

Chapter 226 Mother’S Call

When Amanda got married to Charles, her family background was much stronger than Charles’s. It was only because of her family that she kept putting on airs. So when she knew that Charles actually cheated on her, she wanted to file divorce with him.

However, later on, her family’s business was declined and she didn’t have much option left. So even though she was unwilling, she had to endure some things.

But she didn't expect that even after a few decades of relationship, she would be exchanged by such a sentence.

Amanda looked at Charles as she spoke and then she started to cry.

Ryan clapped his hands when he heard that. "What a good acting. It’s a pity that you are not in the entertainment industry. Otherwise the Monor Family would be even more famous. But I have to remind you one thing, that there are gods in the sky. All the evil deeds you have done will be punished one by one." Ryan stared coldly at the mother and son pair as he spoke.

Just as he was about to say something, he received a call from the hospital. After receiving the call, Ryan didn’t want to be bothered with these hypocritical people anymore. He turned around and left without saying another word.

Charles looked at Ryan’s determined back and turned to Roman. "What did you do? Why was the company acquired?"

Charles could tell that the reason why Ryan wanted to buy over the Monor Group so suddenly was all because of Amanda and Roman.

"Dad, how do we know, why Ryan went crazy? I was waiting for you to come back for dinner today, but I didn't expect Ryana to suddenly come back and stand up. It looks like his legs are fine, but he pretended to be in a wheelchair to trick us. I really don't know what he's thinking!"

Roman retorted. He really hated Ryan. He did not expect Ryan to suddenly become so powerful. Everything that he had planned and done over the years was in vain.

"Back then, I told you two brothers to be peaceful. What did you two do? Now, everything belongs to Ryan. Let's see how you're going to live."

Charles was very disappointed. They were both his sons, so why was there such a huge difference between them?

Charles took out his phone and dialed a number that he remembered in his heart. But no matter how many times he called, he didn't get through to it. In the end, he could only send a message.

Then, the text immediately popped up and he stared at the reply. That "get lost" word, Charles knew that this woman's character was as stubborn as always.

Charles had never thought that he would meet Ryan's mother. Back then, he married Amanda only because of the pressure of his elders. It was only a business alliance. Faced with the family's interests and the pressure from the elders, he could only do so.

Actually, he already knew that Amanda fell in love with him at first sight. So she did everything she could to marry him.

Even though Charles knew this, he did it for his own selfishness.

After Amanda got pregnant, he went for a business trip. There he met Ryan's mother. When he saw Ryan mother, only at that moment did he know what true love was.

He fell for her from the first sight.

Charles originally thought that he could control his surging emotions, but he didn't expect that he couldn’t control himself and in the end, he would still be together with Ryan's mother.

And Charles knew very well that he had let both Amanda and Ryan’s mother down.

But he couldn't do it. He couldn't let Layla go no matter what.

Since that was the case, he would treat both of them better. Charles only hoped that he didn't owe any one of them. He also didn't want them to suffer any harm, but at the same time, he hurt both of them more and more.

"It has been so many years, and you still don't want to see Ryan?"

Charles sent another message, but just like the previous one, there was no response.

He knew very well that the knot in Layla's heart had not been resolved yet. She was not willing to face him, and she was even more unwilling to face Ryan.

At that time, Ryan was sitting silently in the hospital and watching Elena sleeping soundly. Unexpectedly, at this moment, his phone suddenly rang.

When he saw the caller ID on the screen, he was surprised for a moment before picking up the phone excitedly. Unexpectedly, the moment the call connected, his mother's unhappy voice came from the other side.

"Ryan, take care of your father. If he continues to disturb me, don't blame me for being ruthless. "

"He still dares to call you?"

Ryan did not expect Charles to be so shameless and still dare to contact his mother.

Since his mother could hide from her own biological son and not meet him for so many years, then she could as well meet him at any time.

Layla's tone towards Ryan was not very good, but he could still hear a faint concern from her. "That damned father of yours told me that your legs are healed."

This was indeed good news for his mother.

When he was hit by the car back then, she might have wanted to come back and take a look, but due to many years of unresolved knot in her heart, she was ultimately unwilling to face the father and son pair.

"Yes, it’s healed."

Although it was just a simple word, Ryan's heart had already stirred up a storm. One should know that this was the first time his mother cared about him.
