph was so angry that he even laughed.

"So do you think I was the one who bullied her last night?"

Lottie said, "I don't think so."

However, Ralph was a little angry, "Have you ever doubted me in your heart?"

"No."

"Are you sure?"

"Well, I admit that my heart did skip a beat. I panicked for about a few seconds. But I soon realized that it was impossible for you to do such a thing."

The main reason was that Jenny had influenced her too much!

"Since you don't believe me, what answer do you want to hear from me?"

Lottie was stunned for a moment before replying, "I did believe you. And... you dared to scold me?"

Ralph was speechless

Oh no, he failed to control his volume.

"Last night, you went out without telling me and said that you didn't want to wake me up. But in the morning, there were so many opportunities to mention it to me, but you didn't say anything. In addition, there was the smell of perfume from a strange woman on your coat, and you even put Richeal on the blacklist. Shouldn't you explain so many things to me?"

"What perfume?"

"Ralph! You still don't want to tell the truth! I know that the perfume on your coat is not the one that Richeal used!"

Lottie was also annoyed.

She had originally wanted to help Richeal find out the truth. It was one thing that she did not get an explanation, but Ralph had even scolded her instead!

Ralph had doted on her so much before, but now he was angry at her.

Did Ralph really not want to live with her?

Ralph recalled that the perfume was probably left by the woman who threw herself into his arms yesterday.

He started to apologize to Lottie, but he felt a little upset.

He was also the victim of what happened about Jenny, and his psychological shadow was even greater than Lottie's.

He had already done all he could, but Lottie still refused to trust him. What exactly did she want him to do?

Ralph felt discouraged for no reason, and his tone was particularly indifferent.

"Sean was the one who sent Richeal back yesterday. I didn't touch her."

"What about the ring?"

"What ring?" Ralph was stunned.

Lottie was truly heartbroken now. She looked at the diamond ring box in her hand, "Do you really care about me?"

He didn't even know that he had lost his proposal ring!

Ralph felt confused. He had not even chosen the right time to propose. When did he prepare the ring?

Lottie didn't get the answer after a long while, and she was a little disappointed.

"Ralph, you are a bastard!"

After saying that, she hung up the phone.

She put away her phone and sniffed. When she turned around, her eyes met Richeal's concerned gaze.

"What's going on? Why are you quarreling?"

"It's okay, Richeal. I asked for you. The person who sent you back last night was Sean."

Lottie forced a smile, "According to the way of Sean dealing with things, he probably won't let you be bullied. There might have been other accidents last night."

In fact, Richeal didn't think it could be Ralph.

Mr. Chapman was a gentleman in front of anyone except Lottie.

Everyone knew about the matter between him and Jenny. In that kind of situation, he refused to touch Jenny. Was Richeal so charming to make Ralph touch her?

"Is it really Sean?" Richeal's expression changed again and again.

At this time, Lottie was much more sober.

"Are you sure that you were bullied?"

Richeal smiled awkwardly, "To be honest, I'm not sure."

"But when I woke up, my clothes were changed, and my waist was very sore, and my legs were also very painful..."

Hearing her description, Lottie was a little uncertain.

"Should I call Sean and ask about the situation?"

The two looked at each other and nodded in unison.

Lottie said, "Use your phone to call."

Richeal asked, "Why don't you use it?"

"I'm afraid that Ralph will answer the phone."

He was unreasonable that he scolded her instead of explaining!

Ralph had just called her darling, but he ignored her in a moment.

Lottie felt that she had to give him a cold shoulder and make things clear later.

Richeal also knew that they had a quarrel. There were times when couples quarreled. It was impossible for them to always be sweet.

The two of them loved each other so much that Ralph probably couldn't bear to be angry with Lottie for too long.

Seeing that Ralph was still calm, Richeal didn't worry about her.

Richeal took out her mobile phone and dialed Sean uneasily, only to find that she couldn't get through at all.

On the other side.

Ralph returned the phone to Sean and asked him to charge.

Ralph did not forget to ask, "Didn't you send Richeal home last night?"

Thinking of what had happened last night, Sean felt everything went dark.

He didn't dare to recall anymore.

"Miss Lee refused to go home. I sent her downstairs and she began to sing loudly. Her neighbors complained that she disturbed the residents."

"It wasn't easy to send her home. She said that the key was missing and went to find it. Then she went out and fell into a ditch."

Ralph was speechless

"I have no choice. I can only send her to the hotel first, and then find a waitress to take a shower and change her clothes."

Ralph immediately asked, "You didn't touch her?"

Sean's eyes widened, "How dare I?!"

What a joke! Richeal had practiced martial arts before. It was said that she was more powerful than madam. How dare he provoke her!

"When did you leave last night?"

"I waited until she was completely asleep before leaving." Sean paused and realized something. She immediately asked, "Why do you ask that? What's wrong with Miss Lee?"

Ralph patted Sean on the shoulder, his eyes full of sympathy.

"It's nothing. It's just that Richeal thinks you've forced her to do something."

However, she did not know that the injuries on Richeal's body were caused by her being drunk.

"I think it's better for you to go out and avoid trouble."

Sean was shocked when he heard Ralph's words, "Why did you say that?"

"Richeal will definitely find a way to check the hotel surveillance. When she finds out that you are the only man who has entered her room, she will definitely not let you go so easily." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 573 Sean Can't Speak Out His Bitterness

Sean, " !!!"

Sean broke out in a cold sweat on the spot.

"No, Mr. Chapman, I didn't do anything. Why won't she let me go so easily?"

Ralph glanced at her coldly and thought to himself, "You've gotten me into a fight with my wife, I won't let you off even if Richeal lets you off."

"Then you should pray for yourself."

After that, he turned around and went back to the meeting.

Sean reached out behind him, "Mr. Chapman, save me!"

Ralph pretended not to hear him. He walked to the door of the conference room and turned around.

"By the way, how about the ring?"

Sean was stunned, "What ring?"

Ralph stared at him indifferently.

Under such gaze, Sean became conscious and he quickly touched the pocket of his coat.

As expected, the small gift box disappeared, and his expression suddenly changed.

"Sorry, Mr. Chapman, I lost the ring."

There really was a ring.

Ralph frowned, "I didn't remember I asked you to make a ring."

"It's the one made last time," Sean explained, "The one you were going to use at the wedding was almost lost because of an accident. It took me a lot of effort to find it for you."

Ralph thought of it, "Didn't you send the ring to maintain it?"

"Yes, I took it back two days ago and planned to return it to you. I didn't expect it to be lost by me!"

This diamond ring cost millions!

If he really lost it, he couldn't afford the loss.

Ralph finally understood.

The wedding ring was accidentally left in the hotel by Sean. Richeal picked it up after she woke up, and took it to ask Lottie about the situation.

However, he didn't know anything, so he didn't care at all, which led to a misunderstanding between Lottie and him.

Lottie said that he didn't care about anything, and she was right.

But the culprit was still Sean.

