Chapter 751: Time For Another Hidden Dungeon Exploration

(Elayne's POV)

After leaving Elena and Anna go on their date while Morpheus watched over them to protect them, we decided to log-in with Mark rather early after having lunch.

Of course, I had to take another bath because we had a little fun in bed, but aside from that, everything was good!

Once we logged-in, Rita and Lily had yet to log-in themselves, but we found Jenny already logged-in, and also most of Angelina's party too.

We ended having a big meeting on Ambil's forgery, having a talk while we helped him forge new ingots, weapons, and pieces of armor for our sale today.

Adventurers have been coming since the morning, according to Acorn, Nieve, Brisingra, and him have been working nonstop since then, so they felt relieved we arrived!

"Good thing you're finally here, Lady Planta, Titan!" Acorn celebrated. "We can... finally take a break, ugh..."

"Hey, don't you remember my name, fluffy?" Asked Jenny angrily.

"Slime girl?" Acorn wondered.

"I'm JENNY!" Jenny said angrily. "Ugh, but I'll forgive you as long as you let me pat this fat, fluffy belly here! Hehehe...!"

"Uwaah! H-Hey, don't do that! Hahaha...!" Acorn started giggling as Jenny patted his fluffy belly he had exposed as he rested over the couch.

"It is certainly relieving you've arrived. I never imagined that as a Princess, I would be doing this kind of work..." Brisingra laughed a bit lightly.

"Princess?" Ambil asked.

"I-I mean..." I said. "She's... Well, she grew spoiled so her father called her a princess sometimes!"

"I see..." Ambil nodded, rubbing his chin. "Anyways, you three can take a break I guess. Well done. You've been getting better at it too! Acorn has learned how to smelt and create some ingots with his Alchemy, Nieve is getting better at reinforcing and shaping metal with her ice magic, and Brisingra is becoming good in overall everything through natural practice, she has a good talent for Blacksmithing!"

"Amazing! I can see based on your Status; you guys have sure grown stronger." I nodded. "Not only your stats increased because of all the physical labor, but some of you also gained new Skills, well done!"

"To be praised by such a humble work, I don't deserve that..." Nieve bowed to me.

"Hahaha, don't be so exaggerated with it, Nieve. Well done." I giggled, giving her a head pat, which made her blush and smile a bit. "Anyways, let's get to work, Mark, Jenny!"

"Sure!" Mark nodded. "I'm all pumped up! Actually doing this really relaxes my nerves... I need something to distract myself after what happened yesterday."

"Honestly, yeah..." Jenny nodded.

"I can't agree more with that." I sighed.

As we started doing our job and the adventurers occasionally came to buy things, Angelina and her party members enjoyed a tea as they finally addressed something.

"So, we found the Hidden Dungeon you told us about." Angelina said. "It was pretty cool you guys could conquer one right away, but..."

"Well, it's not easy to say this, but we couldn't advance..." Anikitty lamented.

"You couldn't?" I wondered, smelting some ores, and fusing them with my spiritual energy. "But why? You guys are much stronger than us?"

"It wasn't a thing of strength! Well... Maybe." Said Erdrich. "We were unable to advance further because there's a powerful magic barrier, an array actually, made from runes not even Gandalf could solve."

"I'm rather bad at Runic Magic, actually. Quite complicated." Gandalf sighed.

"A barrier like the one we had to destroy yesterday?" Mark asked. "I see, so that was the reason you couldn't advance."

"It felt so easy for us to break in that I thought that could have never been a problem..." Jenny laughed. "I guess Planta's pretty amazing, isn't she?"

"Was there a barrier on the hidden dungeon you explored too?!" Angelina asked in disbelief.

"Wait, you destroyed that barrier?! Not even Angelina's strongest blows could! It was such a strong sealing array..." Gandalf said. "Unless... you deciphered it and broke its runic structure?!"

"Yeah, with the help of my Great Spirit of Harvest and Nature." I explained. "Come out, lazy girl."

POOF!

She appeared in front of them, looking at Gandalf with a very smug-like face, a teasing smile...

"Hehehe, what? Couldn't the big magician do something as simple as deciphering and destroying the runic structure of a flimsy magic array? Planta here could have done it too but I did it myself because I can do it quickly." Laughed the Great Spirit. "You Players are sure foolish to think Skills are all there is to it to this world! Magic Runes is something you should know to manipulate as an Arch Wizard, yet you said you're bad at using Runic Magic? Pathetic! You're not a magician!"

"W-What?!" Gandalf felt completely taken aback, bowing down to her and sighing. "I'm a pathetic man... You're right! I just... am too lazy to learn and memorize Runes! And using Skills is so much easier! I'm so pathetic..."

He gave up incredibly fast, his friends were all looking at him with weirded out faces...

"Hey Gandalf, calm down a bit..." Sighed Erdrich.

"You can always just learn later..." Anikitty laughed a bit nervously, patting the old man's head. "A- Anyways, I guess we'll have to leave that job to you guys. If possible, it would be nice if we went right now to deal with it... The sooner the better, especially because they might find out they were raided before and could escape."

"Right, you're not wrong." I nodded, as there were now almost a dozen ingots at my side, shining brightly with colorful rainbow-like spiritual auras. "Ambil?"

"Sure, go ahead, you've done a fine work here. I'll turn these into shields, armor, and other stuff." He nodded. "Once Achlys and Lily come back, I'll make them work for you, ahahah!"

"Ahahahah... Thank you, I guess they won't be joining us right now." I smiled. "It wouldn't be good if too big of a team goes there though. Jenny, you're staying too."

"Ah, nice. I didn't wanted to go fight more aberrations; I had nightmares already." Jenny sighed in relief.

"I'll come with Titan, and... you guys want to come and see for yourselves what's down there?" I asked my NPC friends.

They immediately agreed, despite being tired.

Chapter 752: Breaking Into Another Hidden Dungeon!

We came with Acorn, Brisingra, Nieve, Gandalf, and Angelina, while leaving Erdrich and Anikitty behind alongside Jenny, so they could help out Ambil do his job and sell his product to the big new amount of customers coming today.

Despite there not being any more discounts, the quality of the products and the rumors of Player Planta making them spread everywhere, and now people from all over were coming to buy our products.

I guess my name is really quite popular, huh? It makes sense, most of my videos have already broke through three million views by now... It wouldn't be out of place to say I'm a BNLO influencer!

Though, that's a bit embarrassing now that I think about it...

"So why did you even come? Angelina would have been enough." Mark said, looking at Gandalf.

"I had to come and see with my own eyes how Planta can manipulate Runes! And of course, the Great Spirit she has tamed." Gandalf said. "What? Can't a man with passion over magic not have some little indulgence for once? Why are you so bothered, Titan?"

"Nothing..." Mark said while keeping silent.

I guess he got slightly jealous, Gandalf has been acting a bit obsessive with me and the spirit since we told him we could manipulate Runes to an extent. That's rather cute of him.

"Don't worry about him, he's just someone obsessed with magic, not me." I laughed. "He's not a creep, right Angelina?"

"Yes, Gandalf is a decent man." Angelina nodded. "He's just a bit weird when it comes to magic things... But that's just his obsession with wizards in general. We've meet IRL sometimes, he's a good guy, really."

"Why are you treating me like I'm some sort of pervert?! I'm just trying to be friendly and learn at the same time! Did I come as too obsessive, Planta?!" Asked Gandalf, trying to get closer to me, but Mark got in the way.

