

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - / Chapter 631 Will You Marry Me?

The audience was shocked by Natalia's words. "No way! Is it really a proposal?" "It's so romantic to propose at the concert, isn't it?" "But didn't Kayden propose to Natalia at the camera in the hospital?" "Well, maybe Kayden didn't think it was serious enough?" "It's interesting." "Propose! Propose! Propose!" Fans were discussing loudly. In the end, they cheered up in unison, urging the man who was too nervous to move. Kayden pursed his lips while inching towards Natalia. Whether or not Natalia refused him, he had to tell her about his feelings now. There was nothing to be scared of. As a man, he couldn't act like a coward! Kayden took a deep breath to calm him down. Kayden sneaked towards Natalia, who barely notice him while saying to the audience, "Mr. Chapman rests backstage now. I guess he should have watched this through the live steam video. All I want to say is that you don't have to do anything to surprise me." Natalia's heart beat fast. She put her hand over her chest, trying to calm down. "You've been so nice to me. Now, it's my turn to be brave in front of my fans and friends." Kayden had guessed what Natalia was going to say. He suddenly stopped, gaping at her back. The audience offstage kept cheering. When the atmosphere rose to the climax, people shouted wildly, "Marry him! Marry him!" Natalia closed her eyes and bravely shouted out her feelings.

"Kayden! I love you so much! Will you marry me?" "What! Natalia, you're so cool!" "Say yes! Kayden, are you a man? Say yes!" Natalia's fans were deeply touched by this; some were weeping, some were laughing wildly, and others were applauding Natalia. Everyone was very exhilarated and excited. It was such a great honor for them to witness this! They would never forget this important moment for the rest of their lives! Natalia suddenly felt relieved after saying what she had been keeping to herself. "Mr. Chapman, since you can prove your innocence, you can leave now." The leader of the municipal police station came personally and shook hands with Ralph. "/’m really sorry for the confusion and trouble caused." There was no expression on Ralph's face. He said politely, "It's okay. It's our job to help the police with crimes." "Glad you said that." The leader wiped the sweat from his forehead. "This case is terrible and it has caused so much trouble. We have to consider the powerful influence on the public." "I understand," Ralph said, "Let me know if you find the guy. I want to meet this crazy man." Ralph already got a name in his mind. But he still needed to gather more evidence. Anyway, the police got a lot of information and sent many men out for criminal investigation, so the truth was about to come out. He told the police all the clues he had, and then he could leave. "Of course, and we will issue a notice to clarify this for you." "Thank you." "You're welcome." After saying goodbye to them, Ralph left the police station. His men were already waiting outside. Edward was also outside. Seeing him come out, he breathed a sigh of relief and hurried to greet him. "Are you all right?" "I'm okay."

"Why are you still so calm after all these shitty things? If I hadn't found something suspicious from Eve's autopsy report, which proved that she was strangled first and then pushed downstairs, you wouldn't have been acquitted so easily." Ralph got into the car and told the driver, "Stadium." The driver started the car, and Edward couldn't help pushing Ralph. "Hey, I'm talking to you." "The virus programs had been removed. Ralph should have escaped." Ignoring Andrew's attitude, Lincoln asked the driver in a commanding tone, "How long will it take?" Lincoln had stressed him out and the driver replied numbly, "We're... we're almost there." As they were talking, the car took a turn and arrived outside the south gate of the stadium. Many fans were blocked outside by security guards. Lincoln knew the security guards must not let him get through the door. So, Lincoln ordered, "Break into it." "Mr... Mr. Yung." "I said 'break into it'." Lincoln's eyes were brewing anger. The driver shivered and kept quiet. His palms, which were holding the steering wheel, were wet with sweat. Some people were only in their teens, about the same age as his daughter in junior high school. If he killed these young people, he wouldn't sleep tight for the rest of his life... As the driver hesitated, Lincoln suddenly raised his voice. "Didn't you hear me?" It freaked the driver out and he subconsciously stepped on the accelerator hard. Lincoln's threatening voice sounded again.

"Do you still want to see your wife and child?" The driver's heart skipped a beat. Finally, without hesitation, he wheeled the car horizontally and let it slide forward. "Oh my god!" The crowd spread like a bunch of rabbits in front of a python.