"Why don't you tell me when you get the ring back? I've been misunderstood her for no reason."

He didn't tell Sean that he had found the ring, but just sneered and said, "Do you know how important that ring is to me?"

Sean, "..."

Sean was nervous.

"If you can't find the ring, you may go abroad to accompany Eddy."

Coincidentally, the DS Group was short of manpower now. It would be a good idea to send him to replace Eddy.

Sean put on a bitter expression and said, "Mr. Chapman, but everyone in my family is at home..

."

"By the way." Ralph stopped him.

Sean's eyes lit up, "Mr. Chapman, are you willing to let me go?"

"Remember to order a bunch of roses for me and send it to SFLE Media."

"Send it to madam?"

"Or?"

Sean, "..."

He didn't dare to accept it.

"Help me book a table in the restaurant. I want to have a date with Lottie tonight."

"And I want to apologize to her."

After handing over the last thing, Ralph went back to the meeting.

Sean arranged all the things that Ralph had told him, and then he remembered to call Richeal to explain.

As a result, he did not find Richeal's number after searching for a long time. In the end, he found her number on the blacklist.

Sean's heart skipped a beat and he hurriedly released Richeal from the blacklist.

Just as he was about to make a call, he suddenly heard a roar.

"Get out, Holland!"

Sean was so shocked that his phone dropped. He looked back and saw Richeal and Lottie coming in aggressively from the outside. Especially when he saw Richeal looked as if she was going to fight him to the death, his heart skipped a beat.

"Miss... Miss Lee, why are you here?"

Richeal was furious when she saw Sean's evasive gaze.

Richeal grabbed his collar and asked, "How dare you ask me?"

Seeing the two of them facing each other, Lottie leaned her arms around her chest as she watched the show. Her eyes pretended to look around inadvertently.

Why didn't she see Ralph?

Did he really abandon Lottie and go to work instead of coaxing her?

Although work was indeed important, Ralph didn't seem to care about her so much, which made Lottie feel a little disappointed.

Just now, Richeal couldn't get through to Sean's cell phone, so she immediately got angry and drove directly to find him.

Fearing that something might happen to her, Lottie also wanted to come and see what Ralph's attitude was, so she followed along.

Now that Sean had been found, Ralph was not there.

Lottie felt even more frustrated.

"Wait, Miss Lee, don't be impulsive. Listen to me!"

Richeal caught Sean and pressed him against the wall without hesitation.

"I'm listening to your explanation!"

Sean's arm was twisted by Richeal, and his face was pressed against the wall. He could not move at all.

He understood better about Richeal's strength, and his heart was filled with fear.

"Last night when you were drunk, I sent you back to the hotel. When you fell asleep, I left. I promise I didn't touch you!"

Hearing Sean's words, Richeal was stunned.

"Really? Then where did her injuries come from?"

Lottie chimed in.

Richeal came to her senses and pressed hard on his arms, "Yes, why was I injured?"

Sean shivered in pain and quickly added, "The injuries on your body were because you were drunk and accidentally fell into a ditch! I wanted to help you, but you didn't allow. Later, you hit your knee on the road!"

Richeal was speechless.

Lottie asked, "Are you injured on your knees too?"

"It's indeed cyanotic, but I thought it was..."

Lottie was also speechless.

"You're just a martial arts practitioner. How come you can't tell if you're injured?"

Sean said, "I really didn't touch you! I asked the waitress to change the clothes for you.

For this, I specially gave her extra tips! If you don't believe me, you can ask the hotel staff!"

After getting this answer, Richeal could not help but let out a sigh of relief.

She thought, "If she was really drunk, why didn't she have any memory at all?"

She thought that she was bullied and was ready to die with that bastard.

"It's really a misunderstanding! Miss Lee, can you let me go now?"

Richeal paused for a moment and was just about to loosen her grip when Lottie stopped her.

"Wait, when did you leave yesterday? Are you sure that no one has been to her room after you left?"

"Before I left, I specially asked the waitress to lock the door of the hotel. It didn't open until morning. No one can get in!"

This was because Richeal had lost the key in the middle of the night. Sean was afraid that Richeal would get lost again, so she came up with such an idea. Fortunately, there were surveillance cameras to prove everything. Otherwise, he would not have been able to clear it even if he jumped into the river.

Richeal and Lottie looked at each other, and Richeal nodded at her.

"I did call room service this morning and asked someone to open the door for me."

Lottie had nothing to say now, and Richeal let go of Sean.

Sean breathed a sigh of relief. He pressed his shoulder, which was about to be dislocated, and his back was almost wet with his cold sweat.

"I'm sorry..."

Richeal looked at Sean apologetically, "I didn't expect that I would be so crazy after getting drunk."

The most important thing was that she directly blacked out.

Sean could not express his bitterness. Just as he was about to wave his hand to say that he was fine, Richeal's phone suddenly rang.

Richeal wearily took out her phone and looked at it. She was completely stunned. .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 574 I Can Give You My Life

"What's wrong? Who called you?"

Lottie peeked at Richeal's phone.

"York? This bastard still dares to contact you?"

As Lottie spoke, she wanted to grab her phone and answer it, but Richeal hung up before her.

Then she switched off her phone quickly.

"What are you doing?"

Richeal put her phone back in her pocket with an unpleasant expression.

"I want to settle it by myself." Richeal looked at Lottie.

Lottie retracted her hand and rubbed her nose awkwardly.

"Then you solve it yourself. I don't have to intervene."

"I'm sorry, Lottie, for causing you to have an argument with Ralph."

"We're fine."

"Really?"

"Yes." Lottie looked away and whispered, "Don't you know me? You just need to take care of your own affairs."

Richeal patted Lottie's shoulder and said to Sean, "Thank you for last night. Help me to take good care of Lottie. I'll treat you to dinner later."

Sean felt that he could not afford it and said with an awkward smile, "Madam, please wait here for a while. Mr. Chapman said that he would go out with you after the meeting."

Lottie's eyes lit up, "Did he really say that?"

Sean nodded crazily, "Really!"

When Richeal heard this, she was completely relieved. After saying goodbye to Lottie, she left.

Lottie watched her leave and sighed faintly.

"Madam, are you worried about Miss Lee?"

"Forget it, I can't worry about her so much."

Lottie snapped back to reality and looked at Sean, "Tell me exactly what happened last night."

Sean also realized that there were some misunderstandings between Mr. Chapman and Lottie. He quickly told her everything that had happened last night. Other than the unknown perfume that had suddenly appeared on Ralph's body, he explained the rest of the details to her.

Sean also learned from Lottie that the ring had finally returned back to her.

Sean finally felt relieved.

It was really not easy for laborers. Fortunately, he did not have to be sent abroad now.

"Madam, Mr. Chapman really loves you. He will never betray you."

Sean couldn't help but put in a good word for his boss when he saw Lottie take out the ring box and observe it carefully.

"He ran out to answer your phone regardless of such an important meeting. And during this period of time, he didn't sleep well considering your safety."

