Chapter 381: Changing Job Class!

While I was cooking many things using several hands made of roots that popped out of the ground, I quickly looked into my Status, time to change Job Class and Subclass at long last!

First, the Job Class!

[Available Job Classes]

[Mythical Beast Tamer]

[Elemental Spirit Gardener]

[Yggdrasil's Spirit Farmer]

Oh, there were three this time as well. They all sound interesting, although... aren't they just the samey as the ones I got from before? But now they're upgraded though. Well, let's check them out anyways and see what's on store.

[Mythical Beast Tamer]

A Unique Grade Job Class unlocked after a Spirit Farmer reaches max level. It specializes not only in the caretake of farm animals in specific, but of all types of farming and mythic beasts. Not only can they enhance the power of summons that are categorized as mythic beasts, but also grant new abilities to enhance their power further or allow summons to share their power with the Mythical Beast Tamer. Elemental Powers can be temporarily shared and Skills and Magic as well, in exchange for great quantities of Mana.

Monsters that are compatible have a better favorability with the user and can become tamed easily, and even more, they might be able to evolve into mythic beasts quite easily. Tamed Monsters might breed faster and produce offspring that age rapidly through a Mythical Beast Tamer's blessings and care, and they can also evolve into special races more commonly. Their farming abilities also receive an improvement, and plants might grow with special properties if grown in vast grassy plains, such as spiritual effects.

Additionally, the user can awaken the inner power of Mythic Beasts they had either tamed or summoned and is also capable of easily telling what sort of materials they require to evolve into different creatures. Interbreeding between monsters becomes possible, creating hybrid monster offspring with greater strength of the two combined parents' genes.

The description is quite similar to the previous Shepherd Job Class, but this time it has even more effects and it's all related with helping summons and tamed monsters evolve into greater forms and races. It really intrigues me and makes me want to pick this one up. It probably showed up because all my tamed monsters and summons have evolved into some sort of mythical creature.

I have yet to tame more of them or summon enough, so this Job Class could really help in that regard! Also the whole possibility of temporarily gaining their powers seem very overpowered.

[Elemental Spirit Gardener]

A Unique Grade Job Class unlocked after a Spirit Farmer reaches max level who has formed some sort of pact with a spirit related to nature, or many spirits at the same time. Spirit Gardeners are specialist in the caretaking of all sorts of plants, especially magical and spiritual plants. Their abilities and skills allow them for the creation of vast gardens wherever they feel like, which overflow with nature and plants, and especially spirits.

The flowers and other plants such as trees, bushes, and even mushrooms raised by Spirit Gardeners can take up special qualities never seen before and other traits that can be later on processed through alchemy or cooking to make them shine the most. Spirit Gardeners specialize in the raise of plants, and their ability to tame plant and nature-type monsters are the greatest of all classes, alongside enhancing their ability to summon such entities as well. Spirit Gardeners might require special materials to make most of their abilities shine.

Additionally, they attain the ability to control and plant spirits through their gardens. It is possible for them to create entire gardens filled with spirits that obey their commands. With large chances for such spirits to be able to merge into stronger ones, generating all sorts of incredible Spiritual Plants, containing never-seen-before magical effects and medicinal effects. Even the creation of Elixirs might become a possibility with such high-quality materials.

Ooh, this one seems just as amazing! The ability to create Spirit Plants really seems tentative, but there's an even better Job Class right after this one... And yeah, it is obviously the Farmer one.

[Yggdrasil's Spirit Farmer]

A Mythic Grade Job Class unlocked after a Spirit Farmer reaches max level who has formed a pact with a special spirit and that has befriended several dozens of spirits and even received a blessing from a high-ranking spirit leading such spirits, has become an Yggdrasil Spirit herself, and has received the divine protection of a goddess related with nature.

A special never seen before Class that is an immense upgrade from the Spirit Farmer Job Class, but that has gained the additional Blessings from a God and has even attained a small amount of Divine Power themselves, being able to perform all sorts of incredible things that nobody could ever imagine a farmer could accomplish.

Planted seeds will always grow into Spiritual Plants, amazing High Quality Magical Plants imbued with the power of spirits themselves, and have high chances of budding into Spirits themselves, of all kinds. Raised animals, tamed monsters, and summons will always gain Elemental Spirit Blessings and Evolve into mythical class monsters themed around Yggdrasil's Myths.

Spirits of all kinds can also be called to enhance the farming process and create all sorts of fantastic miracles, and the terrain surrounding the farmer is blessed with powerful Spiritual Essence that surges from the Farmer themselves, making them literal Gods of Farming.

As the Yggdrasil Spirit themselves, the Farmer is capable of mixing and merging all of these effects together to generate truly incredible miracles, and eventually be able to channel the power of the Ancient Spirit Roots to utilize Divine Power and fill the world with Plant Life and Greenery.

It comes with so many overpowered abilities... And most of its effects are just guaranteed from the get-go as well?! I don't really have much of a choice here, I'll have to pick this one no matter what.

Ding!

[You've selected the Mythic Grade Job Class: [Yggdrasil's Spirit Farmer]!]

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 382: Changing Subclass!

Once I had selected the Job Class, I quickly moved to the Subclass.

I already had one which was Jack of All Trades, but is there something stronger than this? And if there's one, wouldn't it end up being just the same at the end?

Hm, I wonder what I could get...

I quickly checked the three new Subclasses that showed up.

[Available Subclasses]

[Smith Engineer]

[Miner Crafter]

[Spiritual Chef Alchemist]

Wait, these Subclasses! They're not the ones I expected... But what would happen to the All-Trades Skill? I guess it stays even if I choose any of these? Well, I might as well check them out. It seems the Jack of All Trades Subclass powers remain even when I pick more specialized Subclasses later on, which really adds to the freedom anyways.

[Smith Engineer]

A Special Unique Grade Subclass that combines the Powers of Smiths and Engineers together to perform their combined efforts into a completely new craft, the ability to create magic technology. From golems to magical tools, anything is possible for this powerful Subclass. As long as enough materials are provided, blueprints will generate automatically within the user's mind and their hands will do the rest. Related Skills can be learned and developed incredibly quickly, and the ability to enchant equipment is enhanced greatly.

