Chapter 91 Enemies and Allies

After a period of rest, Henry recovered from the fatigue of the journey. He is now standing on the balcony on the second floor of the family, watching the beam of light gradually dimming from the mage tower in the distance. There is not much time left. The family soldiers downstairs have already put on their armor and are ready to go with their weapons.

A large number of slaves have been driven to the middle of the courtyard, they gathered together in a mess, each with only a worn-out weapon in his hand. No one expects them to be able to kill any enemies, these cannon fodder are just consumables used to break through the trap in front of the gate of the Baisendnog family.

Soon the light of the Mage Tower in the center of the city gradually disappeared, and the entire Eredlin City fell into darkness. A few seconds later a magical light flashed, the pillars glowed again, and the city seemed to come to life again. Mistress Yikrivuda glanced at the family members who were eager to try. Now start acting according to the plan. The priestess and I will pray to the Queen of God to bless your return in victory. After speaking, she took her two daughters and other priests into the prayer hall and closed the door.

The eldest son Duerin glanced at his other two brothers, and then used the innate ability of the dark elf nobleman to fly down from the platform. A few minutes later, he led fifty dark elf warriors and thousands of slaves out of the family gate. The second son Bien smiled and said to Henry: Dear brother, don't let elder brother behave alone, let us act now.

Henry nodded and looked at Sina Fei. Let's start casting spells now, and I hope we don't encounter too much resistance in a while. After speaking, he began to cast spells to reduce everyone's body temperature to a minimum. Sina Fei summoned two wind elements and flew up with two soldiers. After Henry watched the sorceress fly away, he quickly blessed himself with flying skills and followed. From the air they saw that the army led by the Firstborn had reached the gates of House Bysendnog, and slaying the Screaming Fungus, he drove the slaves towards the gates of adamantium.

Fatal flashes of light kept coming from ahead, and all kinds of magic traps blasted the flesh and blood of slaves flying. The eldest son and the dark elves standing behind laughed at the cannon fodder loudly. After the traps were exhausted, Durin and the family soldiers used innate spells to cover the entire house in magical darkness. Their actions attracted the crowds of many civilians around. Durin drew out his weapon and took the lead in rushing in. The dark elf warriors who had already been aroused to kill quickly followed behind.

In the sky, Sina Fei and Henry came to the sky above the Baisen Denoge family, and they quickly swooped down to the balcony on the second floor of the center. The two soldiers stood up and began to move their hands and feet to let their body temperature rise as quickly as possible. A few minutes later, Bingholt and Bien pulled out their weapons and walked into the passage to start the killing.

The martial arts of ordinary guards are not their opponents at all, not to mention that there are two casters behind them. Soon the assault team found an empty corridor engraved with strange symbols. At the end, there was an exquisite door with spider marks all over it. Various prayer sounds could be faintly heard from inside.

The second son Bien had a smile on his face. It seems that we have found our target. What are we waiting for now? Use the most powerful spells to blow open the door, and leave the rest to me and Binhett.

Henry and Sina Fei looked at each other, and the two began to chant spells at the same time. A few seconds later, the two fireballs exploded in front of the gorgeous gate, and the huge impact blasted the entire gate to pieces. Before the priestess inside had time to react, Henry shouted, Close your eyes. Then a strong white light filled the hall. For the dark elves who are accustomed to the shadows, such a strong light will cause dizziness and unbearable pain. The female priests in the hall covered their eyes and cried out in pain. Two warriors took the opportunity to rush in and cut their throats with sharp knives.

Mistress Imory saw the situation and shouted loudly to the man standing in the corner: Tulus, what are you waiting for! You must know that if the family is destroyed, these people will not let you go! Don't forget that you are also a nobleman!

The man named Tullus stood up and walked over slowly. Of course, when he passed Mistress Imory, he suddenly raised his sword and chopped off her head. Then he laughed out loud. Idiot! Do you think I care about this so-called family! Go to hell! After speaking, he kicked the head of the mistress towards the door.

Binhut split the flying head in half with his long sword, and then he saluted Tulus as a swordsman. I have long heard that you are the number one fighter in Eredlin City, and today I challenge you. He walked to the front alone and made an attacking posture.

Tulus stared at the steps under his feet. Although you are also a very good fighter, you are still not my opponent. Come together, let me bestow glory and death on you. After speaking, he launched an attack at a very fast pace, and the two of them fought together.

The second son watched their movements carefully for a while. Bingholt should be able to hold on, let's deal with the other enemies first. After speaking, he turned and walked in the direction behind him.

Along the way, the three cooperated with each other to kill all the enemies blocking the way, and soon the entire place where the nobles lived on the second floor was cleared. When they returned to the prayer room again, the eldest son Durin and Binghet had joined hands to fight against Tullus. The two of them were covered with wounds and were desperately resisting. The second son immediately joined the battle group when he saw this situation. Tulus laughed wildly and shouted: Come on! Bring some more! These are not enough! After speaking, he kicked Binghet out, and the latter hit the wall hard and spit out a big mouthful of blood.

