

Chapter 289 Pay A Huge Price

"Hehe." William laughed softly. "Does Miss Thomas know the consequences of this fake marriage?"

The Langford family and the Thomas family were both reputable people in the capital. Once the fake marriage was discovered by others, their two families would lose all their face.

"We can hold a wedding, but we won't get a marriage certificate." Amber explained.

The wedding would be held for outsiders to see, but in the legal sense, they were still single.

Hearing this, William's eyes flashed with interest. "I wonder why Miss Thomas is going to take such a risk even after knowing its consequences. It can't be just because you don't want to marry me, right?"

William was not a fool. Looking at the way Amber rejected for the marriage, he knew something was wrong from the very beginning.

Amber knew that William was not easy to fool. Some things could not be hidden from him. So she said, "There is someone I want to be with."

William's eyes lit up. As he thought, there was really something wrong in this matter.

William smiled, his expression showed genuine curiosity. "I am really curious. Which man could get the favor of the Young Lady of Thomas family that she even does not hesitate to pay such a huge price for it."

One should know that the marriage between the two families was not just a matter between the two of them. Instead, the two families would be tied together. If the parents of both families found out that the two of them did not have a marriage certificate, how could they help each other with all their might?

Amber lowered her head, and Ryan's face appeared in her mind.

Although she knew that Ryan was married and had children, she still wanted to fight for him.

A sense of She had been waiting for him for all these years and did not want to give up just like that.

"This is my private matter. It is not convenient to disclose it." Amber did not intend to tell William.

"Miss Thomas, it is better to say it out loud. Maybe I can help you."

This matter was not only related to him but it also involved the reputation of the Langford family. William urgently wanted to know who this person was.

Amber thought for a while and felt that some things could be hidden from him. So she said, "The CEO of the Monor Group of Hai City, Ryan Monor."

As soon as he heard the name, William's pupils shrunk abruptly and his face was full of disbelief, "Who are you talking about?"

"Ryan Monor." Amber didn't notice William's reaction and said it again.

"Hehe." William sneered, "There are so many men in the world. Why do you have to be with Ryan?"

Amber did not understand when she heard this. "What do you mean?"

What did it have to do with William, if she wanted to be with Ryan?

"Sorry Miss Amber, I cannot agree to your conditions." William's face was cold, and there was hatred between his brows.

Amber frowned when she heard this. She said coldly, "Mr. Langford, just a moment ago, you said that you'd help me. But now you are going back on your words. It's not a gentle man's behavior."

William scoffed, "I think you are mistaken, Miss Thomas. I said I might help you and I would really have if there was any other man. But. . ."

He suddenly paused and his voice was cold, "But unfortunately the man you choose isn't worth for me to do so much."

Amber could clearly feel William's hatred towards Ryan. It was something she didn't expect.

"You. . . ." Amber was about to say something when she was interrupted by William.

"Miss Thomas, there is something I must tell you in advance." William's tone became a little strange as he said.

"Mr. Langford, if you have something to say, just say it." Amber frowned. Seeing William's reaction, she felt like he was a completely different person from just now.

"This marriage involves the reputation of my family so I hope we can hold the wedding as soon as possible. And after we get married, I don't want Miss Thomas to have any contacts with Ryan Monor again, as I don't want my wife to involve with any other man behind my back."

Although William said it calmly, the coldness in his voice couldn't be hidden.

Hearing William's words, Amber sneered, "Mr. Langford, you said this too early. Ryan and I have known each other for a long time. How can you expect that I won't have any contacts with him? I will not give up my relationship with Ryan for you."

William did not get angry because of Amber's words. Instead, he smiled and walked in front of Amber. William starched out his hand and lifted her chin, forcing her to look at him.

"Miss Amber Thomas, our Young lady, I did not expect you to have such a deep relationship with Ryan. If I walk out of this door and tell your parents that you don't want to marry me because you like someone else and the marriage is over now, do you think your parents will let you go and let your son go?"

When Taylor said that he would make Amber agree to this marriage, William got curious and sent someone behind Taylor. This was how William knew how Taylor forced Amber to give in.

Sam was Amber's soft spot. And Sam was under Taylor's hands now. So in order to save her beloved son, Amber had to agree to Taylor's requests.