"Keep your distance buddy." Mark said.

"Ugh... Seriously..." Gandalf sighed. "Okay, I apologize..."

"It's fine, it's fine. Let's get along." I smiled. "Anyways, Acorn, can you smell anything?"

"Sniff, sniff..." Acorn's sense of smell was really good. "Yes, I can smell the scent of miasma and nether down there. Over there!"

Without even having to follow the trails left behind by the Spirits, we reached the hidden dungeon's entrance, which was an invisible barrier that brought us to the entrance.

Ding!

[You are the first ones to discover the [Hidden Dungeon: Laboratory Of Madness]!]

[The Hidden Dungeon's depths invite you to step further...]

"We're here then." I said, looking at the message, I closed my eyes. "[Spiritual Senses]"

FLAAASH!

I spread my senses around us, as I tried to sense if there was anything down there we could find. Of course, the Spiritual Sense was a special normal Spell I had created by combining Spiritual Energy and Mana Sense, not within a Skill.

So naturally, Gandalf and Angelina were shocked to see me expand my senses so far with almost zero cost of MP at that.

"What was that Skill?" Asked Angelina in surprise. "You expanded your senses so seamlessly!"

"Was it a normal Spell?! I've heard some Players that have seen magician NPC conjure spells without using Skills, was it that?!" Gandalf asked while steam was coming from his nose.

"Y-Yeah... Can you calm down a bit?" I sighed. "Once you learn Runic Scripture, creating your own Spells based in your existing Skills or knowledge becomes easy. Now... Hm? The place seems awfully silent and empty. Did you slain all monsters?"

"Yeah, if there aren't any more there it means they won't respawn, it must be a unique-instance dungeon then." Angelina analyzed the situation.

"What's that?" Acorn wondered.

"It's when a Dungeon only spawns once with monsters that only appear once. The monsters won't respawn and once you defeat the boss, the dungeon either disappears or stays as an empty ruin." Angelina explained. "It's usually related with Story Quests and are not open to the public!"

"I see, quite interesting." Brisingra wondered. "Well, I really want to stretch my legs and fight something to level up, so let's go!" The Princess of Dwarves was the first one to step into the dungeon, rushing downstairs.

"W-Wait a bit, Brisingra, don't rush it!" I sighed, following her, everyone else quickly came alongside me.

"For an NPC she's sure very lively and with the desire to grow stronger..." Angelina said. "Well, that shouldn't be rare, NPC in this game are very complex, they must be using the latest AI Learning to create such complex artificial minds. You could even say they have souls of their own."

"Y-Yeah... The NPC of this world are people just like us, so never treat them badly." I said. "Make sure to always be nice to them, not only for being interested on what they could give to you, but just as basic human decency."

"We'll keep that in note..." Gandalf nodded.

"I've always treated the people of this virtual world fairly. Though, I've meet other Players that are always overly rude..." Sighed Angelina. "I wish people could be more considered, we're in their world after all."

"You really get it." Nodded Mark.

"I have no idea what you're even talking about..." Acorn scratched his head. "But isn't that the barrier?" He pointed at the distance.

"Oh, we're already at the end of the stairs?" Nieve wondered.

"I guess we ended getting down quickly with all the talk." Angelina smiled, patting the barrier of magic. "So this is the thing... Can you do it?"

POOF!

"Hmmm..." The Great Spirit appeared in front of us. "Yeah, this is literally the same type of barrier that we destroyed back then. Alright... Let's do this and that. Planta, come help me too."

"Sure!" I agreed.

We concentrated our minds, closing our eyes, and imbuing our Mana into the barrier slowly, I saw all the thousands of runes making the barrier, and one by one, I started to grab the runes and move them away.

Eventually, a domino effect occurred, and the entire barrier became incredibly unstable, enough for Angelina's Light Spear to pierce through it and shatter it into pieces!

CLAAASSSHHH!!!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 753: The Abandoned Laboratory

The barrier shattered, and we were greeted with a huge black metallic gate, which I slammed open with a powerful kick after undergoing my [Draconification] transformation. At the same time as I did that, I started spreading my Tiles, Domain, and Terrain, all while Spirits were being summoned and plant life was spreading across the area, and of course, near-invisible spiritual barriers covered all my friends, protecting them.

CRAAASSHH!!

The moment I destroyed the gate with a single kick, something incredible seeing how it was made of a very tough, reinforced metal, we were greeted with huge, abandoned ruins, darkness filling it all. My senses activated again as I felt dozens of powerful lifeforms lurking amidst the darkness.

This laboratory was most likely made within ancient, abandoned ruins below the Luminous Kingdom's Capital, the cult didn't built any of this, they simply decided to occupy it to make their wicked experiments!

"OOOHHHH...!"

"GRAAAHH...!"

"RUOOOAAH!"

And as the large halls started to be illuminated by the light produced by my colorful aura and the spirits being summoned around me, the silhouettes of dozens of gigantic creatures appeared, their eyes glowing bright red, ominously!

Ding!

[Dozens of [Abandoned Chimera Aberrations: Lv180] have detected your presence! The light illuminates their dark world, making them feel overjoyed and hungry.]

"Abandoned Chimera Aberrations?" I wondered. "Level 180... Should be easy enough. Everyone, let's go!"

I quickly charged forward while unsheathing Gram and turning my Gaia's All-Purpose-Tool into a sword, dual wielding with two swords while immediately fusing them temporarily with dozens of small dragon spirits appearing around me, giving them elemental, spiritual, and draconic auras!

"GRUOOHHH!"

The huge chimeras, of all shapes and sizes charged towards us in that moment, two of them appeared in front of me, with gigantic and muscular arms!

BAAM! BAAM! BAAAM!!

With furious attacks, the ground below me shook wildly. However, I easily evaded their slow attacks, my stats constantly growing higher as more nature continued fusing with my body and spirits were born.

I made sure to move through a series of special footsteps, changing my stance as I reached their huge bodies, aiming my blades into one of them, reaching their chest as my speed was enhanced by my special movements.

Ding!

[The Effects of the [Heroic Swordsmanship's Footwork] Technique have been activated, AGI and DEX have increased by +200%!]

"[Exorcizing Holy Blade]!"

My swords shone with divine, exorcizing light, piercing the chest of one of the huge chimeras in a mere second, followed by another piercing blow into their wolf-like head!

CLAASH! CLAAASH!

"GRYYAAAGGHH...!"

Light started bursting from within the creature's interior, in a mere second, it blew up into golden flames, splattering over the entire ground.

"SHAAAH!"

The second chimera, with a gigantic snake-like head, reached me quite rapidly, attempting to bite my whole head and tear it off my neck, however, Gram shone with spiritual light, a single slash from it suddenly created illusions, unleashing several attacks at once!

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH!

"SHYAAGH?!"

The chimera could only give a confused shriek before it found its long snake-like neck cut down to pieces, its body still moving as its huge muscular arms attempted to catch me.

FLASH!

I evaded its muscular arms rather swiftly, and quickly pierced its chest once more, a powerful explosion of holy light purified its interior, shattering the core within its artificial heart.

BOOOMM!!

Much like the other chimera, it died swiftly.

At the same time, everyone else fought the other chimeras. Mark unleashed a barrage of blazing blade slashes, burning and cutting down a handful of them. He also summoned some of his Totem Spirits to aid us in battle and protect our slightly weaker friends.