Seeing that the situation was not good, Henry blessed himself with a stone skin spell, and immediately began to chant the spell. Hearing the sound, Tullus quickly pulled out the dagger from his waist and threw it. The moment the dagger hit Henry, sparks sparked, but it didn't penetrate the protection of the spell and fell to the ground.

Seeing that his attack didn't work, Tullus left the other two fighters and rushed directly. Sina Fei, who was standing not far away, released a lightning spell at him, and Tullus was forced to take a few steps back to avoid the spell. The sorceress won precious time for Henry's spellcasting, and a burst of flames quickly formed around his body. It was too late when Tulus approached again, and the flames made a low-pitched explosion and directly blasted Tulus out. This powerful warrior fell to the ground in an instant and did not stand up again for a long time.

Henry walked over carefully to look at Tullus who was hit by the Sunflame Technique. Dark red blood flowed from his mouth, nose and ears. The huge power generated by the explosion has severely damaged his brain and internal organs. Henry took out his dagger and stabbed it directly into the heart. He turned to the people behind him and said, This man is dead, let's start cleaning the whole building now.

Durin touched the wound on his body and glanced at Henry with some fear. Dear younger brother, you killed the strongest warrior in Eredlin City with your own hands today. Mistress Ikrivda will be proud of you. Now I apologize for everything I have done to you before. I hope you will not pay too much attention to those unpleasant things.

Bien glanced at his elder brother coldly and said in a strange voice: Oh! My God, what did I hear! Our fearless elder brother actually started to apologize. Naromin, I suggest you be careful, maybe he's planning to attack you soon. After speaking, he turned and followed the pastor, who began to search for various secret doors and passages in the corridor. Glaring at his second son's back, Duer gave a cold snort and turned to leave the prayer room.

Sina Fei came over with a smile and touched Henry's chest. It seems that your brothers are starting to be afraid. They are afraid of your strength. Good job, but always be careful of the dagger coming from behind.

Henry glanced coldly at the corpse on the ground. If anyone dares to hand out a dagger behind his back, I will make him regret being my enemy. After speaking, he walked to Binghurt to help him up, and then fed him a bottle of healing potion. After waking up a few minutes later, he looked at the corpse on the ground in a little bewilderment, and then at Henry and Sina Fei standing aside.

The sorceress sneered. You were kicked to the wall by Tulus and passed out. It was Naromin who saved you. Do you understand what to do now?

Binhert stood up and saluted Henry respectfully. Thank you for saving my life. In the future, as long as I don't violate the order of the mistress within the family, I will be at your disposal at any time.

Then we will be allies in the future, point out my two elder brothers, they are not very friendly to you, the new master of martial arts. Henry said meaningfully to Bing Hurt.

Sina Fey stared at Binhett with wide eyes. You have betrayed Priestess Elles, aren't you afraid of retaliation?

Bingholt walked over with a smile on his face. I think we can reach an agreement, for example... As he spoke, he suddenly pulled out a dagger and stabbed it into Sina Fei's heart.

Now that the agreement is reached, I'll send you to die, and you will help me keep the secret. What a bargain, you say yes. Bingholt looked at Henry with a smile on his face.

A sneer appeared on Henry's face. Hey, Sina Fei was too careless. She was successfully attacked by a guy who didn't die. She really failed my sister and mistress' expectations.

The smile on Bingholt's face became more intense, he picked up the weapon on the ground and put it back into his waist. It's indeed a pity, but a person as imprudent as her usually doesn't live long. I hope we can cooperate happily in the future.

I believe that we will get along very happily in the future, especially in dealing with the common enemy. After speaking, the two laughed loudly at the same time.

Chapter 92 Computing with each other

After the two of them quietly completed an alliance in private, Henry walked out of the gate of the Baisen Denoge family. The rest of the cleanup is handled by family soldiers and priests. He now needs to make a report to Mistress Yikrivuda, and then find a way to get out of here as soon as possible. Using the flying technique to fly over the city, many civilians were watching the returning army of the Naqor family.

They all talked about this successful sneak attack, and even the nobles were not stingy with their praise. Henry slowly descended to the balcony on the second floor, and stood in front of the gorgeous copper door. He straightened his clothes, pushed the door and walked in.

Mistress, this operation has been successful. Now the resistance of the Baisen De Nuo family has been wiped out, and only some finishing work is still in progress. Henry saluted and said to the mistress and the two sisters.

A satisfied smile appeared on the face of Mistress Yikrivuda. You did a great job! Now we are the seventh-ranked family in Eredlin City. What's our loss?

Henry thought for a while and replied: I don't know much about the casualties of ordinary soldiers. After the battle, Sina Fei, the warlock, was attacked and killed by an assassin in a hidden corner. The others suffered some injuries during the battle with Tulus, but they should be fine.

Lebrina smiled and said, It's just that a careless waste died, it's no big deal. I believe Elles will understand.

The mistress frowned. A warlock actually died, but considering that you are dealing with Tulus, some losses are still reasonable. Now tell me who killed that arrogant guy?

It was me. He died under my spell. But it was very dangerous at that time. The two brothers and Binghet together were no match for him. Henry glanced at the eldest daughter who was a little gloating and replied.

