Chapter 49 Apologize to Elena

“President, you have to make the decision for us. This new Elena actually locked us in the washroom. We had no choice but to pour water on her.” Nova was first to speak and pushed all the blame onto Elena.

Elsa knew that Roman was supporting them and was a little proud for a moment.

“Do you know who she is?” Roman looked at Elsa and Nova in front of him and his tone was extremely cold.

The two of them looked at each other, not understanding why Roman asked this.

“She is your general manager’s wife.”

Boom!

Everyone was stunned on the spot.

Nova’s face was full of disbelief as she looked at Roman. “No, it is impossible...”

Contrary to Nova’s reaction, Elsa did not say anything. Roman could not possibly fabricate the identity of general manager’s wife just to protect Elena, so his words must be true.

“Big brother, what do you plan to do with such a person? If Big Brother does not want to handle it himself, you can leave it to me.” Ryan looked at Nova opposite to him and spoke in an extremely unfriendly tone.

Nova was so scared to the point that she didn’t dare to breathe loudly. If this situation continued, she was afraid that her job would really lost.

“Mr. Monor, I am sorry. I should not have treated to General Manager’s wife like this. Please don’t fire me. I really can’t lose this job.” Nova begged for mercy bitterly.

Ryan sneered. “You shouldn’t apologize to me. Apologize to whoever you bully.”

Without waiting for Nova to speak, Elsa ran to Elena’s side. “Sorry, Elena. I shouldn’t have treated you like this. I hope you don’t mind me. The matter of Mr. Hall carrying you out was also my misunderstanding.”

When Elena heard what this woman said, she couldn't help but sneer. This woman seemed to be apologizing to her on the surface, but she had once again splashed her dirty water in front of Ryan.

The corner of Elena's mouth slightly rose.

"Hubby."

The short two words gave Ryan a shock. From the day they got married until now, Elena had never called him that.

"Hmm?" Ryan was in a good mood.

"You bought this dress for me personally. I remember it was expensive."

"Don't worry, Madam General Manager. I will compensate you with this dress. I hope you won't angry with me." Nova immediately went forward to please him. As long as she could stay in this company, she was willing to compensate ten pieces of clothing, not to mention one piece of clothing.

"No need." Ryan pulled Elena back to his office as he spoke.

The rest of the people were stunned on the spot. Elsa looked at Roman, but Roman only gave her a look before leaving the office.

Elsa and Nova returned to their seats and did not say anything. This matter also completely extinguished the flames of anger between the two of them.

Ryan pulled Elena into his office and took off her coat. "Is it cold? Do you want to turn on the air conditioner?"

"Silly, it's not winter now. It's just that the dirty water has a smell that makes me feel a little nauseous." Elena sniffed the smell on her body and curled her lips.

"There is a place for bathing in my lounge. Go and wash it. When Mrs. Baker comes, she will send the cloths to you."

This woman had not fully recovered from her illness. If she got sick because of this, it would not be worth it.

Elena thought that Mrs. Baker was about to arrive and nodded her head. Just as she wanted to walk into the bathroom, she was pulled by Ryan.

"What's wrong?" Elena asked curiously.

"Call me."

“Ryan?”

The next second, Elena was pulled into Ryan’s arms. Elena was shocked and immediately panicked. “Don’t be like this, my body is dirty.”

“What did you call me just now?”

Elena recalled the scene when she called Ryan husband in front of everyone and her face instantly turned red. She immediately lowered her head shyly.

“It was forced by the situation just now.”

“Call again.” Ryan suddenly had the interest to tease her.

“Uh... I can’t call you out.” Elena lowered her head. In front of this man, she was indeed unable to shout.

“Are you sure?”

“I... Uh...”

Before Elena could finish her sentence, Ryan used his lips to seal her lips. Elena instantly widened her eyes. Her heart rate sped up and her entire body stiffened.

Ryan kissed her forcefully and sucked all her remained words. His domineering tongue opened her teeth and attacked the little tongue of her. He seemed to eat her at this moment.

The two of them kissed so selfishly that they forgot themselves. Their bodies instantly heated up and their breathing became rapid.

