Lottie, You Are so Beautiful

FY Entertainment had no opinion, and Javion was happy to see it happen. That was how the group shooting was settled. Connie rudely crossed out those who had opinions on Lottie to another group, leaving only four main characters, as well as some old actors and newcomers in supporting roles. Javion couldn't help laughing and crying after watching it, "You are so divided. How can we film each other's scenes?" "Then we'll shoot it together when there are rival scenes, and I'll find a few more people to watch." Javion hesitated. Connie glanced at him and said sternly, "Mr. Chapman explained that he will fully bear the losses caused to the crew." Javion was speechless for a moment. The negotiation was over, the shooting was put on the schedule, and the crew got busy without stopping. Javion went back and got a notice and distributed it to the actors. Lottie received her notice from Connie that she may be filming outside for the next three months. The thought of leaving Ralph and her three babies made her sad. Ralph did not show any reluctance this time and even encouraged her to pursue her dream bravely. Lottie thought his attitude was a bit strange. The person who used to stick to her was Ralph, but now he didn't care. "Are you hiding something from me?" Ralph blinked innocently at Lottie's suspicious look. He didn't feel reluctant, simply because he made up his mind to join the team. Treasure 101 is a closed recording, and the fairness of the draft must be guaranteed. As a boss, he was not good to break the rules. But as long as he didn't delay the filming progress of the crew, who could control him as an investor? Of course, there was no need to tell Lottie and the team of their decision. Ralph planned to wait until he went to the crew to surprise his wife.

"Nothing." He smiled and took her into his arms, "If you don't go, let's make a baby." Lottie couldn't help giving Ralph a blank look.

It was impossible not to film, and it wasn't easy to make a baby. Lottie spent the last time with the baby, doing everything by herself, and her relationship with the children was getting better and better. Time flew, and soon the day came. The Twins was a costume drama that needed to be filmed in specific scenes. Javion had inspected Rexwell's film and television base and the ancient location was almost used by other works. Javion had always strived for perfection and liked to be innovative. He carefully, and finally chose the newly the north, and the plane took more than before, nor did advance, and they went there on the same suitcase, reluctantly take me there?" Ralph's love would be so happy. Lottie would be there. When she was hungry, she would cook. When they were arguing, she would not scold but gently getting along, the love to stick to her.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - / Chapter 652 In The Airport

Lottie had been an actor for so long, and this was the first time that she had experienced the taste of becoming popular. There seemed to be countless horns in her ears. Chased by so many enthusiastic eyes, she felt like she was the star existing in the universe. No wonder many stars forgot themselves after becoming popular. This was so good! Just when Lottie suspected that the scene would become out of control, a familiar face emerged from the crowd. With a megaphone in hand, Ruby shouted into the crowd. "Calm down, don't get excited!" "Don't crowd, order please!" "We have to be rational fans! Don't cause trouble and take it as our responsibility not to ruin Lottie's popularity! Don't try to challenge Mr. Chapman's authority." After these words, there was a neat roar of laughter from the crowd. The fans spontaneously stood on both sides, leaving a long aisle for passers-by, Lottie, and others to pass. The fans in the front row held hands and used their bodies to create a human wall to block the back and prevent people from rushing forward. This girl was well trained. Under her leadership, fans have become well-behaved and cute. Lottie and Ralph looked at each other with a faint smile in their eyes. After controlling the order, Ruby stepped forward cautiously. "Sorry, Lottie, it's our first time organizing an airport pick-up, and the fans can't quite control their emotions. Didn't I scare you just now?" Lottie shook her head, a smile in her eyes, but her expression was a little serious. "How do you know my itinerary? Could it be that you bought my flight information from a scalper?" Lottie knew this.

Many fans wanted to be closer to their idols, so they would use certain methods to obtain information about stars, and then created chance encounters. This kind of illegitimate behavior was not very acceptable to Lottie. She hoped that her fans could follow the stars rationally, and be closer to her works and farther away from her life. Ruby waved her hands again, "No, it's the official blog of the crew who sent a message saying that you guys will start up tomorrow. The fans of Rubby and Quy have organized pick-up and drop-off. We were afraid that you would be lost if you didn't see us, SO we Called some people temporarily to support you." r eyebrows, "Wheng to look directly at present, many of whom were tanned and swir faces, and even many people's makeup ann't know when she was flying, so they mustr her, not to satisfy their selfish desire for anything in return. Misconduct

