

Chapter Twenty-two

Lina POV.

Alex won't tell me where we are going, he just tell me to wait and see. I try to trick him with small talk, putting my hand on his thigh. He just smiles and holds my hand with his. I sit back in my seat, looking out of the window. Alex and I have been getting so close, I trust him and also feel my body and mind wanting to be with him. I know I will never forget the abuse and the pain. But I feel as if he can show and teach me to relax and enjoy being intimate. 6

"I hope you like steak." I look at him and see him smile.

"Steak is good." He gives me another big smile and drives upfront a steakhouse. Getting out he comes around to my door opening it for me, helping me out.

We enter the restaurant, and a waiter comes up to us. She looks at me then Alex, and he smiles big. 1

"Hello, just name is Kelly, and I am your waiter. would you like a table for two, to your friend and you or do you have reservations?" She says the word friend as if Alex surely couldn't be a couple with me, looking at him smiling. 1

"Hello Kelly, my girlfriend and me have reservations, under Black." Ignoring her flirting, she blushes. 1

"Of Couse Mr. Black, your table is this way. Your dinner guests have already arrived." She smiles at him again, ignoring me completely. I look at him. He takes my hand kissing it and nibbles my thumb. 1

Suddenly grumpy, she led us to the back of the restaurant, and I gasp, a big table has been set up, and around it is our friends, Alex's parents, and my grandparents. I look at Alex.

"We wanted to celebrate that you had your diploma" He smile and kisses me softly.

"You all didn't have to do this." I blush. Elizabeth stands up and comes to give me a big hug.

"Lina sweetheart, congratulations. We are all so proud of you."

"Thank you." Also, my grandparents come to hug me.

"We are so proud of you Lina." I blush and we all sit down to eat.

Alex POV.

Lina really deserved this, to know how amazing she is. And it was amazing to see how happy she got. I can't stop looking at her tonight. Emma and Emily did a great job finding that dress for her.

Everyone is done eating, and after talking for a little while we all get up to leave. Lina hugs her grandparents and my mom before they leave. Lina looks at me with her beautiful eyes and smile.

"Thank you, Alex."

"You're welcome baby, but our night isn't over yet." I take her hand heading for the car we start driving towards home.

Getting to a stop in the garage I stop her when she goes to enter the house.

"We not going in babygirl." Taking her hand, I lead her towards to forest. Not letting go we walk to a small open clearing with a small waterhole.

"This is beautiful Alex."

"it's a full moon tonight. And no, we don't turn into vicious beasts, our wolf is stronger close to and under the full moon. I wanted to share this with you for a little. And Hunter has been bugging me to get out fully and meet you. So thought tonight will be a good night to let him if you want.

"I would love to." She nods her head and I smile.

"Just remember, he is an animal. But he will never hurt you. Also, he is bigger than others, so please don't get scared."

Lina POV.

Alex kisses me softly then turns around and begins to remove his clothes. And then he shifts, into this huge but incredibly beautiful midnight black wolf. It turns around to lay down on its stomach to try to show he won't hurt me.

I walk over to him slowly reach out and touch his head between his ears and scratch him. Making him purr, I giggle.

"You might be big, but you purr like a small kitten." He growls at me as if he laughs at me making me smile big.

"It's so nice to meet you properly Hunter. I hope you will get happy when my wolf will join us." Again, he purrs, and I take that as a good sign. Suddenly he stands up and licks my face.

"Hunter!" I laugh "gross." My face was all wet where he licked it. I kiss his nose.

Hunter turns and goes to a tree, and I can't help but think maybe he going to pee against it, making me laugh a little bit of course he doesn't. Instead, he shifts again, and Alex is standing with his back to me taking on a pair of shorts.

He turns to me and comes back putting his arms around me looking down at me, he bends down kissing me.

"Thank you, you just made Hunter very happy."

"You're welcome, he is an amazing wolf. Why is he so big?"

"For one, I am an alpha, we just are bigger. But also, me and hunter shifted earlier than normal. It's unusual and rarely happens. But it's said when it does the wolf and his person are bigger and stronger." I smile

Alex finds two blankets spreading out one of them and wrapping the other around me when we lay down. I snuggle into him, and we just relax watching the moon and the stars. After a little while, we fall asleep.

