

Chapter Nineteen

Lina POV.

I wake up feeling Alex's big arms around me, and I turn around looking at him. He always looks so peaceful when he sleeps. I lean over and kiss him softly and a smile forms on his lips.

"You sleep well beautiful?"

"Mhmm, I thought you were sleeping."

"I woke up a little ago. It's difficult to sleep when two people are mindlinking you at the same time."

"Two?"

"Yes, Logan asked why we didn't come to school, and dad wanted to tell your grandparents are back. They will come to eat dinner tonight."

I had for a little completely forgotten they most likely would be back today. I nod my head. Suddenly Alex is above me pinning me to the bed. And give me a naughty smile.

"You did at least seem the need some sleep? I blush and he chuckles.

"Don't be embarrassed baby. I loved feeling and tasting your skin and hearing how you enjoyed it." I blush even more

"Oh my god, what if anyone heard." He smiles

"Babygirl, I told you all bedrooms and bathrooms plus offices are soundproof."

That makes me relax a little. But I am still a little embarrassed. I have never felt like that. It was like I needed him like I need air. And he was so gentle and careful, I knew all the time that one word and he would stop, and it only made me want him more.

"You gave me a shower." It wasn't a question but a statement.

"I wanted to take care of you. I will always do anything to make you feel good."

He kisses me and lays down next to me. And I remember how big and hard the bulge was in his jeans.

"What about you?" he looks at me for a bit.

"After I put you in bed I went shower, I took care of it. Wasn't hard after what you had just let me do." I blush again. And he smiles.

"Don't be embarrassed. Wolves are very sexual creatures, and they affect us their humans."

"But I don't have a wolf yet."

"True. And to be honest, I don't mind that right now. It makes it easier, whit everything that has happened, to know it's you are wanting me to touch you." I nod my head and blush making him chuckle.

We lay in bed talking and kissing. It feels so good to be with him. And it is getting harder to hold back. I trust him to never want to hurt me. When it gets time, I stand up and go towards my room. Standing in my closet I don't know what to wear. I want to look nice when I am going to meet my grandparents. After a while, I feel Alex come up behind me and put his arms around me.

"Are you okay?" I nod my head.

"I just don't know what to wear." I look at him with pleading eyes. Alex looks in my closet. Find a pair of white jeans and a soft yellow loose top. And my white flats.

"This will look good on you." I smile at him.

"Thank you."

30 minutes later I showered and dressed in my outfit. I was just brushing my hair when Alex come in.

"You look beautiful." I smile at him.

"Thank you, I am so nervous."

"Don't be, they are going to love you beautiful." He takes my hand, and we walk downstairs.

"They had the dinner set up in the dining room we use if we have important guests" Alex tells me.

"Also, while we eat Mary have two omegas move your stuff into my room." He says smiling, trying to distract me, I smile back.

"Okay," I answer. We are standing outside the dining room, and we can hear people talking. I let out a heavy breath and we walk into the room.

Alex's mom and dad are there, Elizabeth coming over to hug us. Next, the Alpha William is to elder people. The man looks like an elder version of my dad. At least out from the picture I have. The woman looks at me with tears in her eyes.

"Look, Daryl, she looks so much like Derrick, except her eyes. They are all Abby." The man looks at me and it surprises me to see he also has wet eyes. 1

Daryl slowly approaches us, as if he doesn't want to scare me. When he is close enough, he reaches out and pulls me into a warm hug. And the woman joins us.

"I never stopped looking hoping I would one day find you. I always have this with me." Daryl says showing me a little figure that looks like a wolf. I look at the little figure and memory so old I couldn't remember entered my head.

**Memory** - Lina's third birthday

Happy birthday to you, happy birthday to Lina, Happy birthday to you. Grandpa and grandma sing with mom and dad. After the song, Grandpa hugs me.

"Happy birthday my little wolf," Grandpa says and lifts me. Grandpa always calls me his little wolf.

"Thank you, Grandpa.

"You welcome Little wolf. Alistair wishes you a Happy birthday too." Alistair is grandpa's wolf. He always let me ride on his back. Just like daddy does. 1

"Can I hug him today grandpa?"

"Maybe later little wolf but see what we have for you."