Zari looked at Henry in surprise and asked, You actually killed Tullus! I can't believe it, what kind of magic did you use? Zari looked at Henry in surprise and asked

Henry put on a smug look. Sun Flame, a powerful fifth-level spell. He just rushed towards me at that time, and this spell directly blasted him out.

Mistress Ikrivuda looked at Henry in surprise. Naloming, you gave me a big surprise today. I never knew that you had already mastered a fifth-level spell. Tell me what kind of reward you want, as long as it is not too much, I will satisfy you. Hearing this sentence, the two daughters of the family showed envious and jealous expressions.

Henry put his head down and thought about it for a while. Mistress, I very much want to participate in the work of sealing Helast Mage Tower. This is very helpful for learning magic. If you don't mind, can you give me a chance.

Sealing the Mage Tower is not a safe job, but since you strongly request it, I will help you get a letter of recommendation at the mistress meeting tomorrow. Now you can step back and enjoy this sweet victory. You deserve it. After speaking, the mistress waved Henry to leave. He closed his eyes and thought: I hope I can get a letter of recommendation smoothly tomorrow, so that I can get close to the mage tower of Helast in a legitimate way, and then activate Kelben's scroll to complete the task. I believe that the furious mad mage will teach these dark elves a profound lesson, and it is estimated that the entire barracks will be uprooted. Before going to bed, he turned on the system and looked at the results of the past two days.

Occupation: Mage level 11 605613750000, Druid level 12 60561'50000

He gained a total of 133,000 experience points from the Dreadclaw on the way back to the city and today's massacre. It really deserves to be a dangerous Underdark region, where almost every creature is a deadly killer. Re-preparing for tomorrow's spell, he closed his eyes and began to rest. In this dangerous dark elf city, he must ensure adequate sleep, otherwise, if something unexpected happened, even escaping would be a luxury.

After lunch the next day, Henry walked up and down the platform on the second floor anxiously. Mistress Ikrivuda had been away for a while. He hoped that she would bring back good news, otherwise he would have to escape from the city and find another way. When the eldest daughter Bullerina passed by, she saw Henry walking up and down.

She smiled and said to Henry: Dear brother, don't be too anxious. The mistress meeting is not so easy to end, especially with such a big change just now. Now everyone wants to carve up the remaining wealth of the Baisen De Nuo family. It is estimated that it will take a while to negotiate and private transactions. Why don't you follow me to my room, and I will let you feel how time flies. After she finished speaking, she stroked Henry's neck, and began to rub it gently with her body.

Sorry, dear sister, all my thoughts are now on the letter of recommendation from the mistress. You don't know how important that is to mages. As long as I can participate in it, I can understand more magic faster and gain powerful power.

Bullerina nodded approvingly and let go of her hand. Very good, you always remember what a dark elf needs most. Power and rights are all we have, and now your power has won my respect.

Henry lowered his head to express his attitude. Thank you for your appreciation, but I don't have much desire for rights. Only magic is all I pursue.

That would be even more perfect. A man like you who is both powerful and not greedy for power is what all mistresses want most. If one day I become mistress, I will definitely reuse you. I hope that I will not be disappointed at that time. Bullerina stared at Henry with sharp glasses, and her hand was on the snake head whip around her waist. Henry knew that as soon as he said a no, the whip would wrap around his neck and wring it tight. At such a close distance, if he doesn't use the druid's power, he has no chance to resist at all.

Henry bowed deeply. Of course, no one can refuse the order of the mistress. And I am also looking forward to the day when Sister Bullerina becomes the mistress, but you should pay more attention to Elles. She has attracted a lot of people in the barracks outside.

The eldest daughter let go of the whip around her waist and sneered. The second daughter will always be the second daughter. As long as I am still alive, she will never be the mistress. As for those who turn to her, I think you will be happy to help me solve part of it, just like Sina Fei. Are you right, dear brother?

Hearing these words, Henry's face immediately became ugly, and he knew that Binghurt must have betrayed him. It seems that the reputation of the dark elves is still overestimated. It is impossible for this shameless race to keep any secrets. He clenched his fists in his sleeves and nodded to Bullerbary. Yes, I'm always on your side, please don't worry, dear sister.

Bullerina had a smile on her face. That's great. With your help, Elles is no longer a threat. I heard that Helast's mage tower is very dangerous. I think she might encounter some accidents, right Nalomin?

Yes, it is indeed very dangerous there. It would be too sad if something happened to sister Elles. Henry echoed, suppressing his anger.

Seeing that her goal had been achieved, the eldest daughter smiled and kissed Henry's lips. In that case, I'm begging you. I hope you don't mind too much about today's petty tricks. Also, don't bear any grudges against Bingholt. He was also forced to do nothing. Everything is for survival. She turned and left the platform after she finished speaking.

Henry stood where he was, and his brain was filled with anger. This was the first time he was calculated and threatened by others after crossing. After a few minutes, his emotions gradually calmed down, and after careful consideration for a while, he felt that he was still too young for the dark elves who were wallowing in conspiracy and trickery all day long.

If he could get a recommendation today, he planned to escape from this dangerous city tomorrow and tell him the location of the city after the mad mage was released. With the character of Hailast's black robe, he will definitely retaliate wantonly, and at that time, he will be regarded as revenge for himself. Having made up his mind, he stood quietly on the platform and waited for the mistress to come back.

