Chapter 80: Intense Battle!

"Wooden Cage!"

I infused my Mana into the ground itself, spreading out my roots below the hero and then spreading them into an enormous cage made of hundreds of layers of wood and stone unified together with the power of Mana and Spiritual Essence.

FLAAASH!

The cage was so strong and powerful that the Hero immediately felt threatened, beginning to slash through it at a rapid pace. However, his slashes broke through layers one by one, and there were hundreds! It was going to take him a few more seconds before getting out, which was more than enough for Titan and Rita's attacks to get him!

Rita quickly charged her Dark Magic, as the Dark Spirits quickly began dance around her body enhancing the power of her dark magic and also increasing her total stats a lot! She had leveled this damn passive skill to level 10 so it was giving her an amazing bonus with her dark spirits. And to boot, I was also enhancing both of them with Spirit Enhancement and Geomancy, which increased the power of spirits and also their magic stats to deal even more damage using magic spells or magic-related skills.

An enormous sphere of darkness emerged above Rita, as she had decided to go all out with a gigantic attack... It was concentrating all the large quantities of Malice she could absorb from the Mushroom Hero!

"Fuck this game, fuck this game, FUCK THIS GAME!" Cried Rita, she was already tired of playing this and was forcing herself to keep up. It was quite commendable!

Meanwhile, in the other side, Titan was accumulating large quantities of Mana which I was directly transferring to him by fusing a branch of my own body into his own, which I moved underground! I had discovered this new way of transferring mana to others, and thanks to this, he was summoning a large Beast Spirit by fusing many of them through Beast Spirit Enhancement, something similar to my Spirit Enhancement!

"If Planta can do it... why the fuck I can't?!" Roared Titan. "Come on... BEAST SPIRIT ENHANCEMENT!"

FLAAAASH!

And then, an enormous chimeric Beast Spirit emerged. With the body of a Blazing Lion, the head and wings of a Storm Eagle, the gigantic limbs of a Earth Bear, the head and tail of a Water Tiger, and the third head of a Light Sheep, these were all his current Beast Spirit Summons which he merged into something that could only be named as Beast Spirit Chimera.

"ROOOARRR!"

"Now, GO!" Titan roared, ordering his giant Beast Spirit Chimera to rush forward. The enormous beast moved incredibly quickly towards the trapped Mushroom Hero.

"I'll call this shit... DARK SUN!" Roared Rita, as she began to slowly move the enormous sphere of darkness and malice she had created against the trapped Mushroom Hero.

The Mushroom Hero continued to scream within the Wooden Cage, as I kept him there while I was trying to harm him by generating countless spears inside, but he was easily slashing them apart and turning them all into ashes, this guy was insanely tough!

FLAAASH!

And then, the Dark Sun of Rita and Titan's Beast Spirit Chimera reached him. Instantly, I pulled back the Wooden Cage and put the Mushroom Hero right in front of these two devastating attacks. Darkness and the blazing combination of many elements hit the Mushroom Hero directly, like two nukes right in front of his face!

BOOOOOOOMMM!!!

"UUUUAAAGGGGGHHHH...!"

The Mushroom Hero quickly began to scream in agony as the enormously strong combination of destructive attacks began to engulf him, throwing him down into the ground as a gigantic crater began to form, pushing him down into a twelve-meter-deep hole!

The explosion scattered debris everywhere, as the essence of the combined elements slowly began to dissipate from the entire room. I looked down the hole with Rita and Titan, hoping that the guy would be dead by now...

But he was there, standing. His armor was destroyed and he was showing his rotten, miasma-covered body to everybody, his bones could be seen beneath his rotten flesh, and his face was merely a skull with thin skin stuck to it, empty eyes flaring with phantasmal flames... His HP went all the way down to 20%, but he was still standing! I saw that two more Phantasmal Strings were cut off; we had done it! However, we needed to cut off the last one or he would simply continue his rampage endlessly.

"RAAAAAH!"

"Shit, he's coming!" Rita cried, as Titan suddenly grabbed her with his large arms and then I extended several branches and roots across the entirety of the area, protecting them from the upcoming storm of darkness that the Hero had shrouded himself into!

FLAAAAASH!

"KILL...! DIE!" He roared. He was now merely a mindless corpse reanimated by evil magic. He was once an honored man that sealed somebody as evil as the Dark Demon King of Miasma... we cannot possibly let this demon toy around with this person's body any longer.

Loki had already merged with part of my giant body, and I prompted her to fight, as enormous vines began to spread out through the entire battlefield, attempting to catch the Hero in midair. The vines were enhanced with her various skills, one of them made them as hard as steel!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

"GRAHAHAHA!" The Hero laughed manically as he intercepted each hit from Loki who was desperately trying to help us out. Her vines began to spread out and then coil around him, but he swung his blade and slashed them all quickly turning them into ashes. I was healing Loki constantly as she multiplied her vines, venom or anything of the sort had no effect in this insane Boss! And his HP had barely went down by 2% through this entire fight.

"BELLE!"

And then, I called the beast. Belle had also merged within this giant body when I transformed. And she had been preparing for a rampage. She was my trump card, actually, but I guess I'll have to let her go loose.

"MEEEE!"
