

Chapter 276 Repay For His Sins

"But if you stay in the hospital, I'm afraid uncle will continue to attack you." Elena said worriedly.

Jonathan had now lost his mind completely. In order to get the will, he could go to any extend. Elena was worried that when the time comes, it would be too late to save Mason.

"As long as I explain the matter of the Will to you, I will have nothing to worry about." Mason's voice was still very hoarse. He also noticed that it was difficult for Elena to hear his words clearly, so he took off his oxygen mask.

"Grandpa, what are you doing?" Elena wanted to stop him, but it was too late. The oxygen mask had already been taken off from Mason's mouth.

Mason held Elena's hand tightly and his voice was very slow and hoarse. "Don't worry, Elena. I will be fine. If possible, forgive this old man. It was me who let you down all these years. If it was not for my carelessness, you would not have suffered so much outside. . ."

Mason's eyes were filled with guilt and self-blame, "I owe your parents and you all these years. Now I'll pay you back. I'm already old. I can't drag you down anymore."

Mason already knew the motive of Jonathan's family. All these years, Jonathan's family used Elena as a shield to hide all their mistakes.

They all blackmailed Elena using her mother's treatment and forced her to do various things.

At first Mason couldn't figure out these things. But as the time passed, he slowly realized the things happening behind the curtains.

That was why he had prepared a will in advance in case of emergencies.

"No, it's not like this." Elena cried and shook her head, "Grandfather, you don't owe us anything. No one wanted what happened back then to happen. This is not your fault."

Elena had never thought of blaming her grandfather for her misery.

Back then, it was her uncle and aunt who added fuel to the fire, causing her grandfather to hate her and drive her away from the Lewis Family.

Elena did not forget how her grandfather doted on her when her parents were still present in the world.

Mason looked at the crying Elena and slowly said, "Silly girl, don't cry. I know I have done many bad things to you in the past but your happiness is the only thing I want now. Be happy with Ryan. I know he will protect you. But in the future, no matter if your grandfather is here or not, you have to be careful of your uncle and aunt."

The will was already with Lawyer Forbes. When Elena got it, she would be able to take all the property of the Lewis family into her hands.

This was the only way by which Mason could repay for all his sins and wrongdoings, he had done to Elena all these things.

In the past, Mason might have been worried that if Elena would take out the will, Jonathan and Adeline would try to harm Elena.

But now that Elena had Ryan so Mason hadn't anything to worry. Ryan loved Elena like a manic and their relationship was also very good. So no matter what Ryan would not let anything happen to Elena.

"Grandfather, don't say that. You will definitely get better." Elena said with a sobbing tone. She finally realized that her grandfather did not change and loved her as before.

"You can go. I want to have a good rest." Mason drove her away.

"Grandpa, I will stay and take care of you today." Elena said with concern. In her grandfather's current situation, she could not bear to let him stay in the hospital alone.

"No need. You can go back. I want to have a good rest by myself." Mason knew what his body was like, and he didn't want to trouble others too much.

And another reason was, he was afraid that Jonathan would suspect it if Elena stayed too long here.

"But you. . ." Elena wanted to say something but stopped herself. She just looked at Mason warily.

Her grandfather did not have any desire to live anymore. Elena was afraid that after she left, something would happen to her grandfather.

Seeing Elena's worried look, Mason's lips curled up. "Silly child, I will not do anything stupid. You can leave without worry."

After saying that, Mason put the oxygen mask back on his mouth. He did not want Elena to stay here for too long.

In other people's eyes, he had always been unconscious. If Elena stayed here for too long, it would definitely arouse suspicion.

"Okay, then I promise you, but you must also take good care of your own body."

Elena already knew what she wanted to know, so she did not disturb him anymore. She must let her grandfather rest well in order to recover faster.

Elena walked out of the ward and gently wiped the tear stains on her face. She had never thought in her dreams that her grandfather, who was once the dignified and honorable Mason Lewis, would fall into such a state.

Xavier, who was guarding outside the ward, saw her coming out and immediately handed her a tissue. "Madam, don't cry. Pay attention to your own body."

It had not even been two months after Elena gave birth. The doctor had asked her not to be too sad and happy. This kind of appearance was very harmful to the body.

Elena had already suffered enough in this short period of time, so they did not want her to be sad for anything.

"I'm fine. Let's go back." After Elena said that, she planned to go back with Xavier first.

Grandfather repeatedly tried to chase her away just now. He must have his own reasons for letting her leave.

Since she could not do much to help her grandfather, she could at least follow his words.

"Miss Lewis, I didn't expect to meet you here."

Just as, Elena and Xavier walked to the corridor of the hospital and were about to leave, a voice suddenly sounded behind them.

Elena turned around and saw the person who called her...