It was a long time before Matron Ekrivda returned home on a Frisbee, as Bullerbury had predicted. As soon as she stepped on the ground of the platform, Henry couldn't wait to go up and salute. Mistress, have you received my recommendation?

Yi Kelifuda did not pay attention to his rudeness, obviously the mistress is in a very good mood today. She smiled and took out a dark badge and shook it. As the seventh-ranked family in Naqor Eredlin City, this trivial matter doesn't take much effort at all. Madam Zestra of the first family is very satisfied with our performance in this operation, but she asks us to be more peaceful in the near future and not to make too many moves. It seems that there is some secret plan in execution. After speaking, she put the badge in Henry's hand.

After receiving the badge, Henry breathed a sigh of relief. He said to the mistress, Thank you very much for your reward. If the family has nothing to do, I will set off for the barracks in the lower city tomorrow. And I heard a news when I was up there. It is said that the first family sent many troops to invade Waterdeep City, as if they were collecting the souls of people on the surface.

Ikrivuda's eyes lit up when she heard it, and she immediately asked, Where did you get the news? Is it reliable?

There are people from me in the hunting team that returned from the ground, and what I learned from him is absolutely reliable. But what do they collect the souls of people on the surface? If they need souls, there are countless slaves in the city. Henry replied with a frown. He also really wanted to know what these dark elves were doing to collect so many human souls.

Chapter 93: The Call of the Abyss

Mistress Ikrivuda lowered her head and thought for a while. The call of the abyss, the first family must want to collect the souls of surface humans to perform this ceremony. You must know that the souls of ordinary slaves are not the best for demons. Only those souls on the surface who have had a good experience and then died in pain are the real delicacy. If Madam Zestra succeeds, she can summon at least one level of lords to the roof of the main material. At that time, a city on the surface can be directly destroyed. Such behavior will definitely be appreciated by the Queen of God. Don't let her succeed, pay attention when you go to the upper barracks, and destroy their plan if you have the opportunity.

Henry was taken aback when he heard the mistress' analysis. If an abyssal demon lord at one level came to Faerun, the entire Waterdeep City and all the surrounding villages and towns would be reduced to ruins. No wonder Kelben and Laila would hire him to go underground to rescue Helast Black Robe at such a high price, but it is a joke to deal with the abyss lord with one's own strength. After he decided to break the seal, he took the mad mage directly to Kelben's mage tower to report the incident.

Of order, but my personal strength may not be enough to complete this task, I hope you can give me some help. Henry looked at Zestella hoping to get some benefits.

The mistress nodded solemnly. Don't worry, I will contact the mistresses of other ruling families as soon as possible. After the meeting, many people will help you behind the scenes. After all, Mistress Zestella has violated the bottom line of all families, and the firm rule of the first family is not what the Queen of God wants to see. Don't wait until tomorrow, take your tiefling slaves and set off now, be careful on the road, and don't leak any news.

Henry was overjoyed to be able to set off immediately, and he bowed to his mistress. Don't worry, I'm leaving now. Once I get close to the mage's tower, I will break the seal there. The mad mage will definitely kill the surroundings of the barracks. At that time, the strength of the first family will definitely be greatly reduced. Maybe our Naqor family can reach the top and become the first family of Eredlin City.

Mistress Ikrivuda's eyes glowed with excitement when she heard this, and she looked at Henry approvingly. If it's true as you said, then I will promote you to become the highest-ranking man in the whole family. Well, here are some advanced magic scrolls. Take them now. It's best not to disappoint me. You should understand the price of the loser. After she finished speaking, she handed Henry a scroll box.

After receiving the box, Henry immediately opened it and took a look, and found that all of it contained six to eighth-level spells. Including sixth-level spells: Tansen's Transfiguration, Chain Lightning, Disintegration, and See Through Magic. Seventh-level spells: mass invisibility, sword of Mordencan, sequence of spells, limited wishes. Eighth-level spells: simulacra, Abedachi wither, advanced wall shield, see through shields. Seeing so many advanced magics, even though he had seen many big scenes, he seemed a little excited.

Thank you for your trust. Please rest assured that I will not let the family down. The Helast black robe will be released on the day I arrive at the camp. Then please ask the mistress to be ready to take the place of the first family. After speaking, he flew off the platform to find Delina, and immediately walked out of the family gate.

Mistress Yikrivuda smiled as she watched Henry go away, and she murmured softly, I like the title of the No. 1 family in Eredlin City in Naqor. It seems to make everyone move.

She told the guard standing aside: Go and call all my sons and daughters, as well as the new martial arts chief, to the prayer room. I have something to announce.

Follow Mistress, I will inform everyone. After saying that, the guard left his post to convey the order of the family leader.

It didn't take long for all the nobles in the family to gather in the prayer room, and the eldest daughter Bleberina asked first: Mistress, do you know that you have urgently notified us of something important to come here?

Ikrivuda glanced at her eldest daughter. Now we have an opportunity in front of us. As long as we take some risks, we may become the number one family in the whole city. I hope that all of you will temporarily put aside your personal grievances and prepare for this operation. After she finished speaking, she told everyone the plan of the first family.

