

Chapter 181 Emotional Future Grandfather

Otherwise it wouldn’t have happened.

“It has nothing to do with us. She chose her own path. We have no right to interfere, not to mention that she’s suffering for herself.”

Ryan was not worried about anything. He only cared about his wife and the child in her womb.

It was her first time getting pregnant, so she had to be careful.

It was almost time to eat, so after Mrs. Baker prepared food, she called both of them over. After knowing the fact that their Madame was pregnant, all of the servants and workers were extra careful when doing things, afraid of angering their young master.

When Elena was about to step on the stairs, she suddenly felt that her body was hanging on the air. She reached out and wrapped her arms around the man’s neck as she looked at him in puzzlement.

“In the future, whenever there are stairs, I will carry you. Just like this.” As he spoke, he carried her downstairs.

Elena held his neck tightly and shook her head. “Are you kidding me? It’s fine if you are at home, but what about outside? Do you still want to hug me when you see stairs outside? Doesn’t that mean your secret will be exposed? It’s not like I have no hands or legs. I will be careful. Don’t worry.”

Although it was her first pregnancy and she had to be careful in everything, Elena was not a child. So Ryan was worrying too much.

“I just don’t want you to fall.”

As he spoke, Ryan couldn’t help but remember the scene when she was about to fall on that day. She was still pregnant at the moment. It was as if heavens were helping him.

Looking at the expression on his face, Elena smiled and shook her head. She knew he cared about her so she didn’t refuse him.

During the dinner, Ryan was continuously picking up food for Elena. Looking at the mountain like food in her plate, Elena looked at the man in front her speechlessly. “Do I look like an elephant? How can I eat so much food?”

“Eat. If you don’t eat properly, how can you get nutrition?” As Ryan spoke, he picked a salmon slice and placed her in her bowl.

Elena had no option but to eat all the food in front of him.

Mrs. Baker who was at the side looked at the scene and smiled faintly. Ryan was originally a wife manic and now he was even more careful when he did things.

She couldn’t compare this man who was crazily picking food for his wife to that man who was used to sit in a wheelchair with a cold expression on his face. As Mrs. Baker thought of this, she sighed with emotion. Ryan really changed too much after Elena came to his life.

After dinner, Ryan originally wanted to hug Elena and read a book. But unexpectedly he received a call from Charles.

Ryan picked up the phone and said casually. “What is it?”

“I heard you applied for ten months of leave from the company. Do you know what this mean?”

Charles was very angry. Although his voice was not loud, Ryan could tell that this man was trying his best to endure.

"Yes, I did take a leave of absence. Even if I was in the company, it would be useless. That was just an empty position. Since your good son doesn't want me to be in the limelight in the company, doesn't that mean he can do as he wishes? After all, all of your attention is on him now. I'm just a useless person.”

Ryan didn't want to waste any more time talking nonsense with this man. He just wanted to go and accompany his wife and child.

Charles did not expect Ryan to say such words. Both of them were his sons. Ryan's legs were crippled, so he gave the position of general manager to him, not the president. Everyone was eyeing him covetously. Charled did this to protect Ryan.

“Where did you hear this? Both of you are my sons. I will not side with him. All of this is just your mother. . .”

"My mother? When you say that, doesn’t your conscience hurt? All these years. . . If I don't say it, could it be that you all have already forgotten whose child I am? I don't want to talk about my mother anymore. But now, that woman and her son are determined to kill me. "

Ryan coldly interrupted his father's words. Did this man really think that he could show him this so-called familial love?

"Don't let your emotions affect your decisions. I know I have let you down, but I treat you both equally. I will investigate this thoroughly. If you want to rest during this period of time, then rest well. But after half a month, you must come back to work.”

“I can’t. Elena is pregnant.” Ryan directly explained the reason for the matter.

Charles was shocked. After a while, he asked excitedly, "What did you say? Is it true? Alright, alright. I got it. If that's the case, you can go to work whenever you want to. The child is the first child of Monor family. When you want to come back in the future, I'll arrange your position directly. "

When he heard that Elena was pregnant, Charles could not describe his feelings. He had always had a carving for being a grandfather. But the unexpected thing was it was actually Ryan who fulfilled this dream.

Although the relationship between him and his son was not good, Ryan was his youngest son after all. And the child in Elena’s womb was his first grandchild. So there was no doubt that he was pleasantly surprised and happy.

Facing his father's agitation, Ryan did not have much of a reaction.

After thinking for a while, he slowly said, “Yes. You don't have to worry about the company's position. I have my own arrangements. But take good care of Roman during this period of time. If he comes to disturb me again, I won't be polite to him. "

"He is currently busy with the company's matters. How can he have the energy to disturb you? Come back tomorrow night. I will ask your mother to make some delicious food for Elena.”