At the same time, Gandalf conjured several spheres of electricity from his hands, making them rotate around his surroundings while defending him from the chimeras.

Each time they touched his spheres of lightning, the chimeras would be zapped by powerful strikes of electricity, slowly being cooked alive.

Acorn grabbed his Grimoire and conjured Fireballs and Icicle Spears against our foes, while Nieve froze them and cut them down to pieces.

Brisingra fought by forming a rainbow barrier around her body, which she used to strike her foes by shaping it into countless fists, she was incredibly good at defending, that's for sure.

And as of Angelina, she was a flash of bright light. I could barely see how she even moved, she was simply teleporting at this point, appearing in one place, and disappearing from another with bright explosions of light.

Her spear moved at lightning speed, piercing dozens of times each of her foes, making them explode from all the light consuming them in a similar fashion than my own attacks, albeit even flashier.

The battle ended quickly, the Chimeras' bodies were all splattered over the floor, with little left over than their dropped items.

"This entire hall seems abandoned..." I analyzed. "And most likely the next floors too." I was sensing my surroundings and quickly noticed that there were chimeras all the way down to the last floor.

"So this entire place has no cultists?" Asked Angelina.

"Yeah, I don't know if they left just now or a long ago... Though, I can tell that this is the place where they made the chimeras we fought back then." I kept walking around, finding out several giant glass tubes that were broken, chunks of deformed meat, arms, legs, and other things without proper bodies. "This is so awful..."

"We might as well clean this place from these chimeras before any of them tries to get out into the city and cause a ruckus." Mark said. "And the EXP we can earn is nice too."

"I agree." Angelina said. "Let's keep on moving then-"

"Ah! Lady Planta, look at this!" Acorn suddenly called me, as he showed me a black-colored book he found and was reading.

"What is it, Acorn?" I asked curiously.

"T-This book... It's odd." Acorn muttered, the black book's contents were written on a strange, runic language, with sharp letters and many blood-made magic circles inside.

"A-And the book cover... this feeling, is it... real skin?" Acorn muttered in horror.

"Huh?"

Chapter 754: The Bizarre Book

"Let me see that thing in detail..." I grabbed the book, as I tried to analyze it through the basic appraising ability every player had, which allowed us to see the information of every item.

However...

Ding!

"Ugh...!"

My head hurt like hell the more I tried to analyze the book, until I ended dropping it over the floor. Mark quickly came running to my side.

"Planta!" He caught me before I were to fall into the floor.

"Ah... My head..." I sighed. "W-What was that thing? Just by trying to analyze it, I got all these error messages, constantly! Each time! It felt like... something was trying to get into my head."

"What?!" Mark, Angelina, and Gandalf asked in disbelief at the same time.

"I guess I wasn't affected because I didn't try to analyze it?" Acorn wondered. "But I better... not touch that thing."

"Yeah..." I sighed, feeling better. "Don't touch it, whatever that thing is, not even the System can recognize it properly."

"Is there such a game item?!" Angelina was shaken.

"Well, I guess this item might have been made by an NPC or something..." Gandalf gave his own opinion.

"Are there any other books like these?" I wondered, looking inside the entire hall, but only finding normal-looking books with written words about the analysis of the chimeras growth and development.

"Looks like this is the only one..."

Aside from the strange pentagrams made out of blood and the fleshy human skin leather cover, the book also had pictures of strange beings, perhaps demons I remember seeing as I passed through the pages.

It is certainly a very strange book, perhaps something much more valuable that they accidentally left behind... I better not leave it for anybody to get.

"I'll seal this book and encompass it on a bubble of barrier magic." I conjured several chains of light around it, and then put on a bubble-shaped barrier on top of it, storing it into my inventory.

It seemed to be just fine there, so I guess the book has some weird curse, but it is not a sentient being trying to devour my soul or something... I might be able to analyze it more if I show it to someone that might know about actual demons, though.

But this also makes me think that the Cult might have been doing other things than just playing by the rules of this world, they've been seeking something else than just creating things with the leftover pieces of a dead god.

They want something else than... just to create an army of monsters.

"Anyways, let's go. We can discuss this later I guess." I smiled. "There are monsters left to hunt... There are three more floors down there. I feel a gigantic presence on the fourth floor, probably the Boss. Let's speedrun this."

"Sure, let's do this." Mark nodded, his blazing fists eagerly clenching.

"Let's clean this place! I also want to warm up a bit, we've not fought for a while!" Acorn said, just as eager.

"That's right." Brisingra nodded. "I need to catch up to everyone's level too!"

"Lady Planta, let me stay in the frontlines." Nieve said. "I will protect you from the beasts."

She was so tiny yet so brave... I know she was saying these things seriously, but I couldn't help to find her adorable when she said that.

"Okay, fine, but don't push yourself too hard." I smiled. "Titania and Florie are waiting for you back home, remember? Value your life more and don't be reckless, Nieve."

"I-I know..." She nodded, quickly being caught off guard. "M-Maybe I'm just excited to be able to fight after a little while."

"Hahaha, I can tell! Okay, let's do this!"

I quickly led my party towards the next floors, now with the new addition of Angelina and Gandalf. The two were amazing fighters, Angelina was an incredibly fast, capable front-liner with the ability to easily fly, conjure destructive light magic, and attack at incredible speeds using her powerful spear techniques.

Meanwhile, Gandalf could conjure all sorts of interesting magic spells I had never thought about making myself. Not only from just spheres of electricity, but mirrors made of ice that could reflect one magic spell, chains made of flames to weaken and deal damage to foes and restrain them too, strong wind magic can blow up monster body parts by imbuing wind inside of their blood vessels, and more.

Angelina helped me clean the frontlines with the support of Nieve, while Mark and Brisingra were excellent tanks. Brisingra wasn't the toughest physically herself, well, she was very strong actually, but not as tough as Mark's gigantic body, but she made up for it using her amazing Divine Barrier Magic, channeling its powers through her mother's ring, she was able to both deal incredible damage and protect herself and friends from damage.

Combined with my own barriers, our hunting session became incredibly swift as we moved down. The next two floors had many more chimeras, but their shapes and forms didn't vary too much. There were the giant gorilla-armed ones, the snake-headed chimeras, and lastly the beastly chimeras with the bodies of either lions or wolves and many limbs, wings, or heads.

They were all Level 180 all the way to Level 195. After having fought Level 200+ Monsters, these guys weren't that much of a hard fight. They had tricky skills and magic spells, but my heroic swordsmanship techniques targeted their weaknesses, the miasma and nether inside of them easily exploding upon contact with the holy light of these sword techniques.

Unlike the Miasmic Aberrations, the strongest foes we've fought so far, these guys had very little control over miasma or nether, so they were mostly only physical fighters, with some basic magic spells such as Darkness Spears or Phantom Flames.

And with the support of our long-ranged attacks such as Gandalf and Acorn, and some of the familiars I brought such as Silver and Goldie to get them to train and get some levels, we managed to get to the last floor in like half an hour...

An enormous black gate stood before us.

[The Failure of the Laboratory of Madness feels your presence...]

[It is aware that you've come to free them from their life filled with agony.]

Several messages popped up the moment we reached the black gate, as I decided to open it quickly, revealing an enormous, dark gate.

Creaaaak...!

