Chapter 361: The Awakening Of The Fairy Princess

FLAAASH!

As Florie cried due to being so hopeless and powerless, a light emerged from her chest.

And from within such a light, something emerged atop her skin.

"Ehh? Uwaah!"

She panicked, without knowing what it truly was. Her tears and her beautiful and innocent feelings and emotions... they triggered the awakening of the power the Fairy Queen found "special" within her.

"This is... a mark?!"

A mark, it resembled a beautiful pink butterfly.

Marks in this world were special, mystical magic circles composed of countless runes. They only formed within special beings that carried within them special abilities or "roles" in the world.

The Snake Queen held the mark of a guardian, which corrupted and ultimately transformed her into a monster. Meanwhile, the Fairy Queen Titania held the mark of the Queen of Fairies, which granted her power over the fairies, to help them and bless them and nature.

And from within Florie's chest, a mark similar to that one emerged... It was a similar mark, yet not completely similar. It felt as if some divine power intervened, giving her such a gift despite her thinking she didn't deserve it at all after what she had done in the past.

"This mark... Why? I... I don't deserve this..." Florie continued to cry.

"Florie..." Suddenly, the voice of Titania whispered to her.

"Q-Queen Titania?!" She cried.

"You've finally awakened it. In the past, I was told by the Tree of Beginnings that someone with a special mark would one day be born. A pure girl with an innocent heart, that only wanted to protect everyone." Titania said.

"But I am not... I am not that..." Cried Florie.

"This Mark was that of the [Princess of Fairies], it was a special child, that got lost. I remember you, Florie, when you were but a tiny flower. However, the Demon King must have know you were special, and used the revived Corrupted Guardians to take you away and brainwash you, letting you wake up years later, forcing you to infiltrate the city..." Sighed Titania.

"That's..." Florie was moved by such words, she didn't knew such past.

"You were always meant to be special, dear. Your wings, your charm, your innocence. You were played by evil forces, but you've always held a pure heart, it is the purest of hearts that can truly manipulate the Spirit Roots of this world, which have long ago dried out..." Sighed Titania.

"Spirit... Roots?" Florie wondered.

"We have not enough time to explain what they are, but they're very special to this world, such roots belonged to the Tree of Beginnings, they remain even after his death, but without a proper vessel, they'll eventually die... Planta needs you so she can reach them." Titania said. "I know... it's hard, I feel bad for trying to ask you for such a feat, but Florie, I-"

"No, it's fine..." Florie answered, surprising Titania with a voice filled with conviction.

"I get it now... I... finally understand, so that's my purpose..." Florie sighed. "Don't worry Queen Titania, I won't disappoint you! If I truly... if I truly have this strength, then I will give up my life if necessary so we can win this battle!"

"Florie..." Titania's voice sounded shocked. "Very well then, I shall awaken your Spiritual Runes within your body and soul, it will be painful, but with the help of the Elder Ent down there, it should be possible! Now go!"

"I shall!" Florie said, suddenly opening her eyes again, as if that conversation happened when time was going very slowly.

"Florie! What was that light?" Nieve wondered.

"That was very bright..." Acorn sighed. "Ugh, my eyes..."

"That's... since when did you got yourself that tattoo?" Achlys asked, pointing at Florie's chest, right below her neck, there was a beautiful, pink-colored butterfly tattoo.

"This is the Mark of the [Fairy Princess]..." Florie said, her eyes glowing brightly with pink light. "Lady Titania said it could help others... I must go see the Ents! Huginn, can you carry us down?"

"CRAAAH!"

Huginn quickly carried Florie and everyone else down from the skies. Fairies were unable to soar the skies as freely due to their small wings that couldn't go too much against gravity, they could at most fly up to ten meters from the ground, but above that would exhaust them.

FLAAASH!

Florie reached the ground, landing in front of the Elder Ent, whose eyes opened as he looked down at her. Although he seemed intimidating, he was filled with gentleness and humility, and his very presence seemed to embrace everyone in a warm light that restored their HP, MP, and even Satiation in a flash! And it even came with stat buffs!

"Hmmm... I've been waiting for you, [Fairy Princess]. You've received the blessing of the gods through the Title that makes you a half-player, you've become an independent spirit that doesn't need the force of the Tree of Beginnings to exert their power. Young girl, are you ready for this? It will be painful." Said the Elder Ent.

"I-I am honored to meet you, Elder Ent! B-But what are you going to do to Florie?!" Asked Nieve in desperation.

"I shall awaken her Spirit Runes, the source of us Spirits power. They flow all across our bodies and souls, as you grow stronger and Level Up, they develop. However, the Princess's runes are special, they need to be awakened by a powerful Spirit, such as me." The Elder Ent said. "This is... her decision, you must respect her decision, even more as you're her big sister."

"Ah... Florie... Do you truly intend to do this?" Nieve wondered.

"I am okay with it, don't worry big sis!" Florie smiled sweetly back at her. "I want... I want to help too."

"Florie..." Nieve sighed. "Alright, I'll be there with you."

"That's more than enough~!" Florie answered happily.

"Then let us begin."

The Elder Ent's roots reached Florie, wrapping themselves around her and imbuing their power directly into her slumbering Spiritual Runes.

FLAAAASH!

Chapter 362: Florie's True Power

Florie's mind traveled across the Spiritual Runes of the Elder Ent, which also connected to the Root of all Spirits. Memories of other people, and other experiences reached her mind. The will of the spirits, and even the voice of the gods.

"This place... these memories..."

She saw the World's Creation even itself, as the Gods gathered and converged their power to create something from scratch. They saw how they sacrificed their life force to become the pillars of such a world, maintaining their elements so their dream of creation a world with life could become true.

The past... she saw it all. The Continent of Verdant, the birth of the World Tree and how it expanded its roots across the continent and the world, filling everything with nature. She saw the birth of Titania, when she was but a tiny little baby, and how the guardians came to be as well.

She saw Saphee, the antagonist that had controlled her, and saw her true form, the innocent self she once was... She saw the tragedy that struck them. She saw Titania's suffering; she saw the struggle of nature against the miasma.

And she also saw a man, tall and vibrant, the hero of legends who protected the world and ultimately defeated the Demon King using the Legendary Sword given to him by the Fairy Queen. She saw her tears after knowing he had given his life to defeat such an evil...

Florie felt it all, for only a slight moment, pain rushed across her soul and body. She groaned in agony, but endured such pain, she gritted her teeth. Her entire body began glowing with countless beautiful runes, and her soul began growing larger and larger as it awakened its true powers.

Her eyes shoot up rays of pink light into the skies, piercing through the dark clouds that the Demon King of Miasma had created. When she finally came back to her senses, merely seconds have passed, yet it felt like she had gone through a journey by itself.