This one seems interesting; the Subclass has a great enchantment potential above all the other three. Also being able to make golems and magic artifacts is already a massive pro.

[Miner Crafter]

A Special Unique Grade Job Class that combines the power of Miners with that of Crafters. Granting a great enhancement to the power of appraising ores and mining them alongside the ability to utilize them to craft all sorts of creations, even on the go. Mine to your heart's content and find all sorts of treasured ores to combine them and create the ultimate equipment. The ability to enchant equipment is subpar compared to other similar Subclasses, but the ability to create items and detect materials is superb.

This one is quite great too but the name is... Miner Crafter... Minecraft?

[Spiritual Chef Alchemist]

A Special Unique Grade Job Class that combines the power of Spirit Magicians, Chefs and Alchemists together into something never seen before. The ability to cook and do alchemy has always been rather similar. Combining materials together to create something new is shared between both crafts, however, by combining them up with the spiritual powers of Spirit Magicians, something even greater is born.

The power to quickly extract materials, enchant them with spirit power and then combine them to create wonderful, divine-level dishes and amazing potions, accessories, and magical tools become available, alongside the power to further enchant them through spiritual powers. It is even possible to summon Special Spirits related with Cooking and Alchemy to assist your work, and this Subclass has the potential to Rank Up into a Mythic Grade Subclass if certain conditions are met.

Oooh... This is definitely it. Yeah this is definitely it! I am taking this one! Cooking is my passion, and I have yet to try out Alchemy completely, but I also like it so far. If I can combine them with Spiritual Power, wouldn't this be the perfect Subclass? It even has the possibility to Rank Up into Mythic Grade Subclass if certain conditions are met!

There were three very special looking Subclasses, but amongst all three, the one that brought all my attention was obviously this one:

[Spiritual Chef Alchemist]

A Special Unique Grade Job Class that combines the power of Spirit Magicians, Chefs and Alchemists together into something never seen before. The ability to cook and do alchemy has always been rather similar. Combining materials together to create something new is shared between both crafts, however, by combining them up with the spiritual powers of Spirit Magicians, something even greater is born.

The power to quickly extract materials, enchant them with spirit power and then combine them to create wonderful, divine-level dishes and amazing potions, accessories, and magical tools become available, alongside the power to further enchant them through spiritual powers. It is even possible to summon Special Spirits related with Cooking and Alchemy to assist your work, and this Subclass has the potential to Rank Up into a Mythic Grade Subclass if certain conditions are met.

With this I'll be able to not only make amazing new dishes but also enhance my alchemy abilities, and to boot, I can even merge it with my spirit summoning magic! I wonder how Cooking and Alchemy Assistant Spirits might look like too...

So, without a doubt, I'll pick this one too!

And with that done, I quickly looked at the several System Notifications I got once I finally Ranked Up my Class and Subclass, I was a ton!

Ding!

Chapter 383: The Amazing Power Of [Spiritual Cuisine & Alchemy]!

Oh, so to evolve stronger Skills I have to get to merge them... Well, that's certainly going to cost me more Skill Points, I guess that's why I got a nice bonus from them.

Though I do wonder if the bonus is also related to my current evolution or something? Simply put, rarer evolutions get more bonuses.

Anyways, time to check the status and then the new Skill I got, AND also the new Skill Trees!

Ah, this is nice, I got around +100 Stats to everything already, and my MP increased by +500?! Now that's insane... And I still have 250 Stat Points left to administrate around. Where should I invest them though? Now that my MP is high enough, and that I can regenerate it very fast, perhaps investing into my INT and STR so I can deal more damage could be a nice priority.

Yeah, I'll let myself indulge into it for a bit, and just add them all to the stats I want. Just for a change in pace, I want to deal more damage.

Ding!

[You've exchanged 250 Stat Points.]

[Your STR has increased by 125!]

[Your INT has increased by 125!]

The moment I added those stats, I slowly began to grow stronger. It felt as if not only the Avatar's body, but the main body in that big tree began to glow with new power. I felt it through all my roots all the way to my branches, it was an almost electrifying sensation! The more I concentrated and gathered this sensation, the better it felt, like being given a nice portion of sunlight and water through a long and lazy day...

Wait, was that really my thoughts?

I am already beginning to think like an actual plant if I think that's such a blissful feeling...

Ding!

[You've exchanged 250 Stat Points.]

[WIS]: [1000]

[LUC]: [690]

After increasing my stats, I took a peek at the new Skill, Spiritual Cuisine and Alchemy! This Skill seemed to be like the single Skill tied to a Race/Subclass which evolves over time.

The strange thing is that Subclasses get to have two? I still have All Trades, and on top, this one. It is quite mysterious the more I think about it... Is it because Subclasses are different or something else?

Well, let's see what it does.

[Spiritual Cuisine & Alchemy: Lv3]

A Special Subclass Skill that comes attached to the Special Unique Grade Subclass: [Spiritual Chef Alchemist], the only existing Subclass of this name in the game world. It grants the ability to merge Spiritual Magic with the Arts of Cooking and Alchemy to a superb, almost mystical level.

This Skill grants the ability to freely merge Spirit Magic and all related Skills together with the Arts of Alchemy and Cooking.

While utilizing [Cooking] and [Alchemy] Skills, their effects are enhanced by +30%.

All Spirit-related Skills effects are enhanced by +15%.

When merging the effect of Cooking, Alchemy, and Spirit-related Skills together, their total effects are enhanced by an additional +15%

Grants the ability to summon special Cooking and Alchemy Assistant Spirits. To aid the user through their journey.

The Quality of created Dishes and Items through Cooking and Alchemy respectively is enhanced by one Rank, and there's a 30% chance to grant Special and Rare Effects.

There's a 30% chance for Cooking Spirits or Alchemy Spirits to naturally be summoned whenever the user does Cooking or Alchemy, which will assist the user in anything they can until they disappear.

Well, this is amazing! It's an all-around boost to everything! Though it doesn't bring anything for combat, it still nice that it boosts everything I actually picked this Subclass for. The moment I obtained this Skill, something already had begun to happen as I started cooking the dishes.

