"Of course, it has something to do with me. If you leave, where can I find you?" Richeal sneered. "Did you care about me when you left the country?" York was stunned. Before he could react, Richeal had already walked up to Sean. "I'll exchange with you." When Richeal faced Sean, her tone was gentle, and she helped to take Jessica's luggage. Sean looked at York and then at Richeal. "Miss Lee, I'll go. I'll find a caregiver for Jessica." Richeal smiled at Sean. "Just call me Richeal Lee or Richeal." Sean felt York's cold gaze and couldn't help but straighten his back. "Well, that's not good. I'd better..." "It's all right. I was drunk that day. Thank you for sending me to the hotel and helping me so much. We're considered friends now, aren't we? Just call me Richeal.

"Richeal smiled at Sean. Sean was speechless. At the same time when his heart beat faster, he broke out in a cold sweat after being stared at by York condescendingly. Well, he would rather stay out of their stupid fight. Sean forced a smile and said, "That's OK. I was just following Mr. Chapman's order that day." "So, you were the one drinking with Richeal that day!" York rushed over and immediately said to Sean, "Come here and fight with me!" Sean was confused. York asked, "Why Richeal is so nice to you?" Sean looked innocent. "Mr. Lee, are you mistaken?" "I'm not. Stop acting like a coward. Just do it!" "I quit! I can't beat you. Mr. Lee, please!"

Sean gave a wry smile. He was just following orders. York was the teacher of three children. He was skilled in martial arts and outmatched Sean. "Cut it out!" While Sean was begging for mercy, Richeal spread her arms to shield Sean behind her back.

She spoke to York with dissatisfaction. York was stunned. "You yell at me?" Richeal didn't say anything for a moment. "Are you just yelling at me for Sean?" York pointed at Sean and then looked at Richeal with an aggrieved expression. The atmosphere turned a little awkward for a moment. Jessica and Connie looked at each other helplessly. When Richeal suddenly raised her voice dramatically, Sean saw Richeal throw a fit, he was just kidding. I won't sigh. Ralph must have a reason to set Jessica aside. Sean was hesitating. When she saw Sean and found that it was his win, so he asked her to wait the right time, said to Richeal and Sean's phone rang. "Stubborn. If she didn't answer to pick up the phone first?" Alfred's to replied, "I'm back. After sending you. York will take the kids to Odense. You very sed, "What's wrong? Didi, Alfred was suddenly changed into? Eied from the

In order to prevent Jessica's schedule from being leaked, Ralph had reserved a private jet for her. In case there was an accident, York decided to take the children out of the country with Jessica first, and then rearrange the hospital for Jessica after they arrived in Odense. With the power of the Bells family and the Bartons family, Lincoln could not act recklessly, so York did not have to worry about the safety of Jessica and the children. It happened so suddenly that York was reluctant to part with Richeal and only said goodbye to her, and then he prepared to go aboard with Sean by the private plane. Three children also felt upset. Unexpectedly, they were going to leave as well. They were very unwilling to do so. Fabian pouted in a sulk. "I haven't watched Mommy's concert yet! I haven't cheered her on yet!" Stella chimed in, "We won't leave. We can stay behind and help our daddy and mommy strike back bad guys!" York said helplessly, "Kids, we can do the same for them overseas! But the most important thing is your safety, okay?" "But we want to stay and help." They had learned from the adults that the situation was serious and that their daddy had been taken away by the police. They couldn't leave calmly. York was very annoyed and turned to look at Elijah, who was still silent. "Elijah, a little help will be nice." Hearing this, Elijah raised his head, glanced at York, and then said, "We'll stay." York was speechless. He wanted Elijah to persuade them to leave! Not to support them! "Yeah! Elijah said he wanted to stay, so let's stay!" Stella cheered and was ready to run back. "Elijah, be a good kid." York blocked Stella as he cast his pleading gaze toward Elijah.

Elijah was very calm, "We'll secretly stay behind and not let anyone discover us." York said, "What do you mean?" Elijah smiled, walked over to York, and whispered a few words into his ear. York's eyes lit up after hearing this. "Good lad!" A trace of pride flashed across Elijah's small face, but it was quickly suppressed.

