

Chapter 165 Do You Ever Trust Me?

Mrs. Baker saw that they were about to quarrel and went forward to explain. “Madam, don’t blame him. He has his own reasons for doing this.”

Elena looked at Mrs. Baker in disbelief. “You... You also know this?”

“So you also know this and didn’t get a chance to tell me in such a long period of time. Or is it that I am still an outsider in your heart?”

Elena looked at Mrs. Baker and asked. It seemed that she already knew about it a long time ago and was just not saying it loud.

If she didn’t say her, it was still understandable. But why did Ryan not tell her?

“I...” Mrs. Baker shook her head and sighed. “You should know the current strength of Monor family. If they knew Ryan was pretending, they would still try to frame him. Ryan genuinely likes you and he doesn’t have any disloyalty.”

“So you think, if I know your secret, I will go and tell Roman or Amanda?” Elena’s voice was shaking when she asked this question.

Ryan opened his mouth. He wanted to say something but he couldn’t find any words.

Hearing this loud noise, Xavier, who was outside, came in to check if everything was okay. When he saw Ryan was actually standing in front of Elena, he was shocked.

Did Madam find out?

Elena turned her head and looked at Xavier. Seeing his expression, it seemed that he was not shocked seeing Ryan stood up, but he was shocked because Ryan was standing in front of her.

“You also knew?” Elena looked at Xavier and asked.

Xavier lowered his head, did not daring to look her in eyes.

“So you knew!” Elena suddenly smiled. “Then what about Jackson and Isaac? And Jasper? They must know, right? So everyone around you knows that you are fine and can walk, instead me.”

At this moment, her eyes were already filled with tears. She never felt so wronged before. This feeling was exactly the same as when she was framed by the Lewis family five years ago. She felt both disappointed and betrayed.

Elena looked at Ryan as her tears fell one by one. “Do you ever trust me? Actually you don’t need to answer. I know that you never trust me. In your heart I am always an outsider.”

Seeing her crying, Ryan went forward to hold her. “Elena, I really didn’t mean to hide it from you. Listen to me...”

“No! You simply don’t trust me! Even after living with you for such a long time, I can’t able to gain your trust. It’s okay. I understand. Since I am outsider, why would you like to tell your secrets to me? You don’t need to explain.”

After saying that, Elena shook Ryan’s hand and ran upstairs. At this time, she didn’t want to see him at all. The more she saw him, the heartbroken she became.

However, it was unknown if she was running too fast or she was unable to face the truth, when Elena was about to reach the second floor, she suddenly slipped.

Out of defense, she stretched her hand to hold the bannister, but she lost her balance and she heavily knocked on the bannister. Moreover she hit exactly the place she was hurt before.

Seeing this, the people present in the hall were shocked. Ryan rushed like crazy and carried her up.

At this moment, she was already unconscious and blood was coming out of her forehead.

Looking at the bright red liquid coming out, Ryan’s throat tightened. He shouted while carrying Elena to the room. “Xavier, call a doctor immediately!”

Mrs. Baker was also not better than Ryan. Many things happened in just a few moments. She really didn’t expect Elena would fell down like this.

Ryan placed her on the bed and took out a tissue to wipe the blood from her forehead. His heart was filled with regret. He didn’t expect Elena would take this matter so seriously.

“Young Master, the doctor must be coming now. You should sit in the wheelchair.” Xavier brought the wheelchair over. They could definitely not let Roman or others know that Ryan’s legs were healed. Otherwise, the hard work they had done all these years would be in vein.

Ryan looked at Elena, who was lying unconscious on the bed then slowly got up and sat in the wheelchair. He felt very bitter in his heart.

Soon the doctor came. After inspecting Elena, he told that she didn’t have any serious injury and would be fine after taking some rest.

Hearing this, Ryan’s hanging heart finally fell to the ground. When he saw she was falling from so high, he was so scared that he broke into a cold sweat.

Before meeting Elena, he wasn’t familiar with the word ‘Love’. But after he got her, he finally understood what love was called. He didn’t only fall in love with her, but he was also totally depended on her.

If there was a day, she was to leave from his life, he was afraid he wouldn’t be able to face it.
