

Chapter 155 Roman Confessed His Feelings

It was already one o’ clock in the morning, Elena was still working overtime in the company.

Looking at the string of numbers, Elena’s head was a little dizzy. She even felt nauseous for no reason and wanted to throw up.

Mrs. Baker could not contact to her, so she directly came to the company. Seeing that Elena was still working, she ran over with headache. She placed the food in her hand on the table.

“Why are you still not going back? I was very worried so I came over to take a look. Don’t work so hard anymore. Hurry up and go back to rest. Women can’t stay up so late.”

“Mrs. Baker, I still have a lot of accounts that I haven’t checked. There have been some accidents in the company during this period of time. If I don’t find out in time… I’m afraid it will affect Ryan.”

Elena looked at her watch. She did not expect it to be so late. She looked at Mrs. Baker and said, “Thank you for giving me food, and I must investigate within three days. You can go back first.”

Today, Roman had said something about Ryan in front of so many people. It had a bad influence. She couldn’t allow the situation to develop and just sit there and wait for death.

“Alright, alright, I won’t disturb you. You have stayed up all night and haven’t eaten anything, right? Let’s eat first. If you fall ill, I’m afraid Young Master won’t let you continue working.”

Mrs. Baker felt a little headache when she saw her trying so hard, but she could not persuade her.

Elena though about it and agreed. Then, she opened the lunchbox and ate as she sorted out the data.

However, she did not know that there was a person in the dark watching their every move.

The man retreated to the dark and dialed a number. “Boss, that woman is still working overtime. The nanny is sending her food. They are still in the company.”

Roman, who had already rested, sat up, when he heard that. “What did you say? She is still working overtime. Does she not want to live anymore?”

“She is still up there. Do you want us to chase her out?”

That woman was going all out. It wouldn’t take long for her to get the data back, and they would have nowhere to go if the truth was leaked.

“Forget it. You don’t have to keep an eye on her.”

Roman hung up the phone and stood up. He did not feel sleepy anymore. He did not expect Elena to fight so hard for Ryan.

Roman drove back to the company. The light on Elena’s floor was still on.

Elena, who was immersed in working, suddenly heard the sound of footsteps. At this time there should be no one, right?

She turned around and suddenly Roman, who was coming in. she was shocked. “Why are you here?”

Then she turned around and again lowered her head to look at the documents. She said slowly. “Don’t worry. I will definitely investigate that amount. I will definitely not let Ryan take the blame.”

Mrs. Baker saw that Roman came so late and was afraid that he did not have any good intentions. She just watched from the side.

But she saw the way Roman was staring at Elena and felt that Roman had an indescribable feeling towards Elena.

Hearing her words, Roman frowned. “Is Ryan really that important?”

Elena could hear that his tone carried a lot of anger.

“Ryan is my husband. Of course he is important. Is this what big brother came to ask me?” Elena did not even turn her head and continued to organize the information.

Roman snatched the information from her hands and threw it on the ground.

Elena saw that her results from the night were thrown away and instantly got up to scold loudly, “Roman, are you crazy? These are the data that I worked so hard to make. It was all messed up by you.”

“If I was the one who married you back then, would you do the same?”

Roman shouted loudly.

Elena’s eyes widened when she heard him. She did not understand why he said that.

Even if she did not marry Ryan, she would not marry him.

Mrs. Baker was also shocked when she heard this. Roman actually hid such thoughts.

Elena was Roman’s younger brother’s woman. He actually dared to covet his sister-in-law?

If Ryan knew about this… she was afraid both of them would kill each other!