The third daughter, Zhali, glanced at her eager elder sister and frowned. She felt that this matter was too dangerous, as long as she was not careful, she would be besieged by all the families in the city. How do we deal with the relationship with other families? We must know that even if we succeed in bringing down the first family, we will lose a lot. How can we ensure that other families will not take advantage of the situation?

A sinister smile appeared on the face of the mistress. Don't worry, I will join with other ruling families. As long as their losses will be greater than ours, they will naturally not dare to provoke war easily.

Then what are you waiting for, let's start preparing now. As soon as Naromin succeeds, we can immediately take action and eradicate the first family in one fell swoop. The eldest son clenched his fists excitedly.

Since that's the case, I'm announcing that this plan is officially launched, and now I'm going to contact the mistresses of the other six ruling families, and you all act quickly. Mistress Yikrivuda gave orders to everyone vigorously. Her mind is now full of ambition and lust.

Henry took Delina out of the gate of Aredli City. He said to Delina as he walked, We will go to the top of the spiral staircase to find my other two companions, and then we will enter the camp together. After breaking the seal, we will teleport directly to the surface, so that we can escape the attack of the mad mage and avoid the pursuit of the dark elves.

Tiefling gave Henry a serious look. If I hadn't known in advance that you were a human being, I would have directly regarded you as a dark elf nobleman. You did a good job in this land full of conspiracy and betrayal. Now that you are in such a hurry to return to the surface, have you learned some great secret?

The mistress of the first family will perform a ceremony called the call of the abyss. It is said that the abyss lord of a level can be directly summoned to descend directly. I can't imagine what the consequences will be. Now I need to tell the rulers of the surface cities about this as soon as possible. After speaking, Henry sighed heavily.

Dai Lina's eyes widened in surprise, and it took her a long time to recover. My God! Are these dark elves crazy? Abyssal demons are irrational guys. Maybe the first thing they do after crossing the portal is to kill these summoners. The evil and chaotic guys are indeed unreasonable lunatics.

Henry nodded and agreed with what she said very much. In his eyes, demons are a group of psychopaths. They may attack the same kind around them at any time, just because they want to see blood or are unhappy today. Summoning demons is even more dangerous. They are not the same as devils. These guys never abide by any agreement. Whenever they have a chance, they will unscrew the heads of the summoners, and then eat them tightly in their stomachs.

It seems to Henry that he would rather deal with the devil than make any deal with the devil. Although the devil often plays tricks in various terms, they will strictly abide by and implement them as long as they are signed.

He kept observing Delina beside him, and it was obvious that the Tiefling woman's camp was by no means chaotic. Dai Lina, who was a little hairy when Henry looked at her, turned her head and asked, What's wrong? Is there a flower growing on my face? Or do you have any * thoughts about me?

Henry smiled awkwardly. It's nothing, I'm just guessing the faction you belong to based on your behavior. You don't look as evil and brutal as most of your kind.

It seems that you have seen my kind before. What happened between you, can you tell me? Hearing Henry's words, Delina asked curiously.

Henry smiled wryly and shook his head. It was a not-so-good memory. A tiefling warlock stormed into the Shadow Druid's camp and killed almost everyone. He also chopped off my friend's head to make a stuffed animal, and showed off his spoils everywhere.

Dai Lina touched her horn with a gloomy expression. Most of my compatriots can't restrain their instinctive impulses. If the blood in their bodies gains the upper hand, then their behavior will become more and more brutal. But I think the guy you mentioned must not end well. Although we haven't known each other for a long time, we can see your character.

I tortured him so much that even the devil in hell would tremble when he saw it, and finally he died in pain and struggle. Henry said as he took out a section of tail from the dimension bag and handed it over.

Delina looked at the small piece of metal inlaid on it. Many tieflings like to have such a small sharp blade on their tails, it can have a surprising effect in many cases.

Henry glanced at Delina's tail and found that she didn't have similar equipment. Just as he was about to say something, Delina suddenly hid her tail. You'd better not just stare at tiefling's tail, it's very impolite. It's the same as you humans staring at a woman's chest.

Sorry, I don't know your customs. But I just saw that you don't have similar equipment, so I'll give you this sharp blade as an apology gift. Henry hurriedly bowed and apologized. He really didn't expect that he would be treated as a prostitute one day.

Delina smiled and put the blade on her tail. Well, for your sincerity, I accept your apology and gift.

Chapter 94: Reunion and Infiltration

Along the way, Henry and Dai Lina told each other some interesting and adventurous stories that happened to them. The relationship between the two quickly upgraded from ordinary collaborators to close friends. After driving for three days in a row, they finally saw the light from the mage tower in the distance. They carefully bypassed the dark elf scouts hiding in the shadows and came to the spiral staircase.

Climbing up the stairs to the upper floor, Henry saw the half-orc warrior and female mage waiting by the bridge at a glance. He quickly released the deformation effect and ran over. After seeing it, Vaughan stood up and gave him a hug. Boss! You have finally returned safely. If there is no news, we will go down to find you.

Henry smiled and patted the orc warrior on the shoulder. Don't worry, not only is nothing wrong, but I have also received a lot of benefits. I have now obtained a pass to enter the central area.