The many people seeing my cooking were suddenly amazed as they saw countless of small little beings emerging out of my food, resembling small lumps of light that then took food-like shapes. Some resembled Eggs, a few resembled big pieces of meat, some of them looked like bowls filled with Rice, and lastly, there were some that looked like veggies!

Everyone was noticeably amazed at the scene, the fairies, gnomes, and even the brownie all stared at my creations, these were all Cooking Spirits, and they even had names, when I inspected them through the System, I even got brief explanations of what each one did...

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 384: Cooking Spirits And... The Strongest Player Appears?!

[Cooking Spirit: Bowl of Rice]

An adorable little Spirit in the shape of a Bowl of Rice, it symbolizes all sorts of grains and can increase the texture and feeling of satiation that food gives when eaten.

[Cooking Spirit: Roasted Meat]

An adorable little Spirit in the shape of Roasted Meat, it symbolizes all types of meat and can increase the flavor and tenderness that cooked meat gives when eaten.

[Cooking Spirit: Boiled Egg]

An adorable little Spirit in the shape of Boiled Egg, it symbolizes eggs and soups and can increase the mix of flavors, textures, and aroma that food gives when eaten.

Incredible! They don't do any attacking or something, they merely enchant food so it tastes even better! I can't wait to taste it!

"Thanks a lot everyone!"

"Foo! Foo!"

"Gebobobohh..."

"Fweh! Fwefeeeh!"

The little spirits were giving the most adorable little noises as they flew around harmlessly. They looked at the food with happy smiles and adorned the environment with their beautiful and cute appearances, and lights everywhere.

"Lady Planta is summoning Spirits?"

"So many! Incredible! To be expected of the new World Tree!"

"They're emerging endlessly, so easily too..."

"What sort of Spirits are those? I've never seen those before!"

The many spectators were already growing confused about these spirits. Little Spirits shaped as Food were something that, apparently, was completely new and never seen before. Did I actually ended creating these Spirits or something?

"Those Spirits, did you created them, Planta?" Titania wondered at my side.

"They're so pretty!" Florie said.

"I've never seen these before either." Nieve said.

"Knowing her, it must be something brand new." Said Titan.

"Yep, it is! I made them just now after I changed my Subclass. They're Cooking Spirits! I don't know if I really created them, but each time I prepare a dish there's a 30% chance for a few of them to show up. They only dedicate themselves to enhance flavors and textures though, aromas as well." I said. "I don't think they're good for combat, but they can surely make any dish tastier."

"A-Amazing, Cooking Spirits!" Said Florie.

"To be able to easily create a brand-new type of Spirit..." Titania was left speechless. "Well, seeing how you've become a World Tree now, it seems possible. After all, the previous one created me and my Fairies."

"And it even created many animals, and all of nature!" Said Florie. "I wonder if you could one day go as far..."

"I think you're giving me too many expectations... Let's take it easy for now, I don't think I could possibly compare to the ancient world tree yet." I sighed.

"Yeah you might eventually surpass it, I'm sure." Titan said.

"Indeed! Ah, these spirits are very playful... And they smell tasty as well." Titania said, looking at the roasted meat spirit flying around, it really had a roasted meat smell to it.

Once we were done here, we quickly began serving the dishes, as I sat down with everyone else and enjoyed the meals happily. The flavors were incredibly, exploding inside of our mouths like a sea made of thousands of colors, and each color was a flavorful sensation.

However, as we ate, I also sensed the stares of a group of curious people. Who were all peeking at the scene from outside the village we just built with Titan. It hasn't even been half an hour since the Demon King was defeated but these people had been staying there, just watching us. The Guild Members of the Alliance had joined us in the meals and were currently having a blast eating all they wanted, but these other five players that weren't showing themselves... they were getting me a bit nervous, to say the least.

"Titan, can you accompany me?"

"Oh? Sure."

I left everyone else enjoying the festivities as I walked outside the village with Mark at my side, mostly so he could watch over my back. I know that Players cannot PK one another if one of the doesn't have the PVP mode activated, but I've already seen enough crazy stuff to believe something unexpected might happen at any moment.

I only brought a single friend to not cause further panic at the village though, just Mark was enough for whatever might be lurking in the shadows. He had grown incredibly strong and was my forest guardian as well.

As we walked outside, we were quickly greeted by a single figure first. She walked from within the shadows and smiled, her eyes were glowing bright red, and she had long, red hair with a beautiful black dress. Her skin was as pale as candle wax, and she had long sharp black claws, with long, pointy ears whose ends resembled the wings of bats, she even had sharp vampiric fangs, as if it wasn't obvious enough she was one.

I see, it was quite the strong Player- EEH?!

"W-Who the heck...?! Eh?! Y-You are...!" I muttered in shock, quickly recognizing her as the one that was also attacking the Demon King from the sky.

"It can't be...! It is him- or her?! It's her! I... It's Black Haze!" Titan was also freaking out.

Yeah, it was him- or her! It was... Black Haze, the Top 1 Player in the entire game, the first ranks in all PVP tournaments, the first Ranks in all Boss Raids, in all Labyrinth Explorations, in the previous two World Bosses, who lost his or her first place against me...

Damn it, this is bad! She's way too strong! If she ever wanted, wouldn't she be able to destroy everything?!

...No, wait, I know she cannot, Players cannot hurt NPC, right? Not directly, so she cannot just come to destroy this place.

So is she here to challenge me or something?

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 385: Making A New And Unexpected Friend

...No, wait, I know she cannot, Players cannot hurt NPC, right? Not directly, so she cannot just come to destroy this place.

So is she here to challenge me or something?

"Why are you here?!" I asked, she had yet to talk, only laughing while glaring at the two of us, analyzing us with her red eyes.

"Oh my, what a reaction! I thought you would be way more laxer with me, dear Planta! I just came here to just say Hi." She laughed. "I helped out at defeating the Demon King, it was such a weird event that it showed right here... According to the lore, it was targeting this very forest, right?"

It was weird how she was talking to us as if we were friends... I thought top players would be like some edgy people but he was seemingly acting rather normal.