"Next, we need your cooperation." York said, "No problem!" Lottie and the others were originally rehearsing, while Ralph and Kayden watched them below the stage. Lying those lines with a unique do this in such a short period. You need 't, then look at d to look at Ralph's gloomy expression. Jealous Ralph II. Now we suspect that Ralph has something to take him back for a while. He showed everyone his police badge and subordinates to suddenly that evered calm, as though he. Fortunately, the stage wasn't high and in front of him. He has been here with me all, he took a sharp glance at her and didn't. "Are you questioning what I said. Please stay back. She was about to say something when she came back soon. But for me. Prepare for the policeman sneered. He pushed Ralph from behind. Natalia and the others immediately fused. She looked at Kayden so Kai's message was delayed. When Kai only described her current situation and thrown implicated Molly because of her accidental kiss, which aroused the suspicion. The session was dark. "How can

She was still so young and well-off, so by relying on her must have held his hand, no one else could frame him and blamed Natalia and purposely used this news to get involved in these things. Eve's style, she was dead now. Eve and let her find someone to go to the concert. If this news got out, he had to control smile, and Lottie came, and then looked at Kayden, who was. Her eyes flashed. The concert would not have the tickets at all. Kai win and call on insisted on.

"Natalia, help me gather all the guests tonight. I have something to say." "Okay, I'll go now." "Kayden, I'll leave Ralph to you. Please follow up on the police investigation. The lawyer team also needs to get ready. We can't let Ralph suffer any losses." Kayden immediately nodded and said, "Aunt, don't worry. Uncle was wronged. I won't let them succeed." Lottie nodded calmly and then looked at Violet. "Violet, call Connie. Tell her not to come over and go straight back to the company. Let the PR team have it all control." She had to do her best to protect Ralph so that he wouldn't be slandered or charged with murder. "OK!" Violet knew that the situation was urgent, so she immediately took out her phone and called Connie. After Lottie arranged a series of things in an orderly manner, she looked around the scene. Finally, she walked to a corner and took out her phone to call Alfred. "Al..

." Before she could finish her words, she heard Alfred's calm voice, "I'll be right there." Alfred had received news that something had happened to Eve earlier than Lottie and the others, so he prepared earlier. Lottie let out a small sigh of relief when she heard Alfred's words. "What's going on?" Lottie still couldn't believe it. "Is Eve really dead?" There was a sound of the door being closed from Alfred's side. Lottie did not know if he was going to get in or get out of the car. Alfred quickly replied, "She fell from the 16th floor and died. It was terrible." Lottie was silent for a moment. With mixed feelings inside, she was lost for words. As for Molly's matter, she didn't know the details, because York and Ralph were the ones discussing how to deal with it.

She didn't even know that this incident would have such a huge impact on Eve, so much so that she was dead unexpectedly. "Most likely, she didn't commit suicide. Someone pushed her down the stairs." Alfred quickly added. Lottie was surprised. "How do you know that?" "After receiving the news, I contacted my friend as soon as possible. He is a member of the Criminal Investigation Team of the Municipal Bureau. He leaked some information to me." Lottie was shocked by Alfred's connections and asked, "Then who is the murderer? Why did the police take Ralph away? He's been with me today, so he doesn't have time to commit the crime.

.." "Did Ralph leave for a period of time?" Lottie asked that at noon. Ralph had indeed dealt with in the company, and helped us for the past hour. How much of Eve's death is very close to the gymnasium. So, it's possible that things related to Ralph on Eve's phone, where Eve immediately listed Ralph's head. "That's the case." We're Not Leaving