When Lottie was recording the program, Ralph seemed to be generous on the surface, allowing her to pursue her dream freely. However, he was always secretly watching the recording video over and over again. Sometimes, he would even go to the recording site.

Even if he couldn't meet Lottie face to face, as long as he could get closer to her, he would feel very happy.

Sean had never seen Mr. Chapman care so much about someone. He loved her so deep.

Hearing Sean's words, Lottie couldn't help but feel her nose ache.

She began to regret it from the bottom of her heart.

Although it was reasonable, she really shouldn't doubt Ralph's love for her.

They had been through several life-and-death experiences. Why couldn't she trust him?

As a result, when Ralph came out of the conference room, he was hugged by his wife.

Ralph was stunned at first, but after a while, he was overjoyed and hugged her tightly.

"How you'd come?"

Ralph asked her in a low voice. He didn't care about the gazes of the people around him at all. His eyes were focused on Lottie.

Lottie's ears were red and she still felt a little embarrassed. She buried her face tightly in his embrace.

Ralph's refreshing scent was very pleasant.

"I'm sorry, I shouldn't have lost my temper and doubted you."

"It's my fault. Don't ignore me, okay?"

Ralph took a deep breath.

He had wanted to comfort her, but he didn't expect his wife to be so obedient that she would take the initiative to come to him.

Moreover, Lottie acted like a spoiled child, telling him not to ignore her.

How could a normal man bear it?

Mr. Chapman immediately picked her up.

Lottie cried out in surprise and hurriedly wrapped her arms around his neck.

"Baby, don't you want to kill me?"

Lottie, "?"

"As long as you ask, I can give you my life."

"How can I ignore you?"

Ralph whispered in her ear and carried her away regardless of the crowd's whoops.

Sean smiled faintly and helped Ralph get the meeting materials and computer.

Then, he followed Ralph slowly.

The other senior executives of the branch company looked at their backs with different expressions.

One of the vice directors, who had been humiliated by Ralph at the meeting, had a trace of gloom in his eyes.

His assistant came over and whispered in his ear, "Mr. Evans."

"How's it going?"

"I've done as you instructed."

"Did anyone find it out?"

"Don't worry. The nearby surveillance cameras have been destroyed. There is no possibility of recovery."

"That's good." Liam Evans smiled sarcastically as he adjusted his glasses on the bridge of his nose. "Ralph thinks that he can run amuck in Rexwell, so he doesn't take others seriously."

"I must let him know that he is not the only one who has the final say in Rexwell!"

The assistant lowered his head and said, "It's about time. Mr. Yung is still waiting."

"Let's go."

Liam left with his assistant in another elevator. As soon as he walked downstairs, he heard a loud bang.

The corners of Liam's lips curled up slightly as he thought he had succeeded.

A group of security guards came out of the building and ran to the location of the explosion, holding extinguishers and water cannons in their hands.

The others also came out to look on passively.

A Land Rover parked on the side of the road suddenly exploded. At this moment, more than half of the car had been burned down, and only half of the trail was left.

The expression of Liam's assistant face changed and he took a few steps forward.

"Mr. Evans, that seems.

.. to be our car."

"What?!"

Liam's face was as red as a pig's liver. He pushed aside the crowd and squeezed his way over.

Seeing the familiar license plate number hanging behind the car, which had been blown up, Liam stumbled and almost fell down.

The assistant hurriedly supported him.

"This... how could this be..."

Liam looked around and saw a familiar black Bentley slowly passing by.

The window of the passenger seat rolled down, revealing Sean's gentle face.

Sean stretched out his hand and made a "cut the neck" gesture, which made Liam break out in the cold sweat.

The car window rolled up and the Bentley drove smoothly without any problems.

"How could this be? I clearly got someone to do something to the brake..."

The assistant also watched this scene and was shocked.

Liam slapped him on the head and shouted angrily, "You must have been discovered when you did it. How dare you ask me how could it be! You are a fucking good-for-nothing!"

"No, Mr. Evans, listen to me!"

"Cut the crap! If Ralph finds out our intentions, we'll die!"

The two of them fought fiercely on the road. Seeing this, the people next to them quickly went forward to pull them, but they couldn't separate them from each other at all.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 575

Unbeatable When the Couple United

Looking at the two people who were fighting not far away, Lottie withdrew her gaze in low spirits.

"What's wrong with those two people?"

"It's just a dog biting another dog."

The corners of Ralph's lips lifted slightly. He hugged the person in his arms tightly and then kissed her hard on the lips.

Lottie was caught off guard by the kiss and pushed him away, "Stop fooling around. There's other people in the car."

"You can pretend that they don't exist." Ralph snorted indifferently.

Lottie was speechless. There were two living people here. How could she regard them as nobody?

Seeing that she really wasn't very comfortable, Ralph let her go. He hugged Lottie well and told her what they had just done.

"There are hidden traitors in branch companies, and that Liam is one of them. They should have been bribed by Lincoln to destroy our project."

Lottie was shocked, "He was bribed by Lincoln?"

"Don't panic." Ralph held her in his arms and comforted her in a low voice, "I've found out the hidden traitors and collected all the evidence. They will be punished."

"What happened to the exploded car just now?"

"Liam wanted to do something to our car, but my men hiding in the dark found out in advance, so I gave them a surprise."

This was called responding in kind.

Lottie was so shocked that her face turned pale.

She did not know that Ralph would encounter so many risks every day when he went out.

Ralph did not mention this to her. She thought that Ralph would be safe with so many people protecting him.

"Do you often encounter this kind of thing? Did Lincoln ask a lot of people to target you?"

Ralph did not respond.

Lottie was very angry and questioned loudly, "Sean, tell me!"

"Madam, it..."

"Say it or not?"

Sean looked embarrassed. Ralph sighed and reached out to pinch her cheek.

"Don't be angry. I'll tell you."

"When you recorded the show, I encountered such things twice or three times a day."

"Something like a car accident or high-rise littering."

Ralph finally confessed, "It's also because of this that I sent the children abroad."

With Jerry and Yuki around, the three children were much safer than staying with them.

Lottie was so shocked that her hands and feet turned cold, "Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

"My wife wants to pursue her dreams and catch the scumbags of the entertainment industry. She wants to be chivalrous and righteous. She wants to make a name for herself and gain the love of a lot of fans."

"There are enough things you need to worry about.

Removing other obstacles is my responsibility."

He smiled sweetly and said, "I've heard a saying, ' You protect the world, and I protect you'."

Lottie clenched her fists, tears welling up in her eyes.

"Why are you so stupid?"

"I'm not stupid."

Ralph said, "If I were stupid, how could I marry such a good wife?"

"Ralph, you are a fool."

Lottie sniffed and took the initiative to reach out to wrap Ralph's waist.

No wonder Kayden did not hesitate to use the proposal to attract attention. No wonder they were in such a hurry to trap Lincoln. It turned out that Lincoln was hiding in the dark and had done so many bad things.

But she knew nothing.

She kept putting pressure on Ralph and did not understand his difficulties at all.