"Well yeah..." I sighed.

"And you evolved into that giant tree? Amazing!" She said with fascination.

"Indeed..." I sighed again.

"And is this your friend?! He's also amazing! I've never seen a fire wielding Ent before..." She said.

"Yes, I suppose I am." Titan said.

"Well, anyways, it is a pleasure to see the first ranked player..." I said while sighing. "Can I ask you a question though?"

"Huh? Sure!" She said carefreely.

"Why... why is such a high-level player in here? Do you have... some sort of evil intentions?" I wondered. "I... I won't let you hurt these people..."

"Oh? Ah... I guess my level and my statues really makes people afraid of me..." She sighed. "I've been hearing about you for a while now, every time you do something incredible. I had left my original position in the Dark Continent to come and see the rest of the game world after a long while... To be honest I actually wanted to have a PVP match with you, but one thing led to the other and now we ended saving the forest and the game world! It really feels nice that thing is dead, especially that I am not the first rank anymore as well."

"Eh? You're happy of not being the first rank?" Titan wondered.

"Of course, I only play because I really like to, not really because I'm into... some sort of ego trip for attention. But people kept pestering me all the time, I was even forced to make a guild to organize all these annoying people, my friends seem to enjoy my fame more than I do, hahaha..." Black Haze sighed, sitting over a log.

"So you just came to meet me..." I said while feeling slightly relieved, and at the same time surprised over her simple reason.

"Yep, pretty much that's the only reason!" She said while laughing. "I was thinking on inviting you to my guild due to your amazing talents and all, but I bet that's not what you really want to, right?"

"Not really, but thanks for the thought, Black Haze." I smiled back. "Are you really okay with not being the first ranked anymore though?"

"Yeah, I wish I wasn't anymore to be honest." She sighed. "I guess I am just too good at kicking ass." She began laughing. We laughed with her slightly nervously, but with Mark we began to learn she wasn't really a threat at all, just someone that wanted to make new friends.

"I'm not really into the mood for doing PVP though..." I sighed. "But if you want to stay here you're free to do so, as long as you don't bother the people here."

"Sure, it's fine..." She sighed. "I just wanted to see how powerful you actually were. I've never fought against a Dryad before and all!"

Although she said it was fine, it was pretty clear she really wanted to fight me... It made me feel slightly bad I was just rejecting her, but right now I just wanted to relax. There were many things piling up in my head to care enough about this right now.

"Well, I am going then..." She said, quickly standing back up and walking away.

"Eh? Wait..." I tried to stop her. "Don't you want to eat with everyone else? There's plenty of food!"

"Really?!" She quickly flew back to us at sonic speed.

Ah, I see, she was making us feel bad for her so we would invite her to eat, wasn't she? She's quite sneaky in that regard, I have to admit it. But fine, I'll bring her along to eat! I'll make her love my cooking so I'll have the strongest player as my ally.

If a crisis occurs again, it would be nice to employ her strength... Wait, am I thinking way too cunningly right now, aren't I? I wasn't this cunning before!

"Yeah! Come with us if you really want to, if you helped at fighting the Demon King you definitely deserve some compensation." I said.

"But is it okay if you don't reveal my identity to everyone else? Even NPC have recognized me before..." Black Haze sighed. "I went through a lot of pains just to get a Subclass that helps me shapeshift."

"Huh, so this female version is a shapeshift form?" Wondered Titan.

"No, this is actually my Avatar, hahaha. I am actually a guy IRL." Said Black haze. "But I thought it would be nice to be a girl inside the game and all, it is indeed quite nice, but I've been selling my image as a male player using my shapeshifting subclass abilities, nobody actually knows my true player appearance aside from my closest friends, who are only four. And well, now you guys."

"But how come nobody recognizes you if they can see your name in your status?" I asked.

"Nah that's only possible because I allowed you guys." She laughed. "[Status Concealment]! Look again now."

"Oh it's true your status changed! What in the world...?" I asked in surprise.

Author's Notes: , DarkReaper2015 makes her appearance!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 386: The Dark Reaper Appears!

"This is one of my Skills, Status Concealment, it helps me rearrange the status people see to confuse them and make them think I am someone else! It is a very rare one, I think I am the only one that has it." She said.

"That's... way too cheat-like!" Titan said.

"Can't we get one ourselves?" I asked.

"I don't really know. It came with my Subclass." She shrugged.

"Well, whatever, for now, let's go back to the village then-"

FLAAAASH!

Suddenly, before we could actually react in time, a flash of darkness emerged from within the forest. I was already predicting this though, glaring at the ones that attempted to attack us. The blows simply were destroyed by an invisible barrier protecting me and Titan, although Rosemary, as I'll call Black Haze's new persona, merely intercepted the powerful, black-colored shadow attack with her nails.

CLAASH! CLAAASH!

TRUUUMMM...!

The enormous shockwave blew away a few trees, which slightly angered me, but I let it slide. Someone just tried to attack us, and it was clearly a Player. Because we were not in PVP mode, we were simply immune to their blows. Rosemary wasn't, so she intercepted the attacks instead.

The figures quickly showed up, or more like a single one, with the rest only staring from afar, all of them having rather worried expressions in their faces.

"You're Planta right?" A young girl asked, her skin was blue and she had two black horns growing from her forehead. Her smooth blue skin was covered on several black and white tattoos, and she was wearing a samurai armor covering her from head to toe, her face and her long, black hair was the only things visible, and of course, the powerful Black Katana she was holding.

"I-I am..." I said, looking at her ferocious eyes, glowing bright red.

She smiled.

"Good, I've been looking for you. I am what they call a Wandering Warrior. I go from place to place seeking a challenge. I fight strong players, and never turn back a challenge. I want you to fight me. I'll even pay you in Gold, how much do you want to fight me with all you've got?" She asked, suddenly showing me a bag of gold coins.

"E-Eh? Fight me?!" I asked in surprise. Titan at my side seemed just as confused, yet he kind of understand why this was happening.

"This is the second time this is happening already, Planta doesn't want to fight anybody..." Titan said while trying to be nice with her.

"Hmph."

SLAAAASH!