Lottie raised her eyebrows unexpectedly: "What else can happen?" "Believe it or not, when we get to Ohioland, your fans will be searching for it at the airport support event." "It's not that exaggerated. There were a lot of people just now, but the order was pretty good, and the fans were obedient, and they soon dispersed." "Gamble or not?" Lottie thought about it and didn't gamble. It's not that I'm afraid of losing, it's that I don't want to use the fan's heart to open a bet. Natalia was noncommittal and just asked her, "Why didn't Mr. Chapman send you to Ohioland this time ?" She thought that Ralph was going to send people to the place and inspect the environment himself to be relieved. How could Lottie go to the crew alone to report so easily today? Lottie didn't take it seriously: "Some time ago, he accumulated a lot of work and did not deal with it. Moreover, he has to stay and arrange for Nebula and the others to go abroad, so they can't leave for the time being." "Besides, it's not that you and Kayden are with me, and I'm not a child, so there's nothing to worry about." Natalia thought about it too, and nodded. Lottie was a little sleepy from the night before until the early hours of the morning, so she didn't talk any more, she slept with her eyes closed. A few hours later, the plane landed at Ohioland Airport. Connie came to Ohioland a day before Lottie, she came with Alfred. Knowing that they were arriving today, they also brought bodyguards to pick them up. They walked through the VIP channel together and went straight to the Studio City after coming out.

While on the road, Connie and Lottie said her fans were trending.

Natalia was a prophecy. The only surprise is that the person associated with this hot search is not Lottie. Lottie's fan was claimed by another actress. This actress is none other than another supporting actress in their crew - Nancy Will. Nancy is also an artist of FY Entertainment. She has a face that is five points similar to Lottie. She also dresses in Lottie's style. Before being signed by FY Entertainment, she was a female anchor of a live broadcast platform. Seeing Nancy deleting her blog, Lottie couldn't help but smile. "It's done." Connie gave Lottie a thumbs up and praised: "Brilliant." Lottie raised her eyebrows, "What's this, look at me again." After finishing speaking, she moved her fingers and pulled a small group, which included Natalia, Alfred, and Song Qi. Natalia and Kayden are sitting in another car now, maybe looking at their phones. She found out as soon as the group was set up, and immediately chatted with Lottie in the group. Natalia: Lottie, I just saw your tweet, where did this Nancy come from? Natalia: Their fans are too disgusting! Alfred's leg was injured, so Connie didn't bring him to pick up the plane with him. He was staying at the hotel and was bored, so he responded in the group almost immediately. Alfred: Nancy, an artist from FY Entertainment, was born in Internet celebrity, and is a master of porcelain. Natalia: FY Entertainment? No wonder it's so shameless! Natalia: Lottie, Kayden asked if she should be replaced? Lottie had time to reply. Lottie: No, the more you care about this kind of person, the more energetic she is, so you might as well ignore it. Alfred: Yes.

Natalia: But it's too cheap for her. Lottie: For this kind of person who wants to take heat, not giving her heat is the most torturing way to her. Natalia: What do you mean? Lottie: We're going to the crew soon, do we have a team building before we start? Natalia: Team building? Alfred: Will Connie be together? Lottie: Of course, she's our agent and she's definitely going to be with us.

Alfred: Add me. Natalia: Can I bring family members? Lottie: Kayden is a boss, why is he still clinging to you, doesn't he have a job? Natalia: Auntie, how dare you talk about me, uncle, he is not the same! Seeing this reply, Lottie knew it was Kayden, she didn't notice the loophole in Kayden's words, and thought that Kayden was just expressing his dissatisfaction with Ralph. Lottie: Ralph is not as private as you are. Lottie: Also, give your phone back to Natalia, you don't show us your love over there. Seeing Lottie's reply, Kayden was choked up. Kayden got a little annoyed, and sent an private seat of the car at the moment, taudio City, and the person sittook out his phone and glanced aen received a quest allows the state officials to set fires, butred: She is your aunt, you letden is also unrd: she was clea made fun of him, so that Natalia didn't lee increasingly frantic:en : speec

Whether Kayden liked it or not, his vest was already gone. In fact, things were not known to everyone in the beginning. Although Kayden sent it with a fan account, he mosaicked a lot of information, leaving only his own notes. Auntie and Uncle was ranting about his family, and some Natalia fans who were related to him even joked with him underneath. Until Ralph suddenly retweeted in tuba. Ralph himself has a great presence on the Internet because of his status as the richest man in Rongcheng, with more than 30 million followers on Weibo. Coupled with the subsequent "Hanyue" CP fire, his Weibo followers have almost exceeded 40 million. Ralph suddenly forwarded the Weibo of a fan account with a large number, and left a message: "Why, do you have an opinion?" Forty million fans were immediately shocked. At first everyone thought that Ralph was scolding people, and they rolled up their sleeves and wanted to scold him. Click on the screenshot, and it turns out that it is a couple showing their love! Ralph's repost is nothing more than claiming his "uncle" identity, and the "little aunt" in the screenshot must be Lottie! Because of this, Kayden's waistcoat was ripped off by Ralph. While the "Hanyue" CP fans were excited to drink candy, countless people turned their attention to Kayden's trumpet.

