

Break Up 34

Chapter 34

Anticipation

The three questions were quickly answered. Some people finished answering at the same time, while others were still thinking hard. It was obvious that they did not know their girlfriend very well.

Chen Che, who had already answered, looked at Lin Xi and smiled, his face full of confidence.

When the last person pressed the question board, the host hurriedly said, "Alright, how many questions can each group answer correctly? Let's reveal the answers now!"

"Let's invite a group of couples to flip their boards at the same time!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Wei Xiaochuan and Zou Yun from Team 1 hurriedly followed suit. The camera quickly panned over to their boards.

The netizens and the contestants present were all staring intently.

Their answers were clear at a glance. The color, fruit, and foot size were all correct. From this, it could be seen that the two of them were truly in love.

The host smiled and said, "Congratulations to all the contestants in Team 1 for answering correctly. This is really a good start for the contestants!"

Wei Xiaochuan and Zou Yun looked at each other and smiled, unable to hide their happiness.

"Alright, let's welcome Team 2!"

Zheng Hui immediately raised the question board. On the other hand, Fang Weixun's expression was ugly as he slowly raised the question board. It was obvious that he was not confident in the answer.

As the camera pointed, a funny scene appeared.

All three questions were wrong!

What was even more ridiculous was that Fang Weixun had written that her feet were size 43.

[F*ck, a size 43 foot, haha!]

[Even if Fang Weixun answers randomly, he can't write this size!]

[This guy is dying of laughter. No wonder the team's stats are at the bottom. What a weirdo!]

[Don't say that. If we were all normal people, we wouldn't have any fun!]

[Zheng Hui is so embarrassed to be with him!]

At this moment, Chen Che could not help but laugh. He wanted to ask Fang Weixun if he was being polite when he put down size 43.

Seeing that the entire internet was mocking her, Zheng Hui's eyes were about to spew flames. She couldn't take it anymore and roared, "Fang Weixun! Are you doing this on purpose? Even if you think about it with the back of your head, how can I have such a big foot?"

Fang Weixun shrunk his neck and stammered, "I... I saw that your feet were quite big, so... so I guessed. I'm sorry."

"Go to hell!" Hearing this, Zheng Hui was so angry that she almost cried.

She thought to herself, Why am I so unlucky? Others are here to participate in the show, but they're here to provide comedic value, right?

If she could change boyfriends midway, she would have kicked Fang Weixun out long ago!

Seeing this, the host hurriedly said, "Alright, alright. It's just a game. Don't be angry."

"After this question-and-answer session, I believe you will understand each other more."

"Next, let's welcome Team 3!"

Just like that, the various teams revealed one after another. Although there were also some mistakes, other than Fang Weixun, the answers were not ridiculous.

Chen Che did not disappoint everyone. He also got all three questions right.

After the statistics were done, the host said, "Alright, everyone, it's time to ask the female guests questions!"

"First question, what is your boyfriend's favorite sport?"

"Question two, what's your boyfriend's favorite item?"

"Last question, who is your boyfriend's favorite celebrity?"

When the question ended, there was a contrast compared to before. Perhaps because the question was too difficult, the male and female guests did not quickly press the question board.

Chen Che frowned slightly. At this moment, he was struggling with the answer to the third question. He did not chase celebrities, so he did not have any celebrities he liked. Even if he did, he had never mentioned it to Lin Xi.

So, what should he fill in this answer?

On the stage, Lin Xi knew this very well and was also worried about this.

After a full five minutes, everyone closed the question board.

Chen Che and Lin Xi looked at each other. They could tell from each other's eyes that they could not guarantee that everything was right this time.

As the last person finished answering, the host smiled and said, "Looks like this round's questions are very difficult to answer. I'm just as curious as the netizens. Can anyone answer all of them correctly?"

"Alright, let's welcome the first group to open the question board!"

Wei Xiaochuan and Zou Yun quickly stood up and zoomed in. This time, they didn't get it all right. The deviation appeared on the second question.

Seeing this, the netizens commented one after another, feeling that no one could be completely right this time.

Then came Team 2 and 3.

Just as the netizens had guessed, all the way to Team 5, there were still a couple who got it all correct.

Unknowingly, Chen Che and Lin Xi had become the group that everyone was looking forward to the most. Their cheers were extremely loud.

Upon seeing this, the production team also made some last-minute adjustments and placed Chen Che and Lin Xi as the final team to create suspense.

Luo Yuelin could not help but bear a grudge against him. However, she could not say anything under such circumstances.

Soon, the other nine teams revealed their answers. As expected, none of them were right, and the questions they got wrong were different.

At this moment, everyone's gazes were focused on Chen Che and Lin Xi.

The production team also started a quiz interaction whether it was possible or not for a team to get the answers all correct. Netizens also participated in the poll, and there was a small margin between the two choices.

Seeing that the expectations had been maxed out, the host smiled and said, "Will Team 7 surprise everyone?"

"Staff, please seal their question boards. We will reveal them one by one!"

Such a suspenseful move made the netizens extremely anxious. They refreshed it quickly!

This was the effect that the production team wanted. The higher the interaction value, the more traffic the live-stream platform would give.

After the question board was pasted, the two ladies held the question board and faced the camera.

The host chuckled and walked to the side. "The first question is his favorite exercise. Now, let's see their answers!"

As soon as he finished speaking, the host reached out his hand and tore the tape. However, he deliberately slowed down his actions. Not only were the netizens anxious, but even Chen Che and Lin Xi were anxious.

Because they also wanted to know if their answers were the same.

Under everyone's gaze, the host finally tore off the tape. Both parties had the same answer, which was running.

"The first question is correct. Next, the second question will be revealed!"

The host's actions were exactly the same. The netizens were so anxious that they wanted to hit him.

As the tape was torn off, the answer to the second question was actually the same. The two of them wrote their favorite things as money.

Chen Che gave Lin Xi a thumbs up, indicating that she was amazing to have actually thought of this.

Lin Xi smiled sweetly. How could she not have thought of it?

For the past month, Chen Che had been living frugally and working hard. Wasn't it all for money?

If anyone asked about his favorite things, could there be anything else besides money?

As the first two questions were correct, the third question became the key. Chen Che and Lin Xi were most worried about this question.

"Alright, now it's time to reveal the last question. Will they all get it right? Let's wait and see!"

With that, the host began to operate slowly again. This time, the staff was also helping. Their goal was to see the answers of both parties.

At this moment, Chen Che and Lin Xi also became nervous.

Be it the netizens or the other contestants present, they were all staring intently, looking forward to the final outcome.
