Chapter 571: This Is Your Only Path

"What I deserved, you say?" She asked, Monica felt like... she was no longer herself.

"Huh?" The trio glanced back at her, feeling her aura even if they couldn't sense magic.

"W-What's gotten into her?"

"She stood up?"

"Oi... Didn't we told you that you belonged into the dirt, you worm?"

The blonde walked towards Monica, fearlessly, her hands grasping her neck and about to push her down into the floor.

However, Monica's hand touched her arm, as her red eyes glowed brightly.

"Eh? You dare fight back, you fucking ugly bitch- UGH?!"

FLUOOOSH!

Suddenly, the dark energies surrounding Monica started overflowing around her, and then reaching the bully's arm, sucking away... her very life energy.

"Uugh... AAAGGH... AAAAAHHHH...! G-GET AWAY! GET AWAYYYYY...!"

She screamed her lungs out as she saw her very arm beginning to dry out like that of a dried out corpse. The life energy being feed back into Monica, healing her wounds.

"Eheh... Eheheheh... It hurts, right?" Monica began laughing.

"W-What the...?!"

"S-Shit... What's going on?!"

The other two panicked, as they started stepping back, and then ran away.

"H-HEY! YOU FUCKING BITCHES! DON'T RUN AWAY! HEEELP MEE- MGUH?!"

The blonde quickly felt utter fear as she couldn't understand what was happening, Monica's hand covered her mouth, and then... she felt the agonizing pain of having her life sucked away.

Her pretty face slowly turned old, skeletal even, as she screamed in agony, and then, dropped into the floor, half-dead.

BAAAM...!

"A-Ahhha... Haaahhh.. U-ugh... m-my... fa-face..."

As she groaned in agony in the floor, with her voice barely being heard, the two other bullies were grasped by tentacles made of shadows and dragged back to Monica as they screamed.

Their screams dulled out by the shadow tentacles entering their mouths grossly. Monica's eyes glowing redder as she continued to giggle maniacally.

The Monica from before was nowhere to be seen, and somebody else, the entity within her, had taken over.

"Fufufu~ I have to thank you girls. Without you, Monica would have never dared to let me take the rails~" Laughed the entity. "I'll make sure to thank you for that, your delicious youth and life essence... I'll take it away from you."

Her hands touched their faces, as they instantly began to age rapidly, their bodies growing older and drier, their screams couldn't be heard, their agony was... indescribable.

Leaving them half dead on the floor, Monica walked away, not before cursing their souls with the darkness she held.

"[Curse of Silence]... You will not be able to talk for the rest of your lives." She smiled, the dark lady within her soul delighted herself in their suffering.

FLUOOOSH...

"OOOOHHH...!"

"MANA..."

"GAAAAHHH..."

Dozens of Hollows appeared around her, attracted to the commotion. Yet they did not attack her, they seemed to want to serve her. They kneeled before her, as she smiled, her phantasmal aura surging wildly.

"How cute~" She smiled. "Fine, you can join me."

Extending her hand, the Hollows were all sucked into her aura of darkness, strengthening her greatly as a result. This was a power that only the strongest of specters and undead could achieve.

Monica slowly walked back home, and once she reached her room, she fell over the bed, unconscious. The darkness settled in more and more within her heart, and once she woke up, she could barely remember what happened.

"W-What... did I do?" Her eyes felt utter fear.

"You took revenge, dear." Smiled the entity within her.

"B-But that's... I..." Monica felt afraid.

"Don't be afraid~ Eventually, you will realize that you'll need me more than anybody else." Smiled the entity. "I am your only friend, Monica..."

Monica's hands trembled in fear of her own powers, unable to scream, nor ask for help... Yet she couldn't deny it, deep down, she felt... relieved.

A malice she never thought she had before began surging from her heart. Like a ticking time bomb, eventually, if not restrained, would lead to a great tragedy.

"You may be afraid, but eventually, you will realize this is your only path, dear~"

(Elayne's POV)

Once we finished having lunch with my daughter, we spent some time together talking about BNLO and what I've been up to with my party. She was rather surprised to know there was such a huge quest in the Dwarven City, but her high level would make everything trivial, so she ended not being really interested...

"It sounds interesting though, if it really has a connection with the next World Boss, I might join you in whatever follows after that." She smiled. "Good luck capturing those bosses nonetheless, mom."

"Thanks dear! I was thinking on fighting the last two at the same time, to make a pretty interesting video." I said. "I have to abuse the level difference to create interest and thrill."

"Hmm, you're way better at analyzing what would be good in a video than I imagined..." She was surprised. "Oh well, I'll go log-in for now."

"Alright dear." I nodded. "Make sure to not miss your studies, alright?"

"It's the weekend, let me be~" She sighed, closing the door.

And once I walked back to my room to log-in as well, I suddenly received a message from Rose herself.

<Friend: Rose (SWORD Agent, colleagues only)>

[Rose]: [Hello Elayne, hate to message you for something like this. But some minutes ago we found three half-dead girls on the streets... Either monsters or some wicked person did this to them.]

[Rose]: [They have been sent to the hospital after that, but they seem unstable... Have you not seen any person that held magic powers lately? It happened near the streets where your house is located... So I'm worried.]

Eh? This...

<Friend: Rose (SWORD Agent, colleagues only)>

[Elayne]: [No? Not really... This is horrible. Is there something I could do to help?]

[Rose]: [I'm surprised you would say that, but aren't you just a civilian now? Well, if things get worse, I'll call you in a heartbeat. But for now, keep your identity a secret if possible.]

[Elayne]: [Alright... I'll keep an eye around to see if there's anything suspicious.]

[Rose]: [Thanks a lot. Leave the rest to us for now.]

Just... what happened?

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 572: Concerns

After what Rose talked about, I felt slightly worried. If this happened around here, there might be a monster or... somebody dangerous walking around. I felt the urge of going into a patrolling session, and after talking about this with Mark and everyone else, we allowed ourselves to go inspect the surrounding blocks around my house at night, before returning to play BNLO.

However, as much as we explored the place, the only thing we could find were a few roaming Hollows, although they were mostly the small and weak types. We couldn't find anything else, sadly. Looks like whoever did this was long gone from this place.

"No good..." Mark sighed. "Though I'm worried... If those girls were attacked out of nowhere, this might as well happen again in the future if we don't do anything over the perpetrator..."

"Hmmm, if it's a person and not a monster, then it might get a bit more troublesome..." Rita sighed.

"Ugh, I feel like I don't want to do this... If it's not a monster."

"Dealing with a real person is... Well, yeah, it is quite different than just a monster." Lily sighed. "It might be really dangerous..."