In the middle of the abandoned laboratory at the end of the dungeon, there was a huge broken metallic cage, and something gigantic sitting over it, perhaps over thirty meters of height.

"GRRRRHHH..."

The creature's many eyes opened, brightly shining with crimson light. It spread out its many wings, as its many limbs started to move.

The amorphous shape of a giant's torso with the limbs of many animals and monsters attached to it was revealed, with a handful of different beastly heads attached to its large neck.

It was a monster straight out of a Frankenstein movie...

"GRAAAAHHH!!!"

[The [Abandoned Failure of the Laboratory of Madness: Lv225] roars with beastly fury!]

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 755: Confronting The Boss!

"GRAAAAHHH!!!"

[The [Abandoned Failure of the Laboratory of Madness: Lv225] roars with beastly fury!]

Although it had the limbs of several animals and many heads, the creature seemed to hold some sort of humanoid shape. Its torso looking like that of a huge gorilla, or maybe an ogre of some sort.

Several legs attached below, making it resemble a centaur with a long bug-like abdomen with dozens of legs attached to it.

Its torso had two "main" arms, resembling giant arms like those of ogres, covered on many strange tattoos imbued with Miasma and Nether to empower its strength.

It also had two other pairs of arms, the second pair were like giant bug-like pincers, resembling the pincers that scorpions would have.

And the third pair of arms were much smaller human-like arms, imbued with countless runes of magic, both palms holding bright eyes.

The creature had a deformed human-like head, although it was also attached to over four other faces.

The chimera even had wings, two huge wings, like those of a Wyvern Monster!

"RAAAHHH! GRAAAHHH!!!"

With a ferocious roar, the mighty monster rushed towards us. Its entire body overflowing with large quantities of pure energy.

My Domain and Terrain already having expanded rapidly across the entire room, giving us the advantage of buffs and enhanced regeneration of HP, MP, and Spirit Energy.

The Chimera wasn't exuding any Domain or trying to create a Terrain of its own, unlike the previous Boss we had battled, so we had a much larger advantage!

"Titan! Brisingra! Angelina! To the front!" I commanded. "Acorn, Nieve, Gandalf, let's support them from the sides."

Although I could perfectly step into the frontlines and do some work myself, I wanted to let Mark and Brisingra get some exercise and practice their abilities much more.

After all, if I just take all the spotlight all the time, it won't be fun. I want everyone to grow stronger for the terrifying enemies of the future.

Angelina too, is a deadly frontliner, so I better let her go all-out instead of getting on her way, as my frontline battle style is much more sluggish with all the set-up I need.

Nonetheless, I was already on my [Draconification] form for greater stats and more defense and attack power.

"Alright! Let's do this!" Titan roared, stepping forwards as his body continued to shapeshift and change, gaining greater power as he tripled his size, much bulkier than before, and he even got a pair of wings and another pair of bulky arms to go with it! "[Lesser Gigantification]!"

FLAAAASH!

His power skyrocketed out of nowhere! Was this a new Skill he got?! It was awesome!

"RAAAHHH!"

The chimera quickly attacked, swinging both of its titanic, muscular arms against the first thing it found in front of its sight, a series of explosive punches descended upon Mark, resembling meteors as they overflowed with Miasma and Nether Auras!

BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM! BAAAM!

"Not bad...!"

Mark roared as he defended with his bare body, his four gigantic arms working wonders on taking the blows even as pieces of wood were flying everywhere and constantly regenerated.

"Now's my turn! [Blazing Demon Retribution]!"

His face distorted into a feroicous and monstrous demon made of flames and wood, all the damage he accumulated was exuded outside of his body, a strong shockwave of flames paralyzed the chimera!

TRUUUUMMM...!

"GRAAAAGH...?!"

The Chimera stepped back in surprise, Angelina and Brisingra surprised over Mark's new and convenient power.

"Wow, now that's an amazing tank!" Angelina said.

"Incredible! You gave back some of the damage and paralyzed it?!" Brisingra was surprised. "I wonder if my Barriers can do the same?!"

"Let's talk about that later!" Mark roared. "[Spiritual Phoenix Sword Arts: Phoenix Fall]: [Volcanic Blazing Slash]! [Rising Phoenix]!"

Mark's giant Berserk Sword, which we got as a dropped item from last Guild Raid, absorbed his blazing powers and spirit powers, gaining the form of a huge sword of wood and fire with many runes engraved on it.

His movements were swift and precise, and destructive. Each slash unleashed an eruption of volcanic magma that covered the chimera, while the last attack chained with the series of slashes into the form of a giant phoenix rising into the ceiling, a huge explosion consuming our foe!

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH!

BOOOOMMM...!

"GRYYYAAAEERGH...!"

The Chimera freed itself from its temporary paralysis at long last, its entire body on flames and covered on many wounds, yet its HP was still above 80%! It quickly pushed towards Mark and kicked him with its several legs, forcing him to step back as his torso almost shattered apart.

BAAAAMMM...!

"URGH...!"

Mark groaned as he was blown away, however, I quickly caught him with my wooden arms, healing his large wound at the same time as I noticed Brisingra and Angelina attacking the chimera and keeping it busy!

"[Divine Rainbow Layered Barrier]!"

Brisingra created several layers of barriers, taking the this of the chimera and stopping it from going for Mark on its own, its six giant arms were deadly, constantly attacking with powerful strikes.

To make things worse, the third pair of arms it had constantly conjured explosive black fireballs, which shattered Brisingra's barriers in mere seconds.

CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH!

"HYAAAH!"

However, that was just a distraction, Angelina appeared from behind the chimera, her spear overflowing with her celestial light powers, her wings helping her fly in the skies with ease.

"[Gungnir Descent]!"

Her spear absorbed all her light, becoming ten times as large as she descended into the chimera's back and pierced it with it, a huge explosion of purifying light covered the entire hall!

FLAAAAAASSSHHH!!!

"GRYYAAAGGHH...!"

The Chimera started burning alive as one of its gigantic arms was cut down by Angelina and destroyed, seconds before its long tail were to strike her away, followed by the chimera's amorphous jaws to open up, unleashing a breath attack charged with as much Miasma and Nether as possible!

TRUUUUMMMM...!

"Shit...!"

"[Divine Rainbow Barrier Mirror]!"

However, a mirror-like barrier emerged in front of Angelina, absorbing the miasma and nether and then reflecting it back as a beam of rainbow light!

BOOOOUMMMM...!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 756: Going All-Out!

"D-Did that do it?!" Brisingra wondered, feeling filled with emotions as she seemed to have thought she could had defeated the Boss with that.

"GRRHHH..."

However, his body was almost unscathed, even after Angelina's powerful strike, its HP had only gone down by a bit. Even Brisingra's Mirror Beam seemed to have taken a small chunk.

"Sorry but this thing is not going down so easily, girl." Angelina smiled; her Aura of Celestial light continued growing larger. "We'll have to keep on beating him!"

"T-That didn't do it..." Brisingra sighed. "Oh well, that's-"

"RAAAAH!"

The Chimera didn't even let them speak, rushing towards the two while moving at lightning speed with its multiple limbs.

"[Elemental Triad]! [Thunder, Fire, and Frost Catastrophe]!"

However, Gandalf rose his staff into the skies, his Magical Powers activating, as three gigantic spheres of elemental powers emerged around the chimera, their abilities activating as thunder, fire, and frost constantly covered the chimera's body on consecutive explosions!