Debra walked over and kissed passionately, and it took a while for her to let go of Henry. Master, welcome back, tell us about your experience below.

After Henry invited Dai Lina to sit down with him, he briefly talked about his experience in Eredlin City, which made the half-orc warrior frown. Finally he sighed. These black-skinned guys are really deceitful. If I change them, I'm afraid I will be calculated to death. You are really good at the head. You must know that there are not many people who can fight against these dark elves in terms of conspiracy and tricks.

I'm not as powerful as you said. Before I left, I was caught by the eldest daughter of the Nakhor family. If I didn't leave in time, I might be used to death by her. After speaking, Henry laughed at himself.

Debra looked at him sullenly. It seems that the intrigue of the Arcane Brotherhood in the past is nothing at all. Although people often mentioned legends about the underground to me, it is the first time I hear such a real experience, and it really makes my scalp tingle. What are you going to do next?

Henry thought about it for a while. You and Vaughn used the ring to change into the appearance of a dark elf, and we swaggered in through the main entrance. Anyway, they didn't know how many people I brought with me when I came back, and they declared that the two of you were newly joined soldiers of the family. It just so happened that the Baisen Denog family had just been captured in the city, and some new faces wouldn't cause too much suspicion. But be careful of Elles, once she learns that I killed Sina Fei, she may take revenge.

I think you also need to pay attention to Master Chasma. If the relationship between Nalomin and him is really as close as usual, once he finds out that you are pretending, the consequences will be disastrous. Dai Lina reminded while sitting next to her.

Henry shivered violently, almost forgetting about this powerful mage. He needs to fabricate a reason to let the Archmage leave for a while before acting. But for what reason? After thinking about it for a long time, he decided to tell Chasma about the plan of the first family, and then said that Mistress Ikrivuda needed to see him urgently.

After making up his mind, he said to Dai Lina: Don't worry, I will trick him away before we act. As soon as he leaves the camp, we will act immediately. Remember that once the mad mage rushes out of the mage tower, the transformation effect will be restored immediately. I don't want us to be killed by him as a dark elf. It would be too wrong to die. Vaughan nodded indifferently, obviously he didn't take it seriously.

Debra looked at him seriously. You'd better remember the master's words, otherwise it will bring disaster to us. You must know that he has a legendary spell that can kill all the dark elves in the camp below. I hope that such a spell will not be thrown on our heads by then.

Under everyone's gaze, the half-orc warrior retreated quickly. He patted his armor and assured: Please rest assured that I will follow the plan and there will be no mistakes.

Since there is no problem, let's start to act. Vaughan, you must remember to control your temper. You must know that the status of dark elves is very low. At any time, a female priest may whip you. Henry warned the half-orc warrior again. He was really afraid that this reckless guy would just pull out his giant sword and start fighting.

Vaughan activated the spell on the transformation ring and gradually transformed into a tall dark elf warrior. Then he touched his face. Don't worry, head. Even if these guys shit on the top of my head, I won't fight back. But I feel that the way I look now is really weird, and it feels a little weird.

Debra touched her pointed ears and sneered. The way you look now is much more pleasing to the eye than before. You must know that although the dark elves have made a mess of their statements, they are notoriously handsome and beautiful.

In the Northland, we call this kind of appearance a sissy, where only tall and mighty men are welcomed by women. After speaking, Vaughan shook his long hair that bothered him.

Henry re-transformed and said to everyone: Don't worry about the appearance of the dark elves, we're leaving now. Remember to behave naturally, if someone asks your name, don't speak, and I will find a way to deal with it.

A group of people quickly walked down the spiral staircase and walked towards the gate of the camp. On the way, a group of lizard knights tried to stop them. But the captain at the head stopped the team immediately after seeing Henry's appearance. Then he made all the knights bow to Henry, and did not stand up until he entered the camp gate. At this time, a knight asked the captain: We are on a mission now, why should we salute him?

The captain gave him a slap in the face. Idiot, haven't you heard? There is news from the mage camp that the Nakhor family has killed the third-ranked Baisen Denog family. If you want to die, go and catch us, and don't drag us. He said without thinking and led the team to continue patrolling, leaving the knight standing alone in a daze.

Henry took his companions directly to the mage's residence, and he went straight to the tent of Master Chasma. Master, I have another important news to report now, I wonder if you have time.

Come in, since you came back safely, it means that Ikrivuda has successfully killed another family. I really don't understand what they are fighting all day long for. The voice of the archmage said from the tent.

After Henry walked in, he saluted the archmage with a solemn expression. Chasma glanced at him, noticed his face and asked, Nalomin, what made your face so ugly?

Henry took a deep breath with pretentious makeup. Father is in trouble. The first family has collected the souls of many people on the surface. They are going to perform the ceremony of calling from the abyss. The mistress is now contacting other ruling families and wants to pull the first family down from above. She asked me to tell you that an interview is urgently needed.

The call of the abyss! Is Mistress Zestra of the first family crazy? What she did would destroy Eredlin City. Damn it, I had a premonition that this hunt on the surface would be bad. Archmage Chasma cursed angrily.