"For now, I'll place several Inspection Charms around the blocks." I nodded. "These are special Charms built out of Spells that can detect aggressive fluctuations of Mana, provoked when beings that possess Mana and other energies fight, or attack someone."

"Good idea." Mark nodded.

Like that, we walked back to our homes. I made sure everyone got back safely before returning to my own. Blackie was with me through the entire thing, watching around, but he couldn't find anything either, even with his heightened senses as a magical beast.

After giving one last glance at the outside from the window, I quickly reinforced my house's magical protections, and then went to take a warm bath to relax a little bit.

"Well, looks like we've got some dangerous thugs around." The Great Spirit said. "I hadn't thought about it, but you humans are quite nasty people sometimes, so I guess people with powers that'll do nasty stuff is natural."

"Ugh... I guess so." I sighed. "I just didn't wanted to think about it too much. It worries me to no end, and when I am worried my stomach hurts and I can't sleep."

"Sigh, you're such a troublesome girl." The Great Spirit's voice sighed. "Though, you've still got a quest in the other world. Two more Great Dragons to go before you can complete that super overpowered Sword! With that, slaying that evil dragon guy will not be an issue."

"I suppose." I nodded. "Though, I am quite tired, I might leave it for tomorrow... Yawn."

"Oh well, I guess you should take a rest." She nodded.

"Hmm... I've been worried about a lot of things. Ah, remember when the Dwarf King explained the Evil Dragon King Fafnir and Sigurd, the hero? He also spoke about the "Kingdom of Sorrow" where the King was named Thanatos, the same name of the Demon King." I sighed.

"Oh yeah, sorry but I don't have any ideas regarding this stuff either." The Great Spirit shrugged; she sighed a bit.

"Figures, you're a clueless carrot." I sighed. "Anyways, this is different if that King was really the same Thanatos we know... Then he's much different than the Demon King of Miasma."

"You're right." The Great Spirit nodded. "While the original Demon King was a being created by the Ancient Gods whose body was divided into fragments sealed across the world of Arcadia, the previous Demon Kings all surged more like monsters. The Demon King of Miasma just popped up on his own continent and began doing mischief as a monstrous, amorphous creature."

"With many tentacles and eyes, if I say so myself..." I sighed. "But the Demon King of Death is different, he's a huge skeleton, and he commands generals that are clearly intelligent people, not just mindless monsters or manipulated cultists like the Demon King of Miasma did. Although he does employ mindless undead monsters to his army, of course."

"Yeah, although they don't seem to remember their lives clearly, all these Death Generals seemed to have clear personalities, and might had been important people. That Gustaf skeleton guy was a powerful mercenary, right? I remember the skellies said he became the King's knight, or guard?" Wondered the Great Spirit.

"And Phantasmos mentioned he was the King's Advisor..." I sighed. "If the Demon King of Death is truly the same King of the Kingdom of Sorrow from the past Arcadia... Then he might be the first original Demon King Fragment that instead of just becoming a huge monster, reincarnated as a living person, a human, no less."

"And that human was doing some really nasty things. Giving the King of Dwarves the power to turn into a giant huge dragon no less!" Said the Great Spirit. "Also, didn't he killed Sigurd's father? And then the kid was just handed to the dwarf king, who later turned into an evil dragon that terrorized his own people..."

"Y-Yeah, quite awful indeed." I sighed. "I just want to know what his past was... And what made him become the monster he is now. But we don't know yet if he's really that old king though."

"Things connect well, but we can't make complete assumptions yet." The Great Spirit floated over the warm water. "I think we might find more answers when we fight that big black lizard."

"I guess so." I nodded. "We've learned bit and pieces for now, Phantasmos and Gustaf were certainly not into the mood of talking too much though, and I am guessing Fafnir is not really any different."

"And that's without mentioning how they're still trying to get into this world... We don't know what might happen in the near future, you've gotta prepare well." Said the Great Spirit.

"Hmm..." I nodded.

After taking a relaxing bath, I logged back in only to have a meal with everyone at a local bar, and explain we'll be moving tomorrow for the next dragon slaying sessions, which they agreed on.

Chapter 573: The Next Morning

It was the morning of Saturday when I woke up feeling better and more refreshed, playing all night made me slightly tired. However, this morning I felt like new! Also, I thought about a good idea to get a nice vide for my channel. I have recently uploaded the slaying of the two precious Great Dragons, and both videos already surpassed 200k views in one day and a half, so it's doing pretty good.

Checking on the comments this morning, it was mostly of people surprised over the Bosses they had never seen before. I didn't revealed the place where they were because I wanted the place to be only for us until we completed the quest, of course. Some speculated it was a new area where powerful dragon-type monsters spawned.

[Comments: 236]

[Charlie12]: [Wow this is the first time I see that area. Is it a new area that Planta discovered? It is filled with new monsters!]

[NewCat19]: [Those two bosses are different from any other dragon-type boss I've seen before... And their attack patterns and powers seem overpowered for their levels too! How did they beat that thing at Level 90?!]

[Executor]: [I am shocked, this channel is so underrated! Planta deserves a million subscriptions already! She's bringing us new content every day at this point.]

[Chased99]: [Can you reveal the name of this place please? Me and my guild would like to explore it!]

I'll keep things a secret for now, I really don't want people to get there and ruin our quest by trying to slay the Bosses before us. I'll reveal the place once we're done though, and maybe for a price. The first guild that discovers it aside from us might get famous and could grab resources first.

It would also give them new titles, maybe, new quests, and a whole access to everything, which they would greatly benefit from. This means that revealing such a new area to the public is very valuable.

I won't be giving it away for now. The Dragon Nest was only once explored by some random crafting-oriented players, but they have now showed in the comments yet, so they were either not interested in such videos, or can't remember the place either.

For now, I'll benefit on their absence and see how far I can get with it, eheheh.

I felt like eating pancakes, so after a quick bath, I went straight to the kitchen and rapidly cooked over twenty pancakes. The smell swiftly awakened my daughter, as she figuratively floated into the table.

"Good morning dear. I made some pancakes this morning too! Enjoy them. Here, with extra whipped cream!" I said, giving her a big plate of them, with maple syrup, whipped cream, and berries.

"Ahh, there's nothing better than to start a morning with big, fluffy pancakes." She sighed in bliss, filling her cheeks with the food, resembling an adorable hamster stuffing their cheeks with seeds.

I also enjoyed myself, eating ten pancakes with lots of syrup and whipped cream, berries, and some strawberry jam too. The combination of flavors was to kill me with sugary deliciousness. It's fine, the Great Spirit told me I burn calories by using Mana.

And because I am constantly using Mana to grow stronger slowly, I need to consume tons of calories or I'll get weak. Calories seem to also aid in restoring Mana quickly, so the more we store in our bodies, the faster our Mana regenerates.