BOOOOMM!! BOOOOMM!! BOOOOMM!! BOOOOMM!!

"GRYYAARGH...!"

The Chimera quickly glanced at Gandalf with furious eyes, its spell-casting arms were still intact, suddenly summoning magic.

"T-Those arms can conjure such powerful magic...!" Gandalf was shocked. "Runes?! Does it has runes on its arms?! I need those arms!"

He was left paralyzed on his own fanaticism for magic, leaving him wide open as two enormous beams of black flames reached him!

"Gandalf, don't stay sitting there!"

I stepped forwards, both swords at hand plus Draconification boosting my physical prowess through the roof, I swung both of the swords at once, unleashing all their power into two powerful Heroic Swordsmanship Arts.

"[Demon Killing Blade]! [Celestial Slash]!"

SLAAAASSHH!! SLAAAASSHH!!

By combining the power of these two techniques at once, I was able to unleash two gigantic waves of holy light capable of destroying demonic-aligned powers!

BOOOOMMM!!!

Both beams were sliced apart and exploded seconds before reaching us, Brisingra's barriers appeared in front of us to protect us from the residual explosions.

"A-Ah, my bad, Planta!" Gandalf apologized. "I often get a bit... distracted when it comes to magic! If those arms ever drop as an item-"

"Sure, sure, you can have them! Now concentrate and deal damage to the thing." I sighed. "Also, do you have any buffs?"

"I do! That thing seems slightly weak to Fire and Light, so how about this?" Gandalf smiled, quickly trying to be more useful. "[Elemental Weakness Amplifying Stigma]!"

Gandalf conjured strange stigmas over the body of the chimera, dozens of them! Each one released a strange aura that weakened it slightly, stacking up very quickly.

Ding!

[Player: Gandalf] has activated the [Elemental Weakness Amplifying Stigma: Lv30] Skill!]

[Stigmas that amplify elemental weakness on a foe have appeared all over the target!]

[Each Stigma amplifies elemental weakness damage taken by +25%!]

[Current Stigmas: 12 (MAX)]

[Elemental Weakness Damage Amplification: +300%]

It was an amazing Skill!

"GRYAAAARGH...!"

With a furious roar of confusion about what was happening, the gigantic chimera, of over thirty meters, started rushing right towards Gandalf, its two magic-casting arms already charging another black fire spell!

"You're not getting close to them while we are here!"

Mark stepped forwards as several barriers made by Brisingra stopped the monsters movements. They broke rather quickly, but each time they broke, explosions of rainbow light damaged the beast. And yeah, they did Light-Attribute Damage!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"GRAAAHH!"

The Chimera gave an annoyed roar before its gigantic claws were to reach Brisingra nearby, only to be stopped by a blazing slash from a gigantic sword!

"[Mountain-Splitting Eruption]!"

BOOOOOMMM...!!

The slash released a tremendous explosion, an eruption of pure and endless spiritual flames, consuming the chimera's claws and cutting them off its body!

SLAAAAASSSHHH!!!

"SHYAAAGH!"

The creature roared, its last arm quickly punching Mark several meters away with an explosive blow, the other smaller arms, conjuring magic, quickly released yet another two beams of pure black flames!

TRUUUUUMMM...! TRUUUUUMMM...!

Mark shielded himself with his magic, conjuring walls and shields of flames and wood, but they all disintegrated before these flames. They probably had a similar power to Fafnir's flames, if they were contaminated with Nether, or perhaps even worse with Miasma too!

"[Celestial Valkyrie's Holy Shield]!"

However, Angelina stepped in front of him faster than I could, her shield growing ten times larger as it absorbed her light powers, an amazing skill that amplified the size and defensive power of her shield was activated.

CLAAAASSSHHH! CLAAAASSSHHH!

Both beams clashed against her shield of pure light, resisting the deadly explosive flames, as Gandalf, Acorn, and Nieve moved behind him, their magic activating in quick succession.

"I've been spreading my Frost Rose Garden this entire time, this better works!" Rose said, as her powers activated, transforming her into a Frost Spirit Fairy Princess and giving her a great boost to her powers at the same time as the many flowers left behind by her activated. "[Divine Spirit Frost Rose Garden Domain]!"

FLAAAAASSSHHH!!!

Frost encompassed everything in an instant, creating the illusion of a beautiful garden of blue roses, made all of ice! But it wasn't really an illusion, it was reality.

"GRYAAAARRRGHHH...!"

Not only the chimera was covered on several layers of frost in an instant, paralyzing it on the spot, but its two beams of black flames were immediately turned off, dissipating into nothing but smoke.

"Amazing, Nieve! Just what was that?!" Brisingra was amazed.

"Brisingra, concentrate on the battle!" Acorn said, reprimanding her as he changed into his magician form and used his grimoire to conjure deadly basic-level magic amplified with his powers. "[Triple Elemental Catastrophe]!"

Lightning, Fire, and Ice befell the chimera, piercing, burning, and electrifying its body constantly. Gandalf amplified Acorn's elemental power beforehand, making his basic-level grimoire magic even stronger.

BOOOMM!! BOOOMM!! BOOOMM!!

"You're not half bad, squirrel kid!" Gandalf laughed, conjuring a combination of three elements at once. "But this is what TRUE Elemental Magic can reach! [Triple Elemental Combination: Zeus' Frozen Blaze Thunder]!"

A gigantic spear covered on flames and lightning was summoned, of over ten meters, quickly reaching the chimera as it attempted to fight it back using its black flames and its tail, only for the spear of magic to be much stronger, piercing through its tail and exploding.

BOOOOOMMMM!!!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 757: Intense Fight

BOOOOOMMMM!!!

Gandalf's Spear pierced through the chimera's tail, blowing it up into pieces. With a ferocious roar, the abomination quickly rushed towards the nearest fighter, Nieve, and attempted to overwhelm her with biting attacks and beams of black flames.

"GRUOOHHH!"

Its huge size alone was already a tremendous weapon, attempting to slam Nieve with everything it had. However, Nieve, simply stayed still, her rapier overflowing with her spiritual energy.

"[Crescent Divine Spirit Spear: Skadi]!"

She imbued her spiritual power into her rapier, temporarily transforming it into yet another gigantic spear of ice, this one quickly clashing against the chimera's stomach, piercing it strongly!

CLAAAASSSSHHH!!!

"GRYYAARRGHHHH...!"

The chimera agonized, its two spell-casting hands still active, their bright eyes glowing with malicious energies, two enormous beams of pure black flames engulfed the ice and everything else!

BOOOOOMMMM!!! BOOOOOMMMM!!!

Black smoke and mist covered the entire hall, as Nieve opened her eyes, realizing I had just come to her help, standing in front of her. A dome made out of multi-layered shields of Yggdrasil wood combined with golden scales protected us, which was actually coming from my dragon tail.

"Lady Planta!" Nieve was relieved to see me.

"That was amazing, but I told you to not be too reckless before, didn't I, Nieve?" I asked her. "Anyways, that thing's going down soon enough, keep attacking it, everyone! My domain will continue supporting you."

"OOOHH!"

As they roared, the weakened chimera was surrounded. Mark leaped towards it, slashing apart its armor made of scales protecting its torso with explosive blazing sword strikes.

CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH!

"SHAAAAH!"

The chimera attacked him back with fireballs of black flames and its own aura, shaping into countless gigantic fists. So it could even do that, huh?