The scene was so very quiet. Hearing the girl's words, the contestants untied their ribbons one by one. In the end, except for Natalia and Violet, who were still standing beside Lottie, almost all the other contestants of Treasure 101 had left. "Lottie, are you really going to let them leave like this?" Natalia grabbed Lottie's hand anxiously. If the guests all left, how could the concert go on? Were the fans going to watch a show with only a few contestants left? It was not enough. "It's okay. Let them go." Lottie patted Natalia's shoulder comfortingly. In front of the originally crowded stage, only emptiness remained. "Anyone else wants to leave? I won't stop you, and I won't hold you responsible after this." After all, Lottie and the others started this, so she couldn't blame them for choosing to leave. However, Lottie still detested it! She would make Lincoln pay for this! Hearing Lottie says this, the remaining staff looked at each other. First, the gaffer hesitated, and then he raised his hand. "I'm sorry, Ms. Green, I..." Lottie turned back and glanced at the gaffer. Seeing that, the gaffer immediately shrank his neck. The host sneered from the side. He was assigned by Molly to cause trouble here, but he didn't expect Ralph to get caught before he even took action. When the case was not clear enough, Lottie sabotaged it herself. Then he wouldn't have to be here anymore. "I'll leave too."

The host raised his hand graciously and glanced at Lottie.

"No one wants it to happen. If I continue to stay, it won't be good for my career at all. I might even be bullied by Molly's fans. This's too much for me." As the chief of Rexwell TV Station, the host was reputed in the entertainment industry. Sean had pulled some strings to invite him here, hoping that he could control the concert. However, he quitted at this critical moment ? As expected, the staff changed their attitude and put down the tools in their hands after hearing the host's words. They came to Lottie one after another. "Ms. Green, sorry..." Audiences Arrive

"Since some people have left, I have something to say." Looking at the empty venue, Lottie took a deep breath and walked in front of everyone. Natalia looked at her worriedly. "Go ahead. We'll do whatever you want." Lottie forced a smile toward Natalia, wanting to say that she was fine. However, when Natalia saw Lottie's expression, she felt her eyes burning with tears. She was worried about Lottie's condition. Lottie stopped laughing and said to everyone, "This's an accident. None of us prepared for it. This is a big challenge for all of us." Violet clutched her arm next to Lottie and asked worriedly, "Lottie, do you have any idea? The concert will last three hours. With just the rest of us, we won't be able to make through it." Their chorus lasted only a little more than three minutes. Even if they added in their solo activities, it would only take them half an hour at most. If they were not prepared enough, what would happen? That would definitely make her a laughingstock, and Lottie's grim future could be predicted. "I..." Lottie hesitated, then said, "I can add two more solos. Didn't they like to watch the sword dance before? I can add this one more." Violet shook her head and said, "That's not enough." "Then.

.." "Even if each of us gets two solo performances, that's not enough." Violet interrupted Lottie. "The situation is so complicated now. Why don't we just cancel the concert first?" Lottie immediately replied, "No!" "Lottie..." Natalia didn't understand why Lottie was so insistent. "We can hold the concert in the future when we are ready. Isn't that better?"

Lottie shook her head. Looking at Kayden, who was trying to get information, by all means, she paused for a moment. "No matter what, I must make this concert work!" Because only in this way could she prove that she and Ralph were innocent! Only in this way could Kayden's proposal succeed, and only in his way could Lincoln, the mastermind behind all this, not be complacent! She would never submit to vile characters, let alone such hardships! Lottie's eyes were red. "In any case, let's first see how many more performances we have to put on. Are the fans going to check in soon?" Guards silently walked over and said, "As the host, all tweeted after they left. They said that Ralph had been online and were disappointed with Lottie and Rouble but finally were only a few people left at the audience members now. He smiled and shook his head under such circumstances for implicating what Kayden meant and still Lottie?" A voice suddenly saw Richeal walk in a suit, but when everyone looked at the hem of her white shirt from under her short hair hanging back up the drumsticks on the drum. After he was onto this going to betray your dream?" Following Connie, other than a group of fans in uniform, there were also three children in charge. When Lottie saw them, she was shocked. "Elijah, Stella, didn't you go abroad with York?" Fabian curled his lips. "What about me?" Lottie smiled slightly and waved at them. "Sorry. Mommy just..." "You just omitted this name, didn't you?" Fabian waved his hand and said generously, "I understand." Lottie felt a little awkward. When Lottie still wanted to say something to comfort Fabian, Stella hit Fabian hard with the doll in her arms. "Stop." Fabian didn't dare to hit her back. He touched his nose and said in a wronged tone, "Didn't I just make it less intense?" Elijah glanced at him and said coldly, "Shut up. Go hug Mommy." After that, three kids rushed to Lottie. Kayden lifted them up to the stage. Then they surrounded Lottie and hugged her. Lottie's eyes were moist. Squatting down, she hugged them and kept saying, "Good kids." Elijah patted Lottie's back considerately and comforted her, "We believe in Daddy. He'll be fine." "That's right! We already located Lincoln. There must be some clues over there!" Stella also said. Fabian said, "Mommy, don't be afraid. We will cheer for you! You don't have to pay attention to the anti-fans on the Internet.