"Don't do this again. Whatever happens to you, you must let me know, okay?"

Ralph's heart twitched when he heard Lottie's downcast voice.

"You don't have to know these things. Your husband is so powerful. Lincoln can't do anything to me at all."

"I'm not as powerful as you. I can't track your whereabouts at any time, nor can I find out what bad things Lincoln is doing, but... I can't live without you."

Ralph couldn't help but cry when he heard Lottie's particularly honest words.

"I also want to protect you." Lottie looked firmly at Ralph. "There are many things that you don't have to bear alone. You can share some pressure with me."

Ralph silently hugged her tighter.

Lottie felt the strength on her waist and said softly, "I also have something to say."

Ralph asked hoarsely, "What do you mean?"

"We will be unbeatable when we are united."

Ralph suddenly laughed softly.

After a while, Ralph seemed to have completely surrendered and said, "Okay."

Lottie's eyes lit up.

"Are you serious? Will you never hide it from me again?"

Ralph rubbed her nose lovingly and said with a smile, "Really, I won't hide it from you anymore."

Lottie cheered in a low voice and hugged Ralph's neck to kiss him.

They completely undid the knot in their mind. Ralph also told her about what he had been busy with recently.

After SFLE Media was acquired, there were still too many branch companies that could not be taken into consideration.

Ralph planned to integrate the resources and customize a development route for Lottie, covering all sides of the entertainment industry. He could take the opportunity to reorganize the chaotic rules of the entertainment industry.

His original intention was to dig down the clue of Bridge and root out the illegal industrial chain hidden in the dark, but he didn't expect that the deeper he dug, the more he found Lincoln involved.

Moreover, Lincoln was one of the particularly important roles, and he handled the exchange of interests for any people.

No wonder Lincoln was so confident that he would make a second comeback for Natalia.

Based on Lincoln's current social network, he did not have any other powerful competitors in the entertainment industry. He could launder money without anyone noticing.

Lottie's expression gradually turned serious.

"Where is Lincoln hiding now?"

"Have you heard about F.Y. Entertainment?"

Lincoln was stunned, "It sounds a little familiar."

"F.Y. Entertainment is an old-line entertainment company. In the past 20 years, it has produced a lot of famous superstars, and then it gradually quieted down. Recently, I heard that F.

Y. Entertainment has changed its boss, and then it began to take new actions. It secretly signed several new stars with potential, and then made full use of it."

Hearing this, an idea flashed through Lottie's mind. She recalled it!

"Harleen! She seems to be an artist signed by F.Y. Entertainment!"

Lottie looked at Ralph, "Is Harleen also a heeler of Lincoln?"

Ralph shook his head and said, "I only found out that Lincoln has contacts with the new owner of F.Y. Entertainment, but it doesn't mean that the whole F.Y. Entertainment is controlled by Lincoln."

"Isn't the new owner Lincoln?"

"I don't think so."

"Why?"

Ralph glanced out of the window and said with a smile, "It is said that the new owner of F.Y. Entertainment is a foreigner with green eyes. I don't think he is Lincoln."

"A foreigner?" Lottie was stunned, and a thought flashed through her mind.

Ralph looked at her with a smile, "What are you thinking about?"

Lottie shook her head, "I don't know."

"I've asked Director Heron to confirm that F.Y. Entertainment is one of the investors of The Twins." Ralph looked into Lottie's eyes and hinted, "On the day the movie starts, all investors will show up. At that time, we will know if that person is Lincoln."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 576 You Are Determined at Doing Things

F.Y. Entertainment.

The man wearing a black hoodie and a hood pushed up his glasses on the bridge of his nose. Looking at the surveillance video of the car exploding on the computer, a dark light flashed across his eyes.

The man pointed at the scene of the explosion and complained to the man with a bitter face.

"Mr. Yung, you must uphold justice for me!"

"I spent more than one hundred thousand dollars on this car not long ago, but it just exploded!"

Liam's face was torn and his legs were injured. His suit was loose, and he looked extremely embarrassed.

Lincoln ignored Liam's cries and pressed on the fast-forward button, but found nothing unusual.

All the monitoring pictures included the Land Rover on the side of the road had been tampered with.

He could not find when Ralph's men fought back.

Even if he called the police, they couldn't find any contrived trace, so he had to accept the bad luck.

Lincoln glanced at Liam and said, "When did your men do it?"

"The time during Ralph went to the branch companies to inspect. In order to make it easier, I deliberately delayed the meeting for a long time."

"Ralph has always been careful. There will be people guarding his carriage. How did your people confirm that they were not discovered when your men did it?"

"I heard from my assistant that the driver suddenly went to the toilet, so he asked someone to knock the driver out and lock him in the toilet. Then they did it."

"Idiot!"

Lincoln was so angry that he kicked Liam hard.

Liam got up from the ground, his face full of anger, but he didn't dare to say anything.

"How could Ralph's men reveal such a big flaw to you? It's obviously intentional!"

Ralph so wise that he had long noticed that there was something wrong with Liam, so he deliberately played this trick to lure him into the trap.

The self-burning explosion of the car was a deterrent to Liam, and it's also a provocation to Lincoln!

Liam didn't dare to make a sound and clenched his fists tightly.

"Forget it. You go abroad and hide for a while. I will take care of your family for you."

Liam's heart skipped a beat. He had heard that Lincoln was a ruthless person. He said that he would take care of his family on his behalf, but in fact, he was using his family to make him work for him.

Rose's mother had been caught by Ralph's men. Why didn't Lincoln ask about it?

"Mr. Yung, can I take my family abroad?"

"No, it's intentional that the whole family go abroad. Ralph will notice something wrong."

"But..."

Lincoln's cold gaze swept over Liam as he sneered.

"Mr. Evans, don't you know who promoted you to your current position?"

Liam shuddered and lowered his head, not daring to look straight into Lincoln's eyes.

Although there were eyeglasses, Lincoln's eyes were too cruel, like a poisonous snake that was staring at its prey, making people shiver all over.

"Yes.

.. It's all thanks to you, Mr. Yung. Thank you, Mr. Yung. I'll go abroad myself first. Please arrange it me."

Lincoln sneered and waved his hand to summon his assistant.

"Help Mr. Evans get the visa and ticket ready, and let him leave at night."

"Take him back to pack up now."

"Okay, Mr. Yung."

Liam felt that it was too urgent, but he didn't dare to make any requests with Lincoln. In the end, he hesitated and left.

After Liam left, the young gentleman sitting on the sofa in the corner let out a low laugh.

"Yung, you are still so ruthless."

Lincoln opened the web page and logged onto Twitter. When he saw the latest official post from Twitter, his eyes were indifferent.

"Isn't it the reason why you want to cooperate with me?"

The young man laughed again in a low voice, "That's right. I just appreciate you about this. You're cruel and merciless. You will let go whatever you want. I appreciate you."

Lincoln snorted.

However, it would be great if you were not trapped in love. Yung, you should have no weaknesses.