The car suddenly rushed out, knocking down the guard railings and hitting two girls at the entrance. They fell to the ground, and their knees were torn by the ground, and the blood seeped out. The others screamed and fled in all directions, so few people got injured. The security guard was shocked and hurried to check the two injured girls. They called for help by walkie-talkie. "A car at the south gate knocked down several people. Hurry up and send some people here!" A few responses immediately sounded from the walkie-talkie. The security guard quickly took the girl aside and shouted at the car with a loudspeaker, "Stop! Stop right now!" casualty. Ian narrowed at Andrew, and Andrew smiled in return. Ian said, "Did you call the police? They're accused of damaging goods, assaults, and hit and run. They definitely need a lecture from the police. And remember, we are all equals in the eyes of the law." Ian urged the security guard. The security guard stood there in a daze. Someone behind Ian rushed forward to lock Andrew's arm behind his back. Andrew's face shifted to an aloof expression when he was held down as a slave. He didn't expect Ian wouldn't really give him a shit even if he had outed himself. Andrew didn't feel the slightest bit of being respected. So, he decided to expose Ian, "You're not Ralph Chapman at all. How dare you give orders?" Andrew's green pupils looked dagger at Ian, and he subconsciously resisted. Ian sneered and said, "I never said I was." He pointed to the surveillance camera and said to Andrew, "We have all the evidence to put you in jail. Mr. Andrew, you'd better think about how to explain your evil deeds to the police!" "Take him away!" Ian ordered. There was more to the farce Ian needed to handle. He handed his pass to the security guard. "I'm Ian. Lottie invited me. Now I have to get in." The security guard went soft in legs when he saw the familiar face. They were so unbelievably alike! Ian led a group of people in while the other group guarded the entrances.

The proposal was successful. Natalia and Kayden then left the stage along with a wave of cheering all around. The concert had to move on.

Violet's solo was the next. Lottie changed her clothes and waited under the stage elevator. Natalia and Kayden walked past Lottie hand in hand, and Natalia made an encouraging gesture to her. Lena's singing echoed in the stadium, while Lottie applauded for Natalia and Kayden below. "Congratulations. When is your wedding?" Natalia then looked at Kayden. "I don't think there's one." "Lincoln put her down!" Lottie was less than three feet away from Lincoln. She raised her voice, "Do you think you can take her away like this? My men are at every exit. You can't escape!" Lincoln stopped in his tracks. He narrowed his eyes and looked at Lottie. "You love her, so why do you ruin her happiness? She is happy with Kayden. You know that." "Shut up!" Lincoln interrupted Lottie in an irritable manner. Lottie paused, trying not to provoke him again. Lincoln glared fiercely at Lottie as if he was staring at a piece of disgusting trash. "It's your fault! You set them up, right? She was going to divorce Kayden! You pushed her to a place she didn't want, and you think this's good for her. Lottie, you're as annoying as Ralph. If you want to meddle in other people's affairs, be a cop." Lottie tried to slowly approach him as he yelled. "Stop right there. Believe it or not, I'll strangle her to death if you come close one more step." Lincoln placed Natalia on the ground and grabbed her by the neck with one hand. Lottie's eyes widened in shock. "Are you crazy? Why did you hurt her?" Lincoln looked at Natalia's sleeping face as he sneered. "Instead of watching her marry other men, I'd love to make her into a specimen and stay with me forever." Lincoln's words made Lottie's hair stand on end.

There was no way for Lottie to communicate with a lunatic. One random sentence would get on his nerves.

At this moment, a group of people ran out from behind her. Lottie turned around and saw Richeal running over with a group of security guards. At the other end of the passage, Ian appeared with another group. So, Lincoln was besieged by two groups of people. Richeal stepped forward and grabbed Lottie's hand to examine her. Lincoln stepped back warily and almost hit Ian behind him as Richeal approached forward. He looked dagger at Richeal. "Stop right there, or I'll turn nasty!" He put his hand on Natalia's neck, and veins popped out on the back of his hand. Richeal called his bluff and sneered. "Natalia is Lottie's good friend, not mine. I don't mind losing an artist." She approached step by step and deliberately said something to provoke Lincoln. On the one hand, she was sure that Lincoln would not make a move. On the other hand, she had faith in her own strength. Lincoln flew into a rage when she heard Richeal's words. "You are all liars! You lie to Natalia!" Richeal found it funny. "We lie to her? You're so full of it. You've done so many bad things and you think this's good for her. Do you think Natalia will fall in love with a hypocrite?" "What the hell are you talking about?" "I really didn't expect you to mess with Molly since you were so committed to Natalia." Lincoln was stunned, glaring at Richeal. "How do you know that?" "Molly told everyone. That stupid! She accidentally aired your dirty laundry in public that day when she was in the hospital." "Does Natalia know?" Lincoln peered down at Natalia. Rage was brewing in his eyes. He had done a lot to bury this secret, including killing Eve, but Natalia had found it out and seen what he really was. That was why she chose a pussy like Kayden. "Hell yes! She knew it a long time ago. You're just a piece of crap to her!"