Needless to say, Kayden's bottoms were almost ripped off by fans. No one expected that the heir of the Qin family, who looked so serious and serious, would have such an "unknown" side in private.

Most of the hot searches were contracted by Kayden and the others. Seeing that Lottie and Natalia were both on the hot search because of their husbands, fans of Alfred also acted. Twitter was lively, and the relevant heat is about to explode. But it has nothing to do with the artists of FY Entertainment. There were originally a few Lottie fans who were chasing and scolding Nancy, but because there were too many hot searches on the Internet, the fans completely lost their minds about entanglement with Nancy, and turned to smashing candy and playing stalks happily. But she didn't expect that there was no thousands are alished FY Entertainment his use of the addition of a few scenes, but hefred in s, and now another artist of his own has ma back hiworry, go to the crew to report first, apolest tfans for a long time. Lottie and several people quickly arrived at the hotel. The hotel they stayed in was one of the best hotels in the film and television city. Basically, they stayed in some big coffees. The service was very good, and the security facilities were relatively complete. Because the hotel is famous, the rooms are relatively tight. Several people arrived at the front desk, and after checking their identity information, the staff handed over two room cards. Thinking one of them was his own, Lottie reached out to Kayden. Then Kayden glanced at her and shoved the key card in his pocket. "Auntie, if you try to bully me again, you can't let me give you my daughter-in-law, right?" "What's the meaning?" "Natalia has a room with me." "I know, I just want the key card for my room." Natalia took the key card out of Kayden's pocket, took a serious look, and told Lottie. "Lottie, these two room cards belong to the same room." Lottie froze for a moment and went to see Connie. Connie just handed Zack the room card for another standard room. Seeing Lottie's gaze, she couldn't help but ask, "What's wrong?" "Where's my room card?" Lottie asked Connie, holding the trunk lever in one hand. "You don't have a room card?" Connie asked, and then went to the front desk: "Where's the room I reserved for her before?" The front desk kept a polite smile: "Someone checked out Ms.

Su before." When these words came out, everyone was stunned. "No, how can I leave the reserved room? You're not kidding me, where should she sleep after checking out?" "It was a gentleman who checked out for her." "Who? Which gentleman, don't you have to agree to check out?" Connie was worried that the hotel was doing illegal operations in order to make room for others, so she couldn't help but worry.

Lottie, however, thoughtfully, patted Connie reassuringly. "I retire for her." A familiar voice came from behind. When everyone turned around, they saw Ralph walking towards them, followed by Edward and a gentle man with glasses, who was holding two lockboxes in his hands. Lottie turned her head in surprise and trotted to Ralph's side. "How did you come?" Ralph reached out and scratched Lottie's nose twice, and said with a smile, "Didn't you tell your fans that I'll be by your side whether you go out or go home?" Lottie shyly said, "I mean you'll pick me up." Ralph doesn't care, "We say goodbye, how can we lie and deceive fans?" Connie's scalp was numb from lan's stare, and she couldn't help but feel a little guilty. " What... what's wrong?" Lottie realized something was wrong and pulled Connie behind her. "Big brother, Connie is just trying to make a joke, nothing else. If there is any offense, please don't take it to heart." Lottie apologizes to lan instead of Connie. lan frowned slightly, but his expression did not relax. "If you don't understand other people's pain, don't make fun of other people's names." lan's tone was light, not even looking at Lottie. Only then did Connie realize that she had acted rashly. She was about to apologize, but felt a little unhappy about lan's targeting of Lottie. "I admit that I offended Jeremy. If I have a chance in the future, I will apologize to him in person. But what is your attitude towards Lottie? Did she mess with you?" Lottie quickly grabbed Connie. Alittle embarrassed, he said to lan: "Brother, I'm sorry, Connie has a straighter personality." After speaking, he turned his head and shook his head at Connie. Connie was annoyed, but worried about Lottie's position, so she had to die. When lan saw this farce, he sneered in his heart.