Lincoln's expression changed, " Andrew, you don't understand."

Hearing this, Andrew raised his head, and his green eyes looked at Lincoln quietly, like a deep sea.

"I don't understand."

Andrew picked up the wine glass on the tea table and gently shook the liquid in the cup with a happy expression.

"With our power and status today, what kind of woman can't we get?"

"Women are just tools to satisfy your daily or physiological needs. You don't have to care too much."

Lincoln frowned.

" Andrew, Natalia is different from your women. She is not a tool!"

Andrew shook his head and looked lazy, "How different is it?"

"There's no need to tell you this. Anyway, she is my other plan. It has nothing to do with our cooperation."

"Are you sure?" Andrew looked at Lincoln and said, "Yung, I appreciate your ability and I also want to cooperate with you in a long term. We can benefit together."

"But because of a woman, you provoked Ralph again and again. It's hard for me to believe that you are rational."

Lincoln stopped typing on the keyboard and turned to Andrew, "I'm tackling Ralph not because of Natalia, but I have other purposes."

Andrew curled up the corners of his mouth and showed a frivolous smile. Obviously, he did not believe Lincoln's words.

In his opinion, Lincoln was targeting Ralph because she wanted to take revenge on Kayden.

Otherwise, as long as Lincoln took Natalia away, there was no need for him to become enemies with Ralph.

"Because of Ralph's intervention, I gave up my dearest nephew. I don't have a second nephew for you to harm." Andrew was still smiling, but his eyes were indifferent. "I don't want to see the second occurrence of what happened to Bridge."

"Otherwise..."

Yung, don't blame me for hurting your 'baby'."

Lincoln's expression changed dramatically and he suddenly looked at Andrew.

Andrew ignored him, put down the wine glass gently, waved his hand and called a female secretary to behave affectionately towards her.

"Yung, you can leave first if you don't want to join us."

Lincoln clenched his fists and turned around with a livid face.

An indescribable voice slowly came from the president's office.

Lincoln closed the door with unconcealed disgust and anger in her eyes.

He walked to the end of the corridor, lit a cigarette, and then picked up his mobile phone to call someone.

"Hello." A female voice came from the other end of the phone.

"How's it going with the script?" Lincoln asked softly.

"No problem."

"This time, you're in the same crew as them. Don't be in a hurry to expose your identity. I'll arrange someone else to make trouble for Lottie. Try your best to get her trust.

"I understand."

"There's one more thing." Lincoln's eyes turned cold. "I know that you hate Lottie and you covet Ralph. But before I do it, if you don't listen to my orders and take action, I will completely destroy you."

The woman on the other end of the phone was silent for a moment before she said, "Don't worry, I will never act rashly again this time."

"SFLE Media has just officially announced the concert on Twitter. It will be held at the gym in three days. Contact Eve and tell her that if she wants to take revenge, this opportunity must not be missed." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 577 Help Husband's Family

After instructing his heeler, Lincoln hung up the phone.

Lincoln sneered when he pointed at the official announcement on the screen.

"Do you want to marry Natalia again? Day dream!"

"Kayden, Ralph, wait and see."

Lincoln raised his hands and adjusted his hood. He put down the bangs on his forehead to cover his malicious eyes.

He put out the cigarette in his hand, threw the butt into the trash can, and then walked downstairs to the trainee classroom.

At this moment, Lincoln was dressed in a sweater and a pair of torn jeans. He looked so young and fashionable, and his face was as tender as a newly graduated college student. Coupled with his decadent temperament, he was completely different from the gentle and mature Lincoln in the past.

Others would think that he was the new trainee signed by F.Y. Entertainment and would become a star in the future.

They couldn't imagine that he was the go-between who stirred up the storm in the entertainment industry.

In SFLE Media.

Just as Lottie was about to return to the lounge, Connie blocked her way.

"Lottie, have you read Twitter?"

"I haven't had time to read. What's wrong?"

"The concert was officially announced! Many fans are clamoring for tickets. You may ask your husband about the ticket time and ticket price!"

Lottie was stunned for a moment before asking, "The official announcement?"

Connie nodded excitedly and said, "It's a big deal. How can Mr. Chapman keep it a secret so well? As his agent, I didn't even know anything. There are so many things that haven't been arranged properly!"

She had been an agent for so long, but she had not held a concert for her artists. This time, she was very eager to have a try.

Lottie was helpless, "It's not just a combined concert. Why are you so excited?"

"Oh, you don't understand." Connie waved her hand. "I've been a fan of Alfred for so many years. I've gone off-line activities many times, but I've never been to a concert!"

"I've wanted to go to the concert a long time ago. I heard it's very exciting!"

Lottie shrugged helplessly and thought, "Then go ask Ralph about the details yourself. I don't know the details."

Just then, she heard a familiar male voice behind her, "I didn't arrange the concert earlier to let you have fun. I'm sorry."

Connie turned around and widened her eyes when she saw the best actor in front of her.

"Alfred, why are you here?"

Alfred looked back at his agent.

His manager took a step forward expressionlessly and reached out his hand to Lottie.

"Hello, Miss Green.

I'm Amy, Alfred's former agent."

Lottie shook hands with her with a blank expression, "Former agent?"

"From today on, both Alfred and I belong to SFLE Media. I would appreciate your guidance."

"What did you say?"

Connie staggered and almost fell down.

Alfred quickly reached out to help her, so she didn't fall to the ground on her face.

"Be careful," Alfred whispered in Connie's ear.

Connie was speechless again.

Connie's ears burned and her face turned red. She did not dare to speak.

Lottie coughed lightly and looked at Alfred, "Don't you want to explain?"

Alfred had his own studio, and it had developed like the sun at high noon. However, he suddenly gave up his studio and came to SFLE Media to be an artist. Was he crazy?

Alfred shrugged.

"The CEO of SFLE Media is my cousin, and the real boss is my cousin-in-law. I support my cousin and my cousin-in-law's career, and make use of my own reputation and popularity to help SFLE Media. Is there any problem?"

Lottie, "?"

Lottie didn't expect he would say that. She didn't think Alfred treated her as his cousin-in-law before.

Lottie complained in her heart, but a wicked smile appeared on her face. She even secretly bumped into Connie's shoulder.

Connie frowned and said to Alfred, "Nonsense!"

Alfred asked, "Why?"

"You don't have to do that!"

With Alfred's fame and status, his studio had become a gilded signboard in the industry. Alfred could be the boss by himself. There was no need to sign SFLE Media to work for others.

Alfred glanced at Connie and said, "I think it's necessary."

"It's not necessary.

Not only can't SFLE Media give you resources now, but they also need your resources to cultivate newcomers."

"I don't mind."

"But your fans will definitely mind!"

He resigned the position as a boss and worked for others. If the resources were too poor in the future, they would lose a large number of career fans! This would be a big blow to Alfred.

"But you're here."

"I..."

Connie couldn't say anything and stunned on the spot.

She finally understood why Amy rolled her eyes at her as soon as she saw her.