I also do exercise in the gym to reinforce my physique, so I burn even more calories there, hahaha... At this point I need to eat like ten thousand calories a day to keep up with all the calories I spend.

I ended having some eggs as well, as some toast after the pancakes, as my newly enhanced body didn't felt satiated yet...

While watching the news, there were once more news about the gate in new York, and how they have yet to clear it... I am getting a bit more worried, although it is a whole other country.

"So anyways, have any plans for this weekend, dear?" I wondered.

"Anna and Elise might come to visit." Said Elena. "Also, I saw your new videos, you got tons of view so fast... What is the place you're exploring? Everyone's asking about it."

"Ah, it is a secret place! I cannot reveal it yet." I giggled mysteriously. "I'll tell you once we're done in there. We're doing some really cool and important quests there."

"Eh? Really?! Ugh, I missed on all of that?" Elena looked a bit frustrated. "You've gotta be kidding me..."

"Hahaha, sorry about that..." I sighed. "But well, it is what it is." I shrugged. "For now, I'll go to the gym with Rita, Mark, and Lily, and then we'll probably come back to have some lunch. We can eat with your friends."

"Sure." She nodded. "I didn't knew Mark and Lily went to the gym though."

"They'll start going from now on, I invited them." I said.

Also they learned they need to do a lot of exercise every day to strengthen and maintain their new physiques, so they were forced to join my gym schedule. Rita was being really lazy and had stopped going to the gym all the time, but now she has no other option.

Once I was done having breakfast, I brushed my teeth and packed everything for the gym, quickly departing, I gave my daughter a big kiss on her cheek and left Blackie to watch over her. through our familiar and master connection, he'll tell me through telepathy if something happens.

Well, he can't talk even through telepathy, but depending in the tone of his meows, I can guess if something urgent is happening or not.

"Have fun." My daughter said, waving her hand.

"I'll be back for lunch!" I said, quickly making my way to the gym.

In there, I quickly meet Mark, Rita, Lily, and... Rose?!

"Rose?! Why are you... here?" I wondered.

"Huh? Why are you acting so surprised?" She raised an eyebrow. "I told you I lived in this city for now. I heard from Rita you were going to the gym together, so let me join!"

Chapter 574: A Day In The Gym

I was honestly a bit surprised Rose appeared out of nowhere, but we've been meeting her almost every day this week, so it was quite rude of me. But I never thought she would just come to the gym, seeing she's a super powered Dhampir and all...

But maybe this is a nice opportunity so we can talk about other topics too, like what's going on at SWORD, the gate problem in New York, and more.

"A-Ah, sorry about that, I was a bit surprised, but I shouldn't had said that..." I sighed, apologizing to her.

"Nah, it's alright, I guess its normal you would be a bit surprised." Rose sighed. "Despite being what I am, I've also started going to the gym. Being a Dhampir doesn't exactly mean my muscles will stay the same forever, exercising is necessary to keep up this good figure of mine."

"I see..." I nodded. "You couldn't bring the other two guys?"

"Albert and Josuke? Nah, they're on their own things." Rose shrugged. "Maybe I could try to convince them eventually. But anyways, let's get inside already!"

Once we were all together, we walked inside the gym and quickly started doing some warmups before going to the heavy stuff. Some of my usual friends in the gym felt slightly intimidated when I brought so many friends at once.

But still, due to their friendliness, they got along just fine. Rose was surprisingly good at... everything, and her small build made it even more impressive, so everyone was flocking around her.

"Woah, she looks so young! Is she really lifting 500kg?!"

"Insane, she's like 17..."

"She has the same age as my nephew, I bet."

"Hey! I'm not a kid!" Rose angrily said. "I may look young and small but I'm over 30!" Rose said angrily. Of course, she didn't revealed her true age.

"O-Oh, my bad..."

"You look so young though!"

"Do you have a boyfriend?"

"H-Huh? Thanks, and no I don't have a boyfriend..." Rose blushed a bit. "Why are you asking me that?!"

She wasn't really good at interacting with so many people, so I came to her rescue and did exercises at her side so the vultures would leave her alone.

Of course, they wouldn't give up so easily. With so many young men in the gym, it was obvious Rita and Lily would quickly get swarmed by them as well, especially when we were taking a break.

"You were pretty good in the bicycle, Rita! Do you have some free time after the gym?"

"We were thinking on going to some bar after this."

"Would be nice if you joined."

"Ufufu, is that so~?" Rita giggled. "Maybe I could go and get some free drinks out of you boys~"

"Rita you're married!" I said.

"Geh..." I completely broke Rita's illusion, as the boys were quickly surprised with the news.

Rose wasn't particularly interested in boys either, but Lily was. She didn't had any partner, in fact she once told me she hasn't even lost her virginity, as she never had a boyfriend before.

So she was particularly happy when many young men flocked around her. After the physique she acquired, she looked even more gorgeous, so they naturally thought she was much younger than... well, over 50.

"Hey Lily, look how much I can lift!"

"Hehehe... Wow, you're so strong!" She said while giggling.

"Your movements were a bit clunky but we can help you out improve."

"I would gladly learn from you!" She smiled.

"Will you become a regular around here?"

"And yes, I will be coming almost everyday boys!" Lily looked like she was in heaven. "A-And I'm single by the way!"

Rita was getting jealous of her now.

"Grrhhh... How come she gets all the boys now? She's an old hag!" She said angrily.

"Are you seriously jealous of her for not being married?" I facepalmed.

"Hahaha, I'm glad for her if she's happy with that." Mark sighed, drinking some water.

Like that, the minutes continued as we spent a nice time together as a big group of friends. With everyone here, we were motivated to work harder than ever.

"Anyways, we've recently received some reports about those materials that we got from the gate." Said Rose while we exercised, the noise of our surroundings making it easy for our conversation to not be overheard.

"Is that so?" I wondered. "What did you found out?"

"That big skeleton hand was a really valuable material. It was a bit greedy of the boss to take it away when it clearly belonged to you guys, because you ended helping us escape from that giant skeleton..." Rose sighed.

"Oh, ahaha, it doesn't really matter." I shrugged. "What did you found from that?"

"Well, it is a really resistant material, imbued with tons of Mana and what we call Nether." Said Rose. "Some new weapons and armor had begun production using that big skeleton's fingers, they're specifically designed for me and the two boys that accompany me around. Josuke needs armor that doesn't burn away with his fire, and Albert is similar with his demon flames and powers. And the bones are pretty compatible with my own magic."

"Oh, that's amazing." I nodded. "Though, I wonder how the whole hunter thing is going on?"

"We've gathered a few already, they're strong and willing to fight, but the government is still setting things up... It has only been a month since the awakening after all." Sighed Rose. "But the entire world has begun mobilizing all around over it. Its going to get even more complicated from now on... Other countries have already set up their own Hunter Guilds."