"That was... something." She sighed, suddenly noticing her body had changed a bit. "Huh?! I am tall...?!"

She wasn't very tall, but she was definitely taller than before. Not as tall as the Fairy Queen, but her body size was perhaps that of a girl in her 10 years of age now. Even Nieve was left shocked she got so big! Could she even call her big sister now?

"F-Florie?! You got taller, like the Fairy Queen..." Nieve said in surprise.

"I think I've... evolved." Sighed Florie. "Ugh, I feel such a big headache..."

As Florie sighed, the Elder Ent was happy!

"Amazing, you're more talented than I expected, little Florie! Now, do it!"

"Do it? What... should I do?"

"Utilize the power of the Blessings of the Fairy Queen- or well, the Fairy Princess. Originally, Titania had an amazing power that allowed her to purify and enchant the forest, it was thanks to this power that she could fend off the Demon King from invading her in the past..." Said the Ent Elder.

"A blessing..." Florie said, quickly realizing she was quite good at using buffing magic. Could this have been a byproduct of her actual blessing powers? She could only try it out! "Alright, I shall!"

She concentrated her Mana into her hands, and then, both Mana and Spiritual Essence flowed into the. With the power of the Elder Ent still connected with her through his powerful Aura, the two converged their strength!

"[Divine Blessing]!"

FLAAAAAASH!!!

An enormous wave of pink and golden light emerged from within Florie's hands, stretching into the deep roots of the underground. Combined with the abilities of the other Ents, the corrupted root forest was completely purified, and the waves of sentient Miasma were purified, turning into vapor as their dying screams echoed across the forest!

The barren land became covered on grass, flowers, and trees again, and the Demon King's influence was being overpowered greatly! Everyone within the forest that was an ally even received a buff, as a powerful light reached their bodies and souls, enchanting their strength.

"Amazing..." Acorn said.

"So this is your power, Florie..." Nieve was flabbergasted.

"Incredible! The forest is back to how it used to be!" Lily said happily.

"We have to go now! Achlys said. "It is nice and all, but Planta probably needs our help, Titan too! Florie, can you come with us?"

Florie looked back at the Elder, she was worried about him, as he was too old, and his lifespan has been decreasing the more he used his vitality to enchant the forest back to its healthy state.

"I will be fine, young princess. Go with your friends, you must also help them!"

"Alright... I'll go then!"

Florie flew into the skies without needing to mount Huginn anymore, her wings were now big and strong enough to carry her anywhere she wanted!

With her at their side, the rest mounted over Huginn and flew across the skies, quickly reaching Planta and Titan. Achlys was barely able to protect them, combining two spells together to absorb a deadly beam of chaos that the Demon King's soul had fired against the two of them!

"RITA! Everyone!" Planta was surprised, happily calling for everyone.

"We're here!" Rita winked back at her.

"Lady Planta! The forest is purified! Only this chunk where the Demon King is corrupted!" Acorn called from afar, on top of Huginn.

"Wait, really?!" Planta asked in surprise.

"Some very tall tree people showed up! They were not Treants but Ents! They helped purify the place by planting their roots into the ground!" Said Florie. "I also helped!"

"She did a lot of the part as well, it was amazing." Said Nieve.

"Eh? The forest? Wait, Florie you helped?!" Planta asked in surprise, quickly realizing Florie had grown taller as well. "You're so tall now!"

"They said I had special magic within me, something similar to Queen Titania, I conveniently got a Player Title some time ago, so thanks to it I am not weakened like her... I was able to use her Blessing and combined it with the Ents power, the forest, look!"

Florie pointed at the forest, as waves of pink and golden light spread everywhere. The corruption was completely gone and the waves of miasma consuming things were also gone, an army of Ents were containing it all as they imbued their life force into the soil.

"They're... the Ents!" Titan was happy.

Indeed, it was the Ents, they had all gathered here, and thanks to them and Florie's awakened new powers, they were helping the forest to thrive once more.

Planta didn't expect this outcome at all!

"I awakened the power of the [Fairy Princess] Mark, something similar to Queen Titania... We don't have much time to explain things but... Let us help you! With this! [Fairy Princess Divine Protection]!"

FLAAAASH!

And right after she arrived, Florie aided her friends, Planta and Titan, as their power began surging, their exhaustion was completely gone, and even their Satiation was filled thanks to her powerful blessings.

"YOUUUUU...! My Miasma...! What have you done to my Miasma...! This damn forest, it reeks of life and nature! GRAAAAH!"

The Demon King of Miasma's Soul grew furious, as he decided to attack Planta and company once more. This time, however, things might end up being different.

Chapter 363: Confronting The Demon King Fearlessly!

(Planta's POV)

Just as we were going to be eliminated by the Demon King of Miasma, Florie and everyone else arrived! Rita used her powerful magic to completely swallow one of his powerful attacks, something I never thought could be possible at all, while Florie suddenly emerged completely changed. She was now way taller, almost as tall as my daughter, if not slightly shorter than her.

And within her chest, there was a beautiful, pink-colored butterfly-shaped tattoo glowing with pink light and spiritual power within it! It was very surprising, but it seems she had evolved into something similar to the Race of the Fairy Queen Titania named Fairy Princess. They didn't went into details, but I do remember Titania saying a few times that Florie was special and that she was "meant to do something" in the future.

I never really asked her what she meant back then... But now I can tell. If there's a Fairy Queen, I guess there can also be a Fairy Princess! Or so I think. But for now, this is good, her buffs are more than I expected!

Ding!

[You've received the [Divine Protection of the Fairy Princess]!]

[All Stats have increased by +50%, HP, MP, and Satiation Automatic Regeneration Speed has been enhanced by x10 and Skills and Magic Effects are enhanced by +50% for 10 Minutes!]

It's an amazing buff, and it lasts for so long as well! If I stack this with all my other Skills and Spells that grants buffs, alongside 20% of all my Title Bonuses, my stats are completely in another level!

The best part is that this buff is taken into consideration once all other buffs are, so it enhances everything also based in the stat increases granted by all other buffs, making the buff even better.

Titania can't be present here right now, but Florie herself is doing her job just as well!

And as all of this was happening, the Demon King's golden eye glanced at us with utter frustration clear on his small, spherical appearance, his tentacles were wriggling with anger!

"YOUUUUU...! My Miasma...! What have you done to my Miasma...! This damn forest, it reeks of life and nature! GRAAAAH!"

The Demon King of Miasma's Soul grew furious, as he decided to attack Planta and company once more. This time, however, things might end up being different. Thanks to my Terrain Abilities, the Ents, and then Florie, we've finally purified the forest almost completely. We are the ones in the higher grounds now.

