

Chapter 186 Gift For His Future Grandchild

"Dad, don't say that. You are the father of Ryan and I. We will be filial to you in the future. I don't want to get involved in the matters of Monor family, but I want to tell something. No matter what, a family is still a family. Don't let the property be divided amongst outsiders. "

To the Monor family, Elena was an outsider, and Amara was also an outsider. So they should not hand everything over to the two women. There were some things that needed to be clearly distinguished.

If some things that shouldn't be involved were to be involved at that time, it would be a huge problem.

"I know what you said, but sometimes I have to take into account the relationship between the two of them. Just like you and Ryan are married, so I have to take Ryan's feelings into consideration. I also have to consider your feelings. You also know that Roman and Amara are different from you and Ryan. Using the same method to deal with their problems is impossible. Furthermore, Amara's ambition is very big. She would not give up on the Monor family, nor would she give up on Roman. That's why this woman is very difficult to control. "

Charles really admired Amara's endurance. Not everyone could withstand it, let alone a young lady.

Hearing this, Elena shook her head. No one knew Amara better than her.

"My sister is also spoiled. It's not that I want to say bad things about her. I just feel that she has become more and more arrogant these few years. I don't know if it is because she is with Roman. Actually, there is something I have to say. Although Amara and Roman are together, their relationship wasn't firm. If there is anyone stronger than Roman in Monor family, Amara will not hesitate to betray him. "

Elena knew Amara very well. To her, there was nothing better than her family and worth showing off.

"You are right. This woman is not a good person and cannot be left alive. But they are already engaged. If we break off the marriage on our own, outsiders will think that our Monor family does not like them." Charles still couldn't think of a feasible solution. He shook his head helplessly.

"Forget it. Let's talk about you first. "

Elena sat by the side, not knowing what Charles wanted to say. In the next second, Charles took out a box somewhere.

He gave to Elena and smiled. “Open it.”

Elena was puzzled and opened the box. The next moment she froze on the spot.

There was an exquisite bracelet inside the box. It was filled with different diamonds, pearls and jade stones. There were beautiful flower patterns engraved in it. With one look, anyone could be fascinated it.

Charles looked at her surprised look and smiled gently. "This is the bracelet my mother left behind. She wanted to give it to her daughter-in-law. But unfortunately she left before she saw her daughter-in-law. I don't want to give it to Roman's mother. So I kept it until now. But I finally found the owner of this bracelet. You are the most suitable person for this.”

Elena never expected Charles to say all this to her and even give her such an important bracelet. She was a little flattered. "Dad, this thing is too precious. You should keep it for now.”

“There is no outsider here, so I want to tell you something. You must have known that Ryan is not Amanda’s son. So there are somethings that I have to do even if I don’t want to.”

“In front of outsiders, I have no choice but to pretend. If I treat you too well, it will inevitably cause others to hate you. But now, there are only the two of us, so I don’t want to pretend. You are carrying Ryan's child, which is also my first grandchild. Please don't reject it."

Charles had lived for more than half of his life. He had seen all kinds of things. Both Roman and Ryan were his sons. He did not want to be biased, nor did he want to make any mistakes. But it was indeed difficult to be fair, yet he wanted to do his best.

Ryan did not care about the money in his family nor he cared about material possessions, but Roman wanted those things.

Both of them were extreme people.

Even though he wanted to support Ryan, with Amanda around he couldn’t do it. Otherwise, Ryan would be the one who would be harmed at the last.

He had investigated the car accident all these years, but he did not find any clues. All the surveillance videos had been destroyed.

Charles had no way to investigate.

Elena looked at the old man in front of carefully. She knew that the Monor family was just a show on the surface, but in fact, they were already in a state of disunity.

It was a fortunate thing that Ryan was born with an extraordinary mind. Otherwise with these people vicious people around, she was afraid he mightn’t be able to live till now if he was not careful enough.