For her sake, a famous artist suddenly went crazy.

If she were Amy, she would also collapse.

Lottie watched the show from the side for a long time, she was very satisfied.

Lottie still thought that Alfred was not enlightened, but now it seemed that he was not completely hopeless.

To deal with girl like Connie, he had to pester her at any time so that she would not think too much.

"Have you signed your contract?" Lottie asked.

Alfred nodded, "I just finished signing in my cousin's office."

"It's too fast, aren't you?" Connie whispered.

Alfred looked at Connie with a smile, "I have to be fast, or I'm afraid someone will drive me away."

Connie was speechless again.

Lottie burst out laughing.

Alfred added, "I haven't been to SFLE Media before, so Agent Connie.

Can you show me around?"

Connie was speechless.

What a joke! Before SFLE Media was acquired, it was EE Media.

EE Media was one of the largest film and television entertainment companies in the circle, and Alfred used to come to negotiate on behalf of EE Media.

Alfred might even be more familiar with the terrain here than Lottie, the real boss.

Seeing Connie's reluctant face, Alfred had to explain, "To be honest, I haven't been to SFLE Media after the renovation."

"Well, Connie, you can show Alfred around. I have something to do."

Connie was pushed to Alfred's side by Lottie. She was still stunned.

Alfred reached out and helped Connie up. Then he put his hand on Connie's shoulder and did not put it down.

Connie didn't realize it and glared at Lottie.

"Are you still my good friend? How can you betray your good friend?"

Lottie grinned at Connie.

"Sorry, Alfred is my husband's cousin and a member of my husband's family."

Of course, she would help Alfred.

Connie looked away with a sad expression.

Lottie paid more attention to her husband than her friend.

"Since you've said so, please show us around, Connie."

Then, regardless of how Connie struggled, Alfred took her away with her Connie's shoulder.

Amy and the others followed behind them obediently, making a great distance with them.

Lottie shook her head, and the smile on her face gradually faded.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 578 If You Don't Want to be with Her, Say It earlier

Back in the lounge, Lottie sent Natalia a message asking her where she was now.

Not long after, Natalia came looking for her.

"Lottie, are you looking for me."

"Yes, did you hear the news about the concert?"

Natalia nodded and sat down next to Lottie.

"I just saw it. I didn't expect Mr. Chapman to prepare such a big surprise for you."

Lottie stared fixedly at Natalia. When she saw that her eyes were red, it was obvious that she had cried.

"Mr. Chapman didn't prepare this for me."

Natalia was stunned, "Isn't that so? But I think the organizer is obviously SFLE Media. Wasn't it because Mr. Chapman didn't want you to have any regrets, so he planned this farewell concert himself?"

Lottie shook her head and took her hand.

"Mr. Chapman is indeed involved, but the real hero is not him."

Natalia seemed to have understood something and looked at Lottie without saying a word.

Lottie nodded, "You guessed it right. The person who contributed the most to this concert is Kayden."

"It's him..."

Lottie tilted her head and looked at Natalia, "Can you tell me what happened just now? Your eyes were red. Who made you angry?"

Natalia subconsciously covered her eyes and only put her hand down after hearing Lottie's words.

"No, it might be a misunderstanding."

"Misunderstanding?"

"For the past few days, Kayden has been a little indifferent to me and often disappeared for no reason," Natalia said sadly, "When I went back last night, he coaxed me to sleep and left alone. He didn't come back tiredly until this morning."

Most importantly, when she asked Kayden what he had done yesterday, Kayden told her that he was having a meeting at the company.

But Natalia called Cais, who said that there was nothing wrong with the company last night, and Kayden went home very early.

Natalia felt especially uncomfortable that Kayden was lying to her.

However, she had no confidence facing Kayden.

After so many years of secret love, she always felt inferior to Kayden.

She didn't dare to ask where Kayden had gone and what he had done last night, so she could only cry secretly.

After hearing what Natalia had said, Lottie slapped her thigh in anger!

"Why do you keep it in your heart?"

"Just ask him if you have any questions. Show me your aura as the best actress. Don't spoil Kayden!"

The rims of Natalia's eyes reddened again, but she looked at Lottie with a smile.

"I got it when I heard what you said just now. I must have misunderstood Kayden. He was secretly preparing a surprise for me, but I was thinking too much. It's my fault."

"Why are you always looking for find the causes on yourself?"

Lottie looked at Natalia with unpleasantness, "It's all Kayden's problem when he made you feel insecure! Don't be afraid of him. Communication is very important for the couple."

Lottie thought about it and told Natalia about the misunderstanding that had occurred between her and Ralph.

"If Ralph had told me earlier about bringing Richeal back from the bar, I wouldn't have misunderstood him."

"Fortunately, we talked about it in the end. Otherwise, we would have been separated from each other after going through so many ups and downs. Isn't it undeserved for us to be separated because of such a small misunderstanding?"

Natalia looked at Lottie enviously.

She also wanted to be herself in front of Kayden, but she was not confident.

Now her career had not yet started, but Kayden was going to take over the Chapman Group.

What if the gap between the two of them became bigger and bigger in the future? Would Kayden regret choosing to be with her?

Seeing her expression, Lottie guessed what she was thinking.

Sighing deeply in her heart, Lottie said in a commanding tone, "How about this, take out your phone."

Natalia was confused.

Although she didn't know what Lottie wanted to do, she still obediently took out her phone.

"Unlocked it."

"Call Kayden."

Natalia did as she was told. She didn't look at Lottie until the number was dialed.

"What are you going to do?"

"Shh!"

Lottie winked at Natalia.

"Don't talk later. Let me talk."

The phone rang three times and Kayden picked it up immediately.

The man's voice was dynamic, "Baby Natalia! Do you miss me?"

Lottie was speechless.

Natalia shyly lowered her head, and her cheeks began to burn.

Lottie suspected that she had been deceived. Judging from Kayden's warm and lively tone, it didn't sound like he was arguing with Natalia at all.

"Hello? Honey Natalia, are you here?"

Lottie rolled her eyes and said indifferently, "Baby Natalia is not here. I'm Lottie."

"Auntie?" Kayden's tone became serious in an instant. "Why are you there? Where's Natalia?"

"Do you still care about Natalia?"

"What do you mean? What's wrong with her?" Kayden asked anxiously, looking very worried.

"Let me ask you, did you not go home last night?"

"I..."

"Are you always perfunctory to Natalia?"

"I am not!"

"If not, would Natalia come crying and complaining to me?" Lottie's tone was indifferent, "Good, Kayden. What did you say when you asked for reunion? Now that you've pursued her, you don't have to care about her, do you?"

"Natalia cried and complained to you? How... how could it be?"

Lottie had already switched on the speaker. Natalia had clearly heard the anxiety and worry in Kayden's tone.

Natalia's eyes became bright at this moment, which made her face more charming.

"Kayden, if you don't want to be with Natalia any more, just tell her earlier. Don't think that you can keep her by your side just because you donated a kidney to her mother. If you don't treat her well, let her find her happiness as soon as possible!"