"Interesting..." I said.

"Phew, we've been here almost three hours. Should we go back home?" Mark said.

"Yeah! Let's everyone go to my house, let's cook something to eat together. My daughter invited Anna and Elise too." I nodded.

"Sounds like a plan then!" Rita nodded happily.

"Should we pass into a market to get some ingredients then?" Mark wondered.

"Alright, sure!" I nodded.

Ding! Ding! Ding!

Suddenly, I looked into my phone, as a notification over the magic items I was selling popped up...

[Your auctioned items have been sold to the highest bidders.]

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 575: Elayne Is A Millionaire?

[Your auctioned items have been sold to the highest bidders.]

[Big Sized Magic Crystal], [Mana Recovery Potion], [Mana Imbued Weapons] have been sold to the highest bidders.]

[The purchase and transaction has been done automatically. 8.565.000 C$ has been a deposited into your bank account.]

"PFFFF...!"

While I was checking my phone and drinking water, I ended puffing all the water out of my mouth into the floor, my face filled with shock.

What in the world?! I just earned eight million Canadian dollars just like that?!

That's like... almost seven million USD! I can't believe I could get this rich! And I only sold very few and normal looking materials.

I can get those Mana Potions in the Nexus Player Market, or just make them myself through alchemy in BNLO super easily...

The magic crystals are from just common monsters, and the mana imbued weapons are the cheapest ones that players at like... Level 30 use.

"W-What happened?!" Mark asked in surprise.

"I-I-I... I'm rich..." I muttered, sighing.

"Rich?" Mark wondered.

"W-Well..." I sighed.

As we made our way to the market and then began purchasing grocery, I explained what happened. All the items I put into auction, without expecting much, sold for millions of dollars. They were naturally shocked at these news.

"S-So that's what happened..." Mark was perplexed. "Maybe I should also begin selling items. I think I could probably do something..." He even started reconsidering what we talked before.

"I would gladly help you sell them dear." I smiled. "Let's make a business together!"

"E-Elayne..." Mark got all embarrassed, blushing a bit. "I-I really don't deserve you..." He hugged me tightly.

"I'll sell my own products made with my own hands though." He nodded. "So don't worry, I don't want to leech out of your stuff." He smiled with honesty.

"Dummy, I wouldn't mind if you wanted to make things with me together either." I sighed. "But well, do as you want." I nodded.

"Looks like it is a decent enough capital." Rose smiled carefreely. "Though that's pocket change for me."

"H-How rich are you?" I asked.

"It could be said every strong enough supernatural agent is at least a secret billionaire." Said Rose.

"Though we mostly spent over half our capital on new equipment all the time, because it is easy to break when we fight super powered monsters and magicians."

"E-Eh? B-Billionaire?!" Rita asked. "T-This is not fair... I also will craft my stuff!" Rita got a bit angry.

"We can talk more once we are all four of us together." Lily smiled. "I wonder if I could make potions out of my magic plants... I do have the knack for magic after all."

"Do you somehow know Alchemy?" Rose wondered. "You guys are filled with talent!"

"Ahahaha... More or less." I said. "I would prefer to keep this info top secret for now."

"Well, it's fine." Rose shrugged. "You've done so many good deeds already that I would feel bad if I interrogated you around, and we're friends now, right? I also have so many secrets that I would prefer to never tell anybody about."

"W-What should I craft myself?" Rita wondered. "Uaagh! I have no talent for this stuff! I need to get rich quick too!"

"Heheh." Lily giggled at Rita's struggles.

"Why are you laughing?!" Rita cried in frustration.

It seemed everyone was thinking about crafting something so they could sell it. I mean, she doesn't really need to... If she wanted she could just give me the stuff she has in her Inventory, and I'll sell it. There's also a share of her dropped items I have in my Inventory from monsters we've hunted in Earth, and so on.

But I guess we'll discuss this once Rose is not here. She decided to depart once we were done buying groceries, even though I insisted she could come to eat with us.

"Sorry, sorry, I've gotta go. Albert called me." Rose said with a smile. "He said he wanted to go eat out with me, so I'll go with that plan for now."

"Huh, I see..." I nodded, smiling a bit. "Do you happen to like Albert? I remember you were really close back then..."

"E-Eh?" Rose suddenly blushed a bit. "W-Why would I like that young man? I am too old for romance! Also he has a demon inside, that's... disgusting." She was trying her hardest to look like she didn't.

"Wow so even vampire ladies fall in love with mere mortals, that's so romantic." Lily smiled.

"I-I said I am not in love...!" Rose pouted a bit. "Anyways, see ya!" She quickly disappeared in an alleyway, traveling across shadows with her magic.

I quickly sent her a few messages.

<Friend: Rose (SWORD Agent, colleagues only)>

[Elayne]: [Best of luck in your date with Albert! If you have any questions just ask me. I am a bit experienced with young men thanks to Mark, also Rita can help!]

[Rose]: [It is not a date! It is just a normal meeting between coworkers!!!]

[Elayne]: [You can do it! :D]

[Rose]: [Shut up!]

She was really shy about it, but I knew that she was into him. I remember how she caressed him and how she hugged him, and even how he let his unconscious head rest over her thighs. That enamored smile and those bright red eyes as she glanced at Albert when he was safe and sound... It is quite clear.

But I guess, due to her age, she's trying to deny it... It's natural, I suppose. She has lived for so long that she knows she'll outlive any of her friends, even Albert. She doesn't want to make such an important relationship that'll eventually end tragically.

However, I believe she should enjoy the present instead of worrying about a sad future! So I'll keep helping her if she asks me eventually.

Once we were done shopping, we arrived at home. My daughter was with Anna and Elisa there, they were a bit surprised when they saw us though.

We started cooking something for everyone right away. There was now a lot of mouths to feed, so we had to prepare a lot.

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 576: Alone With Mark 1 (R18)

Once we arrived back home, my daughter and her friends swiftly went to her room and logged into BNLO, those girls are too addicted to that game, I swear! But well, that helps on making things easier for us, so we can talk without any issues about anything we wanted.

"I had already talked about this before but you guys were too prideful. I told you to just hand me over your items inside your inventories, anything you want to sell, and I'll bring it out through my Inventory in here." I sighed. "I suggested this beforehand!"

"Yeah, but it makes me feel bad, like I am taking advantage of you..." Mark sighed.

"Ugh, well, I have to admit it that I don't like leeching off you." Rita said.

"Hmmm... Then how about you ask for some sort of fee?" Lily wondered. "That way, you won't feel so guilty, and Elayne will earn even more money for her services!"

"Eh? That's... I guess it works." Rita said.

