

Bride of the Mysterious CEO chapter 295-Although Elena did not know how Amber's life in Langford family would be in the future, according to Amber's character, she would not give in just for the sake of her child.

Although Elena did not like Amber, hearing Ryan say so much today made her feel a little pitiful.

Ryan saw Elena's expression and instantly knew what she was thinking. "You think Amber is pitiful, right?"

Hearing this, Elena looked at Ryan in surprise. Then she nodded.

She did think that.

Ryan chuckled, wrapping his arms around her slim waist. "Don't you not like her?"

"I indeed not like her but she is still pitiful. Even after being born in such a powerful family, she couldn't decide her own fate." At this moment, Elena felt that she was at least in a better situation than Amber. Although she didn't possess any power like Amber, she at least had a loving husband, who spoiled her so much.

Ryan raised his eyebrows and suddenly leaned over. Elena was originally sitting on his lap, now that he leaned over his nose was almost touching hers. "Am not I pitiful too?"

"Why are you pitiful?" Elena frowned. They were talking about Amber. From where this man jumped in this?

"Of course, my wife thinks about other people all the day long, totally ignoring her one and only husband. How can I not be pitiful?" At the end of his sentence, the man even shook his head and sighed deeply as if he suffered a great grievance.

Elena was shocked. "When did I ignore you?"

"You didn't? Then do you know that you husband is hungry. Huh?" Ryan originally had a deep euphonious voice. Now he deliberately slowed down his voice, making it even more sexy and seductive.

Ryan was tempting Elena but Elena didn't get it. "Ohh... You are hungry? Let me make some food for you."

After saying that, Elena was about to stand up from Ryan's lap but Ryan pulled her. Elena looked confused. "Aren't you hungry?"

"Yeah. But I won't eat food."

Elena found it funny. "You won't eat food? Then what will you eat? Me...?"

She didn't even finish her sentence when she met with Ryan's deep eyes. Those eyes. . . Were filled with naked lust.

Elena suddenly got it. Her face turned red immediately.

Ryan smiled brightly and pushed her onto the sofa. "Yeah, I'll eat you, Baby."

Elena quickly reached out to push him. "What are you doing? This is board day light. Someone will see us."

As she spoke, she began to peak around. There were maids and bodyguards at home. If someone saw them in this position, how embarrassing would it be.

Ryan's action paused, and he looked at her under him. "You are right."

Elena heaved a sigh of relief. However, in the next moment her whole body swung in the air. Elena gashed in surprise.

Ryan picked Elena up and strode towards the staircase. "Let's go to a place where no one will see us."

Opening the door of the bedroom, Ryan threw Elena onto the bed, as he began to undress both of them.

The next morning, Ryan got up early and went to the Monor Group.

Previously, Finn begged Ryan to help him find a person, but because Finn was sent out by Ryan to train until now, he only came back now. So now it was time to let Finn settle it himself.

When Ryan came to the office, he saw that Finn was already waiting for him in the office.

“Mr. Monor. ” Finn’s face was full of respect when he saw Ryan.

“You’re back. How’s your training going?” Ryan sat on the chair and put the documents aside. He was not in a hurry to deal with them.

Finn had confidence on his face. “Thank you, Mr. Monor, for your appreciation. The training program is acceptable.”

Finn’s heart was mixed with hatred and resentment, so no matter how hard the training was, he could endure it. Ryan also knew about this.

However, Ryan felt that this was not a good thing. It was understandable that a man wanted to take revenge for his wife, but he should not have such a life of hatred every day. This would undoubtedly only bring him more trouble.

Ryan looked at Finn and said calmly. “The person you asked me to help you find has been found. I have been keeping watch for you since you weren’t here, but this matter still needs to be resolved by you.”

Ryan didn’t know the sequence of events that happened to Finn’s wife, but he had more or less guessed it.

As expected, after Ryan finished speaking, Finn instantly stood up. His face was full of hatred. “Mr. Monor, where is he? Please bring me there to take a look.”

Ryan’s eyes fell on Finn’s hands which were on the table. Veins had already popped out. Ryan frowned. “I know you urgently want to take revenge for your wife, but you must know that a man should not be constrained by these things.

If I take you to get rid of that man today, you won’t have the spiritual support in the future. What do you want to do then?”

Ryan could clearly feel that the reason Finn was able to live until now with such a powerful ability was solely because of his intention of taking revenge for his wife and child being killed.

Once he avenged his wife and child, Finn would no longer have any faith. At that time, he would be like a deflated balloon, no longer having any hope of living.