"Auntie!" Kayden suddenly increased his volume. "Is Natalia by your side?"

Lottie looked at Natalia. Natalia's heart had already softened a little. She reached out to take the phone, but was pushed away by Lottie.

"She's not here. I secretly called you."

"No, I really didn't want to give her a cold shoulder, and I am not perfunctory to her. I didn't go back last night because I was in the gym to arrange the concert for you. I want to give you a beautiful memory."

"Men always have so many excuses."

"What... what should I say to convince you?"

"Is what you said important to me?"

"I see! Auntie, are you in SFLE Media? I'll come over right now and apologize to Natalia in person!"

Kayden hung up the phone immediately.

Lottie's lips curled into a smile as she looked at Natalia.

"Lottie, is it reasonable for us to do this? I knew it was a misunderstanding, but I have him come here..."

"Natalia." Lottie held Natalia's hand and said helplessly, "You don't have to be so sensible. Women should be cared about. If you feel sorry, you can trust Kayden more and be more honest with him in the future."

Natalia nodded hard, looking thoughtful.

Lottie hugged her and said with a smile, "Natalia, you should have more confidence in yourself and trust in your relationship. You will always be happy."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 579 Can't Take My Eyes Off You

Kayden arrived very quickly. He was out of breath when he arrived, and there were a lot of sweat on his forehead.

He was obviously rushed here.

Lottie stood at the door of the lounge. She reached out and patted his shoulder, using her eyes to signal for the position behind the door.

"Natalia is inside. Explain to her and don't bully her. Do you understand?"

"How would I dare, auntie? I can't wait to hold her in my palm."

"OK."

"Then I'll go in first."

Lottie waved her hand and watched as Kayden pushed open the door and walked into her lounge.

With a click, the door was closed.

Lottie shrugged her shoulders. She was a little curious about what they would talk about, so she sneaked closer to the door, intending to eavesdrop what they were talking about.

However, as soon as she got close to the wall, someone patted her on the shoulder.

Lottie was startled. She turned around and saw Ralph.

When Mr. Chapman saw his wife eavesdropping on the door, he felt that she was very cute.

He asked with a smile, "What are you doing here?"

"Shh!"

Lottie held Ralph's hand, signaling for him to lower his voice before continuing to eavesdrop.

Ralph lowered his voice and said, "In order to prevent secrets from being leaked, the sound insulation here is very good. They can't hear the sound outside, and we can't hear the sound inside."

Lottie said, "Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

She stood up straight and looked unhappy.

Ralph raised his brows, "Who is inside?"

"Natalia and Kayden, they seem to have some misunderstandings. I'm worried that they'll break up."

Ralph nodded and stretched out his hand to rub Lottie's nose, "My cute housewife, you're just worried."

"I'm not a housewife."

Lottie curled her lips and glared at him with her beautiful eyes, as if she was seducing him.

Ralph took her hand and kissed her on the lips.

"Follow me."

"Where are we going?"

"Don't you want to hear what they are talking about? Go to my office."

Lottie was led to his office by Ralph, and then she was pressed into the executive chair to sit down.

Ralph turned on the computer and tapped on the keyboard casually. Soon, the picture of the lounge was displayed on the screen, and the faces of Natalia and Kayden could be seen clearly.

Lottie moved closer to the screen and took a look. She heard Kayden anxiously explain what he had been busy with these days to Natalia.

"Such a high definition camera can even see the pores on their faces..." Lottie looked at Ralph and raised the corner of her lips, "Mr.

Chapman, don't you need to explain it?"

Ralph was speechless.

"You often peeked at me in the office, didn't you?"

Mr. Chapman had no way of denying it, because it was indeed the truth.

"Ralph, are you a pervert?"

It wasn't enough for him to be with Lottie every day. He didn't forget to monitor her when he was working.

Ralph thought that Lottie was angry and looked a little flustered.

"No, let me explain."

"You explain. I'm listening."

Lottie saw that Kayden and Natalia were already hugging each other on the screen. She turned off the surveillance camera and looked up at Ralph with her arms crossed.

She was waiting to listen to his sophistry.

"Ahem, I... I just want to see you more often."

"Is it enough to see me at home every night?"

"Not enough."

Ralph lowered his head to look at Lottie, his gaze so gentle.

"I can't see take my eyes off you for the rest of my life."

Lottie's cheeks were burning hot. She reached out to push Ralph.

"You don't even feel shy."

"Why should I feel shy? If I feel shy, I won't have a wife."

Lottie was speechless.

"I don't usually turn on the monitor. I only turn on the monitor for a while I'm tired from working overtime occasionally and you're resting in the lounge ."

"After watching you, I felt like I was full of energy.

No matter how hard I worked, I didn't feel tired."

Lottie was overjoyed by his sweet words and the corners of her mouth rose wildly.

"Cough, alright, I barely believe you," said Lottie.

The corners of Ralph's lips curled up slightly. He pulled her up from the chair and sat down on his own. Then, he pulled her into his embrace.

"The concert is about to begin. What's your plan?"

"I'm going to call Violet and Jessica back. After Natalia settled her matters, we'll practice the song and dance together."

"Are you just going to perform a song?"

"Aren't there other contestants' performances."

Ralph smiled and said, "The concert will last for four hours, and the performance will last no less than three hours."

"There are only a dozen groups in total from Treasure 101. Each of them can perform for three to four minutes. Is it enough time for performing?"

"So I found a guest singer for you."

"Who?"

"It's a secret for the time being."

"You can't even tell me?" Lottie was very curious.

"It's a surprise. You'll know soon." Ralph said, "In addition to the guest singer, you and the other top ranked contestants can have solo performance.

Lottie's eyes lit up, "What do you mean?"

"Lottie, I want to see you finish a song alone. The children should like it very much."

"Yes, Elijah and the others are going back to attend the concert. I can give them this performance as a gift."

The smile on Ralph's face faded. "Just a gift for them?"

Lottie found it funny. She held Ralph's face and kissed him, "It's a gift for you, okay?"

Ralph said reluctantly, "That's more like it."

Lottie didn't know whether to laugh or cry, "You're jealous."

Ralph snorted. He was about to say something when he heard someone knocking on the office door.

Lottie looked at him and took the initiative to get off his lap. She walked over to the sofa and sat down.

Ralph tidied up his clothes and cleared his throat, "Come in."

The door was pushed open and Richeal walked in.

"Mr. Chapman, I have a lot of details to verify with you about the concert in three days."

Richeal's face was pale and her tone was business-like.

Richeal said, "As for the details of the concert, you can talk to Kayden later. He's in charge of it."

Richeal nodded with understanding. She thought that the sponsor was the Chapman's Group, but she didn't expect that Kayden was involved.

"Is there anything else?"

"Oh, the guest singers we contacted before have arrived at the company. Are you going to meet them?"

Lottie got the key point, "They?"