Suddenly, an enormous gust of black winds emerged from her blade once more. Her sword movements were so fast and precise it only felt as if a small glint of black and white color emerged from her sword before that gust of black winds, it had a powerful slashing power as well, easily slicing a few more trees around us.

"Don't get in my way." The girl said coldly. The other ones which she came with were only watching from afar. I noticed there was a red-haired elf, a girl with blonde hair and golden scales, and a small brownie boy with green hair.

"So? Fight me." The Blue Oni girl said. "I am not known as DarkReaper for nothing..."

"Wait, DarkReaper?!"

That Player name... I can't believe it!

It's actually Elena! My daughter!

I finally met her and- Huh?! She's a Blue Oni Samurai!

Wow, she really looks amazing in her Avatar...

Did she come all the way here just to fight me? I am in awe. I never thought my little daughter would be so dedicated to her mama!

A-Although in such a way though... I think I saw her before as well she helped on defeating the Demon King of Miasma.

To think we would meet in such a way... I have the urge of going to hug her right now and tell her I am her mama!

...But I can't! I definitely can't! If I do that, it'll be super cringe for her... I don't want her to get uncomfortable in front of her friends.

Also if I reveal my identity right now, she might get mad I never told her about the game before and all... And even more angered when she knows about this.

Ah, but if I keep delaying the inevitable, won't I build even more anger from her later?

Ugh, being a mother is sure painful when I take into consideration every single little detail!

What do I do now?!

Should I accept her fight to gain her respect, maybe?

I guess... I have to play with her.

The very reason why I started playing this game... was because I wanted to know her better through the game, I wanted to see her other facet, how she acted with her friends, the real Elena.

I guess this challenging nature she has, and that deadly cold stare she's giving to me... It is the real Elena? She certainly has... a scary facet of herself. But it still... interesting.

Yeah, it is pretty interesting!

"A-Alright then, if you insist-"

"Fufufu! You're pretty bold to attack me and my new friend out of the blue, little girl." Maryrose laughed. "I've heard about you, a young Player that has been challenging every single player that brought her attention, you've been bringing a lot of annoyances to my friends. One of them got assaulted by you out of the blue the other day. Can't you go play Samurai elsewhere?"

Wait! Maryrose stop! Don't interrupt my moment with my daughter!

"And who the heck are you? I don't know you at all, but you're quite strong, Level two hundred... Just like mine." Said my daughter. "If you're so hellbent in protecting her, fight me without the Fair Fight System then."

"Heh..." Maryrose smiled. In her status, she only showed up as Level 200, but she was almost Level 300! She was the player closest to Level 300 in the entire world.

And my daughter's status was...

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 387: A Challenge! PVP Against My Daughter?!

[Player Name]: [DarkReaper]

[Gender]: [Female]

[Title]: [Player Hunter]

[Guild]: [None]

[Guild Alliance]: [None]

[Fame]: [4230]

[Race]: [Abyssal Blue Phantom Flame Oni Princess: Lv207/300]

[Job Class]: [Shadow Evil Samurai Assassin: Lv207/300]

She has the Player Hunter Title?! How many Players has she hunted exactly? Is my daughter a murderhobo in the game or something? I quickly ended checking the Title, and it was awarded after defeating... one thousand Players.

My daughter...

Elena's certainly...

She's...

Amazing!

I never thought she would be this good at fighting!

She's an incredibly swordswoman if she can wield her sword so amazingly to defeat a thousand different Players too!

And her Race and Job Class are quite... something indeed.

But she lacks a Subclass, something Maryrose does have.

"If you really want to fight me then there's no choice, I'll spank this little girl for being so insolent, Planta. Just watch-"

"W-Wait a second! Stop! Don't spank her! Degenerate!"

I angrily barked back at Maryrose, as she looked at me while raising an eyebrow.

"It was only figurative I wasn't going to do anything weird-"

"DarkReaper!"

I said that name, as I stepped forward, Titan and Maryrose surprised over my change of resolve. I glanced directly at my daughter's red eyes.

"I accept your challenge, let's fight! Without any fair fight system either!" I said with a smile.

"Ohhh?" She smiled evilly. "I am Level 200 and you're level 60, you know? Even I would feel bad..."

"It's fine... I want to test my current abilities within the forest." I said with a smile.

After all, I had an immensely bloated bonus stats stick in my status, as long as I activated several skills, buffing spells and so on, my stats would skyrocket, several times their original numbers. I don't know if that can be compared to a Level 200 Player, but I want to give it a shot and see how broken my character has become.

And if I fight my daughter fearlessly like this, without any handicaps either, she'll respect me as a fighter, right? We'll kill two birds with one stone... Ah, that sounded so sad though, I don't want to kill birds...

Anyways! I looked back at her, awaiting her response.

"But fine, if you really want to, I'll show you the true power of a Level 200 Player." She smiled. "You better not hold back either, you're very famous for a reason, despite being so low level, you're strong. I don't know if you're a hacker or something but I want to fight you and see what those abilities are. Don't disappoint me now, Planta."

"I won't, Reaper!" I said with a smile, quickly conjuring several spells, skills, and buffing myself through the roof.

"Planta wait, is this okay?!" Titan asked worriedly. "At least let me help you so we could even things out a bit!"

"No, it's fine." I said back at him, giving him a wink. "I'll show her what I'm made of."

"Aahh... Sigh... Fine." He sighed.

The two of us looked back at my daughter, while Maryrose shrugged.

"Oh well, if ya really want to, I am nobody to stop you." She sighed, stepping at the side. "Lets see how an Yggdryad fights, this is going to be fun, heheh..."

My daughter pointed her sword at me, her eyes narrowing.

Ding!

[Do you wish to enter [PVP Mode]?]

"Yes."

Ding!

[PVP Mode] has been activated.]

After activating PVP Mode, the fight began right away...

Reaper emerged right in front of me, swinging her sword vertically as an enormous flash of darkness engulfed my body.

SLAAAAASH!

My entire body was sliced in half.

BAAAM!

The entire ground shook, the forest began trembling as her enormous attack shattered the ground.

"Huh? I guess that's it, the stat difference is too high, a single move was all it takes- huh?"

