Chapter 81 : Where is my Daughter...?

After leaving the Reddy family villa... Das drove the bike towards his villa at film city area. As he came to home, Das took the baby from Stella's hands and started playing with her.

"Why are sending me these property document...?" Stella showed the text to Das who is busily staring at the baby face.

"I joust bought those properties... have a look at them." Das replied while turning back his attention on to the baby.

The baby slowly slept in his hands with a sweet smile on her immature face. Das continued to hold the baby as he is enjoying her breathing on his shoulders.

Boom***

Suddenly a loud smashing sound came from his villa gate. Das immediately passed the baby on to Stella's hands and he alone went outside to check the situation. He instructed Stella's to stay in her room before coming out from the main door.

More than five luxurious Rolls Royce cars were directly entered inside his villa. Those cars directly entered inside his villa by flattening the entrance gate. Das felt infuriating raze after seeing their brazen behaviour in his villa.

The five cars stopped before him and a large mob got down from those five cars. Later a beautiful middle-aged woman who wore a black saree got down from the back seat of the centre customised car with a hasty temper. S he directly walked towards Das in a hurried manner. Das recognised her in a single glance. She is Maria... the head of the Patel family... the widow who took control of the powerful Patel family without bowing her head to anyone. Das really admired her character, aside from her beauty.

"Where is my daughter...? Maria directly asked Das with a serious face. Das did not understand what she is talking about. How could he know about her daughter.

"Don't act like innocent. I already know that she came to attack you with a mob in the morning time. So, tell me where is she now...?" Maria asked again while staring into Das eyes with a serious look.

"It is true that your daughter came to attack me in the morning time. At that time, I only smashed the gangsters who came along with your daughter."

"But I did not touch a single hair on your daughter. I just a gave her small warning to your daughter... other than that I did not do anything to her and after that I left to my college." Das explained the events of the morning fight patiently.

"Madam, he won't say the truth if we ask him like this. Let me handle this brat." Maria's body guard said as he moved towards Das.

Thud*** Das directly kicked the body guard on the knee.

"Don't dare to threaten me. You people already entered into my house with out my permission. But I'm talking patiently instead of kicking you out. So, think carefully before talking any nonsense." Das warned the mob with a loud tone.

"Stop behaving like hero... if you did not do anything to my daughter, then where is my daughter?" Maria asked again without backing down.

Even though Das can feel her anguish, he can't do anything. Das also don't know about Emma's whereabouts. Before Das answered, Maria's mobile started ringing from her hand bag. While looking into the Das face with an impatient expression, Maria answered the phone call.

While talking into the phone... Maria face changed into a complicated expression. She started feeling anxious as the call continued.

"I'm sorry... It's my fault." Maria said to Das with an anxious look as she disconnected the call.

Instead of accepting her apology... Das asked her about the phone call.

"It's about my daughter. The Shetty family actually kidnapped my daughter to black mail me. They are demanding my support and money for the upcoming challenge with the Reddy family." Maria said while preparing to leave.

"What are you going to do...?" Das asked back while thinking about the consequences of this matter.

"First, I need to save my daughter." Maria said as she got onto the driver's seat of the car. She already ordered her servants and security to not to follow her.

"You can't go alone. Let me accompany you." Das requested as this matter also related to the upcoming blood duel.

"Nah... my daughter is at the Shetty family training facility, there will be more than hundred fighters in that place and they also warned me to not to bring anyone." Maria said as she started the car engine.

Without listening to another question from Das, Maria directly left alone. Das went onto deep thought after listening to her answer. He can't ignore this matter. The Shetty family will become formidable if they gain support from Patel family... so, he had to do something.

"Maria said it is a training facility of the Shetty family... if my guess is correct the newly recruited fighters of the Shetty family will also be there in that building." Das thought while thinking about what to do in this situation.

transfer Emma to another place. So, he must do something.

"Whatever... first I need to see what is going on at the training facility." Das decided to Even after thinking for fifteen minutes straight, he did not get any suitable plan. Even though he can inform Reddy family about this matter, the Shetty will get alert and transfer Emma to another place. So, he must do something.

"Whatever... first I need to see what is going on at the training facility." Das decided to follow Maria secretly. The security who came with Maria are already left his villa.

Das took out the sports car in the garage to follow Maria. Before leaving Das suddenly remembered the bow. That night where he saved the baby, Das also brought a broken bow used by the mysterious lady to defend her baby.

She said it is the heirloom of the Aries family which is a top hidden family. The mountain goat spirit which entered inside Das body is also came out of the broken bow.

Das took out the broken bow from his room and instructed Stella to stay inside her room.