Richeal nodded, "The guest singers this time can be considered as heavyweights. One is the diva, and the other is the most popular idol group."

Lottie's eyes lit up, "Is that male group or female group?"

"A male group can, which can be a combination with the female contestants of Treasure 101. It can also attract more fans to watch," Richeal explained.

Ralph swept a light glance at Lottie, "Are you happy to know that it's a male group?"

"How could that be?" Lottie said as she revealed her starry eyes. Her words and thoughts were completely different.

Ralph was jealous again. He snorted and said to Richeal, "Keep the diva, but the idol group will be replaced."

Richeal was confused.

"No, do you know how much the appearance fee of the top-class male group is?"

"I've paid for it. It's not good to let them leave now!"

"Don't listen to him."

Lottie looked at Richeal and said, "How can we break the agreement at the last minute? We must keep our word."

Ralph narrowed his eyes dangerously.

"Mr. Chapman, you have to be scrupulous in separating public from private interests." Lottie smiled and patted the back of Ralph's hand.

Ralph frowned unhappily. He leaned close to Lottie's ear and whispered, "It's fine to keep them, but you have to give me some benefits, right?"

Lottie was confused.

"Why did you ask me to give you benefits?"

"Why should I give it to you? I'm saving money for you so I don't let you change the group!"

"I'm not short of money."

Lottie was speechless.

"Not giving me any benefits? Then let's replace the male group."

"Give it to me! What do you want?"

Lottie didn't want to make things difficult for the staff either. Didn't he notice that Richeal's expression was complicated?

So she had to sacrifice himself.

Ralph smiled and said with satisfaction, "When you see them, you are not allowed to say hello to them."

"It... isn't it impolite? Others will say that I'm rude."

If someone said that she was putting on airs or something, it would not be very troublesome to clarify it.

"Then let's replace the male group."

Lottie gritted her teeth and nodded helplessly, "Alright, I definitely won't say hello to them. I won't even say a word, okay?"

"Don't look at them, either."

"I..."

"You don't agree?"

"Okay! I'll make you satisfied. Okay?"

Ralph nodded at Richeal and said, "Let them wait in your office. I'll see them later."

Richeal put away the documents and rolled her eyes.

"That's enough. It's not appropriate to show off your love here."

After complaining, Richeal went out first.

Lottie and Ralph looked at each other. Lottie pointed at his nose and said with a smile, "Did you hear that? Restrain yourself in the future!"

Ralph pulled her into his embrace and lowered his head to kiss her sweet lips.

"I won't restrain myself.

"What can you do to me?"

Their lips and teeth were entangled, and their breathing was a little unstable.

Lottie pushed him away a little, her ears were red.

"Aren't we going to see the guest singers? Don't let others wait too long."

Ralph kissed her lips and said softly, "Did you put a curse on me?"

Lottie glanced at him with her beautiful eyes and blamed him, "What nonsense are you talking about?"

"Otherwise, why would I love you so much?"

Lottie was speechless.

Lottie's cheeks were burning hot, but she shuddered again, "Where did you learn those vulgar words?"

To be honest, if Ralph had not had this handsome face to support him, he would have been really vulgar.

Ralph could not help but laugh. He rubbed her hair and said, "I don't have to learn. Every word comes from the bottom of my heart."

The corners of Lottie's lips curled up, "It's really enough. Go back to work."

"Don't you want to know who the guest is? Let's go together."

"Can I go?"

"Don't forget your commitments."

"Then let's go together!"

A few minutes later, Ralph brought Lottie to Richeal's office.

Because there were more than a dozen people standing in the spacious office, the office seemed smaller, probably because the group of boys were too noisy.

Seeing someone come in, the captain immediately organized all the members of the group, bowed together, and then greeted loudly, "Hello, we are Super9!"

"I'm Captain Mike!"

"I'm the lead singer Hankie!"

"I am..."

After a bunch of people finished greeting, apart from the captain, Lottie didn't remember any other name.

Moreover, she kept her promise. She couldn't speak to or look at them, so she hid behind Ralph.

In addition to the nine members of the male group, there were two strangers in the office.

One was the legendary diva Molly Smith, while the other was an acquaintance of Lottie.

"Eve, why are you here?"

When Eve heard Lottie's voice, she snorted.

"Don't think you can easily destroy my life."

Eve's acting career had been ruined, so she could only do something behind the scenes. She was now working as Molly's assistant.

When Molly heard Lottie's words, she slowly glanced at her. Although there was no mockery or contempt in her eyes, it made people feel uncomfortable.

Ralph frowned and stepped forward to block Molly's gaze.

"Mr. Chapman, I've heard a lot about you. I'm Molly Smith, and I'm honored to cooperate with you."

When she met Ralph, Molly's attitude changed. She looked at him with a smile and even reached out her hand in a friendly way.

Ralph did not even look at her. Instead, he glanced at Richeal and asked, "What's going on?"

Richeal knew what he was asking, so she said expressionlessly, "Eve is Molly's niece, and she is now working as Ms. Smith's assistant."

If she had known about the relationship between Molly and Eve, she would not have invited her here as a guest singer.

No matter what, Ralph could not make things difficult for Lottie.

"Mr. Chapman, Eve wasn't sensible before. She was bewitched by Rose and did something bad, but she was also punished. She knew that she was wrong."

"This time, I asked her to come over to help me because I wanted her to apologize to you in person. You should be generous and let her go, right?"

Before Ralph could say anything, Lottie laughed out loud.

Molly was really interesting. She kept saying that Eve knew that she had made a mistake, but in the end, she did not mention what she had done wrong and did not let her apologize to the victim, Lottie. Instead, she went to apologize to Ralph.

Lottie knew what Molly meant. She just didn't like her and felt that she didn't deserve to talk to her, did she?

Molly should be in her thirties, but how could she live so innocently?

"Ms. Smith, I'm sorry to interrupt you. Did you make a mistake about the object of your apology?" Lottie reminded her with a smile.

When Molly saw that Ralph didn't respond, she stared at Lottie with great interest but felt unhappy.

Molly thought to herself, "When I started my career at the age of 18, I became famous all over the country and had countless fans. Many rich businessmen and rich people begged me to meet them, but I have never seen such a proud president like Ralph."

Ralph dared to ignore her.

She pretended not to know Lottie's identity and said in front of everyone in the office, "Is this a newcomer? I'm sorry, I haven't been out for a long time, and I'm not very familiar with some newcomers without works and strength."

After she finished speaking, the scene fell into a dead silence.

On one side, the members of the Super9 looked at each other and were so scared that they didn't dare to breathe.

Only the captain, Mike, had an unfriendly expression on his face. The words that Molly had just said could be considered as scolding the entire team.

In such silence, the door of the office was pushed open and a woman's voice sounded, "Then you are really ignorant."

Everyone turned around and saw Connie coming in with Alfred. Connie was the one who said that.

Molly did not look good. She frowned and looked at Connie, "Who are you?"

"Me? I'm the agent of the superstar, Lottie and Natalia. Sorry, who are you?"