"Sure! How about a certain % of the money we make selling the items?" Mark wondered. "I would give you... alright, how about fifty percent?"

"T-That's too much dear!" I sighed. "You're being way too generous now!" I facepalmed.

"E-Eh? But... Well, how much then?" Mark wondered.

"Fifty is insane, we won't make any money like that!" Rita said. "Alright... one percent." She smiled.

"That's too little!" Mark said. "Rita I knew you were a bit greedy, but Elayne's your friend, don't be stingy!"

"Ugh, then how much?!" Rita angrily said.

"I think... maybe five percent is fine?" I wondered. "No more than that."

"Five percent... is too little." Sighed Mark.

"It's fine by me!" Rita nodded.

"I'm okay with anything myself~" Lily smiled carefreely.

"Alright, then just five percent. I don't want to ask you for more money out of something I intended to do for free, ugh." I sighed. "Though making our own products would be interesting. Any ideas? We could make our own business."

"Potions using Lily's plants." Mark said. "Maybe bombs made with Acorn's help? Bombs could be really useful against powerful monsters, and anybody can use them."

"Yeah but I wouldn't want them to be used to blow a city up or something." I sighed.

"Right... Maybe we should just sell basic weapons like knives, maybe shields, armor? Magic Rings do sell well." Mark wondered.

"Yeah, I was thinking the same. Rings that can be easily mass produced with everybody's help. Like we could use our avatar's bark, Mark. And Rita's shadow enchantment to give them a black color and resistance to magic damage. And maybe use Lily's earth spirits too." I wondered. "Like... a product we can only make by combining our strengths."

"Sounds interesting!" Lily said. "We could get to do that later then. I'm all in for it!"

"Me too, I guess." Rita nodded. "Anyways, let's just cook."

We ended preparing a big feast. I prepared seafood paella, while Mark prepared some delicious salmon with olive oil and fine seasonings. Rita and Lily prepared the salad, which ended being big and fresh, with many veggies harvested from my own garden.

"Oooh! Such a feast this is! And so colorful!" Elisa was excited once she sat down around the table.

"Hmmm, this is delicious! Ahh, been a while since I ate miss Elayne's paella!" Said Anna.

"Hmmm, the salmon goes well with the rice..." Elena said.

"I'm glad you're enjoying it; I prepared that one myself." Mark said with a carefree smile.

"The salad's crunchy and fresh too, so refreshing! The cherry tomatoes you planted ended being really good, Elena!" I said happily.

"Oh, these are the ones I planted? Ohh..." Elena quickly got a bit happier. "They're really fresh and juicy, and sweet..."

As we had a peaceful and heartwarming lunch, I relaxed and smiled. Although there were also many worrying things in the back of my mind, I wanted to make sure to enjoy these small, joyful moments as much as I could.

"Phew, that was really good. Oh well, I'm going back home by now. I bet my husband wants lunch too!" Rita giggled. "See you tomorrow!"

"I'm going as well. I'll harvest some of the plants I have and show them to you later, Elayne, so we can figure out what we can do with them." Lily said. "Have a nice evening!"

"Alright, see ya!" I waved my hand.

Mark stayed behind, as I told him that he could stay at my home as much as he wanted, so he stayed happily. As my daughter and her friends decided to go spend the night at Elisa's house, we were left alone.

Alone... Yes.

It didn't took too long for us to be cuddling in my bed while kissing a lot.

"Hmm~ Ah, Mark..." He embraced me with his big arms and started kissing my neck passionately.

"You don't know how I couldn't take my eyes off you when we were in the gym..." He said while smelling my hair. "You were so hot..."

"Geez, you're making me embarrassed~" I giggled. "You were also really hot. I loved seeing you exercise those big biceps you've got..."

"I-Is that so?" Mark quickly got embarrassed, blushing a bit.

"Yes... Let met touch you a bit." I smiled coquettishly, slowly lifting up his shirt.

Ahh, he was really well built, my gosh.

"Mooch~"

I started gently kissing his stomach, and then slowly going up to his chest, and nipples. He smelled so good as well, I couldn't really resist kissing him.

"A-Ah~ T-This is..." Mark was clearly enjoying it, blushing and moaning adorably.

I loved how cute he was... It felt like he was mine and only mine now...

"Do you like me playing with your nipples?" I asked with a smile, giving them kisses.

"I-It does feels good but..." He blushed. "It makes me feel a bit... well, odd."

"Come on, you'll learn to love it." I smiled, beginning to lick them and play with them.

I could feel his dick slowly rising below his pants, it was rock hard.

Chapter 577: Alone With Mark 2 (R18)

It has only been a week since we started our relationship and we were already in bed doing some hot foreplay... I think we couldn't really contain ourselves. We were two grown adults, it was only naturel it would lead to this, even more as we were now alone...

"Hahhh... Y-You're too good at this..." Mark moaned while breathing heavily. His face blushing and looking so adorable, I quickly started kissing him.

At the same time, I lowered my hands and grasped at something really hard down there. It was the first time I was doing such a thing in so many years... deep down, as a woman, I really wanted it.

"This is so hard, my love... Are you that aroused?" I asked with a giggle.

"I-I never thought you would be so teasing in bed..." Mark said with enamored eyes.

"You dislike it? I-I can..." I muttered.

"I really love it..." He smiled. "I want to be yours..."

"Aww..." I couldn't help but feel more in love with him.

He quickly started grasping my breasts with his big hands as we kissed, slowly, he started to get the hang of it, and his embarrassment slowly started to dissipate.

"Hmm~ You want to see them?" I asked with a giggle. "Do you~?"

"P-Please?" He asked with puppy eyes.

"Of course dear~" I smiled, quickly lifting up my sweater and taking out my bra.

Mark glanced at my big, bouncy breasts with eyes wide open, honestly, he was staring a bit too much!

I felt really embarrassed! Giving myself to another man is... Ahh, I haven't experienced this in a while!

Although I really wanted it, I couldn't help but feel humbled by the thought of shamelessly sharing each other's naked bodies...

"I-Is there something wrong?" I wondered, feeling a bit embarrassed.

"O-Oh, no... I was just... surprised. They're so beautiful." He said.

He was really a virgin, maybe this is the first time he see a pair of naked breasts in front of his face like this...

But this makes it even more exciting, and cute.

"Come on dear, don't be shy. You can do whatever you want with mine... Grab them~ Touch them~ Maybe even lick them~?" I giggled.

"A-Ahh..." Mark blushed, gently grasping my breasts.

He touched my nipples, making me feel the pleasure like an electrifying feeling coursing through my entire body. My desire to be taken by him grew more and more...

It made my body even hotter. I couldn't help but bite my lips tightly as I my body started sweating rapidly...