How could Lottie be so hypocritical, she clearly meant it, but pushed her friend to come forward. And this Connie, who speaks so openly and is so incompetent, mocking other people's names arbitrarily, and using her honesty as an excuse, can she insult others at will? It is said that there is a nest of snakes and mice. Lottie and Connie have such a good relationship, and they are not good people. lan didn't say anything, and didn't know if he didn't take it to heart or ignored Lottie on purpose. "Big brother." Ralph frowned at lan. Only then did lan say, "I don't care about women." Obviously he didn't care, but that tone made Connie even more angry.

What does it mean to not care about women, as if he looks down on women. However, Lottie knew that lan had been deceived by Yara before, perhaps because of psychological shadows, which led to his extremely weak attitude towards women, as well as a lot of distrust and contempt. She didn't even take it to heart. Because she kinda sympathizes with what happened to Ian, it's understandable for him to be like this. And he's also Ralph's big brother, as long as he's not too much, Lottie can accept it. "Big brother is very big." Lottie boasted with a smile. Ian was noncommittal. sion, he clearly wanted a good chat, and something to say to be back in again, and took Connie and Ralph smile and wave to Lottie, and slowly closed away, too to have a coffee go pushed the suitcase out from now, she looked at the back of the two brothers

Hotel Encounter

Connie's eyes wandered, but she didn't speak. She didn't speak, and Alfred could only guess. "That was Ralph's personal doctor and assistant just now. He also came to Ohioland. Why have n't I seen him?" "Mr. Chapman has something to do." "His business has not expanded to Ohioland yet, what can he do." "Oh, I met an acquaintance." "who?" Seeing how Alfred was asking to the end, Connie couldn't help frowning. "Why did you inquire so clearly? Don't you want to do bad things while he's not there?" "answer me." Alfred was rarely serious, and it startled Connie. Connie swallowed, then replied obediently, "It's Mr. Chapman's brother, Ian." "Ian?" Alfred frowned, his expression not very good-looking. Connie looked at his face carefully and said tentatively, "By the way, he and Mr. Chapman are twins. Mr. Chapman is your cousin, so lan is also your cousin?" "Hey, he deserves it too." Alfred's tone was full of disdain.

Connie felt that there was something wrong with his attitude and asked curiously, "You don't like him very much?" Alfred glanced at her and asked, "Is he the one who bullied you?" Connie was startled. "Looks like it's him." Alfred confirmed from Connie's expression. Then he dropped Connie and drove the wheelchair towards the elevator. Connie hurriedly ran after him. "Where are you going?" Alfred took out the sunglasses from his pocket and put them on, then said coldly, "Go to him and settle the account."

Connie laughed after hearing this: "Find him to settle the bill? Who can you beat now?" Through the sunglasses, Alfred shot Connie's sharp eyes. Connie smiled helplessly: "Don't be angry, don't be impulsive, I'm also wrong about what happened just now." Alfred frowned, his tone not very good: "What can you do wrong?" Presidential suite. Lottie asked Zack to put the suitcase down and talked to Edward for a while before letting the others go back to rest. When the others left, she was the only one left in the huge suite. I don't know how long Mr. Chapman and Ian will talk. Lottie packed up the luggage and felt sweaty, so she took the nightgown and went to take a shower. Lottie originally made an appointment to go out with Natalia, but now that Mr. Chapman came to find her, he had to wait until Mr. Chapman came back. When Lottie went to take a shower, the suite next door was very lively. Jeremy asked the master to calculate the position, the master in the tunic suit walked around the room with the peach wood sword, and finally pointed to a side room outside and said to Jeremy: "The east is respected, although this room is not as spacious as the master bedroom.., but it's to your advantage to sleep here." Jeremy nodded and said cautiously: "It's okay, the guest room is the guest room. Ivan, put my luggage in." Ivan acted immediately, and the other staff he brought also helped to put the things he brought. Harleen, who witnessed all this, quietly rolled his eyes. After calculating the position, Jeremy asked the master to look at the furnishings of the room, for fear that something might affect his fortune. The master walked around for a while, instructing people to change the places of mirrors and cabinets, and was very busy. With him around, Jeremy was relieved. The expression on his face that had been tense since just now eased a little, and he led someone to sit on the sofa, and only then did he feel in the mood to talk to Merle.

