

Break Up 45

Chapter 45: You Still Say You Don't Prefer Your Girls Over Your Friends?

Leaning into Chen Che's arms, Lin Xi's face was as red as charcoal. Although she felt very embarrassed, she could not help but smile happily.

When the young men and women from Wealth Building saw this, they also felt very sweet, especially the girls. Their eyes were filled with envy.

Reality was like this, and the live-stream was even more lively.

[Wow, this Chen Che is so good!]

[I'll eat this bowl of dog food. I sincerely wish you well!]

[No matter what setback it is, trust each other forever. This is true love!]

[It's over. I believe in love again!]

After many incidents, the netizens were completely convinced by the two of them.

Even some anti-fans could not help but become true fans. From the beginning of the live broadcast until now, they had watched more seriously than anyone else in order to catch their mistakes.

It was precisely because of this that they understood Chen Che's difficulties and admired his actions from the bottom of their hearts.

Now that they looked at Chen Che and Lin Xi, everyone only felt one word—sweet!

In the blink of an eye, another week passed. The live-stream was peaceful. There were no more curses. Even words like 'pauper' were rare.

The netizens preferred to call Chen Che—Old Scrooge Chen!

Chen Che happily accepted this title. Compared to being poor, this name was much more friendly.

The points continued to increase steadily. Although it had not surpassed Luo Yuelin's group, the difference was not that great.

This was also because Luo Yuelin had hired people to farm votes behind her back. Otherwise, she would have long been left behind by Team 7.

At five in the afternoon, Chen Che came to pick Lin Xi up as usual.

After a while, Lin Xi walked out of the building with a smile, accompanied by her best friend, Han Jiarui.

Chen Che was stunned for a moment because he had not seen this woman since he saw Han Jiarui once at the beginning of the show.

Moreover, after picking Lin Xi up from work for so many days, Han Jiarui had never appeared together with her.

I'm afraid there's a program tonight, right?

Chen Che guessed.

At this moment, the two girls had already arrived. Lin Xi smiled and said, "Chen Che, you already know each other. I won't introduce you any further. Let's eat together tonight."

"There's indeed an event." Chen Che muttered in his heart. He was also thinking that they could not eat discounted food together, right?

If he didn't eat those, it meant that he would have to spend a lot of money. However, where did he get the money? He couldn't let a girl pay, right?

Understanding Chen Che's thoughts, Han Jiarui said, "Are you worried about spending money? Don't worry, I'm paying tonight."

"No, this is the first time we're eating together. How can I let you spend money?" Although his heart ached, Chen Che was unwilling to admit it.

Looking at Chen Che's forced smile, Han Jiarui covered her mouth and smiled. "Alright, we're all family. Don't stand on ceremony. That time, I went to look for you and said some unpleasant words. Although you don't hate me, I feel bad."

"Actually, I wanted to treat you to this meal a long time ago, but I haven't found a suitable opportunity. If you don't believe me, you can ask Lin Xi."

Lin Xi nodded. "Jiarui is treating us to a meal this time partly to apologize for what happened before, and partly to wish us happiness in the future, so don't be modest about this meal."

"We'll invite Jiarui when we have the chance in the future."

Hearing this, Chen Che did not stand on ceremony anymore. He chuckled and said, "Alright, then I'll let Beauty Han spend money this time. I'll definitely treat you next time!"

"Okay." Han Jiarui smiled.

At this moment, Lin Xi noticed that Chen Che's sleeve was dirty and there was a hole. She hurriedly asked worriedly, "What happened? Did you fall?"

Chen Che hurriedly patted it with his hand. "It's fine. I accidentally scraped when I was delivering the package today."

"Silly, why are you so careless? Let me take a look. Your arm isn't injured, right?" As she spoke, Lin Xi quickly rolled up Chen Che's sleeve. After confirming that his arm was fine, she was relieved.

Seeing Lin Xi's worried expression, Chen Che's heart warmed. He smiled and teased, "I already said that you're fine. Speaking of which, what happened to your face?"

Lin Xi was stunned for a moment. She hurriedly took out a small mirror from her bag and looked at herself. "What's wrong? I don't look good today?"

Chen Che chuckled. "What I mean is that your face is getting prettier. I like it so much."

“You’re teasing me again.” Lin Xi blushed and pinched Chen Che’s waist shyly.

Seeing this, Han Jiarui coughed twice and said, “That’s enough. There’s still someone here. Let’s go. Take my car.”

With that, Han Jiarui walked towards the carpark first.

After hearing Han Jiarui’s words, Lin Xi was even more embarrassed. She said in a low voice, “You’re really good at talking. How embarrassing.”

“I praised my wife for being good-looking. What’s so embarrassing about that?” Chen Che looked indifferent.

“You’re such a sweet talker.” Lin Xi smiled sweetly and hurriedly pulled Chen Che along.

Half an hour later, the three of them arrived at a specialty restaurant.

Han Jiarui didn’t hesitate. She ordered more than ten dishes, and they were all the most expensive here.

Chen Che roughly calculated that this table cost at least $1,000. To him, it was undoubtedly super extravagant.

If he was the one paying the bill, his heart would probably ache so much that he would vomit blood.

Seeing Chen Che staring at the menu, Han Jiarui deliberately joked, “Chen Che, when you treat me to a meal, you have to exceed this standard. I want to eat a luxurious meal.”

“No problem. This is not a problem.” Chen Che put down the menu and agreed without hesitation.

Han Jiarui looked a little surprised. She did not expect Chen Che to agree so readily.

Lin Xi thought that Chen Che was trying to puff oneself up at one’s own cost and hurriedly chimed in, “You can just go to the buffet when the time comes. It’s luxurious enough.”

“Oh, you’re already speaking up for him?” Han Jiarui pursed her lips.

“We’re family. Of course, we have to help each other.” Lin Xi chuckled.

Han Jiarui pouted. “Look, I told you that you valued your lover over your friend, but you still don’t admit it.”

“Whatever you say. In any case, I have to think for Chen Che.” At this point, Lin Xi could not be bothered to explain.

“Sigh, there’s no love left. Looks like I have to hurry up and find a boyfriend.” Han Jiarui sighed.

Looking at Han Jiarui, Lin Xi laughed out loud.

Hearing the two women bicker, Chen Che also smiled. He thought to himself that this meal would probably have to wait a year.

At that time, not to mention a luxurious feast, as long as it was available on this planet, he can afford it!

After a while, delicious food was served one after another. Chen Che ate happily.

As the saying went, food was especially delicious if he doesn't need to spend money on it!

Not only that, the two of them were eating each other's food as usual, showing off their love every second.

As a third wheel, Han Jiarui couldn't help but feel a little redundant. She was almost full from their antics.

After continuing for a while, Han Jiarui couldn't help but say, "Hey, hey, hey, can the two of you take care of the feelings of the single woman here? This is too much."

When Lin Xi heard this, she hurriedly picked up some food for Han Jiarui. "You eat too."

"Patronising." Han Jiarui pouted.

Hearing this, Lin Xi and Chen Che looked at each other and smiled without saying anything.

When the netizens in the live-stream saw this scene, they farmed neatly: [My heart aches for Han Jiarui's time for a meal!]