"Die! All of you pesky little flies, why don't you die for once?!"

The Demon King roared furiously; his tentacles suddenly stopped opening portals as he directed them at us. Each of his ten tentacles opened a single golden eye, unleashing rays of darkness against us, which was actually chaos, an element that was the same as miasma, capable of disrupting and corrupting life and other elements, very deadly!

"I won't let you have your way! Crystal Magic: [Holy Crystal Hammer]!"

Lily suddenly jumped off Huginn as she swung her hammer, which had now grown into an enormous and beautiful hammer made of golden and white crystals! She swung it rapidly, each blow released rays of light that intercepted the chaos beams of the Demon King!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

Thanks to the buffs I had conjured beforehand and also those of Florie, her strength and power had risen to utterly superb levels, she alone took on his beams!

"GGGRRRH...! [Voidspace Distortion]! [Chaos Eyes]!"

The Demon King continued his barrage of attacks as we flew across the skies towards his True Body that was having a really bad time. The first spell provoked a distortion on space around us, as invisible waves of space-attribute essence flew towards us, attempting to crush us. Meanwhile, his Chaos Eyes summoned dozens of black eyes around him, which flew towards us and began to explode.

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"There comes the distortion, dodge!" I called everyone, as I stretched enormous vines out of my body, courtesy of Loki's powers, and then grabbed everyone, pulling them up while Titan unleashed an explosive eruption of flames from his wings, lifting us higher into the skies.

FLUOOOOSH!

TRUUUUMM...!

CRACK!

Space itself seemed to have cracked right where we had flew away from, but the space itself quickly recovered to its original state. It seemed that the world naturally healed "wounds" within space, but that also meant that the very portals the Demon King was making were also wounds he was forcefully opening.

Could it be that he's struggling to keep the Portals open due to the Gods helping as well? After all they're the "Administrators" of this entire World. Perhaps they cannot come down here by themselves or something, but they can certainly try to exert their power to close the portals!

"Nnnngggh...! You damn pests...! And these damned gods, you dare attempt to close my Gates?! YOUUU...! STOP... NNGGH...!"

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRASH!

Suddenly, several portals he was trying to maintain open closed at the same time, slicing through his tentacles on the spot and making his True Body groan in agony, roaring furiously atop the skies of the Forest of Beginnings.

"GRUOOOOOHHHH...!"

"The Gods are doing it! They're probably trying to close the portals as fast as they can!" I said in surprise.

"We have to quickly get to the Demon King's true body! Titan hurry!"

I touched his back, quickly invoking even more Spirits that were growing from the forest and used Spirit Fusion and Spirit Infusion into his body, merging them completely into his body and enhancing his spiritual power!

FLUOOOSH!

"Alright...!"

FLAAAAASH!

He flapped his wooden blazing wings, reaching the high skies all while we kept shooting magic attacks against the Demon King from afar, just to distract him as his barrier was keeping him completely intact from any damage.

"Your struggles are useless! Stop struggling! Give up to despair! You've tried to defeat me time and time again, but what has that led you to? More suffering, more despair... You cannot defeat me..."

"[Primordial Chaos]!!!"

TRUUUUMMMM...!

Chapter 364: Creating A Brand New Weapon!

The Demon King gathered large quantities of energy within his tentacles, chaos energy and spiritual energy converging together into an enormous mass of spiraling darkness that distorted space and time around it, so strong it felt like we were going to get destroyed by merely touching it!

"PERISH!"

The enormous sphere of pure chaos flew towards us at a rapid space, we could only attempt to dodge it as Mark flew around the skies, reaching closer and closer to the Demon King of Miasma's True Body hanging in there.

However, the Primordial Chaos sphere reached us faster than we thought!

Seconds before touching us and exploding, Florie suddenly unleashed a large quantity of her Spiritual Power, generating a beautiful flower-shaped barrier around us!

"[Divine Spirit Barrier]!"

FLAAAAASH!

The barrier shone with a slight amount of divine power, quickly tanking the enormous attack from the Demon King of Miasma! The Primordial Chaos impacted the barrier, distorting it and trying to crush it, but the divine spiritual essence absorbed the chaos within and began to deconstruct the runes making it exist!

BOOOOOOOMMMM!!

And then, it exploded!

The explosion, however, wasn't as strong as it should have been, as only some black smoke was left behind! Florie was amazingly strong!

"Phew... Hahhh... I-I think this is as much as I can do..."

However, she quickly fell down to her knees, being caught by Rita, she sighed and seemed exhausted gasping for air.

"Well done, leave the rest to us then!" Achlys said.

"Yeah, leave it to us." I nodded.

"You've done enough, little sister." Nieve smiled.

All three of us quickly conjured our Skills and Magic.

"Malice Orb!"

Rita began absorbing all the Malice formed by the Chaos of the Demon King of Miasma, forming a gigantic sphere which enchanted her Magic Power, and at the same time allowed her to expend this Malice Essence and conjure stronger spells.

"Your powers are not so different from mine, once I've leveled up my Dark Magic Skill enough, a ton of interesting spells show up!" Laughed Rita. "Like this one! [Abyssal Chains]!"

FLAAAAASH!

Suddenly, 50% of the Malice Orb's contents were utilized, as ten magic circles of black color emerged around the Demon King of Miasma and unleashing chains of Abyssal Darkness that suddenly wrapped around his tentacles! Wait, they did?! What about the barrier?

"For some reason my magic can affect him. I think it's because he had been using darkness magic for a while and it can pierce through his barrier without problems. I have no idea the mechanic behind it but it seems that the Malice I absorbed from him counts as his own attacks, I can ignore his barrier with this next hit as well!"

CLAANK! CLAANK! CLAAANK!

The powerful Abyssal Chains wrapped themselves around the Demon King's body, as he furiously roared in frustration, his Chaos Aura unleashed several shockwaves around, which we evaded thanks to Titan's air maneuvers while Rita absorbed it into her Malice Orb.

"AGGGH! How can you ignore my Divine Domain Barrier?! T-This is...! Unnghh...!"

Rita looked back at me and Nieve, as she asked us to imbue our magic into hers.

"Girls, give me your magic power, as long as it is my element, we could ignore the barrier!"

Wait, I see! If we can combine our elements with hers, then we can both ignore the barrier and deal tons more of damage!

"No, wait! I've got an even better idea... Trust me!" I said. "Lend me your Malice Orb for a bit!"

"Eh? I can't lend you something like that, it's not exactly an item, it's a game mechanic- OI!"

Rita suddenly panicked as she saw me grab her Malice Orb with my hand.