"They're so soft..." He sighed, slowly beginning to lick one of them, while tightly grasping the other.

"Hmmm~"

"Oooh~ M-Mark!" I couldn't help but moan his name.

He continued licking them. His warm, soft, and slimy tongue were destroying my breasts as he voraciously made them his.

"I always wanted to do this... Hahhh... This is so hot..."

He continued kissing them, licking them, as we exchanged hot tongue kisses together. Our bare chests rubbing against one another, it was the hottest thing ever...

As he passionately kissed and embraced me, I slowly moved my hands into his beautiful ass cheeks, grasping them tightly.

Ahh~ They were so strong and firm, I loved them.

Ugh, I'm such a perv deep down! I can't believe it...

Well, I might as well.

"E-Elayne...?!" Mark got surprised, blushing a bit more.

"Let's see what's down here as well, alright? We can't just spend the entire day we've got to just do foreplay..." I smiled, quickly helping him on taking out his pants and socks, the only thing left was his tight, sweaty boxers wrapping his rock-hard rod.

"Ahh, here it is~ It has gotten so big." I giggled playfully, caressing his dick below the sweaty boxer.

The manly smell was drawing me in, I wanted to see it.

I couldn't help myself...!

"Hahhh... Y-You want to see it?" He wondered, blushing.

"Yes, let me see it~ Slowly, let me see this big one." I said, as I gently dragged his boxers down.

And there it was, so big, and sweaty, and warm...

I couldn't help but gasp a bit, covering my mouth in surprise.

The shadow of his dick over my face.

"It is so big..." I gasped.

"I-Is it? Is it fine?" He wondered shyly.

"Of course it is, honey." I smiled, gently grasping it, as he threw away his boxers. "Hah~ So warm."

"O-Oooh~ W-Wait- Ahh~!" Mark started moaning as I began to give him a quick hand job.

I was merely trying out the goods for the first time. I wanted to see the firmness, the warmth, the smell, and his adorable moans. All of these things combined made for a delightful experience.

I felt I was in charge, he was mine...

"Do you like it?" I asked him, as he sat down in the bed, moaning while I stroke his big cock.

"I-I love it... Ooh, your hands are so soft..." He moaned. "Elayne... I love you...!"

Ah... And there he is, saying such cute things in the middle of nowhere!

"Geez, if you say things like those, I can't help it anymore, my love~" I giggled, quickly approaching my warm mouth towards the tip of his rod.

My tongue slowly touched it, the salty flavor filled my tastebuds. But that alone wouldn't do, I couldn't help but as I ended kissing it and sucking it off right away.

"Hahh~ F-Fuck!" Mark moaned, as I started sucking his delicious thing right away.

I couldn't help it! It was so good! I wanted to continue forever, licking it, as its warmth spread all over my mouth, the manly, sweaty smell was making me get so hard myself.

"Y-You're too good at this!" He moaned. "S-Shit... Ahhh...! So good... you're so warm... your tongue-Ahh~!"

I began grasping his balls gently, massaging them while sucking him off deliciously.

After just a few minutes of sucking it, he couldn't help it anymore.

"E-Elayne, I'm- Ahhh~!"

Mark ended cumming all inside of my mouth. But that was within my plans, as I happily received his young stud seed, and sucked it off and swallowed it all...

"F-Fuck..." Mark sighed in exhaustion. "T-That was so good... He grasped my ass tightly."

"Wanna go for something even better~? Yours still firm after a shoot." I giggled.

"Something... even better?" He asked innocently, quickly realizing what I meant. "S-Sure!"

Chapter 578: Alone With Mark 3 (R18)

Mark gently started helping me take out my clothes, shirt, sweater, jeans, and lastly my white panties were off. He glanced at my naked body with eyes wide open, as if admiring me like a piece of art...

"You're so beautiful... I can't believe it..." He was so surprised.

"A-Aren't you exaggerating a bit?" I sighed, feeling embarrassed.

"No..." Mark gently lowered his head, as he tightly grasped my thighs, and kissed my legs. "You're so perfect... you're everything I could had ever dreamed of and more... Elayne... Elayne!"

Passionately, he shouted my name as he kissed my legs and then my feet. Slowly, I opened my legs and let him see my pussy, which was already hot and sweaty, I was really aroused at this point.

"Here, do you want to give it a taste too?" I smiled. "It is all yours. Come and taste your girlfriend's pussy, my love~"

"If I may..." Mark said, gently beginning to kiss around it, not minding the slightly hairy appearance.

"Is it not annoying that there's hair in there?" I wondered.

"No... not at all. It is beautiful, you're beautiful..." He said, kissing everything, and accepting me for who I was.

His warm tongue quickly started licking in there, tasting my insides. Slowly, he got faster, making me moan. The sensation felt much better than any time I pleased myself with just my fingers.

"Oooh~ Mark! Faster... Please, lick it faster! Ahh~"

"Hmmm~"

Mark continued devouring my pussy, passionately kissing it with his lips and tongue, and not letting it go. I felt the pleasure hitting all my sensitive spots, his tongue playing around with my urethra sometimes made me jump off the bed in pleasure.

I couldn't help it anymore, I was cumming, my juices were coming out, and Mark just received the happily, the same way I drank all of his cum.

"Ooh~ F-Fuck! I'm cumming...! Ahh~"

I felt like I was floating in the clouds. A relaxation hit my entire body. It was like I became a feather, and I was gently falling from the skies.

"Hahhh~ That was so good..." I sighed in relief, feeling slightly sleepy.

"It was..." Mark smiled, quickly moving his face towards mine, as we kissed passionately.

His hard dick slowly rubbing against the tip of my pussy. It was really clear he wanted to put it in... And I offered such a deal, so I had to go to the end with it.

"You want to go in?" I giggled. "Do you want me to take your virginity? A-Are you sure?"

"Of course I am!" Mark said. "S-Stop asking me if I am sure or not... I don't mind if you are not virgin or whatever... I love you for who you are, Elayne... So please...!"

"Hehehe, you're so lovely." I smiled, giving him another kiss on his lips. "Of course you can do it... Come on, gently, put it in~"

"Hahhh..." Mark began gasping for air, slowly and gently rubbing his hard, hot cock inside of my pussy. Thanks to his help before, it was really loosened now.

But the sensations of his hard dick getting inside, slowly sliding across my pussy was so good, and slightly painful. The combination of pleasure and pain was almost wonderful, a sensation I haven't felt in so long...

"Ahh~ Ahhhh~ O-Oh my god! It is so big~! S-Shit- Ahhh~!" I couldn't help but moan in pleasure and pain together.

"I-it hurts?" He asked. "I'll pull back-"

"No! Keep going... Fuck me!" I cried, hugging him and pushing him down, kissing him. "Fuck me hard...! I want you to embrace me... To love me..."