After coming out of the villa, Das called John to know the location of the training facility of the Shetty family. The training facility is in the city outskirts and it is an isolated building with a lot of fallow land surrounding it.

Das reached that place at night eight o'clock. He stopped the car a long distance away from the building and walked near the training centre without alerting anyone. The Shetty family already set up a tight security around the building as they were preparing to take down the Patel family.

Das climbed a big tree which has a better view and patiently waited for the arrival of the Patel family head. Das raised his focus to test whether he can activate the special vision as he wants to see the actual situation going inside the training facility.

Maybe because of the tense situation, the special vision got activated immediately in the first try. With excited face, Das climbed on to the top branches of the banyan tree and started observing the present situation.

The training facility is a five floors rectangular building with open space. Only the top floor had a several rooms. Das saw more than two hundred people inside the building. A large number of fighters occupied the first four floors... and every one of them are leisurely walking around while looking for any intruders.

On the top floor Only ten members are present and among them Das only recognised Vicky and the third brother of the Shetty family patriarch. Except for these two people all other eight members are the security persons.

Emma the daughter of the Patel family head Maria, lied unconscious in the central luxurious room. The two family members of the Shetty family sat leisurely in the outside lounge waiting for the arrival of Patel family head Maria.

Das observed every minute detail inside the building... he is thinking for a plan to rescue Emma. After another fifteen minutes of Das arrival, Maria reached the training centre alone in the luxurious Rolls Royce car.

Das did not understand why Maria is entering this trap without thinking about the consequences. She directly walked inside the training centre. Two security persons checked her for weapons and took her to the fifth floor directly.

Das who is on the top of a big banyan tree is observing the entire situation carefully. His special vision is helping him to see though the thick walls of the building.

"Haha... Ms. Patel, we are waiting for you since a long time. Thank you for coming... please have a seat." The third brother of the Shetty family patriarch invited Maria to sit down with a playful attitude.

"Where is my daughter...?" Maria directly questioned without caring about their hospitality.

"Your daughter is in safe hands... you don't need to worry about her. First sit down... we can discuss things slowly." The third brother who is a talkative person among the Shetty family brothers replied with wide smile.

"I want to see my daughter... Now." Maria asked with a serious face. After seeing her resolute attitude, they decided to first show Emma to her.

"Vicky, bring out the daughter of Ms. Patel. Let her take a look at her beloved daughter." The third brother instructed Vicky while passing a water glass to Maria..!! Vicky immediately brought unconscious Emma outside and showed her from a long distance.

"What happened to my daughter...?" Maria asked in an anxious tone while looking at her daughter.

"Haha... don't worry. She is unconscious because of the sleeping drug. We did not cause any harm to your daughter." The third brother of the Shetty family patriarch said casually.

"What do you want?" Maria asked with blood shot eyes after seeing her daughter's condition.

The third brother signalled Vicky to take Emma inside and he also poured a glass of water for himself.

"First drink some water... we are going to argue for a long time." The third brother said while pointing at the water glass in front of Maria. Das found that the third brother of the Shetty family is acting little mysterious.

Usually, he should be demanding Maria for support in an ardent manner. But he is acting little casual without any tension. Maria drank the water after seeing that the opposite person is also drinking it leisurely.

What she doesn't know was, she is the real target of the Shetty family... not her daughter. The third brother of the Shetty family lusted on Maria's body since many years. He already prepared thoroughly to have her tonight at any cost.

"Ms. Patel, we want your support in the upcoming blood duel... we also offered a great share in profits if we win over the Reddy family. Why are you rejecting my offer?"

The third brother of the Shetty family questioned while looking at her inappropriately... he already started imagining the scene of their intercourse. Maria felt something is wrong after seeing his lustful gaze.

"I already said my family won't participate anything related to the black market. We won't support any family in these types of matters." Maria replied in a stern tone.

"Please keep in mind that your daughter is in my hands before rejecting my offer. My family already had the support of Mittal family. We are going to win this blood duel against Reddy family with ease. Then why don't you join the winning side?" The third brother of the Shetty family asked again in a playful tone.

Maria who is feeling a little hotness and sweating confirmed that something is wrong after seeing the playful look on the third brother of the Shetty family. Immediately her attention turned on to the water glass on the table.

"What did you do...?!" Maria asked anxiously as she is losing control over her body.

"Haha... nothing. I just mixed a happy drug into your glass. Don't worry... it won't cause any harm. But You just feel more lust and behave like an obedient puppy on bed." The third brother of the Shetty family replied with an evil laugh.

Note: Get ready for a massacre...!!! leave some encouraging comments.

