

Chapter 144 My Men Cannot be Bullied by Anyone

“Since I dared to stand up in front of you today, I’m naturally not afraid of them knowing. So don’t think of using this to threaten me.”

Ryan had never been afraid of anything. The reason why he had been enduring silently all these years was because he was looking for the person who tried to kill him.

“Oh right, why did you run over here in panic? What are you trying to do? Uncle Hall.” Ryan reminded Clarence.

Only then did Clarence think of proper business, “Who exactly are you? Why did someone suddenly call me and ask me to give up on his batch of raw materials? He even asked me to give it to you directly.”

Why should he let this man take advantage of him? He had spent a large sum of money to buy it, so how could he give it away so easily?

The corner of Ryan’s mouth rose slightly. “I didn’t expect this person to do things so quickly. So will you send this batch of goods back to my country, or will you give it to my people directly?”

“You… Fine. I didn’t expect that I would fall into your hands. Since that’s the case, I have nothing to say. I can give you the goods, but I definitely won’t let you off easily.”

Clarence threatened. Today’s matter was indeed due to his carelessness. It seemed like Roman was no match for this man.

“Uncle Hall, I’m really curious about how you will deal with me. I believe that both Eastern and Western European families are not in your favor. Back then, Uncle Hall left home and embarked on a path of no return. And now, you still want to squeeze people from your own country?”

Ryan knew that this man would not easily touch him. Not only because of Western Europe, but also because he had left home for many years and would not easily touch his own compatriots.

“You…” Clarence had been open and dominant in his life. He did not expect that he would capsize in this small sewer. Initially, he thought that victory was within his grasp, but he did not expect Ryan to have such an identity.

“Forget about today’s matter. Even if I buy myself a lesson, Ryan Monor, I advise you not to think that you are so powerful. Sooner or later, you will regret it.”

After saying that, Clarence walked out.

Ryan also went out in a wheelchair. When he reached the door, Jackson and Isaac rushed over and stood behind him.

Clarence had already prepared the original stones, “The goods are already here. You can check it out.”

“Isaac.” Ryan shouted.

Isaac came to Ryan. “What is it?”

“How did his men touch you? Return it to him. My men cannot be bullied by the people overseas.” Ryan was overbearing and did not plan to let it go just like that.

“Ryan, don’t go too far.” Clarence had already given the raw material to him. He didn’t expect that Ryan would still want to deal with his subordinates.

“I only did what I should have done. Uncle Hall, you don’t have to make a fuss about it. After all, you touched my people. I can’t just let him suffer for nothing.”

After saying that, he continued to ask Isaac to find those people who had made a move on him.

In the next second, Isaac found the person and slapped him. That man immediately fell to the ground and didn’t even dare to breathe.

Their boss had already returned all the goods to Ryan. How could he, a subordinate, dare to act rashly?

The others were also knocked down to the ground by Isaac and didn’t dare to fight back.

Ryan was very satisfied when he saw this. “Uncle Hall, I hope that we will have a chance to work together in the future. Today, I will not disturb you anymore. I hope that you can the person clearly before you do anything in the future.”

Clarence clenched his fists tightly. He did not expect that he would be bullied by two brown-haired kids. Then, he punched the wall beside him.

“Ryan Monor, sooner or later, I will make you pay the price.”

“Mr. Hall, should we follow them and see who they really are? Does it have anything to do with Western Europe?”

One of his subordinates directly asked. Their forces were not weak. They had been bullied by the Western European forces for nothing. Naturally, they could not let it go just like that.

“We can’t investigate. Otherwise, we will get ourselves into trouble. This Ryan Monor isn’t simple. How could he do such a thing at such a young age?”

However, Clareance did not expect to see Jackson here. If he had known about this earlier, he wouldn’t have touched these things.

Although Clarence didn’t want Jackson to follow Ryan to run errands, he had to admit that Jackson was much stronger than his peers.

Clarence turned around, his face still cold. “Don’t act rashly during this period of time. Anyone who dares to disobey my orders will die.”