My grandpa takes up a little wrapped-in gift from his pocket and gives it to me. I open it and look inside. It's a little dark brown wolf with green eyes. Just like Alistair. I hold the little wolf in my small hands smiles brightly at my grandpa.

"Thank you, grandpa,"

"You're welcome little wolf"

– several months later –

"I want my mommy and daddy." I tell the lady in the house they say I live in now.

"You don't have a mommy and daddy anymore." The lady tells me

"I want my grandma and grandpa." The lady doesn't answer me.

I dropped my little wolf that look like Alistair, somewhere in the forest, Grandpa will be upset that I lost him. I keep telling them all that grandpa and his wolf will come to get me. But they all just laugh at me. And tell me humans don't have wolves as pets. The other kids laugh at me too. So, I just stop talking about it. I know they will find me."

**Memory over****

I look at the little brown wolf with green eyes.

"Alistair," I Whisper. And looks up at my grandpa. 1

"I found it in the forest and have had it on me ever since. Hoping we would find you. I never gave up little wolf, we knew you had to be out there." He says with wet eyes my grandma sobbing behind him.

Suddenly my grandpas' eyes change and a deep voice I recognize says.

"Little wolf, we found you. I hope you have been safe; I am sorry I couldn't find you little wolf" I know this is Alistair talking.

"Don't be sorry Ali, I knew you would look for me. Thank you." He nods his head and retreats, and my grandpas' eyes come back to normal.

"We are so happy you have found your way back to us."

"Me too. Thanks to Alex." I look at Alex who stepped away to give us a little space. My Grandpa looks at him.

"Yes, Thank your young alpha. Thank you for finding our granddaughter." Alex smiles and comes over putting his arms around me.

"You don't need to thank you, Daryl. I am just happy Lina now knows who she is and has found some family. And I couldn't be happier that Lina is my mate. And that goes from even when I thought she was human." My grandpa nods his head in approval. 1

"Yes, Lina is very special."

"I know, and not just because of her bloodline. She is sweet, strong, and caring and has a heart of gold. I don't care about her bloodline. I care about her. And her happiness"

"I am happy to hear that. But I didn't expect any different being raised by your dad and mom."

Alex POV.

It is amazing to see Lina and her grandparents meet after so many years. Her grandpa and grandma have been Mourning, thinking they had also lost her, along with her parents. I saw how she recognized and remembered when she says the little brown wolf. And feeling the sorrow from her grandpa's wolf when he pushed forward to say sorry. Something I have never heard a wolf do before. They all love Lina very much. 4

"Let us all sit down and eat." My mom tells us, and we do.

During dinner, Daryl and Karen ask Lina how and where she grew up, and if she has been treated well. They are shocked to know that Lina has been in the town for the past three years. Lina also tells them that her last home wasn't a nice place to be. But she doesn't tell them why. It's easy to tell that Daryl wants to know more about but he doesn't push it, not for now anyway. 1

"We are so happy, and we hope we will see you a lot more. Now we can finally relax, knowing you are safe." Karen says as they are about to leave. Lina smiles at her.

"I am so happy I finally know who I am and have found you and that I have Alex. And I will for sure come to see you a lot. And I have so many questions if that's okay."

"Of course, it's okay, you can ask us anything you like," Daryl tells her tugging the little wolf figure into her hands, they both hug her before turning around to go home. 1

Looking at Lina I can see she is tired and overwhelmed, so we say goodnight to my parents and go up to our room, where the omegas now have moved Lina's stuff in. We walk in and Lina sits down on the couch. 2

"Are you okay baby?" She nods her head.

"I am. I really am. I, it's just." She can't find the words and I pull her into my arms, just holding her close.

"It's okay Babygirl. You don't need to say anything. Just remember I am here for you." She nods her head and places it against my chest and just relaxes. While looking at the little wolf in her hands.

"I can't believe I had forgotten everything." She whispers.

"Babygirl, you were only a little girl. With a lot of different adults, I can only imagine all the different stuff and ways you had to live in. it's no surprise your memories got pushed away." I softly tell her, and she nods her head.

"Let's get to bed beautiful. We have to go to school tomorrow."

We both get up and find something to sleep in. Crawling into bed I pull her close to me. Loving how she just fits in my arms.

"Goodnight baby." I give her a soft kiss

"Goodnight, Alex."

And we fall asleep. Lina wrapped in my arms.
