Chapter 225 Buy The Whole Monor Group

After Ryan finished his instructions, he went to the Monor family with some people.

On the way, Jasper who was driving glanced at the man sitting in the back through the rearview mirror. He only glanced for a second before moving his eyes. The man looked so gloomy that he felt scared. It was as if he was a demon just crawled out of the hell.

Jasper didn't know if Roman would be dead or alive a few moments later.

The car quickly reached at the entrance of the villa and Ryan went in.

When Amanda, who was sitting in the living room and enjoying her afternoon tea, saw him, her eyes were erratic and the corners of her mouth curled up slightly. She said mockingly, "What wind blew you, Ryan the Great Buddha, here?"

Ryan never expected this woman to be nice to him. Since they had already fallen out, there was no need to continue pretending.

Ryan didn't even bother to greet the old woman who was mocking him and directly shouted.

"Roman, come out now. I have something to tell you."

Roman who just happened to come to get some information heard the loud shout. He frowned and walked out. He didn't expect to meet Ryan so coincidentally.

Roman naturally disliked Ryan from his bones. Now when he heard Ryan shouting his name so daringly, his face turned cold. "Wow, you are here. Well if you have something to say, just say it. I don't have the time to talk about life philosophy with you."

Ryan looked at the man in front of him with a deadly gaze. He really wanted to rush forward and punch the brain out of this man's head.

Ryan looked at Roman domineeringly and sneered. "Since you don't have the time to talk to me, I can only take to you away to have a proper talk. Jasper, take him away!"

In the next second, Jasper did not wait for Roman to say anything. He immediately went forward with some other men, grabbed Roman and took hostage of him.

Looking at the scene in front of her, Amanda was so scared that her tea cup fell from her hand. She hurriedly stood up and rushed towards Ryan.

Amanda pointed at his nose and shouted, "Ryan, why did you catch my son? Let go of him right now!"

Ryan looked at the excited woman coldly. "What I want to do is my business. You don't have to worry about it. Just take care of your own business. When this matter is settled, I will naturally return your son to you."

After saying that, Ryan signaled Jasper and let those people take Roman away.

However, Amanda came in front of Ryan and grabbed his wheelchair. She stopped him and shouted. "What do you want to do? Your legs are already lame, and you still dare to play in front of us!"

Hearing these words, however, the corner of Ryan's mouth raised slightly. Dare to play with them? He would now show these people what he dared to do!

In the next second, he pushed Amanda who was grabbing the wheelchair in the front. Just when Amanda did not know what he was going to do, Ryan suddenly stood up and kicked the wheelchair out.

Bang!

The wheelchair smashed into the ground making a loud crush.

Ryan looked down at the woman in front of him and asked his a mocking tone. "What? You still think I am a cripple?"

Amanda, who was shouting just a moment ago, was so shocked that her mouth was wide open in surprise.

When Ryan used to sit on the wheelchair, he was always lower than her so she had a habit of looking down on him. But now when he stood up, he was actually so tall that Amanda had to raise her head to talk to him.

Amanda pointed at him but she actually couldn't utter a single word. She never would have thought that her step son, whom she hated all her might, actually had been recovered long ago.

Roman, who was being pressed by a few men, saw that Ryan actually stood up and said in disbelief, "You. . . You actually recovered?"

"What? Big brother is very disappointed?" Ryan looked at his so called "big brother" and sneered.

Roman broke free from Jasper and rushed towards Ryan. He grabbed Ryan's collar and asked, "You have been lying to us all this time. You have been recovered from a long time, right?"

Ryan kicked him away to the ground and tidied his clothes. "When you caused me to get into a car accident and snatched my position as the company's president, you should have thought that today would come. This is all your fault."

This man even caused his wife to suffer so much pain. He would settle every score with this man slowly one by one.

Roman stood up from the ground. He was about to come forward and punch Ryan, however, he received a phone call from the company. The other party said that the company had been transferred to someone else's name.

When Roman heard the other party's words, he stared with his eyes wide open. "How could this be?"

"I changed the legal representative. You are still the president, but you don't have any real power in the future. Are you satisfied with this result?"

Ryan was satisfied with Roman's surprised expression. He walked over to the sofa, sat down and crossed his legs domineeringly.

"Great. Very good! I did not expect that the child I raised for more than 20 years would actually be a wolf in a sheep's clothing. If I knew this would happen, I would not have been soft-hearted and strangled you to death."

Only now did Amanda regain her voice. She looked at Ryan and said hatefully. She really regretted her actions back then.

Hearing these words, Ryan coldly snorted, "Unfortunately, you knew it too late."

"Aren't you worried about your wife? If you really want to cause trouble everywhere, aren't you worried that she will be in trouble?" Roman looked at Ryan and threatened.

He actually dared to talk about Elena?

Ryan instantly stood up. His face was gloomy and scary. "You are not qualified to talk about her."

Elena was still in the hospital and was still unbalanced. She only knew to look for her own children. His two children were still being rescued because of the infection.

Hearing the name of Elena and his newborns and remembering how much she and those tiny lives were suffering at this time, Ryan instantly became ferocious. Veins popped out on Ryan's arm as he placed it on Roman's neck.

Roman's face turned red and blue as he felt the intense pressure on his neck, which was being squeezed by Ryan. He struggled but it was in vain. It seemed Ryan was really determined to kill him today.

When Amanda saw this, she wanted to pull the two of them apart, but Ryan did not have any intention of letting go.

"Ryan, if there is anything you want to do, come at me. I am the one who did everything. Don't blame my son for it."

Amanda shouted anxiously.

"Ryan, what do you want to do? Let go of him."

At this time, Charles, who was upstairs, hurriedly ran in. As the chairman of the Monor Group, he naturally heard the news of Monor Group.

He initially thought that Ryan didn't have the strength after the car accident, but he didn't expect that Ryan would be able to buy the entire Monor family company in one night.

It was something that even he as the chairman couldn't do.

When Charles realized that Ryan was actually standing, he asked in surprise, "Ryan... Your leg... Is your leg alright?"

Ryan turned around and looked at his father coldly. Then he pointed the mother and son duo and sneered. "If I did not disguise myself, how would they let down their guard? You always thought that it was me who I made a mistake, but it was actually their meticulous plan."

Hearing this, Charles looked at Roman and Amanda in bother anger and disbelief. "Is it true? Did you guys really plan Ryan's accident?"

"How is that possible? He caused the accident himself and now blaming us? It has nothing to do with us. Even if I am not his biological mother, he still owes me a favor for raising him for more than 20 years. Charles Monor, back then, I was carrying Roman, you were actually looking for other women outside. In order to save the face of Monor family, I have never mentioned this to anyone before. After so many years of tolerance, can it be that I still can't gain a shred of trust from you?"
