

Chapter 273 Amara’s Ambition

Roman returned home and chased all the reporters away. Now, only Amara and Roman were left in the big room.

Amara was wearing a set of expensive satin pajamas and wearing a facial mask as she sat on the sofa and polished her newly made nails.

Roman frowned when he see her actions. "Amara, I have something to tell you."

"Go ahead." Amara didn’t even raise her head to look up Roman and replied casually.

"I plan to open up a few branches on the overseas market, but since the company has just been established, there are some matters that I have to take care of myself..." Roman hesitated and did not know how to say the next sentence.

Amara stopped what she was doing and turned to look at him. She said impatiently, "If you have something to say, say it quickly. What does it look like to stutter?"

Roman gritted his teeth and said his next sentence. "Can you go overseas and help me talk about some business?"

Now, there were very few trustworthy people around Roman. He had to do everything himself in order to keep things away from Ryan. Now that he could not get away, so he could only seek Amara's help.

Amara sneered when she heard that, "Roman Monor, I did not marry you to work for you. Have you ever seen a Young Mistress go out and show herself?"

"You are my wife. I have something to do now. Shouldn't you do your best to help me?" Roman did not expect Amara to have such a face. She had really disguised herself well in the past.

Roman remembered that when Ryan was in trouble back then, Elena personally went overseas and signed a contract with Leonardo Reynolds. That was the reason why Ryan was able to snatch the Monor Group from his hands now.

If Elena could do this for Ryan, why couldn’t Amara help him now?

Amara curled her red lips when she heard these words, "Stop. I never said that I would do my best to help. I knew you married me because you wanted my family's property to fill the hole in your family. But I did not expect you to be not able to protect your own company. You were robbed of the position of president by a cripple who did not have any real power. You always acted high and almighty in front of everyone, but in the end, you were beaten by a mere cripple, whom you looked down the most. Roman Monor, have you eaten nothing all these years?"

Amara looked down on Roman from the bottom of her heart. If she knew this would happen, she would have married Ryan instead.

Roman finally lost his patience and clenched his fists tightly. He angrily stepped forward and grabbed Amara's neck. "Amara Lewis, do you regret it now? You became jealous when you saw Ryan become the CEO. Do you think that I will never look at you in the eye just because your family invested in my company?"

Amara was choked so hard that she couldn't breathe. Her face instantly turned red. She desperately kicked and punched Roman in order to free herself.

Seeing that Amara could not speak anymore, Roman let go of her. In an instant, Amara fell on the sofa with a boom.

"Cough cough." Amara kept coughing, desperately wanting to catch her breath. Her eyes were full of fear. She had never seen Roman so angry before.

Roman stood up and looked down at Amara. "You can choose not to go overseas, but you better be honest with me. If I knew you were a little disloyal to me, I would not let you go."

After saying that, Roman turned around and went upstairs.

Just as Roman walked to the corner of the second floor, he suddenly thought of something and turned to look at Amara, who was still coughing. "You'd better pack up for tomorrow's press conference before attending. Otherwise, don't blame me for being rude to you."

Amara's eyes reddened when she heard Roman's threatening words. She did not expect herself to be reduced to such a state. When she thought about how Ryan treated Elena so gently, she was extremely jealous.

The next day, Roman held a press conference downstairs of his home.

Amara used a handkerchief to cover the finger marks on her neck. Because she cried for a long time yesterday, her eyes were still a little red and swollen even after putting heavy makeup.

Seeing Amara like this, Roman said with a frown. "How can you meet people like this? All the famous reporters in Hai City are outside. Do you want people to suspect that I bully you when you go out like this?"

Amara sneered and did not even look at Roman. "Don't you know why I became like this? Roman, I can help you with this kind of superficial matter, but don't speak too much."

Roman walked to Amara and grabbed her arm. "When you go out later, you better watch your words. Otherwise, you will feel better when you go home."

Amara used all her strength to shake off Roman's grip. "There is no need for you to remind me. I am the eldest daughter of Lewis family. I know very well what to do with this kind of thing."

When they reached the door, Roman bent his arm and Amara wrapped her hand around his arm. The two of them walked out with decent smiles on their faces. No matter how noisy the two of them were inside, in order to save their faces, they had to pretend in front of the world.

When the reporters outside saw Roman and Amara walk out together hand to hand, they immediately boiled up. They quickly shoved their mics and started asking, "Mr. Monor, why did you bring your wife to the press conference today?"

Roman held the microphone and looked at the reporter who asked the question. He smiled and said, "There were always rumors about me and my wife not getting along. Today, I also want to clarify it today."

Amara also smiled and followed the suit, "That's right. My relationship with my husband has always been very good. It is not like the rumors at all. So I hope that there will not be such rumors in the future. Otherwise, we will have to seek legal responsibility."

"Then may I ask Director Monor, is it true that you and Ryan Monor had a fight?"

"Ryan and I are brothers. I don't understand why you think so." Roman did not deny it, nor did he accept it, but made the reporters shut their mouths.

"Director Monor, since you and Ryan Monor did not have any conflict, why did you set up your own company?"

"This is a good question. It is inevitable that we will waste our resources in one company. Why don't we set up a new market? No matter which one of us becomes the leader of Hai City, it will be the glory of Monor family."

Roman placed the Monor family at the top of the list. This way, the reporters wouldn't say anything.

On the other side, Elena watched as Roman answered the reporters’ questions on the television. She felt that he was very hypocritical, but his answer was indeed impeccable.

"I originally thought that they would not go through such a process, but I did not expect that they would go through so much trouble to appear in public." Although Elena knew that they were pretending, she could not help but complain.

Ryan put the hot milk in front of Elena and said with a smile, "This is the method that he is used to. It is not strange."

Roman had always been cunning and hypocritical. He could do anything in order to save his face in front of the world.

"The news of Roman and Amara getting divorced broke by itself. I think they will pretend for a while more. What do you plan to do?" Elena turned to Ryan and asked.

If they attacked now, they would hit the most painful part.

Ryan shook his head, "It's more fun to boil a frog in warm water."

Roman was not alone now. He still had the help of the Lewis family and Spencer behind him. It would be difficult for Ryan to eliminate them all in one go.

Ryan had to think twitch before taking any step.

Elena drank a mouthful of milk and said in a low voice, "If we don't solve it now, there will be big trouble in the future."

"Do you not believe in my character?" Ryan knew that Amara's matter last time had left a shadow in Elena's heart, so she definitely did not want him to have anything to do with Amara anymore.

Elena went silent when she heard that.

It was not that she did not believe Ryan, but she did not believe Roman and Amara.

Amara only had power in her heart. Now that Ryan's matter had shaken the entire Hai City, her ability was naturally stronger than Roman. Even though she had already married Roman, she was still thinking about how to be with Ryan. This showed Amara's ambition.

And Roman was now under the help of Lewis family. So even though Amara did something unethical, it was very unlikely that Roman would take any step against Amara.

It made Elena even more worried.

"It’s not that I don’t believe you. But... now that Amara is eyeing you covetously, I'm worried that she will harm you."

Elena did not forget that Amara had drugged Roman’s wine in order to marry Roman. What if she used the same method to deal with Ryan?