I didn't realized, but tears started coming out of my eyes.

"I will..." Mark smiled, gently beginning to push up and down.

Plap! Plap! Plap! Plap!

The sound of our sweaty skin hitting one another quickly spread across the entire room, as my moans couldn't stop.

The electrifying sensations I felt before were nothing compared to the intense lightnings of pleasure coursing through my entire body.

Electrocuting me with more and more pleasure and love for this young stud.

"O-Ooohh! T-This is so good!" Mark moaned, his tongue quickly started licking my breasts.

"Yes! It is... It is so good!" I screamed, moaning more and more.

I quickly wrapped my legs around his torso, locking them as he started fucking me harder. His mating press was better than I thought for a virgin.

He was sloppy at first, but he learned really fast! He was such a good boy!

The sensation of him taking me over, of him embracing me, of him making me his!

It as so good! I wanted him to embrace me more... to love me more!

Plap! Plap! Plap! Plap!

Our bodies were sweating constantly, our body heat being shared between one another, as we kissed so deliciously and passionately. I felt like I was being eaten by him, that I was being ravaged!

"Ahhh~! Elayne, this is way too good!" He continued moaning.

"Keep it going dear... More, deeper! Right there!" I moaned, embracing him.

"I-I'm at my limits already...!" Mark gritted his teeth. "D-Do I pull it out?"

"No, it doesn't really matter at this point~!" I cried. "Just cum inside, do it!"

"Elayne!"

"Mark!"

We couldn't help ourselves, as we kissed once more while Mark's dick quickly pushed to my deepest spot, his cum filling my insides with its warmth, gooey waves.

My entire being became his now... I was completely taken by this young man I feel so much in love with.

I've given him everything...

"Hahhh... Hahh..." Mark moaned, slowly pulling out his big cock, as a fountain of cum came out of my pussy, almost endlessly.

"Y-You had so much backed up, dear..." I sighed in relief. "It was so good... Hahh..."

"Yeah... I can't believe it..." He sighed in relief. "I love you so much, Elayne..."

Slowly, as we cuddled in bed, Mark's thingy became big again.

"Oh? Does it wants to go once more?" I giggled. "Well, we've got the entire evening anyways~"

"T-Then!" Mark quickly agreed.

Like that, we ended mating like rabbits for like four hours non-stop...

Chapter 579: Aftermath

"Hahh... I never thought I would lose my virginity with the woman I've always loved..." Mark sighed with a cute smile, cuddling with me in bed.

"Always?" I wondered, feeling a bit embarrassed.

"Well, you started working with us like five years ago, right? All those years, I always had eyes for only you..." Mark smiled. "Since the moment I saw you, I was just... captivated. You stole my heart."

"T-That fast?! Geez, it makes me feel like it was love at first sight..." I felt a bit worried with myself.

"Hahaha, well, maybe. But it wasn't so fast... It took... maybe three months? You were already winning me over with looks alone, yet your gentle nature and caring personality completely conquered me." Mark said proudly. "There aren't many girls as gentle and nice as you."

I feel like he had a bit of a bad experience with girls when he was younger... Poor thing.

"Did you not fell for another girl or something?" I wondered. "A-Ah, maybe this is weird to ask after sex?"

"Nah, it doesn't really matter." Mark shrugged. "I... well, there was a girl... Someone my parents wanted me to marry with. My childhood friend, Elizabeth."

"M-Marry with her?!" I panicked.

Wait, Mark has that kind of family?! Not even Elisa's family has forced her to marry someone in the future though! Is he secretly rich?

"It is an old tradition from my family... Err, well, how do I say this? My father's an Amish." Sighed Mark, feeling cringe.

"A-Amish?!" I was left speechless.

"My mother isn't. They got along quite well until... well, they couldn't anymore. They divorced later, and because I got along with my Amish family for a while in my childhood, he tried to pair me up with Elizabeth, who was also from the same background... Ugh, it is really weird, right? Sorry..." Mark sighed.

"N-No, it's fine, it is just really surprising!" I was shocked. "But well, you don't have anything to do with them anymore, so don't worry. You're an adult, so they can't dictate what you must do or not... Though, what has it been of Elizabeth lately?"

"She also stopped involving herself with her family once she became an adult but keeps contact with me. She sends me messages almost daily- Guh?!" Mark quickly realized I began exuding a rather malign aura.

"I see..." I nodded. "I hope she's... well behaved." I smiled.

"T-There's nothing between the two of us! Don't worry..." He sighed.

"Of course, I trust you dear." I smiled. "Though, I wish I could have learned from her earlier..."

"I'm sorry..." Mark sighed. "She's not really that important to me anymore, we've not met in person in years too, so I kind of don't care. I just text her back a "hi" or "how are you?" and nothing much. H-Here, look!" He gave me his own phone and began moving his finger as he allowed me to read through all messages!

Wow, he was really being honest! He hadn't flirted with her at all. In fact, she was the annoying one, constantly insisting to ask him where he was living and where he was working... Is that girl really still going for him? Geez...

"I can block her if you want-"

"Eh?! No! Don't go that far..." I sighed. "Calm down. It's alright. I don't really mind her anyways. I know you're being honest. Though, I never thought you were really a virgin... You never had a girlfriend that wanted to... do it with you?"

"I... never had one to begin with..." He sighed. "I was quite unpopular at school... Nobody ever gave a damn about me... It was only when I met you that for the first time I was given attention."

"E-Eh? So awful... Did you go to a dangerous school?" I wondered, feeling too surprised.

"A-Ahahaha, nothing like that, it was a rather fine school, I wasn't bullied or anything." Mark smiled. "Anyways, let's take a bath together to unwind. Wanna order food later?"

"Sure!" I nodded.

After taking a warm bath together, we calmed down a bit and had a nice and relaxing dinner. Mark decided to order food because he didn't want us to cook, we ended ordering Chinese food, and it was pretty tasty.

We felt really exhausted after doing all of that lovey-dovey stuff, so we decided to just rest over the bed and log-in to BNLO, rather late, but we made it.

Once we reappeared where we were left before, we walked across the Dwarven City and reached the Alchemist's Atelier, where Acorn and Nieve were, Rita, Jenny, and Lily were there too, drinking tea and having sweet snacks while waiting for us.

"Ah! Finally, you guys are back!" Rita sighed. "Why are you so damn late?!"

"Without you we can't possibly hope to defeat the dragons..." Lily sighed.

"Were you doing boyfriend and girlfriend stuff?" Jenny asked teasingly.

Naturally, we felt embarrassed the moment she said that, and Rita quickly assumed what happened with almost 100% accuracy.