Dream

I am walking over the most beautiful field have ever seen. So many different flowers it's impossible to see how many. At the end of the field huge rocks tower up and you can hear water running. Walking closer I see the most amazing waterfall. Looking around I notice all the wolves playing around having fun. When I hear a sweet melodic voice.

"You finally come to visit me." I turn around to see the most beautiful woman I have ever seen. Pale skin shiny silver hair almost looking white. And bright blue eyes. I bow my head. Even she hasn't said it, I know this is the moon-goddess.

"Moon-goddess. "I say respectfully keeping my gaze at the ground. I feel her soft pale hands on my face.

"Daughter, you don't need to bow for me." Looking up I see he is smiling.

"I have been waiting for you, Lina."

"You have?"

"Yes." She smiles. "You are the last one Lina the last blessed wolf." I look at her.

"What do you mean? "

"Many hundreds of years ago I blessed three bloodlines. Two of those bloodlines being the women the last one the men." She pauses looking sad.

"But I didn't predict how much it would be a hunted life, being a blessed wolf. I never thought my wolves would disrespect me so much. And I never wished for the bloodlines being forced to hide so they wouldn't be found.

So, I decided 50 years ago to let the blessed part die out. Meaning that the firstborn in the female bloodlines wouldn't be a girl and the last one wouldn't be a boy. The two other bloodlines are both free from the blessing." She smiles at me.

"Does that mean that I am not a blessed wolf?"

"No, when I decided this, fate had already settled in for the last woman in your bloodline. And I knew I could only make her unborn child, you, the last blessed wolf to ever exist." I nod my head.

"What does this mean?"

"It means that when the time comes, your first child will not be a girl. And to make sure the blessing doesn't find a loophole; you will never have a daughter." She looks at me sadly. I nod my head.

"But I can still give Alex an heir, right?"

"Oh yes, you will have sons." I don't know why, but that makes me smile.

"Thank you. Because he is the best thing that has happened in my life." I whisper.

"You need to know as the last blessed, your powers will be stronger than anything seen. You will be able to control all elements and also heal hurt wolves. But you need to be careful, using too much of the powers can kill you." I nod my head.

"That is why I paired you with a wolf that is special in his way. Hunter and his human ate stronger, faster, and have even more heightened senses, both in wolf form and human form. This was done to do my best to ensure you a long happy life." 1

"Thank you, moon-goddess." I smile at her.

"You are welcome, my sweet child. But remember there are still wolves and witches, who would like nothing more than to use your blood. So, you need to learn to protect yourself."

"I know." The moon-goddess smiles and nods her head.

"Now it's time for you to leave my child. Stay safe."

dream over

Before I can answer I feel myself being pulled away, and the field and waterfall disappear. I sit up with a shock causing Alex to wake up too.

"Lina? What happened?" I look at him.

"I dreamed, but it didn't feel like a dream. The moon-goddess, oh my God I must be going crazy. Of course, it was just a dream." Alex looked shocked.

"The Moon-goddess appeared in your dream?"

"It felt more like I was taken to this beautiful field with a waterfall wolf souls were playing around. And she came. And talking to me." Alex still looks shocked.

"Babygirl, I think she decided to pull you to her. I have heard about it before. What she tells you?"

I looked at him sure he would start laughing or something, but he didn't, so I tell him everything she said, also about his and my future. This makes him smile wide.

"I would have loved a little daughter looking like her beautiful mom. But I understand why she would ensure that another wolf won't lead on the blessed bloodline." He says looking at me.

"Me too, and I am not mad or sad about it." He pulls me into him and kisses me.

"Good because will love and protect you and our future kids always." I smile at him and lay my head on his shoulder.

"It's getting late beautiful we better get home, before people start to panic." I giggle and he kisses me.

We get up and walk back to the packhouse, as we enter, we walk up to our room and get ready to sleep. Laying in the bed, I snuggle into him and fall asleep using him as a pillow.