Chapter 83 : Spirit Awakening

Note: This is the second chapter today... As promised i will release another two bonus chapters by evening. If you like this book... take a moment to rate the book a five stars as our book still did not have minimum number of reviews. Thank you for your support.

*****_*****

After finding out the drug, Maria immediately got alert. She took out a small sized revolver from the secret pocket of her hand bag and pointed it towards the Shetty family third brother.

"If you dare to take one step against me... I will put a hole in your head."
Maria said threateningly.

"Haha... stop acting like a stupid. Did you forget that your daughter is in my hands...?" The third brother of the Shetty family asked in a laughing tone.

Maria immediately realised her mistake. But still she pointed the revolver and threaten him to take his life if he don't release her daughter.

"If you want to kill me, do it. But before that think about the consequences... your daughter, family members... everyone will suffer severely because of your foolishness."

Maria fell into a deep thought after listening to his threats. As she is in the effect of a happy drug, her brain also not supporting her to think straight. If she is not under the effect of the drug, she might have dared to threaten his life by firing a bullet.

But she already lost some sense and feeling dizziness and nausea. Maria immediately stood up from her seat and tried to leave the training centre as soon as possible. But the third brother of the Shetty family signalled a subordinate restrict her and took her to the VIP room. Das who sat on the top branches of the banyan tree saw the struggling Maria in the hands of subordinate who is taking her towards a room. Das did not understand how to save this mother and daughter pair.

With an anxious face Das looked in to the room where the subordinate placed Maria on the bed... there was recording cameras placed all around the bed and Maria is struggling to get up from the bed.

She is still trying to gain some clarity... but it was no use. Maria slowly started feeling the lust as the drug started effecting her nerves.

"If I can't save her today. It will be an end for the Patel family and the Shetty family will become formidable if they had the support of this Patel family. I must do something." Das thought while looking at Maria who is struggling alone on the bed.

There are more than two hundred capable fighters on the opposite building... they were actively surveilling the surroundings for any intruders. Among these two hundred there are also fighter who came to participate in the blood duel. The Shetty family spent a lot of money to recruit these fighters.

"Whatever... I need to do something. Otherwise, it will become a big burden to handle the Shetty family in the blood dual." Das thought while picking up the broken bow which he brought along.

Das tied the both hands of the bow with the same rope the mysterious lady used during that night where Das saved the baby.

After tightly binding the bow in his left hand... Das pulled the string. But nothing happened. Except for the small pressure on his hand... Das did not feel anything. When the mysterious lady used this bow, the arrows released like an energy beam without using any physical arrows. Das thought for a long time to understand the real problem.

"The weapon spirit is absent in the bow... that's why it's not showing any response." Das thought while taking ghost card from his pocket. He made a small cut on his left-hand palm with the sharp end of the ghost card.

The weapon spirit is inside his body... so he wants to drip blood to test out his theory. Just as his blood touched the bow shaft... Das felt a connection with the bow. Slowly the bow began glowing with a strange crimson red colour and Das started feeling an intense pain to his nerves.

Das felt that the bow suddenly gained a lot of weight as he can't lift it freely like before. The pain continued to increase and the burden on his brain increased to a great extent. Das started losing his consciousness as he can't control the after effects of the bow.

His left-hand skin turned into blue green colour... Just as he thought he is going to fall from the tree... A flash of energy entered inside his body. The weapon spirit of the bow which laid dormant inside his body woke up from its slumber.

A cosmic energy form of a spirit outline appeared around Das body in the shape of a mountain goat. Das started suddenly seeing everything in new light... the bow which weighed a ton previously became a feather like object in his left hand.

It is glowing with crimson red outline and Das felt like the bow is part of his body. His eye sight became more powerful as he seeing the things more clearly even from a distance of a kilometre. The special vision which he can't control previously... became an automatic turn on for him.

He easily controlled his eyes sight to see things in whichever way he wants. With a thought in his brain, the visuals changed according his choice. He can control the vision to see through walls, building even through people he can see the other side visuals.

Das did not have much time to check out the other changes happened in his body because of this spirit activation as the third brother of the Shetty family entered inside the room where Maria is behaving oddly on the bed.

Das immediately aimed the bow towards the power source outside the building. He decided to first cut down the electricity before starting the massacre. He pulled the bow string with his right hand into a beautiful arch.

A long beam of cosmic coloured arrow formed from bow head to the string in his hands. As he aimed at the electricity transformer his vision worked like a binocular... It's like he is using an aim assist to take out the targets.

Das released the bow string after confirming the target.

Boom***

A laser beam like arrow directly pierced the electricity transformer and with loud explosion the entire power supply got cut down. Except for the top floor... the lower four floors blacked out.