"Nieve! Conjure your strongest Ice Spirit Spell!" I said. "And Florie, can you give me a last bit of your Spiritual Essence? Also Acorn, give me your fur."

"Eh?! My fur?!" Acorn was shocked. "S-Sure?"

"My strongest Ice Spell? But where do I shoot it?" Nieve wondered.

"Don't worry about it, leave it floating!" I said with a smile.

"Here... This is pure Spiritual Essence; do you want it?" Florie wondered confusedly, gathering the essence within a white and pink sphere.

"And now with Rita's Malice Orb... The Lucifer Trident, and then Titan's Bark and Spiritual Flames, alongside my own body parts...!"

I gathered all materials and quickly decided to create something brand new in the middle of this desperate battle! I often have a hard time thinking outside the box, so I never actually realized I could use his own power against him, as long as I can find a way to contain his own Chaotic Spiritual Power like with Rita's Malice Orb... then it's possible!

"[SPIRIT FUSION]!"

FLAAASH!

[You have merged [Heaven Burning Infernal Cleansing Blazing Trident: Lucifer] + [Hamadryad's Wood] + [Hamadryad's Leaves] + [Hamadryad's Blood] + [Ratatoskr's Descendant Fur] + [Concentrated Divine Spiritual Essence of the Fairy Princess] + [Night Elf's Chaos Essence-filled Malice Orb] + [Skadi's Spiritual Ice Spear of Frozen Judgement] + [Infernal Ent's Spiritual Flames] + [Infernal Ent's Burning Wood]!]

All Spirit Materials converged together into a brand-new item!

Made from all these materials, into one!

FLUOSH!

It took a beautiful long shape, but this time, it was no longer a spear, it was an enormous, black and red sword shining brightly with both an icy aura and a dark, deep aura of power and spiritual authority.

[You have created the [Void Piercing Infernal Chaos Blade Weapon Spirit: Terminus]!]

TRUUUUUUMMMM...!

The moment this Weapon Spirit was birthed, an enormous Aura of power surged from within him, as a single red eye opened from within its handle, overflowing with power, it glanced at me, quickly latching into my hand!

And I felt it, an enormous amount of power I never thought possible. Purple and Black Flames covered the sword's blade, they were freezing like ice, yet they burned like flames.

"Wait, what?! I never thought you could make that!" Rita was shocked.

"Impressive..." Nieve said in surprise.

"With this, girls, we can do it together!" I said.

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 365: The God Of Creation's Aid!

"Now, you two! Give me your strength!"

I called for Rita and Nieve, as they nodded. Rita regained a new Malice Orb in an instant, as she absorbed the Malice generated by the Demon King of Miasma's Chaos Aura, refilling it in an instant. Meanwhile, Nieve's Mana quickly recovered thanks to my buffs and skill effects.

The two touched my shoulders, channeling their power into my body and soul, the streams of magical power flowed into my body and soul and then directly into the sword's tip. I had never wielded a sword before, but there's always a first time.

FLAAAASH!

Terminus shone brightly, darkness and ice auras converged together with the flames flowing from within the blade, and then, I swung the sword rapidly against the Demon King of Miasma, while channeling the power of my friends!

"HYAAAAAH!"

With all my energy, I unleashed several slashing attacks. I didn't exactly know how to wield a sword but I simply slashed it into the air several times. It worked! Enormous quantities of slashing attacks made of blazing freezing flames and chaos spiritual energy combined together reached the Demon King of Miasma, ignoring his barrier and impacting him directly!

SLAAASH! SLAAASH! SLAAASH! BOOOOM!

"AGGGHH...! I-I can't believe you're using my own power against me?! How come you could have figured out something like this?!"

Even the Demon King was shocked, but we didn't had time for him anyways, this was nothing but a distraction!

"While we deal with your Main Body, don't go around butting in!"

I quickly charged all the Mana I had left with the girl's magic into the tip of the sword, and then unleashed a vertical slash with everything I had!

S L A A A A A S H!

The slash traveled down rapidly, immediately hitting the Demon King of Miasma's soul once more as his tentacles were chained momentarily, and he was unable to dodge in time even when they broke midway through!

CRAAAAAAAAAASSSHHHH!!!

"GRAAAAAGGHHH...!"

BAAAAM!!!

The Demon King received such a hit that his soul fell all the way into the floor, the portals around him suddenly closed once and for all except the big one bringing his true body here! The portals are gone at the very least, his invasion... stopped!

"Good job, the portals are closed!" Titan celebrated.

"W-We did it!" I said in disbelief.

"Not yet, concentrate into the next task, Planta!" The voice of the Great Spirit called upon me.

"Right... the True Body!" I said, looking high into the sky as the enormous Demon King of Miasma's true body showed itself to us.

His actual body was an enormous, chimeric body with countless limbs and tails, it had a strange shape I couldn't quite tell what it truly was, but it resembled a monstrous octopus when he was sticking his massive head through the portal.

"You pitiful ants, you dare think you can fight against my Main Body?!"

His voice echoed across his true body, as his eyes opened, unleashing countless red lasers at us!

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

"Hang in there everyone!"

Titan flew around, evading the deadly beams while we intercepted them with our blows, unleashing slashing attacks with the giant Terminus blade we created together!

CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAAAASH!

Enormous shockwaves of spiritual chaos emerged from the blade, as I smiled. I quickly realized these beams... were not much of a big deal. He was pretending to be intimidating, but his True Body was shining with a bright yellow light, the power of a god was making him weaker!

"Everyone, it's time to take down this World Boss! Don't hesitate, unleash all your attacks as much as you can! I feel like the Gods are on our side now...!" I smiled confidently; a yellow-gold light aura reached all of us the moment we approached the Demon King's true body some more.

FLAAAASH!

It was a power fueling us with even more strength, which stacked alongside Florie's Divine Protection Buff!

Ding!

[The Shining Light of the [God of Creation] has interfered!]

[Oh heroes! The World is in great peril! Stop the Demon King of Miasma from escaping into a different Area of the Map by hitting his back as much as you can!]

[You've been granted the [God of Creation's Special Blessing], a temporary buff that enhances all your Stats by +100% and your damage dealt by +200% against the Demon King only!]

[The Demon King of Miasma has been punished by his insolence! He has received the [God of Creation's Stigma], lowering his total defensive stats by -90% temporarily!]

[You only have a small amount of time, stop him before it is too late!]

[You will receive incredible rewards worth of a hero if you manage to deal the most damage!]

[A New Damage Ranking has been created. You will receive amazing rewards based in how much damage you deal to the World Boss!]

"And there it is! This was some sort of World Event! We cannot miss it!" I said, fueling everyone with even more stat buffs through the myriad of spells and skills I had within my disposition.