However, my daughter was quickly shocked when she realized what she sliced was merely a mass of wood!

"Wait, what? Where is the real one?"

She looked around, realizing I was... nowhere.

TRUUUMMM...!

An enormous fist made of wood and plants emerged from the ground, my daughter reacted by quickly unleashing several slashes with her sword, the entire fist was sliced into countless of wooden pieces, only for spears made of wood to emerge from the underground, trying to impale her one after the other!

Naturally, by using Nature Assimilation and Plant Absorption, I become the whole forest, especially at this level, and even more with my current evolution.

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRASH!

"Huh?! So many attacks! Where are they coming from? [Shadow Travel]!"

Elena utilized a Shadow Magic Spell to travel across the shadows of the night, only for countless vines to emerge all around her. She swung her blade while spinning in midair, slicing them all though!

"[Spinning Blade]! [Slicing Shadows]!"

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

She continued looking for me, until she finally found my Avatar, the newborn one which emerged from the ground, connected to the roots of my True Body.

"There you are!"

She ran towards me as I smiled, she didn't realized she fell right into my trap.

Right where she stepped into, there was an abnormally high concentration of Dragon Veins.

"[Dragon Vein Explosion]"

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Suddenly, and out of the blue, all the Dragon Veins began glowing brightly with a lot of light, my daughter was completely shocked, blinded by their shining brightness!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOOMMMM!

And then, they exploded!

"Ungh... Eh? I took damage?!"

My daughter was left speechless as she glanced at her own Status, indeed, her HP had gone down by a bit, each explosion pierced through her insanely high defenses due to the level difference.

The rest of our spectators were left speechless, the friends she came from were probably Anna, the elf, and Elisa, the golden scaled dragon girl. I didn't knew who the green haired boy was though.

"I am not done yet, you've not showed your truest strength either, right?" I said to her, appearing atop a tree. "[Nature's Rage]"

TRUUUUUUMMMMM....!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 388: The Incredible Powers Of Dark Reaper!

Suddenly, the entire forest and trees shapeshifted into five enormous arms, as they flew directly towards her! I couldn't really go easy on her, or she would simply not respect me, thinking I was looking down on her.

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLAAASH!

The enormous wooden fists fell over Elena like meteors, but she moved swiftly. Her body encompassed of endless shadows as she swung her powerful katan I many forms and ways, generating beautiful spectacles with her graceful movements.

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

All my physical attacks were being completely sliced into tiny pieces, as she moved around, seeking my Avatar, and then attacking it with a barrage of slicing blows.

C L A A A A S S S H H!

Another of them perished, my HP was going down the more they died. The ability that the World Tree body gave to me was rather amazing not only could I meld with nature, but I could make multiple avatars, once one died, I would only lose a small percent of my HP, but never everything.

Like this, the strategy of making multiple clones for distraction was possible, and as she sliced into pieces the second one, a powerful magical attack reached her, as I summoned tens of Sunlight Spirits at once, combining them together into something large and immense!

"[Spirit Fusion]!"

FLAAAASH!

"What the...?!"

Elena looked into the distance, incapable of realizing what was she seeing, only to find dozens of large Sunlight Spirits converging into a larger and more terrifying one.

Ding!

[You've merged over twenty Sunlight Spirits to create the High Rank Spirit: [Hyperion]!]

FLUOOOOSH!

An enormous living sun emerged, with a single red eye, glaring down at Elena furiously.

T R U U U M M M...!

The sole pressure of Hyperion began to incinerate its surroundings. Don't worry forest, I'll heal you back up just after this!

"[Blazing Explosion]!"

I imbued Mana into my weapon as I combined it with several other Spells and Skills, conjuring the powerful Spell Blazing Explosion, which could be conjured using a fire spirit!

"Tch...!"

F L A A A A S S S H H!

Hyperion flew down towards Elena, as I concentrated a large quantity of my Spiritual Energy and all the Mana I could muster into this attack! Take my resolve, my daughter!

B O O O O O O O O M M M M M M M!!!!

Elena was unable to evade that, she took it head-on, surprisingly! The enormous explosion was self-contained within an invisible barrier the System itself creates and adjust in size depending in the battle between two players as well, only engulfing the trees in the surrounding area.

FLUOOOOSH!

Flames erupted everywhere, it was total chaos.

"Shit! Is she okay?!"

"Oi!!!"

"This can't be... How come a Level 60 Player can conjure this enormously strong fire attribute spell?! She's a summoner?! But even then..."

Elena's friends were shocked.

"Amazing, she's really great..."

Titan smiled while crossing his arms.

"Well, it's not like the little girl's gone yet..."

Maryrose smiled while giggling mischievously.

"[Void Slash]"

S L A A A A A S S S H H H!!!

An enormous black slash emerged in the middle of the explosion, slowly beginning to slice through space itself, and ending up slicing the whole explosion as a result!

TRUUUUMMMM...!

The explosion's flames dissipated in a second as the mere shockwave of Elena's slice dissipated it all. Her red eyes glared at me with a deadly killing intent...

"You're not bad at all... But this is far from over. You'll need to do way more to actually defeat someone at Level 200..."

"I couldn't had expected anything less!"

Elena emerged atop the pile of rubble, her eyes glowing redder.

"I am surprised though, you're pretty amazing, if you could reach my level, you would definitely become the first Rank... However."

"Come, God of War and Death, [Susanoo]!"

FLAAASH!

Her entire body was encompassed in shadows, as a phantasmal entity emerged behind her, resembling the giant ghost of a samurai wearing full body armor, and holding two gigantic katanas made of bones.

"OOOOOHHHH!"

The enormous apparition seemed to suddenly boost my daughter's battle power tremendously. As if it wasn't enough, it looked mighty enough by itself, and it was ready to battle as well. It was some sort of Summoning-type Skill she had, but that also merged with her powers.

"That's... She's already using the Susanoo already?!" Anna said.

"She's been pushed this far so fast..." Elisa said.

"Susanoo? That thing's a Naruto reference?!" The green haired boy said.