FLAAASH!

However, a flash of bright light emerged, protecting Mark from the Aura Fists with a shining shield of divine light. It was, of course, Angelina.

"I can't use most of my magic down here because they mostly come from the skies, but at the very least, I can protect you all!" She said valiantly. "And how about this for a change?! [Blinding Stars]!"

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Angelina conjured a storm of blinding, shining stars that confused the chimera and exploded, burning its exposed skin that Mark had left behind by tearing apart the scales.

"Excellent!" Gandalf laughed. "Now let see! [Infernos Maximus]!"

He hit the ground with his staff, a huge red magic circle emerged below the titanic chimera, consuming it on a tower of pure flames!

FLUUOOOOSSSHHH!

"GRYYAARGGGHHH...!"

The chimera grew desperate, panicking as its Aura and its own body kept taking damage, but at the same time, they were melding together!

Their aberrant body slowly started melting into Miasma and Nether, fusing with its Aura as it created countless of wailing human-like heads, opening their mouths, and firing beams of Black Abyssal Flames everywhere!

BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM! BOOOM!

"Watch out!"

I rushed to Gandalf's help as I saw Angelina helping out Mark, I manipulated our surroundings, gigantic shields of golden scales and Yggdrasil wood emerged one after another, protecting most of my friends from the deadly explosions of black flames, although they quickly were destroyed.

"Ah! Planta, you saved my life once more!" Laughed Gandalf.

"For being a magician you're really reckless in terms of defense! Are you a glass cannon?" I asked him.

"W-Well, I can always count on my companions, hohoho!" The old magus laughed.

"I guess my own friends being able to defend, heal, and use magic altogether are the amazing ones." I thought. "I guess to exceed, players usually have to prioritize a certain playstyle!"

That only makes my friends even more amazing because we can do many things, and once we're together, we can synergize even more.

But well, Gandalf and Angelina are not half-bad either!

"[Divine Rainbow Barrier Fist Meteors]!"

Suddenly, Brisingra's Magic Aura and her Rainbow Barrier magic combined together, summoning gigantic fists of rainbow light that fell like exploding meteors on the chimera, weakening it even more as the light was its weakness.

CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAAASH! CLAAASH! CLAAASSHH!!

"ROOOOAARRR!"

With a furious and frustrated roar, the chimera kicked the ground and then leaped off the floor, landing on the ceiling and beginning to walk like a damn spider, its Aura and body melded together faster, growing spider-like legs from its back, its many heads twisting around angrily, vomiting bullets of acidic miasma and nether against us!

"Careful, evade those bullets at all costs!" I said, as we quickly started to run around, evading the projectiles one after another.

SPLASH! SPLASH! SPLASH! SPLASH!

Our barriers and shields were of no use, easily melting against these deadly yet slow bullets. If only we had Jenny here, this would have been resolved quite quickly because she could have absorbed it all easily.

But I did tell her to stay with Ambil and help him, so I cannot go complaining that she's not here now!

I have to learn how to fight in different conditions, and with different allies. Getting too used to my party is also bad because it will not prepare me for every occasion or fight imaginable.

Even those back on Earth too!

"Argh! Come here! Stop running!"

"You damn...!"

Angelina and Mark had already gone towards the chimera, chasing him around on circles. The ravenous beast constantly ran away from them, bombarding them with the deadly acidic bullets and black flame beams.

"Nieve, give me some of your magic power!" I called her.

"Very well!" Nieve nodded, her Frost Spirit Aura connecting with me as I smiled. "[Frost Spirit Call]!"

FLAAAASH!

Through my connection with Nieve, I can bring forth Frost Spirits to battle, and with that, I concentrated my power, combining it with hers, as her Aura and Powers combined into the tip of my two swords.

I imbued Draconic Energy too and combined their power with the Frost Spirits appearing around us, which turned into little Frost Dragon Spirits themselves!

"[Divine Spiritual Fusion Synthesis]: [Frost Dragon Spirit King's Breath]!"

The gigantic head of a dragon made of pure frost and spirit energy emerged above the two of us, unleashing a devastating blizzard towards the spider-like chimera on the ceiling!

FLUOOOOOSSSH!!

"GRYYAARGH!"

The beam hit it directly, making it pummel into the ground with a loud, catastrophic impact!

BAAAAAMMMM!!

"Now, attack it while its frozen!"

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 758: Divine Weapon Spirit

By combining my magical power with Nieve, I was able to catch the damned chimera, freeze it, and drag it all the way down!

Now that it was temporarily frozen, with several cracks already spreading across the ice covering it, it was our chance to finish it off with everything we had.

At my command, everybody ran towards the chimera, me included.

"[Valkyrie Spear Arts: Starlight Gungnir Assault]!"

Angelina unleashed an endless barrage of dozens of piercing blows using her spear and her light magic, explosions of pure celestial light constantly consuming the beast's paralyzed body.

The attacks not only resembled bright explosions of light, but also stars, countless of beautiful stars!

CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH!

"[Frost Lightning Banshee's Blazing Claws]!"

Meanwhile, Gandalf combined his three main elements again, Ice, Lightning, and Ice to conjure yet another fantastical spell. The combined elements shaping themselves in the form of two huge humanoid-like hands with long claws.

The flames were golden and blue colored, and with each strikes, zapping explosions of electricity were released, while the ice kept expanding over our target's body.

SLAASH! SLAASH! SLAASH! SLAASH! SLAASH!

"SHYAAAGGHHH!"

The chimera suddenly freed one of its smaller arms, which suddenly started growing larger and larger until it resembled the arm of a titan.

"Careful!"

I quickly ran forwards, stopping the gigantic attack from reaching our friends, as I grew several pairs of muscular arms from my body made of wood and covered on golden scales, unleashing a barrage of attacks combined with my double sword techniques!

"[Yggdragon's Sharp Spiritual Claws]! [Holy Ascent]! [Celestial Slash]!"

CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAAASH! CLAAASH!

My gigantic spiritual claws resisted the gigantic titanic arm made of miasma and nether, which instantly started to corrupt my body as I touched it.

However, the two sword attacks followed right after, an ascension cut of pure holy light followed by several slashes of celestial divinity!

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

"GRAAARGGHHH...!"

The chimera agonized as its gigantic arm was cut down to pieces and completely destroyed. My corrupted body parts quickly falling apart as I regrew more and more wood, I kept attacking the chimera to resist its struggles.

"[Divine Rainbow Barrier Spear]!"

At the same time, Brisingra combined her divine rainbow barrier powers, making its shape into the form of a long spear, she was beginning to learn how to use her powers better now. She didn't had to just limit herself to basic barrier shapes after all!

"RAAAAH!"

Her spear attacked the chimera several times, piercing its chest and tearing apart its second arm before it could do anything, explosions of rainbow light covered the entire body.

"Well done, Brisingra!"

Nieve appeared as the chimera was being thrown away, catching to it while it was in midair and summoning all her frost powers at once.

"[Divine Frost Spirit Rapier Arts]: [Frozen Moon's Crescendo]!"

FLAAASH!

The illusion of a beautiful blue moon above Nieve appeared, her beautiful butterfly-like wings glistening with countless bright snowflakes as her rapier pierced and slashed at her foe countless times.

She moved around the chimera at lightning speed, in just a few splits of a second, she appeared and disappeared around the chimera, overwhelming it! And with each attack, its frozen containment continued to expand!