"You're right... the Gods are helping us?!" Asked Titan in shock.

"My power is coming back to me... I don't feel as tired!" Florie said, waking up from her dazed state.

"Heh, it seems they've finally given us some more power, those lazy ass guys up there! We have to do all their job!" Sighed Rita.

"Ooh, even I feel stronger... W-What is this?! My body is... Unnggh...! GROOOAR!"

Suddenly, Acorn... transformed?!

In front of all of us, his body absorbed the power of the God of Creation the most, and his little body suddenly turned different! It wasn't the same giant monster squirrel from before, but he became taller and muscular, and his little hands became big palms.

His muscular body was overflowing with a powerful Fighting Spirit!

"UOOOOH! I feel super strong right now! Alright!!!"

We were all left speechless as we saw a new facet of Acorn...

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 366: Attacking The Demon King's True Body!

"Acorn you've changed too much out of the blue!" Rita said.

"Yeah!" Nieve said.

"No, I remember he transformed into a giant before." I sighed. "He was really uncontrollable there, but it seems he had attained a form that he can control?"

"This is... my grandad said I have divine power within my bloodline. I think since I drank that potion that something awakened... permanently. I'll have to adjust this more using more potions and stuff, but this buff seems to have activated this power once more... But I can control it way better now!" The muscular squirrel looked both cute and funny.

"Hahahahah! You never stop surprising us, eh, Acorn?" Laughed Titan. "Alright then, everyone, let's wreck this bastard and get tons of loot!"

"Alright!" Roared Florie.

"You'll get a good beating for what you've done to Lady Planta's home world!" Nieve angrily said, unleashing an icy aura.

"Yeah, you'll pay!" Lily angrily said. "Now that I've got my strength completely back, I won't hold back!"

"Alright everyone, together!" I roared, unleashing my Aura, and opening my Spirit Ranch.

FLUOOOSH!

Suddenly, a portal where all the Spirits I've created were moved into opened, and from within, over two hundred Lesser Spirits emerged. In fact, there were a few Higher Spirits that had randomly appeared from within the sprouts popping out rapidly down there in the forest's surface!

"Get away...! GET AWAY!!!"

The Demon King of Miasma groaned in agony and fury, countless of blows reached him from all around!

"[Abyssal Chains]! [Voidspace Beam]!!!"

Achlys continued absorbing his Malice into her Malice Orb and unleashed powerful Voidspace Beams which pierced through his body, leaving holes he had a hard time regenerating!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

"[Skadi's Spiritual Ice Spear of Frozen Judgement]!"

Meanwhile, Nieve gathered her Spiritual Essence and Mana into the tip of her Rapier, unleashing a barrage of attacks with it, which at the same time generated dozens of ten-meter-long spears made of ice! The spears came accompanied by her piercing rapier blows, reaching the Demon King's body, and piercing through his flesh, freezing it at the same time!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CRAAASH!

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

"[Freyja's Divine Dream Swords]!"

Florie also had a set of powerful spells she had acquired upon her Evolution, as she conjured several beautiful swords made of pink light which she fired consecutively, piercing the Demon King's body, and then inflicting confusion to several of his body parts, his eyes seemed unable to attack and his tentacles attacked one another!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! BOOOM!!!

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

"I feel like I am awakening something new... [Divine Palm]!"

Acorn pointed his palms towards the Demon King, gathering all the divine power that was temporarily surging through his body, an enormous Palm made of white light emerged from both of them, impacting the Demon King and punching him several times, as Acorn punched the air, the palm followed his movements!

BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM!

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

"Let's see what a high-Level Spell can do... [Earth Titan's Fists]! [Rage of the Earth]! [Endless Garden]!"

FLAAAASH!

Lily really did something amazing, conjuring a gigantic titan made of stone above all of us, who started hitting the Demon King with countless fists attacks that made his whole-body tremble in pain. All of this while she conjured a beautiful and endless garden of flowers that seemed like an illusion, which boosted our magic damage dealt and lowered the demon king's magic resistance! And to end it all, a gigantic amount of boulders started falling from the skies, like meteors, impacting him constantly!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOOMMM!!!

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

"[Phoenix Totem Spirits Summon]! [Spiritual Flames Storm]!"

Meanwhile, Titan summoned five more Phoenix Totem Spirits, which appeared as glorious birds made of flames around him, they flew and attacked the Demon King in unison, unleashing a combined attack that generated a powerful storm made of flames. Their power converged with that of Titan as his phoenix head opened its beak, unleashing yet another fire storm, roasting a large side of the Demon King!

FLUOOOOOOSSSHHH!!!

And as everyone did their best, I did as well. I gathered the powers I had and quickly decided to channel more of the Great Spirit of Harvest and Farming, bringing forth her total power and combining it with all of my Skills. I concentrated my Spiritual Energies with the forest below, as all plants answered my call, emerging within my very body and transforming it even more.

Gigantic arms, as big as the Demon King himself, reached his main body, and began punching him constantly, they were like a titan that represented the entire forest!

"This is one of my Ultimate Attacks [Divine Nature's Rage]!!!"

The enormous fists made of plants, trees, mushrooms, soil, and my own spiritual powers and hundreds of lesser spirits fusing into them attacked constantly, clashing against the Demon King's body, each blow was so strong it echoed across the skies, like an explosion!

"ORA! ORA! ORA! ORA! ORA! ORAAAAAHHH!!!"

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"NO MORE... NO MORE, PLEASE!"

"No matter how much you ask for mercy... You won't get any!!!"

I roared with all my soul, as an enormous mass of spiritual essence emerged from my body, fusing with my Weapon gifted by Gaia as it shaped into a large green and golden sword!

FLAAASH!

Ding!

[The [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] has undergone a temporary Evolution into a S Rank Weapon:
[Divine Yggdrasil's Tyrfing]!]

And with Terminus in my other hand, I jumped over the two arms made of Nature I had conjured, and slashed with all my strength against the Demon King's body!

SLAAAAAASSSSHHHHH!!!

TRUUUUUUMMMM...!

Chapter 367: The Demon King's Defeat Once And For All!

In the skies, a group of three introvert girls and a beautiful vampire lady looked down at what was happening within the forest of beginnings, it was an utter chaos!

"What the heck?! There's really a world boss down there!" Anna said.

"I can't believe it... Wait, is that Planta and her Party?!" Elisa asked.

"But maybe it would be rude to get involved... Though that Boss seems... familiar." Elena said.

"W-Wait a second... Isn't that thing the World Boss?!" The green haired brownie asked, as the other three girls were shocked.

At the same time, at the other side of the skies, a gorgeous vampire lady looked down below with eyes wide open.

