

Chapter 176 Surprise

Amara could not believe what the doctor said. “Doctor, is what you said true? There was no misdiagnosis, right?”

“Miss Lewis, is this news so unbelievable to you?”

Ryan sat by the side and spoke slowly. There was a deep mockery in his eyes. This woman had always looked down upon others. And now the expression on her face was really amazing.

Amara still could not believe what she heard. Didn’t the outside world say that this man was inhumane? And he didn’t have any ability of being a man? Then how could he possibly get Elena pregnant?

Could it be that the rumors in the outside world were false?

“But the outside world said that you are not…”

“What did they say about me? That I am not a man? Huh, it seemed that Miss Lewis cared more about the rumors of the outside world her sister.”

Ryan sneered hearing her words and turned to look at Jonathan who was silent all this time. “My wife is pregnant and she can’t stay here any longer. Mr. Lewis, please take care of it.”

Elena was already too tired before. And now she was pregnant, he definitely wouldn’t let his wife and child suffer in this place.

Jonathan knew that Elena could not continue to work here and had to take good care of her pregnancy. “Don’t worry. With me around, I will not let her grandfather suffer any more harm. Furthermore, my father doesn’t have only one granddaughter. He also has Amara.”

Jonathan wasn’t stupid. He knew as long as he could calm Ryan down, he could save his company. And now even heavens were supporting him. At this time, as Elena was pregnant, Ryan’s all focus would definitely be on her. So as long as he met with Ryan’s wishes, he could be saved from bankruptcy.

Jonathan thought it through and said Amara would take care of Mason. In this way, Ryan and Elena would both be stay away from this matter. As long as this couple stayed away from their household matters, everything would be alright.

Amara, however, could not understand it. She had an unhappy look on her face. “Dad, what do you mean? Do you want me to take care of grandpa? I have never taken care of anyone since I am young. I am not like Elena, who could do anything. You should find someone else.”

How could she possibly take care of that old man? She even felt nauseous to look at that sick man. Amara did not want to stay in this dump place and delay her date with Roman.

“Shut up! From now on, you are not allowed to go anywhere. Take good care of your grandfather here. If anything happens to him, I’ll ask you!”

Although Jonathan and Mason didn’t get along well, his father had agreed him to manage the company after all. In this family, the ones who wanted his father to be in trouble the most were his wife and daughter. Just because he didn’t say it, it didn’t mean that he didn’t know that Amara had actually made mistakes again and again.

Jonathan turned to Ryan and said with a smile. “You don’t need to think about the matters here. You should take Elena and take care of her.”

“Since Mr. Lewis already has an idea, then we cannot disturb the two of you anymore.”

Ryan’s words were nothing more than asking the two of them to leave quickly and not disturb Elena’s rest.

A day later.

Elena slowly opened the eyes. It took a few seconds to focus her vision and look around. When she noticed the familiar room, she instantly sat up in shock.

“Where’s Grandpa? Did grandpa wake up?”

“How come you don’t care about yourself? The moment you wake up, you start looking for grandpa. Where do you put me, your husband, in your eyes?”

Ryan was a little dissatisfied in his heart. Although he knew about the relationship between Elena and Mason, he couldn’t help but be jealous.

She was pregnant now. Shouldn’t she prioritize the child at this time?

“Why am I at home? Did Grandpa wake up? Yesterday, I didn’t rest well, so I fainted. Ryan, I am fine now. Please send me to the hospital again. I want to keep an eye on Grandpa.”

After what happened to her parents and grandpa, she really couldn’t trust on the Lewis family anymore. They could do anything for their own benefits. They wouldn’t even hesitate to kill Mason.

When Elena thought this, she quickly grabbed the quilt up and about to put on her shoes and leave. She couldn’t sit and wait for another bad news.

When Ryan saw this, he rushed to the bedside and pressed her again on the bed. “Elena, can you be careful? This is not the time for you to force yourself.”

Mrs. Baker was also shocked by her sudden action. She came forward to support Elena. “Madame, can you take a good rest? You really can’t bear any torment right now.”

Ryan didn’t listen to Elena’s wishes and laid her down on the bed again. Then he carefully tugged her with a thick blanket afraid that she would catch cold.

Mrs. Baker turned around and brought a bowl of chicken soup from the coffee table. She carefully placed it on the bedside table and looked at Elena seriously. “Madame, you should eat something first. You can’t starve at this time.”

Elena looked at the people in front of in puzzlement. She discovered that something was not right. They were behaving abnormally today. She instantly became nervous.

“Why are you guys so nervous today? Did something happen? My grandpa’s condition isn’t good?”

She looked at them nervously, afraid that she would get some bad news from them. She really didn’t want to hear any bad news now.

However, Mrs. Baker smiled. “What are you talking about, child?”

Ryan also smiled gently and said softly, “That’s enough. You don’t need to worry about the hospital. That doctor has started to treat your grandpa. Do you know why did you faint in the hospital yesterday?”

When Elena heard this, she asked with uncertainty. “Did something happen to me?”

She didn’t want to be sick in this moment.

“What are you talking about? You fainted in the hospital before because you are pregnant.”

He was going to be a father very soon!

He was very excited for this new title!

Elena was listening attentively, but when she heard the last sentence, she froze.

Looking at the woman in front of him in a daze and disbelief, the corner of Ryan’s mouth curled up. This was probably the joy of being a mother for the first time.
