

Chapter 341 She Could Not Stay Still

This was the only way Marcus could think about at this moment.

Marcus really didn't want to interfere with Spencer's matters, but Spencer was the eldest son of Foster Family after all, and Ryan was very powerful. He couldn't just watch Spencer get hurt by Ryan.

Furthermore, the news of Leonardo Reynolds taking away Spencer would spread out of Foster family's walls, sooner or later. If outsiders knew about it, it would be a stain in the Foster family's reputation.

Marcus could not let such a thing happen. Therefore, the only solution was to bring that woman named Elena back.

"But. . ." James was a little hesitant. Just before, he had seen his brother fighting with Ryan for Elena's sake.

It could be seen that Spencer cared a lot about that woman.

If he just brought that woman back, wouldn't it be equivalent to letting Spencer down?

"What are you still hesitating about? Remember the reputation of the Foster family is tied with Spencer. So hurry up and bring that woman back." Marcus was gloomy.

James had just said that he knew where Elena was, so he had to bring her out now to ensure Spencer's safety.

James did not dare to delay any longer. His brother was most important for him. He did not care what happened to Elena or Ryan afterwards.

He hurriedly called the Foster family's private jet and went to the island where Elena lived.

When Paul saw James, he was stunned to the spot. "Second Young Master, what are you doing here?"

He did not tell the people outside. How could the Second Young Master know the location of this place?

"I have no time to explain to you. Where is Elena now? I have to take her away." James didn't have time to explain to Paul. Spencer was in a very dangerous situation right now. If he didn't bring Elena back in time, something would really happen.

Paul stood at the door and did not intend to let James in. He said apologetically, "Second Young Master, please don't make things difficult for me. The Young Master has asked me to watch over this place to ensure Miss Lewis's safety. He absolutely does not allow anyone to get close to her."

Paul still remembered the scene of Spencer pointing his gun on his forehead. If something happened to Elena, Paul was afraid that even his corpse would not be found.

James's face twitched. "You fool! Your young master is already in imminent danger, yet you are still stopping me. If I can't see Elena, you can wait to collect the corpse of your young master."

James wished he could slap Paul to death with his palm. Why was he so stupid?

"What?" Paul was stupefied. "Second Young Master, what's going on?"

"Ryan Monor has already brought his men to the Foster family. As soon as your young master returned to the Foster family, Ryan came after him. After a few quarrels, he took your young master away. Now we don't know where brother is. If Elena still doesn't show up, your young master's life will be in danger." In the end, James explained everything to this foolish Paul.

"What? There's actually such a thing?!" Paul's mouth was wide open. He did not expect Ryan Monor to be so daring.

No matter what Spencer was the heir of the Foster family, yet Ryan Monor dared to take him away from his own home.

If not for the fact that their young master was taken away, Paul would have praised Ryan's courage.

"So now can you please let me see Elena?" James asked impatiently.

"Yes, yes, Second Young Master. Please follow me in. I will bring you to see Miss Lewis right now." Paul did not dare to delay any longer. After saying that, he brought James to Elena's doorstep.

At this moment, the two children had just fallen asleep. Elena put them on the bed and went to wash their clothes, which Ian had vomited in while nursing earlier.

She had just turned on the faucet when she heard the sound of door being knocked.

Elena was a little surprised. Was Spencer back so soon?

Turning off the water, she wiped her hands and went to the door. She leaned against the door and asked softly, "Who is it?"

Before Spencer left, he had reminded her that no matter who knocked on the door, she had to ask who was outside first. After all, this was an island. If Ryan could really find this place, she would have some time to escape.

"Miss Lewis, it's me, Paul. Our Young Master is in trouble. I hope you can go out and save him." Paul's anxious voice sounded from outside the door. It did not seem like he was lying.

Elena quickly opened door and went outside. After closing the door carefully, she looked at Paul with a frown, "What happened? What happened to your young master? Did Ryan do it?"

As the door opened, James finally saw the legendary Elena. He could not help but take a few more glances. She was a really beautiful woman. Even in normal clothes, she looked very fascinating.

But she was not as stunning as to be able to make two powerful men like Ryan and Spencer to fight for her.

"You are Elena?" James asked.

"That's right. I am Elena. May I ask who you are. . ." Elena looked at the man standing behind Paul with a puzzled expression. This was Spencer's private island. How could an outsider come to this place?

"I am Spencer's younger brother, James. Now, you please follow me back to Western Europe immediately. My brother is captured by Ryan. His whereabouts are unknown at this moment." James briefly explained what had happened during this period of time to Elena. He told her that if she did not return, his elder brother would not be able to survive.

Elena felt silent after hearing this. She did not want to face Ryan, but she could not forget the fact that Spencer had helped her in her most helpless time. She could not just watch helplessly when something happened to him.

Moreover, Spencer was in danger because of her. Therefore, she had to solve this problem herself.

Elena looked at Paul. "I hope you can help me take care of my children when I am away. I will go to rescue Spencer and come back."

Spencer had arranged a few maids to help her. These maids were experienced women who could take care of children. Paul was also here.

Thus, Elena was sure about the twins' safety here.

"Miss Lewis, don't worry. I will take good care of your children. Be careful when you go out." Seeing Elena was not ungrateful and was ready to save Spencer, Paul was very pleased.

She herself was hiding from Ryan, but she still agreed to save Spencer at the first possible moment. This proved that she did not waste the kindness of their young master.

James heaved a sigh a relief when he saw Elena agree. "Please follow me back."

Elena nodded and said, "Give me a moment. I will check on my children and change my clothes."

Elena went to her room to change her clothes before she hurriedly followed James out of the island.