"Oh my, what is this? The Demon king of Miasma is invading this beautiful forest? Is this all because of him? Ugh! I am tired of seeing his stupid face all the time back in that continent, and now I find him here just when I came to have a duel against that Planta lass..." She sighed. "Should I join? But..."

However, as the five players were having doubts, all doubts were cleared the moment they saw an announcement in front of them, alongside feeling like someone had conjured an overpowered buffing spell over their bodies.

Ding!

[The Shining Light of the [God of Creation] has interfered!]

[Oh heroes! The World is in great peril! Stop the Demon King of Miasma from escaping into a different Area of the Map by hitting his back as much as you can!]

[You've been granted the [God of Creation's Special Blessing], a temporary buff that enhances all your Stats by +100% and your damage dealt by +200% against the Demon King only!]

[The Demon King of Miasma has been punished by his insolence! He has received the [God of Creation's Stigma], lowering his total defensive stats by -90% temporarily!]

[You only have a small amount of time, stop him before it is too late!]

[You will receive incredible rewards worth of a hero if you manage to deal the most damage!]

[A New Damage Ranking has been created. You will receive amazing rewards based in how much damage you deal to the World Boss!]

All five of them smiled evilly, flying down without hesitation!

The girls and the brownie boy were carried by a blazing phoenix, a real one! All of them suddenly charged their strongest Skills and Magic Spell without hesitating, reaching the Demon King's body at an incredible fast speed!

"I might be low leveled but this event can't be missed! I need to get something out of this!" Elisa said, her beautiful golden dragon wings flapped rapidly as she smiled evilly, her eyes blazing with red color as her entire body suddenly started to morph. "[Draconification]!"

FLAAAASH!

Her small body suddenly grew tens of meters bigger, turning into a beautiful golden dragon of over forty meters, which was still on its juvenile state as she had yet to evolve further, but it was already plenty of strong with the god's buffs!

She unleashed her Draconic Aura and then opened her jaws, charging all her power into a deadly dragon breath attack!

"[Holy Breath]!"

FLUOOOOOOOSSSSHHHH!!!

A gigantic beam of spiraling golden flames reached the Demon King of Miasma, exploding and toasting a large chunk of his flesh, making him groan in agony even more!

BOOOOOMMMMM!!!

At the same time, the red-haired elf, Anna, smiled from atop her Phoenix, as she swung her staff and summoned the rest of her Contracted Familiars! A gigantic flying pig, a beautiful purple hippopotamus, a giant alligator with red scales, a furious black wolf, and then, her strongest one, an enormous black scaled wyvern!

"Summon Magic: [Familiar's Ultimate Attack]!"

All her Familiars converged their power together, as they unleashed a barrage of attacks. Their stats were being shared with one another and her, boosting their damage dealt through the roof! Even her phoenix attacked with blazing flames, it was an all-out army attack!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOOOMMM!!!

And as all of this happened, Elena, the blue-skinned Oni wearing black samurai armor and holding into a sharp, cursed katana flew down from the skies, her back suddenly gained black wings resembling those of Tengu, mythical Japanese winged demons.

"Cursed Katana Arts: [One Thousand Void-Piercing Swallows]!"

Her Katana overflowed with an enormous amount of Darkness, pure Darkness, darker than the void itself. Her katana moved flawlessly vertically, a gigantic slash emerged, piercing through space itself as her attack reached the Demon King, cleanly cutting through his flesh!

SLAAAAAAAAAASSSSHHHHHHHH!!!

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

[Your Party has dealt Damage to the Demon King of Miasma!]

"GRYYYYAAAAGGGGGHHHHH...!"

The Demon King looked into the skies as he saw the perpetrators, even more damned Players! He could never escape from these pests, and now he was stuck in a damn portal of his own creation!

However, somehow, he was still alive, his HP... Not down to zero yet.

"YOU DAMN...!"

TRUUUUUUUMMM...!

However before he could do a single thing, he felt an overwhelming presence from within the skies, different from the three girls hitting from before. Her appearance was unclear from so high into the skies, but she seemed to smile, with long red hair and sharp red eyes, and a long black dress.

The entire skies suddenly became cloudy with her very presence, as red lightning started to emerge from within these clouds... this one person, it was the single person before Planta to have ever dealt actual damage to him.

"Fufufu... Been a while since we've meet again, huh? Here, I've brought you a nice gift... Vampire Queen Arts: [Primordial Blood Apocalypse]"

FLUOOOOSH!

An endless wave of Blood Aura reached the skies, melding with the lightning in the skies, a true catastrophe was conjured and then fired right over the head of the Demon King of Miasma!

CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAAAAAASSSSHHH!!!

He felt his entire body electrified, every single cell that made it up began to die!

And right before he could die from that, Planta's Sword attack reached him, two powerful swords sliced through his everything!

SLAAAAAAAAAASH!!!

"UUUUUUUUUUARRRGGGGHHH...!"

A last scream of agony echoed across the entire world, announcing his ultimate demise!

Ding!

[The World Boss: [Demon King of Miasma] has been slain!]

Chapter 368: The Aftermath

The World Boss succumbed. His body began to wither into nothingness, his consciousness... faded away. The message was sent all around the world at the same time as the finishing blow from Planta hit his actual body. If it wasn't, however, thanks to the intervention of the God of Creation himself, this accomplishment all across the world couldn't had been done.

NPC, Monsters, Animals, and Players all saw a message. Although some understood it better than others, everyone realized what had happened, as one of the great evils that threatened the whole world has been slain... for good!

Ding!

[The World Boss: [Demon King of Miasma] has been slain!]

[The Last Hit was dealt by: [Player: Planta]!]

[All Players that hit the Top 50 will receive rewards.]

[All Players that have survived through the entire event will receive World Boss Defeat commemoration rewards as well.]

As the people saw these rankings were left speechless... Planta got the first place and Black Haze, the guy that has always been at the top, was now number 5?! And nobody really knew who these Titan, Achlys, or Lily were anyways!

"Who the heck is Planta anyways?! She's done it again and she only uploaded a single video back then..."

"Wait, there's a new video in her channel!"

"Wait, what?!"

Suddenly, the Players that had not noticed the events happening in the outside world looked into her channel, finding her latest uploaded video! In the video, it showed her and her allies defeating the Demon King by using all sorts of incredibly flashy Skills and Spells, and even Black Haze made an appearance top the skies, but it was so far from the camera that they were unable to see his appearance in detail.

However, his special move [Primordial Blood Apocalypse] was there, which was his own unique Skill he had forged by combining many other Skills together through his gaming career. It was well known as his "Ultimate Skill" which he often used to defeat Bosses left and right.

