

Chapter 12

"Human?" Declan spoke out his thought but then the knocked on the door stopped their conversation.

It was Alysa and she brought her medical tools along with the IV stand with her. The triplets gave her the space to work and take care of their mate. But then they realized someone was standing outside the room waiting for them to get out.

"Rio. How's the situation out there?" Declan asked the Beta of the pack, Rio, who was apparently already waiting for them outside the door.

"We already take care of everything Alpha. I just want to report some progress in our pack relate to the welcoming the new pack member." Rio bowed to him and Declan nodded. He was the only one who got out and met him, while Luca and Finn decided to hear from inside of the room, unable to move away from their little mate.

"We already moved them to the temporary housing as you order. And some of them that have small or bad injuries already taken here. The other pack member also help the girls with their needs and everything went well, Alpha." Rio explain to him briefly, this was the third time they doing this. Some of the task they already knew what to do.

But this time, something was clearly different.

"Thank you Beta Rio. You are really helpful I appreciate that. The three of us can't go to see them directly right now..." Declan said firmly but he was really thanking him for handling the situation while the three of them was absent.

"It's my duty, Alpha, I don't mind. By the way... Congratulation! You guys already found your mate!" He smiled a little but his tone changed from flat and formal to a brighter and friendly one.

Declan smirked and accepted his best friend fist bump. He nodded and chuckled before he respond.

"Yeah.. thanks dude. I know.. Finally. Contrast to how we find her out there, but the three of us were beyond happy that she is finally here." Declan sighed in relief.

Rio nodded and then his eyebrows frowned. "How's Luna Lilly doing?"

This time, Declan was the one who frowning and looked at him confusedly.

"Lilly?"

"Y-yes... Ah.. you guys didn't know about it yet, right? Luna's name is Lilly. I knew this from her little friend earlier. She keeps crying over her. If... you remember..." Rio told him awkwardly. He felt guilty that he was the one who knew this first rather than her mates.

But Declan smiled widely made Rio instantly relief.

"Yeah, Lilly... My Lilly is fine now. She is already taken care of and Myrna gave her some special potion for her energy. She needs more rest." Declan explained.

"Thank goodness. I was worried when I saw her out there. I thought..." Rio didn't finish his words, he didn't want to bail his leader flame when it's already cool down.

"Yeah. Us too. Her condition is bad at the moment. But now, she is getting better. I could feel it. We'll talk more about this when she wake up. I need more information about those rouges. We really need to find out where they head to this time." Declan said to him and Rio nodded.

"Yes, Alpha." Rio bowed and before Declan opened the door to the room and he walked away from there, he remembered something and asked Declan about it.

"Alpha Declan, may I asked you something?"

"What is it?"

Rio cleared his throat before continue. "I know Luna's condition need rest and unbothered. But this little friend of her, crying and always asking about her. Debby, it's her name, asked me if she could see her best friend and make sure she is all right..." Rio told Declan even though he knew what the outcome is.

"No. Not now. Tell her that Lilly is fine. She will see her after she wake up."

And that was final. Rio nodded and bowed again a little before he left. He knew that the triplets will never want anyone to see their mate right now. But he feel like at least he asked them about it. He promised Debby to ask them and he did.

Lycans were well known for their possessiveness towards their belongings and this also happens when it comes about their mate. Usually, when a Lycan or Lycans found their mate, they would do the mating process right away and keep their mate away from anyone else. They didn't want anyone other than them to see their mate after they fuck her senseless.

Rio smiled when he remembered how he met her, centuries ago. What a sweet memory and forever will be. He then silently walked into Debby's room while playing some other sweet memories in his head with his beautiful mate.

Meanwhile, after Rio left, Alysa also done with her work and immediately left the room. She did everything quickly and didn't say anything. It was clear that she did all of that only because of her work and she didn't want to be there any longer than necessary.

"So, our baby's name is Lilly?" Finn smiled softly at his sleeping mate and said her name as it was his new favorite word.

Declan nodded and Luca seemed so pleased. All of them were so happy that they finally new her name.

"Lilly love, please wake up soon. I can't wait to hear your voice..." Luca kissed the top of her hand. He then carefully placed her hand back on her side.

The three of them now were sitting down around her bed. Luca and Declan on the right side, Finn on the left. They could see some visible changes on her body right now. Some of her black and purple bruises were almost gone. The open cuts on her hands, wrists and ankles were already close and dry.

"She heals. At least those new cuts and bruises were started to faded..." Luca said while looking at her.

"It fast. I wonder is it because of Myrna's potion or is it because she is an mythical creature?" Declan try to figure out who Lilly actually is.

"Damn I can't wait to hear her voice. I want her to talk directly to us and tell us everything about herself." Finn uttered.

Luca nodded in agreement. And he could sit in relax while listening to her when she talk everything she want to talk about. He didn't care. He just want to be with her. Everything about his Lilly is so special.

"One of us need to go and check other girls like our Lilly outside this room. Rio told me some of them are here, some in the temporary housing." Declan spoke after a while.

"You go." Finn respond to him but Declan looked at him with a frown.

"What? You suggested it, you go. I don't want to be anywhere else far from Lilly." Finn shrug.

"And unfortunately, that is happening to me too. Take turn. You go first." Declan told Finn to go and of course this was another bickering between them.

"Why don't you first? You are the first born among us. You go, then Luca, then me." Finn keep refusing 2

"Why is it have to be me that always comes first. Today we changed the rules, we start from the last. You go." Declan said impatiently and Finn was ready to state another objection from his point of view when finally Luca let out his bored voice.

"Stop it. You two are bothering her. Let Rio handle everything first, if anything go beyond his control he can come to us. We need to be here for her at least until we are sure she is getting better and waking up. If the two of you still want to continue to argue, get lost."

With that, Declan and Finn didn't dare to let out a single sound anymore.
