

Chapter 382 You Can't Afford The Consequences Of It

Ryan took two steps back. Keeping his eyes still on the man in front, he took off his coat and threw it aside. It was an obvious invitation to fight.

The two men immediately started fighting. Adams was violent by nature, so he was usually not weak. However, he was currently injured which was a disadvantage on his side.

As a result, Ryan got an upper hand.

Ryan didn't want to waste any more time with Adams, so he kicked Adams to the ground. With a few punches, he finished Adams off.

Skylar was like a startled bird, hiding by the side and not daring to breathe.

After knocking Adams off, Ryan went forward and untied Skylar's rope.

Her stomach had slightly bulged and she looked unusually thin and pale. It was anomalous that she was still alive in such a place.

This Adams was truly a freak.

"Let's go. You can't stay here any longer. " Ryan couldn't bear to see Skylar like this when he saw her expression.

He had sent Skylar to Adams's place to work with him from the inside. He did not expect her to be reduced to such a state.

However, Skylar didn't dare to look at Ryan. She hid at the side and didn't say anything. She just leaned against the corner, trembling, and didn't dare to speak.

Ryan frowned. "I am Leonardo Reynolds. Skylar, you don't know me anymore?"

Skylar was still hiding in the corner and shivering. She did not pay attention to Ryan.

Ryan sighed helplessly. He was going to take Adams out now. He had to give himself a protective shield. If he took Skylar along with him, it would affect his actions.

It seemed that he could only rescue Skylar afterwards.

Ryan looked at Skylar and gently said, "I will get someone to save you. Don't be afraid, okay? Just give me sometime."

Although he did not get any response, Ryan still wanted to tell Skylar. If she knew that she could get out, she might have some hope.

Ryan pulled Adams, who had passed out, out of the room. However, he didn't see the glint in Skylar's eyes that appeared the moment he turned around.

Since Elena and Ian were not here, Ryan dragged Adams out.

It was true when Adams said he couldn't get out from this place as they could only use elevators to get out, which were equipped with finger print sensors.

But since Adams himself was with him, would he still need any help?

Ryan simply pressed Adams's hand on the sensor and could easily open the elevator. He came out of the building.

However, to his surprise, there was no one outside.

He checked the car but didn't see anyone sitting inside.

Ryan frowned. Xavier, Michelle and Spencer, where did all of them go?

While Ryan was still puzzled, a few people rushed out of the house and pointed their guns at Ryan and Adams.

"Mr. Leonardo Reynolds, I advise you to let our mister go. Your men are in our hands." One of the men said.

When Ryan heard this, he instantly understood. No wonder he didn't see them when he just came out. He didn't expect them to be caught by them.

Spencer had just been thrown out. Xavier and Michelle must have heard what Spencer said, which was why they wanted to go in and save him, which led to their capture.

Ryan pulled Adams in front of him as a protective shield. He replied to the man. "Of course I can let him go. But I want to see my men first."

The man in the lead made a gesture, and three men, who were tied up, were brought over.

When Xavier saw Ryan, he heaved a sigh of relief. Just before, he had really thought that something bad would happen to Ryan.

"Mr. Leonardo Reynolds, let go of our master. I will return all three of them to you. One life for three lives. You have earned it. " The man in the lead pushed all three of them to the front, intending to let Ryan release Adams as soon as possible.

"Hehe, your master's life is precious. Naturally, he can't be compared to my three men. Furthermore, even if I use your master to exchange with my men, do you think I would be stupid enough to not give us a protective shield?" Ryan sneered.

This was Adams's territory. They had to leave a way out, or else they would die here.

The man in the front was stunned because Ryan saw through their plan. They had indeed decided to kill all four of them once their master was handed over to them.

"Then what do you want?" The man in the lead sounded anxious. He saw the blood gushing out of Adams's body.

Their master was severely injured. It must be this man's doing.

Ryan pulled the unconscious Adams up and pressed on his shoulder. More blood came out and it spilled on the ground. "You saw it yourself. Your master is currently not safe. If he is not treated in time, he might lose his life. So let us go. When we reach a safe place, we will naturally let your master go."

As he spoke, Ryan cast a sidelong glance at Michelle. Michelle instantly understood his meaning.

He saw the men hesitation and immediately said, "We are merely Leonardo Reynolds's subordinates. Our lives are worthless. But your master is different. Moreover, the honorable boss of the Black Rock Gang is also the abandoned child of the royal family. If anything happens to him, you can't afford the consequences of it."