After turning around in the tent a few times, he said to Henry: Now I will leave for a while to discuss countermeasures with Ikrivuda. You stay in this tent first and don't go anywhere. The current situation is very critical, and there may be a war that will sweep the city soon.

Henry nodded hastily. Please rest assured that I will not leave here, but there are still a few subordinates outside, can I let them come in to hide together?

The  teacher waved his hand impatiently. Whatever, as long as you don't break my things. After speaking, he opened a portal and got in.

Henry breathed a sigh of relief, and finally tricked this trouble away. He directly packed all the experimental equipment, materials and magic items in the entire tent into the dimensional bag. Then he walked out of the tent and said to the people waiting outside the door: Well, Chasma has been tricked by me back to Eredlin City. I believe he will not come back within half an hour at least. Let's start the action. He put on the badge recommended by his mistress and walked towards the mage tower.

Just as they were about to enter the sealed area, they were stopped by a guard. Stop! This is a restricted area. No one is allowed to approach without the order of the ruling council. The guards issued a loud warning with their crossbows.

Henry pointed to the badge on his chest. This is my pass. I have to go in because of something urgent. If the order is not delivered in time due to your reasons, imagine what will happen to you!

The guard ignored his threat, but carefully checked the spell on the badge, and after confirming that it was not a fake, he put away his weapon. I'm sorry to stop you, but I'm carrying out Madam Zestra's order.

After Henry kicked him with a look of annoyance, he led everyone in. When he came to the central area, he found that there were pillars made of mithril and fine gold everywhere, with intricate patterns carved on them. They formed a special force field around the Mage Tower in a special arrangement, and this position completely isolated the Mage Tower from the outside world.

While the dark elf mages patrolling around didn't pay attention, they found a corner to hide in, Henry quietly took out Kelben's magic scroll and activated it. A powerful magical energy erupted centered on the scroll, uprooting all the metal pillars. The mages were blown all over the place, and by the time they realized what had happened, it was too late.

A huge portal opened from the bottom of the Mage Tower, and an old man with disheveled hair in a black robe walked out from inside. Leaning on crutches, he let out a weird laugh, and then began to mutter to himself. These damned little things, nasty bugs, disgusting rats. I want to show you some color.

Henry and the others, who were hiding aside, had returned to their original appearance. They nervously observed the abnormal muttering and various abnormal movements of the old man in black robe. Henry pressed the teleportation badge tightly with one hand, and as soon as he found that the Helast black robe had any intention to attack in this direction, he would directly activate the magic on it.

Fortunately, the mad mage didn't notice them. He took out an unknown object from his body and began to chant spells loudly, and powerful magical powers began to answer his call. The violent fluctuation of magic power can still be clearly felt even at such a distance, Henry thought this must be a legendary spell.

A horrified expression appeared on the face of the dark elf mage, and he shouted at all his compatriots behind: Quick! Stop him! This is a legendary spell! If you let him complete it, we will all die!

Hearing his shout, the dazed dark elves behind finally came to their senses. They began to cast spells and divine spells one after another, while other warriors took out their crossbows and shot quickly. For a moment, all kinds of gorgeous spells and sharp arrows enveloped Helast's black robe, but the mad mage didn't care about these attacks and continued to chant his own spells. All the attacks were blocked by an invisible force field within one meter of his body.

Break the magic shield quickly! Otherwise, there will be no threat to him at all. The mage yelled hoarsely. Just when all the dark elves were preparing for the second round of attack, the singing stopped.

The mad mage pointed to a piece of ground in front of him and shouted: Lava erupts! Hahahaha! Feel the hot soup pot! Little mice. After speaking, the ground in the center of the camp raised rapidly, and soon formed a small volcano, which violently erupted hot magma in all directions, covering almost the entire range of the camp. The dark elves screamed in horror and started to run away. Many people were melted into ashes the moment they were submerged in the magma.

All the mages standing in front looked at the scene behind in fear, they stopped casting spells one after another, opened the door and prepared to escape. Helast had a weird smile on his face, and then he began to invoke the powerful energy of the mage tower. White lightning shot down from the top of the tower one after another, and the lightning passed through the body of the dark elf mage in the blink of an eye, and they were killed before they had time to reflect.

What should I do with the rest now? Let me think about it. By the way, I have a good idea. Hehe, hahahaha the mad mage said with a smirk while looking at the remaining dark elves.

Suddenly a black figure appeared out of nowhere behind him, and the assassin stabbed fiercely into the back of his head with an enchanted dagger from behind. The powerful magic dagger penetrated all the protection, and then the brains flowed out directly. Hailast opened his mouth to say something, but in the end he didn't make a sound, and slowly fell to the ground.

The assassin quickly drew out his dagger, and stabbed him dozens of times in a row before he felt relieved. He shouted excitedly at the remaining dark elves: Did you see that, I killed a legendary mage! Mistress Zestra must have rewarded me for this! Hahahaha!

The only remaining mage got up from the ground, and he just wanted to say something to the assassin. Suddenly, the portal of the mage tower opened again, and four people walked out from it, exactly the same as the mad mage that was killed just now. They stared at the assassin with cloudy eyes, and one of them looked at the corpse on the ground and said, You damned fellows! How dare you kill me! Go to hell! Go to hell!