The top floor had a power backup facility as it is place of residence for everyone. Without delaying any more time Das directly aimed at the security person at the entrance. His vision directly focused on the head of the target person.

the cosmic beam arrow travelled without any sound... Even Das took a second to recognise the hole on the target head. The person is spot dead... he did have any chance to utter a single word.

After killing the first person in his life... Das did not take much time for another kill. As his vision is shifting from one person head to another... the life less bodies filled inside the training centre.

Das did not give any time to the opponent to realise what is happening. For each passing minutes, the number of dead bodies increased. He killed two people in each passing second.

After killing more than hundred members... the mob finally got alerted and started making horrific sounds as they got stupefied while looking into the life less bodies of their comrades. Except for a deep hole in the fore head of the dead bodies, they did not have any other injuries.

As the number of fighters reduced below fifty... Das got down from the banyan tree and started walking inside the training centre while continuing to kill people. The people inside the training facility started hiding in rest rooms, under the tables and some people started running towards the top floor as the strongest eight members of the training centre are on the top floor.

"What happened...? Why are you running like that?" A strong man among the eight security men on the top floor asked one of his subordinates whose body is shaking with intense fear.

"Someone is killing all our members." The subordinate muttered while he seriously gasping for air.

"Who...?"

The strong person asked with a confused look... as he can't imagine a small gang attacking the training facility with more than two hundred trained fighters. What this strong person don't know was, the attacking person was a single individual.

"We don't know who is attacking... but all the dead bodies have strange hole on their forehead." The subordinate replied with a nervous look. The strong person did not believe this nonsense. He decided to check out the situation himself.

"Young Master, please stay alert... the other seven members will stay here for your protection. If anything happens to me... immediately inform your uncle and escape as fast as you can." The strong person instructed Vicky who is staring at the unconscious Emma in a lustful gaze.

But the irony is, just as the strong person turned around, a deep hole formed on his broad fore head. Das who is in great hurry to save Maria, killed everyone while climbing the steps. He did not let a single person to escape.

After killing the leading person, Das released another seven consecutive arrows and killed everyone except Vicky. Das took a moment to scan the entire building and surroundings to check out for any possible survivors.

After confirming that there are no other persons alive.... he walked leisurely towards Vicky who is shouting for his uncle while shaking crazily with fear. To him Das looked like a grim reaper coming to take his life.

The third brother of the Shetty family who went inside to have fun with Maria came out with an impatient face.

"Why are shouting like that? I didn't even start." The uncle of Vicky said impatiently. But his face changed immediately after seeing the life less bodies of all the security persons.

The third brother of the Shetty family immediately closed the room door with an anxious face. Even though he doesn't know the reason for outside massacre... His instincts tell him to hide immediately.

But it was no use, the cosmic arrow released by Das directly passed through the thick door and pierced his head. After killing him, Das slowly walked near Vicky in a care free manner. Vicky stood in the same place while shaking vigorously from head to toe.

As everything is in his control now, Das first sat on the sofa opposite to Vicky and gestured Vicky to sit down.

"Don't try do anything to me. My father won't leave you if you cause any harm to me." Vicky said nervously while trying to stop his body from shaking. Ignoring the Vicky, Das loosened the thread around his left hand and put the two parts of the bow on the table.

Even though the bleeding on his hand stopped... the bow parts still continued to glow crimson red. With a fatigued expression, Das took out the wine bottle which is already placed under the tea table at the centre and poured himself a glass of wine. He also poured another glass and handed it over to Vicky.

"What are you doing...?" Vicky asked as he did not understand why Das is behaving like this.

"I will ask you only one question if you tell me the truth... I might leave you alive!..." Das said while taking a sip from the wine glass.

"What is it...?" Vicky asked immediately with a small hope.

"Aside from the Mittal family, is there anyone supporting your family for the upcoming blood duel...?" Das asked with a cold stare.

"Will you leave me alive if I say the truth...?" Vicky asked with a doubtful face.

"It depends on your answer... if I feel that you are saying truth... then I will think about it. But you only have one chance." Das replied with a playful smile.

Vicky who sat beside the unconscious Emma, fell into a dilemma. He is thinking about his chances of survival.

Actually, Das only asked this question to test his doubt and Das also did not know the actual truth.

On the top floor of the Shetty family training facility, Das sat leisurely while sipping the wine. Before him the Shetty family young master Vicky stood nervously as his body is shaking with fear.

"I don't have much time... tell me, is it true that your family had another backer...?" Das asked with a serious look. Das also wants to finish things fast as he need to check Maria's condition.

