

Chapter 228 This Is Not How To Carry A Child

The nurse couldn't help but laugh when she saw Ryan's clumsy and careful movements.

"Mr. Monor, this is not how you carry a child. Don't be nervous. Let me show you."

After saying that the nurse carefully took the child from Ryan's hand, held in her hand and showed to him.

Following the nurse's instructions, he again held the child carefully.

When he held the child in his arms again, Ryan's heart was filled with endless emotions. Even his eyes were moist.

It was may be the joy of becoming a father for the first time. It was unspeakable. Even when he built a multi-billion company overseas, he wasn't as happy as now, when he held his daughter in his arms for the first time.

Ryan couldn't help but slightly kissed on the little girl's forehead and caressed her face gently.

His little daughter looked at him happily and giggled.

Ryan then looked at his son who was continuously moving his little hands and legs eagerly waiting for his father to hold him.

Looking the little guy's movement, Ryan laughed and carefully put down his daughter, then held his son in his arms. This time he was much more experienced. He looked at the little guy in his arms and kissed him slightly.

"Mr. Monor, you just saw the two children. Naturally, you are a little excited. Your daughter just had an operation, so she was a little weak. But don't worry both the children are in a good condition. Now, you just need to take care of your wife."

After hearing the nurse's reminder, Ryan calmed down and put down the little boy in the baby cot. He looked at their little faces and said slowly, "Rest well my babies. Dad needs to take care of your mom. Dad will come to see you again."

Then he looked at his two newborns intensely again and turned around to take care of his wife.

However, he was very irritated. They should be very happy at this moment. They should be celebrating for the arrival of their babies. But Elena was still stimulated and unconscious.

Elena had become like this because of those kidnappers. Once he found those people, he would definitely let them get the punishment they deserved.

The next morning, Ryan assigned some bodyguards to protect Elena and the twins and went to the company early in the morning.

At this moment, all the upper management of the Monor Group was present at the conference table. However, their faces didn't look very good.

Those directors had long heard the news of Monor Group being bought over. Although they also knew that Ryan was definitely not an ordinary person, they just did not expect that he would directly buy over the Monor family.

It was really scary.

This man must have made arrangements for such a big deal to happen all of a sudden.

Roman was also sitting at the side. His facial expression wasn't very good. The change in his identity was something that no one could accept in the blink of an eye.

When Ryan, Jasper, and Xavier arrived at the company, everyone stood up to welcome them. After all, many of them were their subordinates.

At this moment, the door of the conference room was pushed open with a swash. A tall man wearing a fine tailored Italian suit went in, following by two bodyguards.

All the people in the conference table looked at the door and subconsciously looked for the wheelchair. Because they always had seen Ryan in a wheelchair, they naturally thought that he would come in a wheelchair.

However, all they saw was a pair of long and strong legs.

All the directors followed their line of sight and looked at the face of the man. The moment they noticed who he was, they were all dumbfounded. All the directors were so shocked that their mouths were wide open and they didn't blink for a long time.

Ryan Monor was able to move freely. Was his leg healed?

If yes, then when did his legs heal? And how come they didn't know?

Ryan naturally saw the surprise and doubt in everyone's eyes. He said solemnly, "My legs have been healed a long time ago. However, in order to avoid some people taking advantage of my situation, I have always been deliberately suffering from leg injuries. I'm sure you all know why I came here today."

Roman sat at the side. When he heard these words, his face was dark and gloomy. He looked at the high-spirited man in front of him and spoke slowly. "So you have been pretending all this time. You have really put on a good show. Why? Now that the show is over, you should stop acting, right?"

"Big Brother, it seems you're not convinced. But so what? You are still defeated. I have already acquired the Monor Group. Your position as the CEO is no longer guaranteed."

Buying the Monor Group was just a matter of a word from Ryan.

"Ryan, the Monor Group is yours. Even if I wanted to rob it, it would be useless. You are quite proud to see your own brother in such dire straits."

Roman was still not convinced. He was unwilling to lose to Ryan, but it was a unchangeable truth.

At this time, there was another person present at the conference table whose face was even uglier than Roman.

In the past, she knew that Ryan was very powerful, but Tina didn't expect that he would be able purchase the entire Monor Group directly over night. Back then, she had misjudged him and bet on the wrong treasure.

Now looking at the situation in front her, Tina really regretted her choice.

But if she went to beg Ryan now, would she have the chance to return to his side?

Tina thought about this possibility and clenched her fists.

Roman felt that what his mother said before was right. Even if he lost in the end. . . Even if he couldn't compare to Ryan, he didn't want to get any charity from Ryan, let alone be humiliated by him.

"Don't think that you can defeat our Monor family just because you can cooperate with Leonardo Reynolds. Let me tell you, as long as I don't die, I, Roman Monor, will rise again and will still be your enemy." Roman pointed at Ryan and said hatefully.

Upon hearing this, Ryan found it funny. "Being able to obtain Leonardo Reynolds' help is also my capability. Take you for example. What kind of ability do you not have? Unfortunately, I'm afraid that Leonardo Reynolds doesn't even know who you are."

It wasn't that Ryan looked down on Roman, but that this man was narrow-minded. Ryan wanted him to leave this place and go out to train. It was also good.

Even then if Roman didn't understand his painstaking efforts, then he could only be a useless person for the rest of his life.

However, with Amanda teaching Roman, what else could he possibly learn? It was just that he was headstrong and self-centered man.

Fortunately, he had already seen through Amanda's character few years ago. Otherwise, even he would have been misled.