"N-No way! You actually did it?! That explains why you took so long to log-in back!" Rita was amazed.

"Nice! You finally got laid Elayne! How was it? Was he good at it?"

"R-Rita don't ask such embarrassing things, geez!" I covered my face in embarrassment.

"Oh my, that must have been lovely, you two love each other very much." Lily smiled. "I had just a small date with a young man from the gym just now, he was really nice as well! I feel refreshed after doing it."

"E-Eh?! You also did it, Lily?!" Rita was surprised. "Not fair! You've got so many hot young studs to go to bed with! And I'm stuck with my husband..."

"Rita, you shouldn't be saying things like that..." I sighed. "And Lily, I'm happy for you too."

"Hehehe, tomorrow I'll be meeting another one~" Lily smiled carefreely and cutely, despite implying she'll be having sex with different men almost every day... Well, her life is hers, and I'm happy she's catching up with it.

"What are they even talking about?" Acorn was completely confused.

"I-It is better to not... elaborate for now." Nieve was blushing a bit.

Chapter 580: Exploring The Red Dragons Territory

Ding!

[The power of the [Yggdryad's Divine Spiritual Presence] Skill has been automatically activated!]

[By consuming 100 MP per second, your very Divine Spiritual Presence changes your surroundings.]

[Dozens of Tiles are transforming into [Spiritual Forest Tiles]!]

[The Effects of several other Skills have activated automatically; you and your allies have received several types of buffs to your Stats and HP and MP Regeneration Speed.]

Ding!

[You have activated the [Spiritual Sacred Sanctuary] Skill!]

[A protective sanctuary made out of your own Mana and Spiritual Energy is protecting you and your friends from all damage.]

[However, MP and Spiritual Energy are being constantly consumed...]

My steps covered my surroundings as the burning and dry rocks surrounding us were quickly covered on fresh soil, grass and flowers growing out of it in mere instants. At the same time, a mystical, spiritual barrier formed surrounding our group.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOOM!

Gigantic fireballs constantly bombarded my Spiritual Sacred Sanctuary barrier seconds after we arrived at our next destination, the burning Lava Pits within the Dragon Nest, where the Lesser Fire Dragons and their Queen resided.

Their fireballs were really strong, being so potent they could easily one-shot most Level 90 to 100 Players if they took the this directly. Thankfully, there were my barriers to help everyone. Rita and Mark also had their own innate spirit barriers, Lily too, but they preferred to be protected by my own, while fighting using all of their might on offense.

While I took care of defense, healing, and support, they charged into the frontlines without hesitating, quickly beginning to slash and pummel the Lesser Fire Dragons, most of the beasts being over five meters tall, resembling huge, wingless wyverns.

"RAAAAARRR!"

The Lesser Fire Dragons congregated themselves on large, separated groups of a dozen each, making three total groups, together they made over thirty of these beasts!

"It seems they are quite intelligent." Mark noticed. "The group in the backline only dedicates themselves to attack at long-ranged distance, while the one on the front attacks mostly physically and provokes us to attack."

"And the midline seems to be both at the same time? Distance attacking and sometimes mixing into the frontlines." I noticed as well. "Well, the best way to break through their defenses is by flying. They can't fly after all! Nieve, do you think you can disperse their group with magic?"

Nieve was currently with everyone else fighting in the frontlines, intercepting blows, and slashing at the powerful Lesser Dragons. Her ice magic was effective against dragons, but these fire dragons had really strong blazing auras, most of her ice was melted before it could hit them.

Because of that, she was limited only to fight within my Terrain and Territory, as it was the only areas where she wouldn't lose too much power, because my Terrain was able to overwrite the heat of this area's terrain.

"I think I can, as long as I transform!" She nodded. "So, Lady Planta...!"

"Sure! Go on then!" I nodded with a smile, as I conjured several spirits around us, imbuing their powers into my allies through Spirit Infusion, this included the Fairy Spirits I could now summon.

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Dozens of Frost Fairy Spirits, unique to be summoned when Nieve is within my range, merged into her body, and quickly awakened her powers once more.

Ding!

[By merging with her own Spiritual Projection summoned through your Spirit Magic, [NPC: Nieve] has undergone a special transformation!]

[NPC: Nieve] has met the requirements and has been temporarily granted the power of the [Frost Fairy Princess] Title!]

[All of her Stats have increased by +100%, and her Ice Magic and Rapier Skills Attack Power and Conjunction Speed have increased by an additional +250% for 10 Minutes.]

FLAAAASH!

This was the form she would attain through fusing with her Spiritual Projection, something I was able to summon thanks to Titania's Blessing Skill and Spirit Magic, alongside her came an army of Frost Fairy Spirits, [Winter Knights] and [Winter Witches].

By combining their strength together with her, her magic grew even stronger. Imbuing Mana into her Magic Rapier, and then Spiritual Energy, her rapier suddenly grew to a tremendous size, more or less resembling a gigantic spear made of ice! And of course, her appearance became beautiful, even more regal, as she gained a dress of frost and a big and beautiful ice crown.

"The more I use this power, the more I get the hang of it!" Nieve roared, she quickly started gathering large quantities of Mana into her rapier, alongside the might of the Frost Fairy Spirits. "Now... [Ice Rapier Arts]: [Frozen Rose Garden]!"

FLAAASH!

Suddenly, a pseudo domain emerged around Nieve as everything surrounding the frontline group of Lesser Fire Dragons was covered on ice, and then, Nieve emerged with countless clones of herself made of Ice Essence, flashing through the entire beast, and slashing at its entire body consecutively! Her majestic movements and precise strikes made for a show by itself!

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH!

Alongside the large and deep wounds over the dragons' bodies, large icicle spears, the surrounding ice flowers making the illusion of a garden made of ice started glowing, exploding with great intensity one after another, freezing body parts of the beasts!

BOOM! BOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"Gryyyaaargh!"

"Shaaaahh!"

"Gryyeeegh?!"

The Lesser Red Dragons were quickly weakened. Five of them dying after Nieve went completely all-out, leaving a group of weakened ones that everyone else quickly took care of. Mark's blazing berserk blade I gifted him from a former invader of our territory swiftly cut down several of them into pieces.

Meanwhile Lily crushed them with her gigantic hammer, and Rita alongside Acorn distracted the ones in the back. Jenny supported everyone by weakening all dragons through poison and her swift movements and acid bullets.

Although we managed to pull through the first wave mostly, more Lesser Red Dragons continued joining the fight, emerging from the lava, and furiously hissing at us.

Of course, once I was done setting up enough Terrain Tiles, I quickly decided to step in, and do some catastrophe myself...

"[Water Spirit Call]! [Disastrous Rivers]! [Wrathful Ocean Waves]!"

SPLAAAAAASSH!