Just wait for the truth to come out!" Lottie silently held the children. She was very touched.

After chatting to her kids for a while, Lottie was full of confidence now. She let go of the three Se children and looked at Connie. "These are ..." "Mommy, they're your fans!" Stella reminded sweatily. Lottie said, "Really?" Yeah. We are in charge of your fan group. I've verified these people for you. They're absolutely loyal fans. They trust you and Daddy!" "These fans have likes in time.

Many of them even find out the scenes of you being a stunt double in the past! Many of them even find out the scenes really young, they all said, she cast her gaze at the crowd who were the fans were very excited, once, Ruby Swan, the previous friend of Lottie and Natalia. "What are you thinking? Ralph isn't." "But you just said..." Alfred signaled Kayden with his eyes. "If I don't say that, will that fool cheer up?" "He is not a fool. He is Kayden Chapman!" Alfred didn't take it seriously. "So what? I'm Mr. Barton." "Furthermore, since Ralph is Kayden's uncle, I'm too. It would not be excessive to call him a fool?" Connie looked at Kayden and then looked at Alfred, not saying a word. This was because Alfred's words made a lot of sense. "What do you think? Do you want Kayden to call you an aunt?" "Are you crazy?" Connie was so shocked that she patted Alfred heavily. "I respect Mr. Chapman very much, but I have no interest in him!" Alfred looked at the back of his hand which had swollen up. He glanced silently at Connie. "Who said you had feelings for him?" "You just..." "I mean, I'm also Kayden's uncle." Connie was speechless. After thinking it through, she blushed slightly, glaring at Alfred. "Okay, just knock it off." Alfred smirked and said, "You just said you don't have feelings for Ralph. Then who do you have feelings for? Me?" Connie, ".

.. Back off! You're blocking my view of looking at Lottie."

Alfred didn't care about it and held Connie's hand. Connie wanted to struggle, but Alfred tightened his grip. Connie was speechless. She gritted her teeth and whispered, "Come on!" No matter how excited Kayden was backstage. Lottie and the others, who had been rehearsing in front, had to get off the stage when the crowd continuously surged forward to the venue. "Why are there so many people here? Are they all here to watch how we screw this up?" Lottie asked hesitantly. Richeal explained to Lottie that these people were coming to support them. Lottie and Natalia glanced at each other, feeling both surprised and touched. "If that's the case, we must thank them." Richeal smiled. "If you want to thank them, you'll have to bring out the best of you today!" "Don't forget that there are still many media reporters live streaming your performance." Richeal looked at Lottie with a serious expression. Lottie pursed her lips nervously. "The seniors can help you, but don't forget you are the protagonists on the stage today." Natalia and the rest looked solemn as they promised Richeal seriously, "Don't worry, Sis Richeal. We'll do our best!" Richeal nodded in satisfaction. She had known their hard work. Richeal patted Lottie's shoulder. "The news of Ralph being taken away by the police has already spread. Many people want to see how you mess this up. You have to stay calm down.

Show everyone that you're damn all right." Lottie's eyes gradually reddened with tears and she nodded hard. "I know." The clock was ticking. Lottie and others went backstage to do their makeup. Richeal walked up to the stage with a microphone. As the temporary host of the concert, she had to maintain order before the concert began.

