

Chapter 204 Discuss Marriage

Amara ran to Adeline's room and hugged her. "Mom, just now my dad said that he was going to the Monor family to propose marriage."

Adeline immediately stood up in surprise, after hearing that, "Really?"

"It's even more real than pearls.”

"All these years have not been in vain. If the matter between you and Roman can be settled, I also have a matter on my mind." Adeline was very pleased.

The next day, Jonathan came to Charles's house early in the morning.

When Charles and Amanda saw Jonathan carrying so many things coming with a smile, they could already guess what was going on.

Charles smiled. "You haven't come to my house for a long time. I thought you were busy with work and didn't want to enter our house.”

Jonathan sat down on the sofa. "What are you talking about? I was indeed busy in the past. But I came because I have something important to discuss with you today.”

"You are welcome. You and I have been friends for many years. If you have anything to say, just say it.” Jonathan also sat down and said with a smile.

"I actually came to discuss the marriage of the two children with you. Amara and Roman are not young anymore. I also hope that the marriage between the two of them can be settled as soon as possible. It is also considered the wish of Amara and her mother." Jonathan said.

Amanda pursed her lips. They knew very well what kind of situation the Lewis family was in right now. So it was not strange that they would want to rush the marriage between two families.

She handed the fruit to Jonathan. "Eat the fruit. I don't think the marriage between the two children needs to be rushed. Furthermore Roman is developing his career right now. So let's wait for a while.”

Charles frowned when he heard what Amanda said. He gestured for her to sit down and not say anything.

From the words Jonathan could also see that Amanda did not want her son to marry Amara. He was a little embarrassed.

Charles saw Jonathan's embarrassment and said, "Actually, I have already thought about this matter. It is just that I have been too busy recently. If you do not come today, I will also pay a visit to discuss the marriage of the two children tomorrow.”

Charles’s attitude was completely different from Amanda’s. Jonathan felt a little more at ease when he heard these words.

Amanda wanted to retort when Charles glared at her. So she had no other choice but to shut her mouth.

Just the two of them discussed which day they should set the date, Roman actually came back from outside.

Charles looked at Roman and frowned slightly. Shouldn't he be at the company at this time? What was he doing here?

"Why did you come back?"

"I forgot to take a furniture file with me which is in the study. I came back to get it. When did you come, Uncle? "

Roman greeted Jonathan. "The company has been too busy lately. I don't have time to visit you. You won't blame me, will you?"

"How could that be? Your career is good. I don't worry if Amara is handed over to you." Jonathan smiled.

"You guys chat. I'll go upstairs to get my things first." Roman nodded and prepared to go upstairs.

"Roman, wait a minute. We are discussing your marriage with Amara. What do you think?" Charles stopped Roman.

"I don't have any objections, but there is no need for a big wedding." Roman smiled.

Charles and Amanda did not attend Ryan's wedding. So it was better to keep a low profile.

It would be good if the Monor family keep some things between themselves. In the eyes of outsiders, they had to treat everyone equally.

Charles raised his head and looked at Jonathan. "What do you think? If you feel that we have mistreated Amara, we will discuss it again. We can't let your child suffer a loss.”

However, Jonathan only smiled faintly. "Just listen to Roman!"
