

Chapter 236 Everyone Has The Right To Give Things To Her, Only You Don’T Have The Right!

The next morning.

When Ryan woke up early in the morning, Elena was still sleeping soundly in his arms. Last night after Elena said what happened that day, she became silent again. No matter how many times, he called her out, she didn’t respond to him. It was as if she returned to her previous state again.

Ryan looked at the little woman beside him and kissed her forehead gently. He tugged her into the blanket and got up.

As soon as Ryan went downstairs, he saw Jasper waiting for him outside.

"Young Master, I found him. But when we went, he had already disappeared. The blanket on his bed was not folded yet. When we went after him, it was still warm.”

“It seems like he had already heard that we are looking for him, that’s why he was hiding from us."

As Jasper spoke, he took out a photo and handed it to Ryan. "This is a photo we found at his house. I don't know if it is the Finn Biggs mentioned by Madam."

Actually, this matter was easy to handle. He just needed to put this photo in front of Madam and let her take a look, whether it is the person she was looking for. But this method was a bit inappropriate at this moment. . .

They didn’t know what exactly happened in that warehouse that day. It would be fine if it is a good memory. If she recalled some bad memories, she would probably be even more agitated if she saw this man again. Then the situation would be even worse than it was now.

Ryan nodded. He looked at this man in front of him and felt that he was somewhat familiar. As for where he had seen him before, he really could not remember.

"Do you know this man's background?" Ryan asked.

"Time is too short. I haven't had the time to investigate yet, but I will investigate faster with the photos." Jasper thought for a moment and answered.

It was not difficult to do this. With Jasper around, Xavier had some free time recently, so Ryan just let him investigate.

"Investigate it as soon as possible." Ryan said coldly, turned around and went upstairs. He still had no clue about this matter. Although he had torn a hole in the wall, he saw more fog.

After hearing those words from Elena last night, every drop of blood in his body was boiling.

Those kidnappers had threatened his wife with the life of his children that’s why Elena had been traumatized. Ryan just wanted to find those kidnappers as soon as possible so that he could kill them with his own hands.

"By the way, when I came over just now, I saw Roman's car parked in front of your house. I don't know if he's coming in or not." Jasper suddenly said.

Ryan and Roman had never been on good terms with each other. This was an open secret. They did not know why that man came here early in the morning.

When Ryan heard Roman's name, he stopped in his tracks. His facial expression suddenly turned cold. He said with a cold expression, "How dare he come here?"

"Why don't I go out and chase him away? Staying here will only hinder you and Madam's eyes."

Jasper knew about the recent turn of incidents very clearly. Roman clearly seemed to be behind the kidnapping of Elena. So letting that man come into the house was dangerous. And the thing he was most worried about was Ryan’s reaction.

Jasper was about to walk out, but Ryan unexpectedly said, "Let him in."

"Young Master. . . ?"

"Don't worry about it." Ryan said calmly.

There were some things that needed an explanation. Moreover, Roman had already come here on his own accord. He might as well see what kind of tricks that man was trying to pull.

Although Jasper was confused, he didn’t ask any further. He left after hearing what Ryan said and wanted to call Roman in.

Roman was sitting in his car and was thinking about whether he should go in or not. However, when he saw Jasper coming out of the villa, he knew that Ryan and the others had already known that he was here. If he didn't go in, he would only make them think that he was afraid of Ryan.

When Roman came to the villa, Ryan was already sitting on the sofa leisurely and waiting. "Brother, you have time to come here. Why don't you think about what you should do outside? After all, you can't work in the Monor Group now."

Hearing Ryan’s sarcasm, Roman was obviously angry. However, he couldn’t vent his anger like before. Roman forced a smile. "I am only here to visit my sister-in-law. She should be giving birth soon. I am here to buy some tonics for her."

After he finished speaking, he looked around but did not see Elena. Recently, Roman did not see Elena. He did not know if she was already in the hospital.

"You still dare to mention my wife!" Blue veins bulged out of Ryan’s forehead as he gritted his teeth.

Roman seemed to not notice, Ryan’s abnormal behavior. "Why not? Although you and I weren't born from the same mother, we were born from the same father. You are my younger brother. This will never change! Your wife is my sister-in-law. This can't be changed."

Roman pushed the things in his hand to Ryan. "These things are beneficial to pregnant women. Give her some nourishment."

Ryan saw the things that were pushed towards him and instantly threw all those things on the ground. In an instant, the ground was in a mess.

"Everyone has the right to give things to her. Only you...” Ryan pointed the man in front of him and shouted. “Only you, Roman Monor, have no right!!”

Ryan went forward and grabbed Roman's collar lifting him up to the sofa, wishing he could burn this man to ashes.

“Didn't you say that you liked her? Didn't you say that you wanted to take care of Elena back then? Don't tell me that this is how you like her?"

"What are you saying? She's your wife. How could I possibly take care of her?" Roman's gaze when he spoke was a little evasive.

"Ha! You are truly a hypocrite. You admitted it openly so I admire you for being a man. But I didn't expect you to go back on your own words. You didn't even dare to admit what you did!"

“My wife, your sister-in-law, is still lying in bed. My children are born without a mother to take care of them. Are you satisfied with what you saw?" Ryan shouted and pushed Roman back.

May be Ryan was truly enraged, he exerted a great force. Roman staggered and directly fell onto the sofa behind him. However, he didn’t seem to care about it.

“What did you say?" Roman's face was full of disbelief, "How is that possible? Didn't you guys go to Western Europe during this period of time? You didn’t even come for a long time. Did something happen outside?"

"It's already at this time, yet you still dare to play dumb with me. My wife was kidnapped earlier, and the children were born at the place she was kidnapped. It was because of this incident that she was provoked, and even now, she's still in a daze.”

“The murderer behind the scenes is a man with the surname Monor. What else do you have to say?" Ryan gritted his teeth and said hatefully.

"No, how is this possible? I will not admit anything that I have never done." Roman shook his head.

No wonder he had not seen Elena during this period of time. Roman initially thought that Ryan and Elena might have a conflict but he never even had thought in his dreams that she would be kidnapped.
