

Chapter 202 Director Scott’S Call

"Ryan, can you bring me to see my mother?" Elena shook Ryan’s hand and begged bitterly. For five years, her mother had been living a life worse than death. As a daughter she was very regretful that she couldn’t do anything.

"Take care of yourself first. I will take care of your mother's matters. You stay at home and wait for Director Scott's call.”

Director Scott would definitely be anxious when he knew that Eleanor was gone. At that time, he would definitely contact Elena.

Ryan knew how important Eleanor was to Elena, but he could not touch Director Scott now because they did not have any evidence. Furthermore he also didn’t know who was behind the scenes, so he definitely wouldn’t let Elena go to that place again.

Jasper took a report and handed it to Elena. "Madam, as Mrs. Lewis has been injected with sedatives, you have to be prepared that she will not wake up."

Elena's eyes were somewhat empty. "I know. If my mother wakes up, please tell me immediately. "

"Yes, Madam." Jasper nodded.

Ryan watched Elena rest before leaving with Jasper.

Ryan returned to the car with a cold expression, "If there's anything else you need to tell me, tell me all at once."

Jasper knew that there was nothing he could hide from Ryan. "According to the test report, Eleanor's body not only has a sedative, but also a drug that can make people hallucinate."

"No wonder Director Scott did not allow others to provoke Eleanor."

Jasper nodded. "That's right. When I took the test report, I was also shocked. Who was so cruel and merciless?"

"It seems like the Lewis family is even more ruthless than I had imagined. Adeline and Elena have a grudge against each other, but they are all straightforward people. They don't seem like people who have such meticulous thoughts.”

"Don't leak any information. Continue to investigate. We must keep an eye on the old master of Lewis family as well. I'm worried that those people will use the same method to deal with Mason." Ryan reminded with a cold expression.

He didn’t expect this would be the outcome. Looks like there were many people involved in this matter.

In the ward, Eleanor was lying on the bed with a pale face and no anger. If it was not for the numbers on the instrument, it would not be possible to tell that she was alive.

The doctor walked out with the medical report and sighed as he walked. He only looked up when he bumped into Ryan. "Sorry, Director Monor."

"How is it? Is my mother-in-law alright?" Ryan waved his hand and asked with concern.

The doctor said helplessly, "Not very optimistic. The amount of sedative in her body is too high. Even if she wakes up, she will be silly all year round. "

"Is there not any way to wake her up?" Ryan frowned.

"It's very difficult." The injection had been going on for five years. It was not easy to get rid of it.

"If we use the best equipment to treat it, what is the probability of Eleanor waking up?" Ryan asked again.

The doctor was silent for a while before he shook his head. "Sorry, I am not sure about that."

Eleanor's life was completely hanging by a thread with medicine. If anything were to go wrong, something big would happen.

"You can do it." Ryan patted the doctor on the shoulder. The doctor immediately felt a lot more pressured.

"Don't worry, Second Master. I will do my best." Although it was troublesome, the doctor still agreed.

Jasper saw that it was getting late. It was inappropriate for them to stay outside for too long, so he urged Ryan to hurry up. "Second Master, it's almost dark. Madam is at home by herself.”

"Got it." Ryan nodded at the doctor. "Thank you for your hard work."

After returning to the villa, Ryan walked to the door of the room. In the room Elena was still sleeping soundly. Suddenly he heard the sound of a phone call coming from Elena's phone. It sounded like it was from Director Scott.

The sound woke Elena up and she sat up straight and looked at Ryan in confusion.

Ryan walked to the bedside and took Elena's phone. Sure enough it was from Director Scott. He gestured Elena with his eyes and turned on the speaker.

As soon as the phone was turned on, Director Scott's anxious voice came from inside, "Elena, do you know where your mother went?”

"Director Scott, what happened?" Elena's tone was urgent and there was a hint of sobbing in her voice.