When Lincoln went distracted, Richeal suddenly attacked Lincoln. Her punch whooshed to Lincoln, who subconsciously used Natalia as his shield. Richeal's eyes crinkled knowingly.

She quickly grabbed the clothes on Natalia's shoulder and took her into her arms. Lincoln realized he had been tricked and leaned forward to snatch, but it was too late. Ralph took to opportunity to make a move. Lincoln knew he was no match for Ralph, so he dropped the bottle to the ground in a panic. The liquid in the bottle evaporated into gas. "Ralph, do you think you can..." Before Lincoln could finish his words, he suddenly felt a pain in the back of his neck. He turned holding an electric baton, I'm doing here? Ralph said, dragging out his answer with a matter-of-fact tone. lan managed to hold back his excitement and replied, "Of course, I've already dug all the dirt that Lincoln had buried, including solicitation and conspiracy to the crime of drug trafficking." Holding Natalia in his arms, Kayden praised cheerfully, "Okay! Lincoln is so doomed! Finally, it's his time to die!" Natalia was going to marry him; Lincoln had been arrested; Ralph was released, and a concert was held successfully! And then the whole thing would just go away. There was always a silver lining. Everything was going to be on the right track. Edward looked at Ralph. "You're going downhill, aren't you? lan had it all done in a couple of days while you spent a lot of time on it." Ralph smiled knowingly. lan said with a frown, "I can't take all the credit. Ralph gave me this clue because he has been watched by Lincoln. I just followed his clue." Edward didn't expect lan to have a thing for Ralph. It was so boring, so he left with a pout. But Ralph raised his eyebrows elatedly and patted lan on the shoulder. "Brother, admit it. You did help me a lot this time." lan looked calm, but his palms began to sweat. He had never been so approved by his family since he was a child. Asense of satisfaction rose from his heart, making his nose feel a bit itchy. But he had such amazing self-control that he maintained a good posture in front of Ralph. "Really, I didn't do anything." "All right, stop. We need to get back to the lounge. Lottie will be back soon." Ralph did not want to waste any minute.

He said to lan, "Brother, I'll leave Lincoln and the others to you. I'm going to check Lottie."

Ian nodded. "Go ahead." Edward grabbed him and asked, "Where are you going? Won't you get the injection?" Ralph flung Edward's hand off impatiently. "Do you have enough antidotes?" Edward was stunned when he was counting the number of infected people in his mind. Well, he didn't. "I don't need it. I have a better pill." Ralph smiled mischievously. "I'm sorry." Ralph pulled her close to his chest. Lottie was stunned. Before she said something, her eyes were blurred by dry ice around the stage. It was time for the host to come out and introduce the next performance. She was going to complain about the excessive theatrics when she saw Ralph knelt down on one knee. Lottie was stunned. "What are you doing?" Ralph smiled softly. His eyes gleamed with doting. "I owe you a proposal, and now I'll make it up to you." Then he took out a box from his pocket, opened it, and took the ring out to Lottie. Lottie looked at the big sapphire and once again covered her mouth in shock. The cameraman immediately zoomed in and landed the camera on the beautiful blue gem. "It's really a proposal!" "But aren't they already married?" "Then why did he propose? They're here to prove how they love each other, aren't they?" The audience complained, but they couldn't hide their envy in their words. They had been married for a long time, but they still loved each other so much. Was it a real proposal or did they do it for the show? However, given Ralph's status, he probably needn't put on a publicity stunt deliberately, right? Maybe Ralph did it for his wife to gain popularity. Anyway, Ralph really loved his wife! Lottie must have saved the world before! But that was not the end of the fairytale yet.