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

"SHYAAAGGHHH...!"

The Chimera once more groaned and resisted, suddenly braking free from a part of the frost as its countless heads melded together into the enormous head of a black lion, attempting to devour Nieve whole!

"Not happening! [Divine Spiritual Fusion Synthesis]!"

I stepped forwards, imbuing several Spirits into Gaia's-All-Purpose-Tool and transforming it into a temporary weapon, a huge glistening golden spear imbued with both flames, frost, and light spirits!

Ding!

[Through the effects of the [Divine Spiritual Fusion Synthesis] Skill, you have combined hundreds of Lesser Spirits together into your selected weapon!]

[You have temporarily transformed the [Gaia's All-Purpose-Tool] into the [Heavenly Spiritual Spear of Frozen Lightning: Zeus] Divine Weapon Spirit!]

[Duration: 5 Minutes.]

FLAAAASSSHHH!!!

I threw the giant spear towards the gigantic jaws that were about to devour Nieve, piercing the monster's throat and then blowing it up with flames, frost, and lightning all at once!

BOOOOOOMMMMM...!!

"GRUUEEEGHHH...!"

The chimera gave an agonizing shriek as its whole face fell into pieces, the spear still tightly stuck into its neck, constantly dealing damage into the rest of its body.

BAAAAMM...!

Its gigantic body rolled over the ground, the impact alone making the ice encompassing its body finally shatter, it quickly regained four more gigantic lizard-like arms and started crawling away into the walls!

"It's trying to escape again! Don't let it!" I commanded, healing my friends with a mere wave of my hands.

"Of course we won't!" Roared Acorn. "[Divine Bloodline Awakening: Beast Form]!"

POOOOF!

His magician form changed in a second, Angelina and Gandalf who had not seen this ability before were left speechless when the little Squirrel-kin transformed into a huge beast-like behemoth, with strong muscles and covered by horns, overflowing with a divine aura!

"W-What is that form?!" Angelina gasped.

"T-That's... Can Squirrel-kins do that?!" Gandalf wondered.

"That's Acorn's special ability." I smiled. "He had learned the way to channel his Beast Form through Bloodline-Awakening Potions!"

"ROOOAAARRR!"

Acorn roared, kicking the chimera out of the walls, and then using his giant claws and his sharp-tipped tail to administrate a barrage of rageful attacks!

CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAASH! CLAAASH!

His blows were so intense the chimera was being torn to shreds with each blow, it was barely fighting back with its Aura and its regenerating body, which was already losing the speed of its transformation abilities.

"Keep it there, Acorn!"

As I roared, I rushed towards the giant chimera with Mark at my side, our weapons overflowing with spiritual auras!

At the same time, Angelina, Gandalf, Brisingra, and Nieve fired elemental magical projectiles from afar, overwhelming the chimera from all sides, without letting it regrow new and annoying limbs.

"Now, dear!" I roared, Gram shining with light and spiritual energy.

"Just like before then! Alright!" Mark nodded, his gigantic body swinging his enormous sword.

"[Holy Exorcizing Celestial Blade]!"

"[Phoenix Ascension]!"

I combined two techniques at once, as Gram activated its innate abilities at the same time, that single celestial blade turned into seven attacks at once, all while Mark's ascending slash summoned the illusion of a mighty, roaring Phoenix!

SLAAAASSSSHHH...!

BOOOOOOOMMMMM!!!

Flames and light engulfed the chimera!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 759: A Corrupted Being

"GRYYYYAAEEEEGGGHHHH...!"

The chimera resisted the two blows as much as it could, but the explosion of light and fire were too overwhelming, and the duplication effect of Gram's ability ended doing wonders!

Each illusion was like a copy of my previous attack, and it was hit seven times with that! Gram's Ability was overwhelmingly strong! Just when the boss thought it could tank the hits, seven more hits ended demolishing it into the ground!

CLAAASH! CLAAASH! CLAAASH! CLAAASH!

CLAAAAASSSSHHH...!!!

The boss monster collapsed on the ground, its entire body slowly beginning to turn into ashes and falling into pieces, its Aura becoming weaker.

"RAAAARRGGHHH...!"

"Is it done?!" I wondered.

"Wait, it is taking too long to-"

Before Mark could finish his words, the Boss Monster unleashed a destructive shockwave of black and red flames, throwing us all away!

TRUUUUUMMMM...!

Even the giant Acorn couldn't resist the enormous pressure, as he clashed against the walls behind him, falling into the floor while slowly reducing his size due to the impact.

"SHAAAGGH...! OOOHHHH...!"

The Chimera Boss started groaning with strange voices, as if it was trying to say something in a strange dialect. The pressure of something otherworldly surged from its body, as we all watched in utter disbelief as hundreds of red and strange runes started appearing all over its body, even as it was disappearing...

[The Failure of the Laboratory of Madness will not go down before fulfilling its purpose...]

[The reason it was made to begin with!]

"W-What the fuck is happening now?!" Gandalf muttered. "Runes? Is it going to explode or something?!"

"N-No... those are...!" I suddenly noticed something odd. "Those runes... Wait, don't tell me?!"

Those red runes were the same demonic runes I saw in the strange, corrupted data book I had tried to read beforehand. In fact, the runes over the dying chimera boss were aligning into pentagrams of all shapes and sizes.

"OOOOHHH... SHAAGOTH... GAATH... GEGETH SASHAKH...!"

Countless red eyes opened across the chimera's body, its aura and body melded into black tentacles and claws, which then reached its own chest and started to pull it apart...

[Otherworldly chants summon the powers of forbidden sins and flames of demonic nature...]

[The portal is opening.]

W-What the hell is going on?!

FLUUOOOOSH!

And when it started pulling its chest apart, a vertical opening appeared within its decomposing flesh, opening not to its entrails, but to a dimension of flames and screams...

[The screams of the damned can be heard from the other way.]

[You have never seen this place, yet you know, deep down, what it is...]

[The failure rejoices, as it has fulfilled its purpose...]

[It is no longer a failure!]

"OOOOOOGGHHHH...!"

The chimera groaned in utter ecstasy as the portal kept widening, suddenly, countless of menacing eyes emerged from within them, long, red, and blue-skinned arms tried to sneak into our world, from wherever that place could even be!

"This is bad! We have to close this thin right now!" I said. "Nieve, Brisingra, Angelina, attack it with everything you've got! Gandalf, do you know sealing magic or anything that can close things?!"

"I-I do!" Gandalf nodded.

"Then conjure it all into it!" I said. "Titan! Acorn! Come with me, we're stopping whatever it's coming out of there!"

"R-Right!" Mark was just as shocked as me, but he snapped out of it after my words.

"Alright!" Acorn quickly transformed into his Giant Beast Form once more, following me.

"GRUOOOHHHH....!"

A demonic shriek echoed from within the blazing portal, things that shouldn't be here were dragging themselves into this world.

And they weren't from the Underworld, I'm pretty sure this isn't even related to the Demon King of Death at all!

CLAAASH!

A gigantic, red-skinned arm emerged from the blazing portal, its sharp claws grasping the floor tightly as strange dark red flames started spreading around!

"AAHHH... SOULS... FRESH SOULS..."

The voice of a demonic entity emerging from the portal resonated across the entire hall, countless tinier arms also emerged from much smaller beings, all trying to drag themselves into this world.

