Chapter 217 Kidnapped

Adeline originally didn't want to hide this matter from Jonathan. But if he knew about it, he would definitely be furious.

But just as she wanted to tell, she was threatened by this mysterious caller. So she could only listen to his orders and follow it.

"Impossible! How could Ryan still be sitting in a wheelchair? His legs have long healed. Did you not see it clearly?"

He wanted to confirm whether Ryan had fully recovered. If he had, he would never let this matter rest.

"This matter can't be fake. I have never lied to you. Because I have already entered the police station for this matter. Do you think I will still lie?"

Adeline couldn't understand one thing. Ryan was clearly a cripple and could not walk at all. But why this man insisted on her to confirm it again and again. She was already tired of it.

There was pause on the other end of the call before the person again spoke, "Okay fine! But remember one thing. Don't go to their house without my person next time. Otherwise the consequences will not be very good for you."

Hearing this, Adeline was so angry that she was breathing heavily. But other than agreeing to this person she didn't have much option left.

After hanging up the phone call, Adeline sat on the edge of the bed and pondered for a long time. Who exactly was this person?

It has been a long time since this person was connecting to her. But she couldn't find out who it was as this person always used a voice modulator. She didn't even know if this person was a man or a woman.

But one thing she was sure about. That is this person was targeting Ryan!

It was a very sunny morning. Elena sat on the courtyard and having a very confortable sunbathing. In these months, this was one of her favorite works.

She slowly caressed her stomach with was as big as a ball. Last time they went for the checkup, the doctor confirmed that she was having twins. She couldn't describe her feelings at that moment. It was unexpected.

Feeling the little kicks of her children, she thought she was the happiest woman in the world.

At this time, she noticed that a man, wearing a neat business suit, was running towards her like a crazy.

Elena sat upright and looked at the sweating man who was panting heavily. She asked curiously. "Did something happen? I've never seen you sweating like this before."

Ryan was panting heavily and his forehead was full of sweat. It seemed like he ran to fast to come here.

Hearing her question, Ryan didn't reply anything. Instead he looked at her up to down scanning carefully. Then he went forward and hugged Elena.

Elena smiled and said, "You are so old. Why are you still like this? Your expression is so bad. Did something happen?"

"Sorry! I made you worry. When I went outside today, a stranger told me that your life was in danger. So I rushed back. I'm relieved that you're alright!"

When he went out to buy something today, a stranger suddenly came in front of him and told him that Elena's life was in danger and if he didn't take care of her properly, she would probably lose her life.

At first, he didn't believe this man's words. But then he suddenly felt something and rushed back. Now seeing her fit and fine, his hanging heart finally fell onto the ground.

In this world, He really could not imagine if something would happen to Elena, or else he would go crazy.

"You really are a fool. How could something happen to me? Don't worry. With you around, no one will do anything to me. I'm going to have the babies soon. It won't be long before I need to be hospitalized. You don't have to worry too much."

During the pregnancy, Ryan was even weaker than a pregnant woman like her. Those who did not know would think that Ryan had pregnancy syndrome.

Ryan hugged Elena tightly. He could not bear to lose this woman.

After hearing those words for that stranger, no one knew what happened but Ryan refused to leave Elena's side. It was as if he leave, something would happen to her.

Elena simply smiled helplessly. She really couldn't do anything about it.

In the afternoon, Ryan suddenly received a call from Amber. She said that something urgent had happened and he needed to come to deal with it.

Ryan originally wanted to refuse but Amber was too serious that he couldn't refuse at all.

Thus Elena was alone, sitting on the living room and watching some random shows to kill her boredom.

At this time, she saw that Mrs. Baker was going outside to throw the rubbish. She hurriedly stopped her. "Mrs. Baker, let me do this."

Mrs. Baker immediately refused when she heard this. "No way Madam! You are seven months pregnant. You can't do such a thing or else Young Master will kill me."

"Your Young Master will not say anything. Anyway I am bored here and want to breathe some fresh air. I will throw the rubbish along the way. It's not a big problem." Elena said as she walked up to Mrs. Baker.

"But..." Mrs. Baker was still a little reluctant. But Elena didn't give her any chance to refuse as she went outside.

Reaching the door, she suddenly remembered something and turned around, "I want to eat fist fries tonight. Make sure to make it."

"Okay Madam." Mrs. Baker smiled as she went back to kitchen.

Elena went outside the villa. There were a few bodyguards guarding the gate. They greeted her as soon as they saw her coming.

Elena simply nodded as she went forward to throw the rubbish.

However, just as she was about to went back, a black car suddenly stopped behind her.

A group of people came out of the car and blocked Elena's mouth as they dragged her inside the car.

Elena didn't even have the time for calling for help, before she was already taken away by those people.

When the bodyguards saw the situation, they immediately went forward to save their Madam but they were knocked out by the group of men.

Elena slowly opened her eyes. She felt that whole world was spinning around her and she couldn't focus her vision for a moment.

Elena slowly regained her senses and found that there was only darkness around her. She was already in a dark and damp basement. Her legs and hands were tied by ropes and she couldn't move much.

She didn't know who kidnapped her, so she tried to call for help.

"Is there anyone? Help!"

"Help! I am here! Is there anyone!"

She shouted at the top of her lungs hoping that someone would come. However, no matter how she shouted, no one came.

When Ryan returned home, he saw the unconscious bodyguards on the ground, and his heart burned with anxiety.

He didn't even have the time to sit on the wheelchair, when he rushed inside.

As soon as he reached to the door, he spotted the unconscious Mrs. Baker, who was lying near to the door. Ryan's heart shrank when he saw this.

He hurriedly woke Mrs. Baker up and asked, "Mrs. Baker, where is Elena? Why did you faint on the ground?"

But when Ryan touched the back of Mrs. Baker's head and found a lot of blood.

At this time, a bodyguard who had fainted earlier woke up and looked at Ryan as he stuttered to speak. "Madam... Kidnapper... took..."

Before he could finish his words, he fainted again.

Looking at the situation, Ryan quickly asked his men to take Mrs. Baker and the others to the hospital.

Through the surveillance video at home, Ryan found that, Elena was taken away when she went outside.

"Damn it! Someone actually dared to kidnap Elena! If something happened to Elena and my children, I will definitely not let this matter rest." Ryan gritted his teeth as veins popped out of his forehead. He wanted to bury that person alive.

Jasper, who was attending a phone call, turned around and said to Ryan. "Sir, Mrs. Baker's brain has suffered a heavy blow. She is currently being rescued!"

"Investigate the kidnappers first. These people definitely did not have an impromptu idea. I don't care what method you use. You must find Elena as soon as possible!"

Ryan was about to go crazy. Elena was pregnant now. Who was so crazy to hurt a pregnant woman?

Looking at the ferocious man in front of him, Jasper did not dare to delay the investigation.

Elena was still in the basement. She did not dare to call for help anymore. If this continued, she was afraid of hurting her children.

At this time, the door suddenly pushed open and a few people walked into the dark room from outside.

Hearing their footsteps coming closer and closer, Elena hurriedly closed her eyes and didn't even dare to breathe loudly. She was afraid that if she provoked the other party, her ticket would be torn.

But strangely the group of people didn't say anything and just looked at her coldly.

Seeing the situation, Elena knew that she couldn't escape so she could only bite the bullet.

"You kidnapped me just for money. How much money the other party gave you, I will pay double. As long as you let me and my child go."

Elena hoped that she could let these people see her sincerity with her eyes closed. Perhaps, she could save her and the child's lives.

"Tsk tsk tsk... Look at you. Marrying Ryan isn't a good thing. "