When Ralph got down on one knee, three identical faces — two boys and a girl — appeared in the camera. The boys were all dressed in uniform — black suits and same bow ties — looking both smart and lovely. The little princess was wearing a lily-white princess dress, a crown on her head. Her long hair was falling behind her back. They held a basket full of rose petals in their hands. Under the layers of petals were all kinds of candy and chocolate that had been wrapped up. Each candy was hand-made and then wrapped. With every candy Ralph wrapped, he would whisper "I love you" to it before he sealed the lid. What a Monster

The concert was successful. Countless people had been waiting for Lottie to make a stupid joke. They wanted to see an angel fall from heaven to hell, but unexpectedly, Lottie turned the tide in such a situation. At the same time when Ralph proposed to Lottie, the police issued a follow-up notice of Eve's case to clear Ralph's name, and suggested that Eve's death was likely to have something to do with the "Bridge Incident". Bridge's evil deeds were exposed by Lottie and Ralph. Otherwise, Bridge would still be at large. She might be murdered by Bridge, who then put the blame on Ralph. Popular opinion had tilted in favor of Lottie and Ralph because of their uprightness. Ralph also gained a lot of popularity after he was proved innocent. Searching results containing Ralph, Lottie, and the concert overwhelmed the Internet. Many people cheered up for the love story between Ralph and Lottie. Lottie had also proved her strength on the stage, letting everyone know she was way better than a good-for-nothing woman with a beautiful face. With her increased popularity, more and more people knew about her movie, even if it hadn't been made. This concert was crowned with complete success for two reasons — one was two proposals at the same concert, and the other one was the amazing cast list which contained Super9, Quy and many influential stars. Some retired stars also performed on the stage tonight. The topic of the concert went viral and attracted many people to this.

People including the contestants of Treasure 101 and the host, who quit the show halfway, were all regretful. The host deleted the post on Twitter defiantly, but people dug out all of his information and attacked him on the Internet. The quitters feared that Ralph would get back on them.

They should. Ralph was definitely that kind of vengeful person. No one could hurt his wife. In the end, the host was fired, blacklisted, and finally disappeared from this industry. Lincoln was arrested and the concert had been successful. After the concert, Ralph and Lottie held a celebration banquet to reward everyone at Rexwell Grand Hotel. "Are you done with your work?" "Yes. Let's go." Ralph helped Lottie carry her bag and instinctively held her hand. Seeing this, Ian said, "I'll go back." "Ian, stay and eat with us!" Lottie asked. Ian had helped a lot in capturing Lincoln, so Lottie still owed him a favor. Moreover, Ian was single and not seeing anyone. So, Lottie invited him to the dinner. Ian turned to look at Ralph. "Ian, stay. Lincoln still had many men out there. You're safer with us." As expected, Ian's expression turned serious when he heard Ralph's words. "Then I'll stay. Thank you." "You're welcome." Lottie shot Connie a glance as if she was saying 'I told you so'. Ian behaved a bit reserved in a strange place, so Lottie asked Connie to take care of him before she left with Ralph. Lottie asked Ralph, "We invited Ian to dinner at home. Isn't it too impolite of you to use such a reason to keep him here?" After a moment of silence, Ralph suddenly pulled over. "What's wrong?" Lottie was alert. Ralph grabbed her chin, studying her, "Since when do you care so much about him? You want both of us since we look the same... It hurts!" Ralph covered his forehead and looked at Lottie in disbelief. Lottie put her hand down and looked expressionlessly at Ralph.

"Oh, you can feel it. Then don't talk nonsense!"

Ralph just wanted to make fun of Lottie and came on to her, but he didn't mean to piss her off. So, he started to go soft. "I'm just jealous. Can't you see it? That's so obvious. You are mine and you can only care about me." Lottie stared back at him in speechless surprise. This man became the opposite of who she met before and Lottie was so unfamiliar to him. When they first met, Ralph was cocky and cool, but now he acted like an idiot, who even might not be smarter than Elijah! "You hit me! Never mind if you don't care about me. I care for you." Lottie's expression changed. "Come on, It's just an easy flick on your head." "Look what you've done to my forehead.
