Chapter 56 Can You Hug Me to Sleep?

Chapter 56: Can You Hugging Me to Sleep?

“Stop!”

At the critical moment, a loud shout was heard.

Looking in the direction of the voice, he saw a car driving over at high speed. Just as it stopped, a beautiful figure hurriedly got out of the car. It was Lin Xi!

Not only that, but the cameraman also got out of the car.

It turned out that Lin Xi could not fall asleep after tossing and turning. She always felt that it would be dangerous, so an hour ago, she contacted VJ and launched a live broadcast notice.

In her opinion, even if she was too sensitive and made a fuss for nothing, it was better than Chen Che getting into trouble.

Reality proved that her sixth sense was right!

At this moment, tens of thousands of netizens were also waiting in the live-stream. When they saw that Chen Che was really attacked, they immediately erupted.

[F*ck, this Lu Wentian really dares to attack. Is he crazy?]

[He’s simply lawless. Brothers, hurry up and record the evidence!]

[Looks like it’s quite timely. Fortunately, Lin Xi has the foresight!]

...

“Get lost!” Just as the netizens were discussing, Lin Xi angrily pushed away a few men.

Seeing that there were still cameras, the thugs did not dare to move.

Lu Wentian was even angrier. He regretted it very much. If he had known earlier, he would not have talked to Chen Che.

“Are you alright?” Lin Xi asked worriedly as she helped Chen Che up.

“I’m fine. Fortunately, you came in time.” Chen Che heaved a long sigh of relief.

“You still say you’re fine. You’re already bleeding!” At this moment, Lin Xi realized that Chen Che’s arm had been cut open. Her heart ached so much that she could not help but cry.

Chen Che did not notice it at first. He took a look and said, “It’s fine, it’s fine. I accidentally scratched myself in the fight just now. Don’t cry.”

At this moment, the whistle of the Patrol Division sounded in the distance. Soon, two patrol cars came into sight.

Seeing that the Patrol Division had arrived, Lu Wentian’s expression could not help but turn ugly.

Under their gazes, the patrol car quickly stopped at the side, and right on the heels of that, a few patrol officers got out of the car.

“I received a report from the public that someone here is looking for trouble and beating someone up with an armed weapon. Is that right?”

At this moment, the few people present understood that the netizens must have reported the case. Coincidentally, there was a patrol car nearby, so they arrived quickly.

Lin Xi hurriedly nodded and pointed at Lu Wentian and the others. “Yes, it’s them. My boyfriend is already injured!”

“And just now, they pressed my boyfriend to the ground and even wanted to hit his leg with a hammer!”

“By the way, the entire process has been recorded!”

The patrolman glanced around and saw that one of them was still holding a huge hammer. He immediately said, “Do you have anything to say?”

Lu Wentian fell silent. He knew that it was useless to defend himself with conclusive evidence.

Seeing this, the patrol officer did not say anything else. “Get in the car and follow us back to the station for investigation!”

Lu Wentian did not dare to resist. He brought his thugs and got into the car obediently.

At this moment, the patrol officer looked at Chen Che. “The two of you, follow me too. Go and do a disability assessment first and then take your statements.”

“Alright.” Chen Che nodded.

“Ms. Lin, we’ll leave first. We’ll edit the video later and send it to you as evidence,” VJ said.

“Yes, thank you so much for tonight.” After a pause, Lin Xi bowed deeply to this camera. “Thank you for your company and help, netizens. It’s getting late. Everyone, rest early. See you tomorrow!”

Seeing Chen Che and the other two get into the Patrol Division’s car, the live broadcast ended.

The netizens also heaved a sigh of relief, but they were looking forward to the follow-up of this matter.

At the same time, the video just now was also posted online by a large number of netizens. It quickly attracted more attention and for a moment, there was a lot of scolding.

Lu Wentian would never have dreamed that he would become popular again in such a way.

The Lu family in the provincial capital also received the news immediately. Worried that their business would be affected, they hurriedly hired the most professional legal team in the country.

A large number of fake reviewers went online quickly. What’s more, the topic that received more attention broke out at this moment, forcefully suppressing the news of Lu Wentian hitting someone.

...

Chen Che and Lin Xi only came out of the Patrol Division at almost five in the morning.

As for Lu Wentian and the others, they were temporarily imprisoned here.

“Does it hurt?” Lin Xi’s heart ached when she saw Chen Che’s right arm wrapped in gauze.

“It hasn’t hurt for a long time. This small injury is nothing,” Chen Che said as he shook it. He accidentally tore the wound and couldn’t help but grin.

Lin Xi frowned. “Silly, why are you trying to be strong? Why don’t you go to the hospital for a checkup?”

“Aiya, it’s really fine. Let’s talk about Lu Wentian. Do you think he’ll go to jail?” Chen Che did not understand the rules of the parallel world at all.

Lin Xi thought for a moment and replied, “If we insist on pressing charges, he will go to jail, but he won’t sit there for long. After all, your disability assessment level is very low.”

“However, even if it’s a month, the Lu family won’t let their son suffer.”

“According to my estimation, the lawyer and the Lu family should be here soon. At that time, they will find you to negotiate a settlement.”

Chen Che snorted. “This bastard wants to break my leg. If you were a second late, I might have become disabled, so I definitely won’t settle this matter. I have to make him pay the price.”

“Yes, I support you. He really went overboard this time.” Lin Xi nodded.

“By the way, Chen Che, rest for the day.”

Without waiting for Chen Che to refuse, Lin Xi said reasonably, “Look, you haven’t rested yet. How can you have the energy to work?”

“Moreover, the Patrol Division and the Lu family will look for you today. You also have to deal with it.”

Chen Che felt that her words made sense, so he replied, “Alright, I’ll listen to you.”

Although he agreed, he would lose hundreds of yuan if he didn’t work for a day. His heart really ached.

As a result, he hated Lu Wentian even more!

“Then... then come stay at my house now,” Lin Xi said again.

“No need.” Chen Che rejected decisively.

Lin Xi frowned slightly and persuaded gently, “There’s no one in the withdrawal hall at night. Is there no one in the day? How are you going to sleep?”

“Also, you don’t have to worry about what the netizens will say. I can inform the cameramen to come over later. That should be fine, right?”

“Besides, I didn’t rest all night. Even if it’s to let me sleep soundly, you shouldn’t have rejected me.”

At this point, how could Chen Che refuse?

Moreover, he could not sleep in the self-service withdrawal hall during the day. Chen Che did not have a good place to go.

“Alright, let’s go to your house.” Chen Che smiled.

“That’s right. If you dare to reject me again, I’ll hit you.” Lin Xi smiled and deliberately shook her small fist.

Chen Che pretended to be afraid and retreated. “Don’t hit me. Don’t hit me. I’m afraid.”

“Silly.” Lin Xi chuckled and her mood instantly improved.

Just like that, the two of them returned home chatting and laughing. After chatting for a while, they returned to their rooms.

Lying on the bed in the small bedroom and smelling the fragrance, Chen Che suddenly lost his sleepiness.

Just as Chen Che was letting one’s imagination run wild, there was a knock on the door.

“Chen Che, are you asleep?”

“Not yet. Come in!” Chen Che hurriedly replied.

With permission, Lin Xi opened the door and walked in.

“What’s wrong?” Chen Che asked.

Lin Xi stood at the door with a red face and said extremely shyly, “Can... can you hug me to sleep?”