Suddenly, there was the sound of knocking on the door outside. Ryan’s face darkened and a trace of displeasure appeared in his face when he was suddenly interrupted by this sound and reluctantly left her soft and sweet lips.

“Madam, I’m here to deliver your cloths.” Mrs. Baker’s voice came from outside.

Elena did not care about outside and ran straight to the bathroom. Her eyes were flashing and she did not dare to look at Ryan.

Seeing Elena’s cute appearance, Ryan laughed. Then he sat in the wheelchair and opened the door. He took the cloths in and thought for a while.

“You should send her in. She probably can’t raise her head in front of me now.”

Mrs. Baker did not understand, but when she saw Ryan's wet clothes, she immediately understood and smiled. "Yes, I will send it to Madam right away."

Chapter 50 Let's Eat Together

The blush on Elena's face had yet to fade when there was a knock on the bathroom door. Elena was shocked, "Who ... Who is it?"

"Elena, it's me. I brought you clothes."

Mrs. Baker covered her mouth and smiled. She seemed to have already thought of why her Madam wanted to change her cloths.

It seemed pregnancy was just around the corner.

Elena opened the door and took her clothes in, "Thank you." She quickly closed the door again.

Mrs. Baker did not say anything after she walked out. She looked at Ryan and still had a smile on her face. Ryan did not understand why Mrs. Baker was so happy.

"What are you smiling about?" Ryan could not help but ask.

"It's nothing. If there's nothing else, I'll go back first. I will stew a pot of chicken soup for Madam and wait for her to come back at night to replenish her health." After saying that, Mrs. Baker left with a smile on her face.

Listening to Mrs. Baker's words, Ryan was stunned. Only after knowing later did he realize that Mrs. Baker might have misunderstood.

The corner of Ryan's mouth slowly curved up and he was too lazy to explain.

Close to noon, Ryan looked at Elena who was still working outside. "Let's go out for lunch today. I knew a Japanese restaurant."

Elena nodded when she heard that. "Sure."

After Elena sorted out the documents, she left the company with Ryan and headed to the Japanese restaurant downstairs.

They did not expect that just as they walked outside, she would meet Roman on a narrow road and Amara was standing beside him.

It had been a long time since she last saw Amara after she left the Lewis family.

When she saw Ryan and Elena, Amara frowned and her eyes were full of disdain. "Enemies really cross paths. I didn't expect to meet the two of you while eating here."

"You didn't open this shop." Elena was even more dismissive. She did not want to see this woman.

"Hehe, Elena, you actually talked to me like that. Don't you know who helped you to get this kind of wealth and glory today?"

"In my heart, I know who forced me to obtain this wealth and glory."

"You... I didn't expect my sister to be so eloquent. Roman, I have to say, your brother is a good man." Amara raised her hand and held Roman's arm, as if she was declaring her sovereignty.

Although Ryan and Roman were both children of Monor family, anyone with discerning eyes could tell who had the upper hand.

In the past, when Roman saw Amara like this, he wouldn't be angry at all. Instead, he would be pleased with himself.

But today, when he saw his brother and Elena together and when Amara said this words, he actually felt that he couldn't keep his face.

"Alright, since we have already met, why don't the four of us eat together. This meal will be on me." Roman looked at Ryan and then glanced at Elena. This woman had changed into a clean set of cloths. She looked like a completely different person from before.

Ryan looked up at Elena. "What do you think?"

A smile appeared on Elena's face. "It's good if you decide."

Ryan revealed a smile that Roman had not seen for a long time. "Okay, let's eat together."

The two of them walked into the restaurant first. Amara frowned and pulled Roman's hand with dissatisfaction. "Roman, why do you want to eat with them?"

"What's wrong with it?" Roman looked at Amara who was beside him. Why was this woman so mean today?

“What do you think? We were supposed to go out on a date today, but they interrupted us.” Amara curled her lips in dissatisfaction.

“It’s just a meal. This is the company. If the employees see that we don’t get along, who knows how much gossip they will have? We can’t lose the face of the Monor family because of you.”

Amara was taught a lesson by Roman in the end she didn’t say anything.

If she wanted to lean against a big tree to cool down, she could not offend Roman.