"Holy shit, they really beat him..."

"But why was there a portal in there?!"

"Yeah, isn't that the Forest of Beginnings?!"

"So the World Boss was teleporting there! Some high-level players reported about a portal showing up in the continent where the World Boss was roaming... so this is what happened."

"Damn, this is incredible!"

"They all worked together..."

As the entire Player base had an uproar, in the outside world, the portals that brought upon giant tentacles and hordes of monsters were finally closed, and the monsters that arrived at the random areas across the world were subjugated. Thankfully, the countries where they all landed were the most widely populated areas of the world, which already had plenty of security.

...Well, most of them.

Police officers, soldiers, and federal agents gathered around the area where it all happened within New York, looking at the corpses of the monsters they ended shooting down with a barrage of gunshots, missile launchers, and even grenades.

"Jesus Christ. What in the world are these things?"

The President looked in shock at the monsters, his eyes filled with intrigue and fear of what might come in the future. They were attacked once, the first contact, but this didn't mean there wouldn't be any more.

"I guess I'll have to invest more resources towards paranormal activity research..."

The president sighed, as he was suddenly called by his secretary.

"Mister president, the governors from Canada, Russia, Korea, China, and other countries have invited you to a meeting regarding the First Contact, they seem to be urging you to give them some explanations..."

"Shit... Alright, let's go. I can't keep hiding this anymore. The more we share with one another, the better we'll be prepared for whatever the fuck is coming... Although I can already see those Chinese bastards trying to monopolize this somehow."

As a meeting between governors of the affected countries started, within the Forest of Beginnings, the shattered and weakened soul of the Demon King of Miasma... remained alive. Crawling desperately in search for shelter and energy to feed on, each step he gave weakened him more and more, making him resemble a large black sludge with a shattered core inside.

"Uunngggh... My HP is zero yet... I am alive..." He muttered. "This could only mean one thing... I... I've surpassed the System! It no longer dictates my life... Although I've sacrificed so much of my power... I am free... As long as I can devour and grow stronger, one day... One day everything shall be mine once more!"

He began laughing while crawling across the verdant forest, trying to find any food he could devour and regain some energy from... however, he was meet with nobody else than Planta herself.

"Y-You?!"

The Demon King was shocked!

"I knew you would still be alive somewhere, you're like a cockroach!"

Planta angrily confronted the Demon King... but the Demon King smiled evilly.

He noticed she was alone!

And she was also very weakened now after she used all her powers, she looked incredibly exhausted, in fact.

"Your soul has grown weak... your body's falling apart... Hehehe... You're no match for me!"

The Demon King of Miasma didn't wasted a single second, hopping towards Planta, and stretching his slime-like body to swallow her whole!

However, Planta revealed a shiny branch in her hand, which she used [Plant Absorption] to fuse with.

Ding!

[You've met all requirements for the Special Evolution Option!]

[You've automatically begun to evolve!]

Planta surprised the Demon King, as her entire body stretched into countless branches and roots, swallowing him whole!

FLAAAAASH!

"Nnngggh?! W-What is this?! AAAAGGGGGHHHH...!"

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 369: Origins

The Demon King was engulfed in pure light. Spiritual light like he had never seen nor sensed ever before. It completely covered his entire body, purifying all of his being. However, as he was a being of pure Miasma, his existence was fading away. The agony of death made him groan louder than ever before, to struggle as much as he possibly could, and to fight as much as he could muster.

But it was for naught, as Planta's entire being evolved, her body grew to an absolutely immense size, branches and roots covered his entire body, piercing through his soul. The essence of his very being was absorbed by her branches.

"Stop...! Agh! Don't...!"

Planta's consciousness remained within this powerful light, reaching the Demon King's soul. Her hand, resembling a ray of light, took ahold of his soul, the deepest parts of his very being, which he had closed for eons ago.

"W-What are you doing?!"

Her hand kept going further and further, as she grasped the memories of the Demon King themselves. Floating as fragments of a past he didn't wanted to remember anymore. The agony of having his secrets being revealed not only brought him pain but great shame.

"Don't... Don't look at them! Don't you dare...!"

However, Planta's light embraced him, her mind traveled across the fragments of memories, as they quickly assembled together.

FLAAASH!

As Planta evolved, she found herself within a completely white space.

The color white covered my entire vision. Wherever I directed my sight, there was only more white. It wasn't a strange white, but one of purity, as if there was nothing within this space. Nothingness is the color white?

However, nothingness stopped being white as a black dot emerged. And atop that black dot, I saw colors flowing like gases. Red, Yellow, Blue, Orange, many colors... All these colors converged together into this black dot, granting it power.

FLAAASH!

The black dot slowly started to grow bigger, while beating like some kind of heart. It expanded continuously, small little legs appeared, and then, a single red eye, glancing at the nothingness. However, as it glanced at the nothingness, it saw other beings.

They were tall, made of elements of nature, Fire, Darkness, Plants, Earth, Light... They all observed him develop, moving and interacting. Its composition was different than all other gods, it left behind a black mud wherever it walked, and it seemed to constantly enshroud its surroundings with darkness.

"What a peculiar being."

"Our elements have converged within the small creation, but there's only sludge?"

"This is the sludge of chaos, Miasma."

"It is... a dangerous power."

"We must dispose of it before it becomes too uncontrollable."

The little sludge felt afraid, his own creators wanted to dispose of him the moment he was born. So curious about the world around him, and so many endless possibilities... Yet it was as if they wanted to throw him away, no, even worse, to just kill him.

However, a gentle voice spoke amidst the crowd.

"All life is beautiful, this little one might have a dangerous power... But I see an innocent and honest heart within its beady red eye..." A beautiful woman made of nature itself. Her gentle eyes glanced at the small sludge, meeting his own.

The sludge slowly crawled towards her, his eye seemed enchanted by her beauty... but only by the beauty of life and nature, but also by her motherliness.

She extended her hand at the sludge, as the creature touched her.

Darkness began to corrupt and make her finger decay, she gritted her teeth, yet she caressed the creature, giving it comfort even amidst her pain.

"I won't let my child be disposed of."

The other beings looked at her in awe, although some remained in silence. At the end, the tallest figure behind the rest, made of pure light, seemed to understand her words.

"Its powers are too dangerous, Gaia. It was merely an experiment. Are you sure you want to raise this creature? I cannot allow you... It might threaten all of us one day."

The woman, Gaia, sighed.

"My lord... Let me prove to you that I can raise him to do good."

The other figures glanced at her, narrowing their eyes.

However, the tallest of them all nodded.

"Very well, you'll have some time to show me, as we build the world and fill it with your life, you must prove to us that this being can do good."