"No idiot, Susanoo is the God of Japanese mythology, a war god with incredible power. Samurais can invoke his strength in various levels, but she had managed to evolve the skill to the point she can bring him out into this apparition-like form, which greatly boosts her battle capabilities as well!" Anna said excitedly. "She only brings it out when she thinks her opponent's worthy!"

So this means that Elena is recognizing my strength... Amazing! And I have yet to even go all out myself! I've been mostly playing around and experimenting how I could potentially fight a Player without going overboard, but I have yet to even fight using the Great Spirit's power, or my Legendary Weapon, or the Chaos Sword I have inside my inventory, which is a spirit by itself too. Yeah, the [Void Piercing Infernal Chaos Blade Weapon Spirit: Terminus] remained as a "Spirit Treasure" inside my Inventory and hasn't disappeared.

"So this means you recognize me, Reaper?" I asked her, emerging from atop a large tree, plants grew endlessly around me, vines, carnivorous-looking flowers, and dozens of enormous wooden arms appeared, protecting me.

"Yeah, you're pretty good for the little we've fought, I hope it doesn't get boring once I unleash my truest strength though! Keep entertaining me, Planta!" My daughter spoke with all the chunni she had within her heart, rushing forward and jumping into the skies!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 389: Devastating Battle! An Overwhelming Power VS An Endless Regeneration

FLAAAASH!

Darkness emerged from her body, fueling her muscles and her movements, the Susanoo behind her moved its two blades made of bones, unleashing consecutive Aura Slashes made of Phantasmal Flames and Shadows, while my daughter readied for an attack, holding the handle of her sheathed katana!

SLAAAASH! SLAAAASH!

The Susanoo's blow wasn't normal, it easily sliced through all plants it got on its way, and even smaller spirits I sent were instantly eliminated, at the same time, it left a rotten path of death behind, making it difficult for my plants to grow in those spots!

BOOOM! BOOOOM!!!

The enormous slashes reached the ground, dirtying things even more. I was left rather amazed as I saw my daughter's incredibly destructive power.

But this wasn't even her truest blow yet...

"With my blade, I will cut Heaven and Earth! Abyssal Void Blade First Form: [Rejection of Divinity]!"

FLASH!

Her sword was unsheathed in less than a second, unleashing an utterly devastating attack. The very slash she unleashed was like a wave of endless darkness, emerging from the very depths of the abyssal void itself!

SLAAAAAAASH!

The enormous slash reached me in an instant, it was enormous and powerful enough I couldn't evade it, I had to either let it destroy me... or intercept it with my own attack!

"Alright then, I'll show you!"

I hit the ground with my foot as the Terrain changed in an instant, flowers, trees, everything popped up in a flood of nature, as I quickly merged with everything and my surroundings through Plant Absorption and Nature Assimilation.

At the same time, hundreds of spirits were born, as I summoned them atop my head and began to condense them all together into an enormously powerful High Ranked Spirit!

"[Spirit Fusion]!"

FLUOOOSH!

All Spirits condensed into a single form.

Ding!

[You've fused hundreds of spirits to create the High Rank Spirit [Multi-Colored Oasis Turtle Sage]!]

FLAAASH!

An enormous turtle emerged, lazily looking at the approaching attack. His enormous body was made of jade and it had an oasis on top of its lustrous shell.

"[SPIRIT INFUSION]!"

And right after that, I jumped from the ground and gathered all of the nature I could, fusing it into my body and transforming into a temporary giant, while fusing with the spirit!

FLASH!

Jade scales grew over my body as an enormous shell appeared in my back. My Legendary Weapon emerged from my Inventory, receiving the power of Spirit Infusion, and becoming a gigantic Jade Axe themed after the turtle spirit!

I felt the turtle's powers flowing through my body, and also the knowledge of how to use his powers. In an instant, Nature, Life, Earth, and Water Elements gathered within my hands, flowing into the Axe-shaped weapon and then...

"[Four Element Fury]!"

SLAAAAAASH!

Both attacks impacted one another, as I put my all into blocking it!

BOOOOOOOOMMMMM!!!!

An enormous explosion of darkness and four other elements was unleashed, covering the surroundings and shaking the entire forest around us. The massive explosion was quickly followed by a confrontation!

"[Void Slash]! [Phantasmal Blade]!"

Elena emerged amidst the smoke, as she unleashed two powerful attacks against me at point blank!

SLAAAASH! BOOOOOM!!!

Void Slash sliced me into pieces, meanwhile, Phantasmal Blade set ablaze my entire sliced body. Ah, she was merciless!

"Susanoo!"

"OOOOOHHHHH!!!"

And then, her furious Susanoo finished me off, as he unleashed a devastating, berserk-like barrage of attacks, crushing through the ground and destroying everything, including me! This was also followed by Elena unleashing more and more Void Slashes, as the two were desperately trying to take me down!

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

Elena's devastating blows overwhelmed me. However, I didn't give up. As my Hp was going down and regenerating constantly, going back and forth all the time, I unleashed my own blows against her. Our weapons clashed against the other, as I constantly generated more and more Spirits to merge and infuse myself with, boosting my power further. Powerful barrages of elemental attacks constantly reached up to Elena, as she clashed against me using her own techniques and magic.

CLAAASH! CLAAASH! CLAAASH!

An enormous barrage of attacks covered the sky as I gave it my all, eventually charging even a bit of the Great Spirit's power, although I couldn't bring it all because she was very tired right now. The enormous element-filled blows covered the sky of various colors.

The fight seemed endless, my HP continued going down and then up right away, sometimes the attacks would be so lethal my HP would go below 90%, but quickly recover again. Elena was gathering more and more energy as she fought, however.

I noticed her body was glowing with a red aura the more prolonged the fight became. Although her regeneration abilities being completely null made it so each blow I inflicted against her accumulated, she was constantly fighting more and more fiercely.

CRAAAAASSSSH!

"I have to admit it, you're very strong..." She said with a smile.

"Thank you for the compliment!" I smiled back.

"However..."

Suddenly, I felt chills run down my spine.

Elena's body was engulfed in red infernal flames, as her skin turned from blue to red...?!

"[Berserk Oni Battle God Form]"

TRUUUUMMMM...!