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen." "It's 6:30 in the afternoon, and the performance will officially start in half an hour. Before the show, I have a few words to say to you." Richeal stood on the stage and the large monitor was screening her face. When the audience saw Richeal's look clearly, they couldn't help but be excited. "Wow! As Lottie sang, too many faces flashed across her mind. First, there was Jessica persistent who stubbornly refused to give up the stage even though she was pregnant; then Connie who comforted her and Alfred even after being stained with paints in front of all her fans; then Richeal and York who silently supported her from behind and helped her settle a series of troubles, but never asking for a prize; and then her three children who had promised to protect her even if they were just kids. And most of the time, she was thinking about Ralph. Ralph was jealous and bragged about his rap skill, which he didn't have. Later, he was found in the room watching a rap-teaching video. Ralph would always be the first one to stand up for her and take care of her troubles even if he got tied up with a lot of things. "Wait for me to come back," said Ralph before he was taken away by the police kept playing out in Lottie's mind. Lottie's eyes burn with tears. In the past, she was a coward who winced at what she wanted and chose to avoid what she was afraid of. She thought that was the best she could do, but in fact, no. If it weren't for Ralph and her children's support, she wouldn't even be here on the stage. Overwhelmed with the cheers of her fans, she finally found her lost self. "Take a shot, chase the sun, find the beautiful." "We will glow in the dark turning dust to gold!" Following Lottie's shout, countless color ribbons shot out from the stage and the atmosphere went to a climax.

"Dream It Possible" attracted audiences to the scene and they gave an amazing performance. In the live broadcast room of the concert, the dense bullet comments almost filled up the screen.

It was full of admiration for them. I originally want to curse, but end up adoring them on the spot!] (What the fuck, I'm shocked. A ring box was stuffed into Kayden's hands, and someone put a bouquet of flowers in his arms. Then he was surrounded by people and went down to the stage. Natalia, who was on the stage, was singing gently. "You are my sunshine, my only sunshine. You make me happy when the skies are gray. You'll never know, dear, how much I love you." Natalia played the piano softly. With a smile on her face, Natalia looked down at the audience. She missed Kayden so much while happy memory with Kayden swam around her mind. They cried and laughed, and felt sad and happy. Finally, they held each other's hands. "Please don't take my sunshine away." "I dreamed I held you by my side." "You are my sunshine, my only sunshine..." She sang this song for Kayden, so she sang it very emotionally. The audience closed their eyes to immerse into her pleasant voice. This song made them feel happy and wonderful. But... Lincoln saw this on the phone while he was in the car, angrily smashing his phone to the mat.

He could tell Natalia's feelings towards Kayden, not him. In order to be with Natalia, he had done so much.

How could he tolerate Natalia treating him like this? He widened his eyes with rage. "Still not there?" He said with a cold tone. The driver could not help but shudder, "I'm sorry, Mr. Yung. There's a traffic jam on the way." Probably knowing that there was a concert at the gymnasium, many people drove private cars there. As a result, there were more cars on the road. The traffic police of Rexwell had to come out to control the traffic. Several roads were temporarily blocked, which made the traffic more congested.

Lincoln frowned slightly. "Relax, Lincoln." Andrew, who was sitting next door, casually lit up a cigar and took a puff. Then, he glanced at Lincoln cautiously. Lincoln glanced at him with some displeasure, and he remained silent. "What are you afraid of? Are you afraid that your woman will be gone?" Andrew sneered and then said, "Lincoln, you're so gloomy that women won't like you." Lincoln coldly replied, "I'm not like this in front of her." Andrew said, "You're two-faced. You don't even dare to be so angry and he tries to always poke Molly is your lover, right? You didn't even go crazy when you were serious, Andrew, but you ask your friends? Besides, I'm not even sure if Eve really keeps highly sympathize with those fools. There was no sympathy in his eyes."

Andrew was also good to every woman. But for the woman writing. He tapped on the computer if they shut down the bullet comments' function. The quickly, all kinds of bullet comments filled could not broadcast channel had no choice but to wait. He went to go smooched, and his wife else could crack the password.