"I will..."

She had faith on the little being. Despite being so obvious that it was a destructive being. I can understand such desires... I can understand such a feeling because I am also a mother.

"So Gaia raised you, Demon King?"

I asked him, but his consciousness remained in silence.

But I could hear within his soul.

He was crying...

The visions continued to move rapidly, Gaia and the other beings, which I assumed were also Gods, created the world with their elements, shaping it slowly, piece by piece, like an enormous puzzle.

It took them eons to complete such a beautiful world. And through those years, Gaia raised the small Sludge. She taught him how to control his powers, and how to be obedient.

She taught him how to speak, and how to interact. She taught him how to eat and how to transform. She taught him how to use magic and manipulate mana...

"Your name from now on shall be Erebus, because your body is black like the very darkness."

"My name..."

Gaia showed him the whole world as it developed, his little red eye glanced at the beauty of creation... Yet each time he saw how his body hurt his own mother each time she touched him, he felt fear of his own existence.

"Mama... Am I a monster?"

His words one day came out of his own mouth, filled with fear of his own existence.

"A monster?"

"Every time I touch you, your beautiful leaves dry out... Your bark tears down... and your life fades away..."

"..."

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 370: Fall From Grace

Erebus started crying as he felt fear of his own being.

"I only hurt you each time you touch me... I don't want to hurt anybody... I don't want to hurt you..."

"Erebus... My son."

Gaia extended her hands towards her child, but he ran away from her grasp.

However, she insisted, until she touched him.

His miasma corrupted her hands, breaking them down and drying them out.

"Stop! I am hurting you... Don't touch me..."

"I will. I will caress my child, you can't stop me. I do get hurt, yes, but this is nothing for the pain you must go through, isn't it?"

"Mom..."

"Erebus... I love you, my son."

"Sniff..."

Such an emotive scene moved my heart, as I saw mother and son embrace one another. Despite her very composition being the essence of life while her son was miasma, they embraced one another.

"It's okay... Mama can easily grow more and more leaves, no matter how many you dry out." Gaia smiled back at Erebus.

He stayed silent as he glanced her smile, despite how he felt about himself, his mother didn't wanted him to fall into the darkness of his existence...

As time went by, and as many visions came and went, Erebus grew larger and larger, reaching gigantic sizes. His body size was too big, and the gods were annoyed at his existence already.

Gaia had taught him how to fend off monsters and dangers, and he was even learning how to maintain the world despite his composition... Yet many gods were against his existence.

Angered and filled with embarrassment over their sister being so compassionate over an "error" such as Erebus, they let such desires take over their minds.

One day, while Erebus wandered a desolate landscape, the power of the gods struck him down while Gaia wasn't looking. Their power didn't hurt him, but it sent him into a frenzy.

CRAAASH!

"AAGGGGH!"

"You monster, why are you still alive?!"

"That Gaia's an insane goddess! Does she truly believe you can be raised?!"

"You're dangerous, if you grow any bigger, you'll threaten our existences!"

"Our Father seems fond of Gaia, he has let you be just because of her, but we are not the same!"

Divine Lightning struck Erebus, as the lightning, carrying the anger and fury of the gods, melded into Erebus soul and emotions, his body grew many eyes, tentacles emerged as well, as he started screaming, going into a berserk frenzy.

"You've been raised well, but at the end, you're an aberration..."

"Act like the aberrant monster you are!"

"So our Father can see your danger and finally strike you down!"

"GRAAAAHHHHH!!!"

Erebus cried in agony, the memories of all his past began to fragment into pieces, his frenzy took over his reason, becoming a monstrous being that couldn't differentiate anything...

He suddenly emerged in the realm of the gods through the gate that his mother allowed him to use, rampaging furiously and attacking many gods. Covering the place with his miasma as countless monsters emerged from his body.

"GROOOAAARRRR! GRAAAAHHAHAHA!"

His rampage quickly reached the ears of the God of Creation and Gaia, who was busy attending the small sapling of the World Tree within her gardens.

"That's Gaia's monster?!"

"Why is it going to insane?!"

"RUN! Hurry!"

"Our divine power cannot go against him?!"

"Father! Help us!"

The Gods cried as they ran away, some of the bravest of them attacked Erebus, only to be engulfed by his monstrous maws and devoured. Chaos spread across the Heavens, as the God of Creation intervened, Gaia heard the commotion, running to the scene as well.

"What is happening?!"

Gaia flew into the center of Heaven, finding an enormous, mass of miasma and chaos devouring everything, while roaring and laughing.

"E-Erebus?"

"GRAAAAAAAHHHH!!!"

Gaia felt afraid, stepping back. She didn't know what was happening, her son was the purest and most gentle of them all. He would never hurt a single fly, yet he was acting so monstrously...

"W-What's going on? Erebus?!"

Gaia tried to fly towards him, to go save him. Despite his berserk frenzy, she saw through him his heart. Wrapped around chains of negativity and divine power, forcing him to become a monster by channeling the hate of those that cursed him.

"Mo... Mo... Motherrrrr...!"

Erebus tried to call for help, his words barely coming out of his monstrous body as it constantly distorted, tears flowed from all his eyes. His small tentacle tried to grasp her, but then it began to wrap around her arm, tearing it apart savagely.

CRACK!

"AAGGH!"

Gaia cried in agony, as her golden blood started gushing from her large wound, her son devoured her viciously, he had gone insane. Despite his cries, his monstrous self couldn't be contained.

"Gaia! Move aside!"

The God of Creation emerged behind her, as his Light started to shine the brightest. Gaia tried to stop him, but he didn't listen to her.

"Stop father! Erebus is a sweet boy! He would never do this! Someone... Someone else did this to him!" Gaia cried for mercy of her son, yet her father didn't listen to her.

"I trusted you! But look what you've done!" The God of Creation angrily said. "Now you're trying to blame your siblings for this?! You've disappointed me, Gaia! [Stake of Judgement]!"

FLAAAASH!

An enormous stake made of divine light emerged from the skies, falling over Erebus. Piercing through his body and soul as he screamed in agony.

CLAAAAASSSHH!

"NOOOOOO!"

Gaia cried while trying to go save her son, but the gods all stopped her. Amidst their crowd, he saw a few that smiled back at her... She tried to fight them back desperately, but their power overwhelmed her, throwing her away from interrupting their father's divine judgement.

"Begone from these holy lands, you monstrous fiend!"

The God of Creation was unable to kill Erebus, his power was immense.

Therefore, he choose to break him into pieces.

Crack.... Crack... CRACK!

CRAAASH!

Erebus was divided into seven fragments, as his screams of agony echoed across the heavens.