Her body size grew taller, and she even got larger muscles, sharp, demonic horns grew from her forehead and all around her body, and she even gained a second sword made of crystalized flames!

What the... what is this?!

Her power was... already, completely in another level!

"[Susanoo Armor Embodiment]"

FLAAASH!

And her Susanoo merged with her body, becoming a phantasmal armor to boot!

"E-Eh?"

I felt completely taken aback.

Are you kidding me, she wasn't even going all out YET?!

"This is it! Abyssal Void Blade Second Form: [Battle God's Arrogance]!"

FLUOOOOOSSHH!

Elena's surroundings suddenly transformed, as if everything around her resembled an inferno of phantasmal flames. I was completely engulfed by it, incapable of escaping. My self-regeneration powers were suddenly nullified by a powerful status effect named [Curse of the Battle God] as countless blades made of flames reached my body, devastating me completely!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOOMMMM!!!

Chapter 390: Battle Conclusion & Special Quest Completion Rewards

Everything was engulfed in flames, as Elena looked down as I disappeared...

"Phew... To think she forced me to use this form... She's certainly formidable." She sighed, reaching the ground below. Her transformation quickly deactivated, as her friends ran to greet her.

"What the heck was that?! Did you had to go so far?!" Anna reprimanded her.

"It was fun, so I had to show her my all..." Elena smiled. "That was... so fun, in fact!"

"It felt more like she was your punching bag, her regeneration abilities are insane... So this is Planta, she fought too well for being Level 60 only..." Elisa said.

"Let's wait until she revives at least." The green haired boy said.

Elena nodded.

"Yeah, I want to add her to my friends-"

"Well you don't really need to wait or something~" I giggled.

I appeared behind the entire group, with both Titan and Maryrose by my side. I was still alive, barely, and my HP was slowly refilling back up. Yeah, she destroyed my body, but as I said before, I am the entire forest, as long as it remains standing, I can come back up... My Hp didn't went to zero though, maybe something would had really happened if it did, but if she didn't attacked the giant tree directly, that would be a pretty hard thing to do.

"You're still alive?!" Elena was surprised.

"Well yeah, I am a Dryad, that tree over there's my real body." I laughed.

"Huh?! You're a giant tree?!" Anna asked.

"Wait then, Planta, does that means our friend here's been just fighting dummies of you?" Elisa wondered.

"Not completely dummies, they're Wooden Avatars." I said. "Due to my skills, I can merge with nature, this entire forest is my territory, and therefore my body as well. That way I can expand the range of my body and all..."

"Amazing... Wait, are you sure about telling us this info?!" Anna said. "We could divulge it around!"

"Nah, I trust you girls." I smiled back, quickly cancelling PVP mode. "Reaper, so? Wanna come over with us? We are having a feast with various friends to celebrate the Demon King's defeat."

"Yeah, I could smell it from all the way here..." Elena said. "Can I really come?"

Aww, is she acting all shy now that her battle junkie side is satisfied?

"Sure dear! Come!"

Like that, I invited my daughter and her friends to eat with us. I had to quickly show them to my friends too, Achlys and Lily as well as Acorn and the rest. I had a small gathering with my friends after leaving them enjoying the meals though.

"She's your daughter?!" Rita reacted too loudly.

"Yeah... So please don't call me by my name in front of her." I sighed.

"But why do you want to keep your identity a secret from her?" Lily wondered.

"Ah... I get it, you really joined this game to know her better, right?" Mark said, quickly guessing it.

"Yeah... You really know me well, I guess." I laughed a bit. "But yeah. I've gone through a lot, and we even know this world's real and all... but my original intention was to meet her in the game and know her better, so we could reconnect a bit more."

"Yeah, this was really her plan initially." Rita said. "Well, alright, we'll keep it a secret for now."

"Don't worry about it." Lily said.

"I'll keep my mouth shut but... One day, you'll have to tell her about this too..." Mark said.

"I know... I am mentally preparing myself for that! But for now, we should go step by step, alright?" I sighed.

"Yeah, I guess you're right." Mark agreed.

"Alright! Let's go back for more booze!" Rita ran back to the party.

Once we were done talking about that, I quickly checked the Completed Quest I had been ignoring for a little while. I also had to see the Skill Trees too, something I've also been ignoring, or more like slightly forgotten. Though right now I have a hard time thinking about something else than my own daughter, she was simply way too amazing there, I was having a hard time not fangirling for her!

A-Anyways, enough of this, let's see the Quest I had formed, everyone should had already gotten their rewards, but I had yet to see mine. Well, as if it wasn't a reward enough with all the things I've received, from Titles, Powers, new Skills, and all... but yeah, there's always a little more.

Ding!

[You've Completed the [Special Quest]: [Defeat the Demon King of Miasma and Save the Forest of Beginnings]!]

[Congratulations, Planta! Your incredible efforts and everything you've done has finally paid off greatly. Not only were you able to defeat the Demon King but you were also able to save the forest and help its recovery through your abilities. You have now evolved into the first World Tree that has existed in millions of years, and the world's Spirit Roots have become stable at long last. Because of this, the Gods congratulate your efforts and gift you a series of treasures to show their goodwill.]

[You received the following [Completion Rewards]: [1000000 EXP] [10000000 Gold] [Legendary Armor Piece Treasure Chest (S Grade)] x1 [Greater Spirit Elixir (S Grade)] x3 [Legendary Potential Cube (S Grade)] x5 [Unique Gear Enhancement Scroll (A Grade)] x10 [Skill Points Phial (A Grade)] x10]

[All EXP has been converted automatically into EXP Potions stored inside your Inventory.]

Ooh! Nice, so many new rewards! With this I'll surely get along just fine from now on... I've got a new Legendary Armor Piece Treasure Chest, a weird Elixir, Potential Cubes, Enhancement Scrolls, and even a Skill Points Phial? So is that an item that gives Skill Points? Now that's new...

[Skill Points Phial (A Grade)]

A Special Phial filled with a Primordial Essence which, when drank, can grant Skill Points to the user. Once consumed, it grants +25 Skill Points.

Eehh?! It's a lot! And if I drink all ten... then that's 250 Skill Points?!