"Why is Mr. Erickson free today?" The tone was light, and there was no anger in the words. Merle's heart was uneasy, and he hurriedly stepped forward: "Jerry, you are also an artist under my hands. Knowing that you are also filming in Ohioland, you must come and see if you can use me anywhere." Signing Jeremy was just an accident at the time. They didn't expect Jeremy to suddenly explode after playing so many supporting roles. Originally, Merle wanted to give up on him, but he didn't expect that the other party would take shit luck to win the best actor and become the most popular artist under his hands. Merle was overjoyed at first, thinking that Jeremy never caused trouble, he could be Jeremy's manager, and he would be able to better control this cash cow and strive for more benefits for himself. him at all. himself curled the corners of his lips slightly, but with me. If you have a good, so he didn't rush to talk he was taking recently. Her name is Harleen, and nearly fell over, but he managed to help her up. Merle panicked and was also stunned, but said, "Hello, Harleen from head to toe. I've seen you at the party, and you're a very good actress, and she can endure hardship. Beginning, and then I don't have a chance, he planned to arrange for Nancy, to Harleen two more times, his lips were an opportunity to climb up. He was never Harleen very much, and she smiled at him, and she will be able to receive what she wanted. He was smiling but said, "Senior brother, with your brother's strength, you are only playing a game."

He slightly raised, and he was proud. If you can get the second female, and didn't see it is not bad, but Lottie is not easy to get. He goes to Merle. "What do you tell Jeremy about the relationship for wanting to gain popularity, squeezing out the supporting roles, and even happen in the future." Merle distorted the face of the supporting role, and he hated the kind of protagonist who was angry, "Is this Lottie who has just heard a friend complain about a complaint from the agent, and his name is 'Mr. Huff, you have a high reputation in the past, and don't take the opportunity in the corridor. He heard that the door came in impossible for."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - / Chapter 660

Lottie You Open the Door for Me

Jeremy isn't a helpful person, and he doesn't like being taken advantage of. If you want him to help, you must give a favor. He glanced at Merle and Harleen, thinking that they didn't seem like they could give much money, so he asked them to both remember to owe him a favor and ask them to pay it back next time they needed it. Merle rolled his eyes and agreed immediately. Harleen frowned, she didn't think it was necessary for Jeremy to go to Lottie, and there was no need to repay this favor because of others. Just as he opened his mouth to say no, Merle gave her a hard tug, then gave her a hard look. Idiot! Harleen cursed Merle in his heart, but because of his current status, he didn't say a word in the end. Equivalent to default. Seeing that they all agreed to their terms, Jeremy was in a good mood. After learning from Merle that Lottie lived next door, he got up immediately. "Okay, then I'll go meet the legendary Mrs. Chapman for you." After that, he went out the door. Merle and Harleen looked at each other, Harleen said nothing with a cold face, but Merle said, "Let's take a look too." Regardless of what Harleen thought, Merle pulled her along and stood at the door eavesdropping. Jeremy came to the door of the suite next door, tidied up his clothes a little, then raised his hand and knocked on the door. Hearing the voice, Connie, who was still chatting quietly in the corner, quietly stuck her head out. It turned out that Jeremy was sneakily standing at the door of Lottie's room, frowning. She was about to go to check the situation, but Alfred pulled her and took her to hide behind the potted plant.

The decoration of this hotel is very luxurious. There are four presidential suites on the top floor. Each suite is very large, and even the outside corridor is very spacious. There is a large potted plant on both sides. Connie is petite and Alfred is wheelchair-bound. The two were talking behind the potted plant just now, but they were blocked, and Jeremy and the others didn't notice them at all.

"What are you doing, I'll go and see what's going on!" Alfred put his index finger on her lips, for fear of being caught close to each other. Connie's face turned red. "Don't go over there and startle the snake." Connie was still worried, but after hearing Alfred's words, her expression turned serious. Seeing her calm down, Alfred put his hand down and asked, "Have you brought your phone?" Connie nodded. And then surveillance cameras in the only take picture a blind spot of vision, but they could be tricked before, and now he is secretly videotaped, but one opened the door for a long time Merle peeking? She didn't go in to see the two, Harleen room and saw her and said that Mr. Chapman seems to be gone with a look a lot like Ralph, could have been could take this opportunity to ask again, but he inside, and Lottie in a bath a shower and here snow-white fragrant shoulders, and undress, and she has a refined temperament right of Lottie, but when he saw Lottie, who is used to seeing beautiful have something asked, and Lottie's eyeing that Lottie was a woman, and it is estimated that she married a man, it is actually very himself, but Lottie was stunned by he didn't use the key card to open the room's light facial features and a good figure. He righteousness of the Who are you sed at Jeremy's gaze on him, and after hearing on purpose, he asked with a smile eyes secretly not look, but Lottie said he didn't know as quite hard to declare his identity when Lottie asked a moment and said, and this layd at a young age. It's not good to do some illegitimate meal sneaking in, and criticized: "I advise you to leave before I call. If you encounter me again he slammed the door against Jeremy in the corner, almost the surprise on his face as banging the pen the doorknob, who hahes, but Jeremy was screaming at the door. He door, and asked impatiently.