The System was having a hard time trying to even define what was happening, so I decided to ignore whatever it was trying to tell me.

I could already guess this wasn't something that even belonged to Arcadia to begin with! But there's little time for me to speculate what the heck this is.

We need to stop this, at all costs!

"Now!"

With my command I recovered Gaia's All-Purpose-Tool and dual wielded it with Gram, unleashing a barrage of powerful slashing attacks, while my Dragon Spirits unleashed their Elemental Spirit Dragon Breaths all at once!

"[Ascending Celestial Exorcizing Blade]!"

SLAAASH! SLAAASH! SLAAASH! SLAAASH!

Each slash unleashed an ascending wave of pure celestial light capable of exorcizing the toughest of foes, the explosions of light directly damaging the invaders, who we couldn't even see their damn heads because they were all trying to get out all at once, getting stuck in the process.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

My army of hundreds of tiny Dragon Spirits summoned from my own body or my Domain not only enhanced my Stats by merely existing, but their attacks were also strong and endless!

"GRAAARRGH!"

"GRYYAAH!"

"GUOOOHH...!"

He screams of many of the otherworldly invaders echoed from the blazing portal, some of their arms were pulverized into ashes, but the larger and stronger ones only gained a few scratches at most.

Just how tough are these monsters?!

"GET OUT OF HERE!"

Mark and Acorn roared almost at the same time, both unleashing their gigantic forms and body slamming the gigantic demonic arms coming from the portal, slowly beginning to push them farther inside.

Mark's giant blazing sword stabbed on the giant and muscular arms, barely making a few scratches, their blood was pure green, melting the floor when falling over.

Meanwhile, Acorn used all his wits to push further, all while the rest of our friends conjured magic spells to constantly attack the chimera and kill it once and for all!

And Gandalf...

"[One Hundred Magic Sealing Chains of Aether]!"

FLAAAASH!

Brand New Life Online: Rise Of The Goddess Of Harvest

Chapter 760: The End Of The Terror

Spears of blinding celestial light, swords made of divine spirit frost, and drills made of rainbow divine barriers constantly pierced the chimera's amorphous body.

Alongside them, there was Goldie and Silver, who were constantly conjuring their strongest magic to weaken the chimera as much as they could.

Its HP was pummeling down rapidly, but there was something that was constantly forcing its HP to recover, and it was the strange forces of the portal it conjured.

This is the reason I asked Angelina, Nieve, and Brisingra to concentrate 100% on attacking it with long-ranged attacks so they wouldn't risk their lives.

Like this, they deal constant damage and make it so its regeneration cannot ever let it recover its HP to 100%

And the following step was...

Gandalf's help!

"This is a Skill I learned a while ago; I've barely used it because the opportunity never arose." Gandalf laughed. "It is something I once used to seal Malignant Corrupted Ghosts inside the Crypts where Erdrich got a quest!"

As he spoke, his incredibly vast Mana, even vaster after receiving all the buffs I had to offer, started to transform, becoming a hundred chains of blue and grey color.

"Admire the power of a seasoned Archwizard!" He laughed, rising his staff. "[One Hundred Magic Sealing Chains of Aether]!"

FLAAAASH!

The chains of blue and gray resonated with the strongest sealing magic I've ever seen so far, its form quickly wrapping around the countless hands, as Mark, Acorn, and I kept pushing them into the portal, forcing them to go back where they came from.

My swords constantly moved, slashing and piercing, while my spirits attacked with everything they had, bombardments of elemental attacks falling endlessly.

Mark's mighty strength, size, and spiritual flames all came together with his sword, piercing and stabbing the aberrant demonic hands, which were not even that bothered about it other than the fact they were being pulled back.

Acorn's fur protected him from the flames as he pushed with all the weight and strength his gigantic body had, his divinity somehow being one of the few things that managed to burn their skin...

"GRYYAARGGH...!"

The Aberrant Chimera started to fall apart, the chains wrapping around its body as well and beginning to seal its powers temporarily, all while the demonic hands were almost back to where they came from.

"NO...! NOOOO!!! MY MASTERS...! THEY CREATED ME... FOR THIS... PURPOSE...!"

The bastardly creation gave a last scream of frustration, his countless red eyes all aiming at... me!

"YOUUUU! DIE!"

Hundreds of red beams combined together into a gigantic beam of pure crimson energy, charged with the otherworldly power coming from the portal it created!

TRUUUUUMMMM...!

"I can't catch a break, can't I?!"

I harnessed all my powers at once. The domain surrounding us disappearing as it fused completely into my body. All the vegetation, nature, spirits, everything!

FLUOSH!

My body started glowing with a new bright golden and green light, the power of [Divinity] within my Skills activating, as I infused it into my two swords.

"[Yggdragon's Divine Blade]!"

Both of my swords combined into a gigantic sword of wood and light, slashing through the beam of red energy cleanly.

SLAAAAASSSHHH!!!

But that wasn't all, the slashing wave continued its trajectory, reaching the chimera and the portal, splitting both apart as the chains already weakened and sealed their powers.

"ROOOOAARRRR!"

The figure of a gigantic roaring dragon made of wood and light emerged, roaring furiously as its gigantic jaws opened, engulfing everything within an endless explosion of light.

"MY... PURPOSE...!"

BOOOOOOMMMMM!!!

The light quickly turned the chimera into ashes once and for all, the portal closed as it died, and whatever was coming out of it, was forced to pull back.

[The [Otherworldly Portal] has been successfully closed.]

Darkness slowly took over the hall, the light dissipated quicker than I thought. I felt exhausted, falling into my knees, and gasping for air...

"Hahh... Hahh... T-That was... tough."

I looked around, making sure everyone was alright. Aside from Mark's wooden body having gained tons of weapons, which were regenerating quickly, they seemed fine.

"Phew..." Angelina sighed, sitting over the floor. "Now that was a tough hidden boss! For sure, hidden dungeons are really quite something!"

"Certainly..." Gandalf sighed in relief too, using his staff to rest a part of his weight. "Hahhh... Do you guys always fight things like these in the World Quests?"

"Wasn't the chimera you fought just as tough anyways?" I wondered, laughing a bit.

"Well it was tough, but we had the other two with us." Gandalf said. "Anikitty provides amazing buffs and debuffs, and Erdrich's army of undead and his skills are always useful to keep the enemy busy."

"Fighting such a tough foe with different companions was certainly a challenge by itself, hahaha..." Angelina giggled a bit.

"A-Ah... Anyways." Mark muttered. "Ugh... I'm hungry."

"Hahahah... I guess I'm a bit hungry too!" I smiled. "Let's talk about what happened here later I guess... How about we go back to Ambil and have a meal?"

"Yeah! I'm starving!" Acorn agreed immediately.

"I sure wouldn't mind eating something made by Lady Planta..." Brisingra nodded.

"Without a doubt... I'm so exhausted. Milady's food is always the most comforting." Nieve smiled.

"Okay, okay! No need to praise me so much." I sighed, standing up. "Let's go."

"Hahhh... so tiring! I don't want to do this anymore." Goldie cried.

"You barely did anything, sitting in the back and firing some water and light!" Said Brisingra.

"ROAR!" Silver agreed.

"W-What?! I did so much though! This is the most I've moved in... a few years." Goldie was embarrassed to elaborate.

As we moved upwards, the System finally fixed itself, as several messages popped up one after another.
