

Chapter 179 Uninvited Gues

“What exactly do you want to do?”

Ryan sat in a wheelchair and walked to the sofa. He stared at the woman with evil intentions.

Tina stood up and looked down at the handsome man. She then suddenly slapped Ryan’s leg. “Cousin, do you really not feel your leg?”

Tina took the opportunity when Ryan was not paying attention to pinch Ryan.

When Roman heard about this shocking news, he immediately sent Tina to inquire. If Ryan was really a cripple, there was no way he could get Elena pregnant. But she was already pregnant. So could it be that...

Tina pinched hard on Ryan’s thigh while paying attention to his expression. However, she did not notice any change on his face.

“What exactly do you want to do?” There was a trace of displeasure between Ryan’s brows. He knew very well about what Roman was thinking.

“Nothing. I’m just following my boss’s orders to see if sister-in-law is really pregnant. Since it’s true, then let her rest at home. Roman has already handed all of the company’s matters to me.”

As Tina spoke, she actually had the feeling of climbing onto the wall. She wanted to make Ryan regret his decision of choosing Elena over her.

However, Ryan just smiled faintly. “I remember Amara already knew about the matter between you and Roman. Do you think a woman like Amara would agree Roman to work with you?”

In the bathroom, Elena heard the conversation outside and did not intend to go out.

If it was before she would have already rushed over to beat that woman. But ever since Ryan admitted that he was Leonardo, Elena felt that there was nothing that could trouble him. So she did not want to get involved in such a small matter.

“Well since you came here today, can I trouble you to go back and tell Roman that he can take full responsibility for the company’s matters. My wife is pregnant and needs my care and support. So I plan to take a ten-month leave to accompany her delivery.”

After Ryan finished speaking, Tina’s face was filled with disbelief.

“You... Don’t you know that everyone in the company is eyeing this position like a tiger watching its prey? Roman can’t tolerate you, so why do you have to aim at the muzzle of the gun?”

Tina couldn’t believe this. Was Ryan crazy? How dare he make such a decision? Wasn’t he afraid of losing his position as general manager forever?

Seeing Tina so excited, Ryan narrowed his eyes. Wasn’t she on Roman’s side? Why did it seem like she was still concerned about him?

“I have decided that I must stay by my wife’s side during this period of time to protect her safety.”

“Are you crazy? After such a long period of time, Roman will take away your authority. At that time, it won't be so easy for you to return to Monor family. "

Tina never thought that Ryan would give up so much for Elena. Even if it was the position that he had competed with Roman for many years, would he give it up so easily?

At this time, Elena opened the door and walked out.

When Ryan saw her, he went to the front and held her hand. “Are you alright?”

Elena nodded in response and turned to look at Tina.

Tina's expression changed when she saw her. "How long do you want to delay my cousin? Do you know that he plans to take a year off for you? This way, he can only work for Roman when he returns to the company. "

Work for Roman? Huh?

Elena wanted to laugh seeing this woman’s expression, but she knew she couldn’t.

"I am pregnant now. It is his duty and responsibility to take care of me. And Miss Tina, I remember my husband once said that the two of you are not related by blood. I hope you won't call my husband as cousin next time. Otherwise, he will get angry.”

"You. . . "

"I really don't understand. You are obviously by Roman's side, but now you are concerned about my husband. Do you want to be a fence-sitter? So the wind will blow on both sides. "

This woman had already betrayed him, then why would she say such things? Could it be that she still couldn't let Ryan go?

If that was really the case, Elena would look down on her even more. Since this woman had chosen to stand on Roman’s team, she should at least loyal to him.

This kind of talent on the wall would not be trusted.

"Don't be too arrogant, Elena!”

"You are the one who is arrogant, aren't you? You broke into my house without permission. I am already kind enough not to sue you for trespassing on other people's houses.”

Elena sat on the sofa and peeled an apple for herself. She looked like a hostess.

Tina was extremely angry. She originally knew about Roman's plan and wanted to remind Ryan. But she didn't expect that these two people not only did not appreciate it, but also used such a harsh tone to talk about her.

"Alright. It seems like I have spoken too much today. I will leave now. You two take care of yourselves.”

Tina originally had a glimmer of hope, but now she didn't have any hope. Alright, then don't blame her for not showing mercy in the future.