"Yes, aside from Mittal family we had support from a powerful family from Delhi (Capital City). Vicky replied in a stuttering tone.

"Who is it...?" Das asked back with an interesting look.

"I don't know the exact details... what I know is a young man named Jethin visited my family and made a deal with my father. He asked for the control over the Brothel business and money-laundering." n./ø/.v((e-)/l/)(l.(n

"In exchange, he offered seven thousand crores and strong fighters for the upcoming blood duel." Vicky gave long explanation without hiding anything.

Vicky thought Das will leave his life if he shares this important information. But he is going to regret his decision in the afterlife. After listening to Vicky's explanation, Das stood up from his seat and moved closer to Vicky.

"Hey... you promised me...!!!" Vicky cried out loudly as Das delivered a punch towards his head.

Booommm***

A big dent appeared on Vicky's head and his life less body dropped down on the floor.

"Sorry... I take back my word." Das said after killing Vicky and walked towards the luxurious room where they placed Maria.

(Some serious, intense, marvellous stuff starts from here... If anyone don't like R18+... you can skip this chapter from here onwards...)

Inside the luxurious room, except for the king size bed there is no other furniture. Maria laid on the bed with only her lingerie and she is behaving oddly on the bed. Das first smashed the video cameras around the bed and went near Maria to see her situation.

"Maria... Maria... wake up..." Das tried to talk with her... but she is struggling intensely to not to succumb to lust. She twisting on the bed while tearing her clothes... the happy drug really affected her body.

"Maria... are you ok...? Das asked as he tapped on her cheeks.

"Emma... Emma..."

Maria is muttering her daughter's name while trying to maintain her last thread of resistance against lust.

"Your daughter is safe... don't worry about her." Das replied loudly. Maria opened her eyes wide as she got some clarity after listening to her daughter name.

"Das, is she really ok...? She asked hurriedly while trying maintain some clarity.

"Yes... she is safe. Everything is okey now." Das replied hurriedly. After listening to Das answer her last thread of resistance died down. She is feeling uncomfortable as her body is carving for men.

"Das, help me..."

Maria said helplessly as she started touching Das inappropriately. Das held both of her hands to stop her... but she directly throwed herself on him. Das did not expect this sudden reaction from her. he also trying hard to resist the temptation.

Even though Maria is thirty-three years old... she still looks like a young, mature beauty. Maria is little bit taller than Das and she had zero size body with milky white skin.

Maria's body also suffered all these years, as her husband died on the same year of their marriage. In the last thirteen years, she did not let any man to touch her body. The iron lady who controls one of the powerful family in Mumbai is carving for Das body.

"It's ok... help me. I don't blame you." Maria said while tearing Das shirt. Das finally understood her condition... She is accepting him with free will. So, he decided to not to resist the temptation anymore and allowed her to take advantage of his body.

Maria started kissing his lips forcefully and bonded her entire body against him as she is feeling sweaty and heat from the happy drug.

Das did not stop her actions... he let her do whatever she wants, while enjoying her beautiful body. She started moving her ass against his crouch and moved her hands to remove last few pieces of clothes on her body.

Das who laid on the bed with half naked body felt her protruding nipples. Das felt strong heat from her body, because of the happy drug in her system.

Das decided to take the lead to save some energy for Maria. He immediately tossed her aside and directly pounced on her naked body. While kissing her in a hurried manner... Das continued to massage her mounds with both hands.

Her milky white boobs felt like silky soft flour in his hands. Maria began releasing soft moans as he is pinching her nipples between his index and thumb finger. Instead of enjoying his kissing, Maria directly unzipped his pants and took out his anaconda outside.

Das felt a sharp pain from his little brother as she held tightly with both hands. He immediately moved his antenna away from her hands and directly inserted it, in her wet cave.

In the heat of a moment she accidentally bit on his shoulder and stretched her legs wide to receive his rod deeper into her cave.

In front of the happy sensation from her body, Das did not feel any pain from her biting. Maria tightly hugged him with both her hands and closed her eyes as she completely surrendered her body.

Das started pumping action while slurping her sweet tongue. The loud shrieking sounds filled inside the room aside from the thrusting noise. Das suddenly stopped his action after five minutes of continuous thrusting to see her reaction.

"Ahha... aha... continue... don't stop." Maria said in a puppy face while moving her ass against his Eiffel tower. But Das still stood without pumping.

"Ahha... aha... please... please." Maria started pleading with cry baby face while moving her hands to force him against her cave.

Ignoring her pleading Das moved away from top of her and laid aside with his hands behind his head.

Note: This action scene will continue in next chapter. Until then hold your fangs... :-P