After speaking of a powerful spell, the assassin who hadn't had time to react was fixed in place, and then another person used necromantic magic to draw out his soul. In the end, the other two kept tearing at the assassin's soul with spells, and Henry could even see his distorted face and howling in pain. The entire torture lasted for several minutes, and finally the soul couldn't stand the pain, and collapsed into countless fragments and dissipated in the air.

The four mad mages admired the beauty of the soul dissipating for a while, and one of them suddenly turned his head and stared at the corner where Henry was hiding. It seems that there are still some bedbugs that haven't been cleaned up. It's okay, but it's just a little more work. Yes, that's it. Kill them! Kill them! He began to prepare the spell.

Henry realized that the situation was not good, and directly activated the teleportation magic on the badge, and a huge white light enveloped everyone in it. When the light disappeared, they had returned to Kelben's mage tower. The four Kailast black robes with crazy expressions also instantly regained their sanity, and they began to tidy up their messy hair and wrinkled magic bubbles. Kelben and Laila felt the violent spatial vibration outside, and immediately stepped out and prepared for battle.

Seeing the two of them, Henry gave a wry smile. Master Kelben, Ms. Leila. I have completed your task. Now the seal of the Mage Tower has been broken, and the Helast black robes have also brought them.

Kelben looked at the four identical mad mages warily. You did a very good job. Leave the rest of the negotiation to me. You stand aside first, it might be a bit dangerous here. Henry nodded, and quickly led everyone to hide behind Lila for protection.

Young man, in fact, you don't have to be so nervous. After all, you rescued me from the seal of the dark elves. One of the Helast black robes said to Henry.

Kelben was relieved to see the mad mage utter such coherent words, and it seemed that he regained his sanity once he reached the surface, which at least avoided an unnecessary battle. He coughed hard. I entrusted them to go down and rescue you. Tell me, what happened in the city under the mountain.

Hmph! Are you kind enough to save me? You are afraid that the creatures below the mountain will invade Waterdeep City, right? I won't accept your favor. Even without anyone's help, I will break the seal sooner or later. As for you, my little friend, I decided to give you some rewards. Tell me what do you want? After speaking, he glanced at himself behind him, and nodded to each other.

Henry came out from behind Lyra and bowed to Hylast. The only thing I want is to learn all the magic. If you can take a few days to give me some advice, I will be very grateful. After speaking, he looked at Helast with firm eyes, waiting for his answer.

The crazy mage's eyes once again revealed a look of madness. All magic! Haha, this is really a crazy wish. It seems that there will be a lot of common language between us, and I am very willing to give you some pointers.

Thank you very much, but now there is still a very bad news to tell you and Master Kelben. When I sneaked into the dark elf city, I got a message. The first family's Mistress Zestra collects human souls to perform a summoning ceremony called the abyss. It can summon an abyss lord from a level, and it is said that it will destroy a certain city on the surface.

Kelben and Laila's expressions immediately changed, and Helast's black robe also frowned. Then Kelben cast several prophecy spells, and all the predicted results were exactly the same as what Henry said. These dark elves are really crazy, don't they know the consequences of summoning the abyss lord? Lila asked her husband with a livid face.

Kelben glanced at his wife and said to the mad mage: Halaster, we must let go of our prejudices now. I don't think you want a deep abyss lord to pass through your mountain city and make a mess inside.

The crazy mage discussed with the several clones behind him for a while, then turned around and replied: Okay, let's cooperate for a while. I will mobilize all the monsters and golems in the city below the mountain, and launch a war against the city of the dark elves to attract their attention. You will then be responsible for sneaking into the city to destroy this ceremony.

No problem, as long as you pull most of their power, Lila and I will enter the city and destroy the entire ceremony. But you'd better be careful, the mistresses of the dark elves may summon the Larong demon at any time.

Halast laughed aloud when he heard it. It would be great if they really summoned them. I've never caught this kind of monster. Alright, I'm going to summon the army now. After speaking, he took the other three with him and cast a spell to open the portal.

Laila glanced at her husband. Let's start to act too. The opponent this time is not easy. I hope nothing goes wrong.

Kelben said seriously to Henry: You stay in my mage tower first, and we will talk about other things when we come back. After speaking, he gave Henry and his party the right to enter the mage tower, and walked into the portal with Lila.

After the three legendary mages all left, Debra gently wiped the sweat from her forehead. It's really terrible. We were almost crushed to death by the mad mage like a bug. Master, please don't do such a dangerous thing next time.

Henry also felt that his whole body was soaked. Never again. We only need to do such an adventure once. Now let's go to the mage's tower and have a good rest. We are all exhausted.

Dai Lina looked at the surrounding environment curiously and asked: Is this the surface? It's much more beautiful than the Underdark. Who were those two just now? I feel that they are very powerful.

Here is the surface. Those two people just now are the chosen ones of the Goddess of Magic. They are both legendary mages with powerful mana, and they are also the clients of our mission. Well, let's go in and have a rest first. You still have a lot of common sense on the surface to learn. After speaking, he led everyone into Kelben's mage tower.
