

Alpha's curvy bullied human mate

Chapter 77: Looking for a safe place

Penelope

"We've got to get out of sight!", shouted Luther.

"They're taking her! Follow them!" I heard loud voices that little by little were getting lost.

I felt the adrenaline pounding in my veins, I had spent the worst hours of my life, I was afraid, lost and in deep pain of being separated from my mate. The last image I had of him was breaking my heart, I didn't even want to remember it.

"Please stop, I can't take it anymore, I'm just a human damn it!" I screamed in desperation.

I had already lost count of how long we had been running. We had left Moonstone territory quite some time ago, passing streams and over hills, so that they can't follow our scent.

My brothers had carried me for a while, I was bouncing, as I saw the world upside down, speeding by. Then I had run myself, legs aching, trying to keep up with these savages. And with my scream, they seemed to think like humans again and not like wolves on the run.

"Are you all right?" I ask them seeing that they have some scratches, and their faces are red from exertion.

"We're fine Penny... we're really worried about you," Luther says, and they come over to me.

"What happened?" I ask and they explain absolutely everything. The initial plan, use Andrew as bait, Naomi, and Robert.

I told them about what I saw, about Erica, Regina, and the attack on my house. Two parts of a story as cruel as it is terrifying. All the people I love are in danger, wounded... or I don't know of their fates.

"Damn!" cries Luther in despair, kicking leaves as I sob.

"I'd like to go back and kill them right there," says Luke charged with hatred.

"We can only do what our Alpha told us... his last request" says Luther.

"But..." I say.

"I know you want to go back to him, Penny... and that the bond it's strong. But it would be suicide. The pack is under attack. We had a plan, and we've been beaten to death. Nate doesn't have the power right now, he's badly wounded and can't protect you, so he gave us a command, and we have to obey" Luther says.

"We need you to rest and regain strength... he always said that there was an emergency point, where we would meet again if something happened." The idea that I can see him again excites me.

I'm not at all surprised when we approach the treehouse in the morning. And when we were almost there, we heard a noise.

If you are not reading this book from the website: novel5s.com then you are reading a pirated version with incomplete content. Please visit novel5s.com and search the book title to read the entire book for free

"Shhh stay here Penny..." they tell me. We see some bushes moving and when I see someone appear I feel my heart beat again.

"Dad!"

"My girl! Boys!" He says, struggling to walk, and I run into his arms. I cry with happiness, it's so good to have him back.

"Pumpkin... are you okay? I was afraid they were going after you."

"I'm fine, dad... you..., you're hurt!"

With a lot of effort, we all climbed into the tree house. My brothers eat and sleep and I take care of my father while I update him.

"They attacked us on purpose and then left us in the dungeons, not only us but many of our warriors were also imprisoned, warriors loyal to Nathaniel"

"How did you get out?"

"I took advantage of my moment, pumpkin, they are strong warriors, some from other packs but... I am the chief of warriors and I know all the tricks of those dungeons" he tells me, I smile, kissing him on the forehead.

"I managed to free many warriors, and I told them to flee the territory, and to seek to free as many as they could. Also, if possible, spread the word to act like they are in favor of the alpha Ivan, I don't want them to be killed, and we also need allies, spies inside," he explains to me.

"As always, very clever..." I say while I heal his wound, wolfsbane bullets are terrible, but with the right treatment, he will be fine.

"I also managed to get Naomi and Andrew out, they left a long time ago, and I hope they are well. We should have... taken more drastic measures with the old Alpha, and now you are without your mate" he says, looking at me with pain.

I haven't told him details about Erica and Nate, but I have explained to him everything I heard, about Regina, about Alpha Ivan's plans.

"We can get out of this, dad..." I said and asked him to rest. And when I wake up, there is a commotion.

"Don't get out for anything in the world!" my brother tells me, I hear screams and grunts and then everyone is calm, I approach the door and the first thing that appears is an exhausted Andrew as if he had survived an earthquake.

"Andrew!" He hugs me and starts crying.

"What's going on? Where is Naomi?" I ask, terrified when I see my brother appear carrying her. My friend is pale, she seems to have lost a lot of blood, and she has several wounds. She looks very bad.

Lost in the world of this story? Make sure you're on Novel5s.com to catch every twist and turn. The next chapter awaits, exclusively on our site. Dive in now!

"I'm so sorry, Luna... it was all my fault. We know about Robert... and Andrew... and" she says hurt.

"Of course not, my friend, don't think that," I say as we tear her clothes and begin to clean her wounds.

"I couldn't do anything... she was in bad shape, and she wanted to help the Alpha and the Luna... and then I could only carry her, while she guided me to this place, I couldn't do anything!" said Andrew crying and holding Naomi's hand.

"My mate was so brave..." she says, looking at him with love.

"I know everything Naomi, and you did well, okay? Now you are safe, and we will find a solution..." I say while she cries.

"There is something else..." she says and trembles.

"We saw something terrible, they have arrested Alpha Nathaniel... Roger, we don't know if he is alive. They have taken the pack house completely, and the warriors of the Crimson Fangs are coming..." Andrew says and gives us more details.

"We have to move... get you out of here, pumpkin, they are going to come for you sooner or later, no matter how much we hide, you have to go," says my father.

"We'll leave tomorrow," he adds finally.

The idea of leaving overwhelmed me, I was already several hours away without my mate and I felt like it was weighing on my chest, how much more could I take? And him? What would become of him?

That day we ate, made plans and rested, although it couldn't be said that any of us found peace. Suddenly one of the twins went down and came back terrified.

"They are approaching... they are searching in the forest, it is a matter of time before they get here," he said, and I was full of nerves.

"Get ready to leave right now..." my father said.

"But we can't move Naomi! She is not strong enough! And Andrew can't defend himself against those men!" I said anguished while the twins grabbed me and dragged me out of the house.

"They won't go," my father said, and I stayed frozen. Naomi extended her hand to me and cried, they didn't even give me a chance to say goodbye to her or Andrew.

"Go directly to Belle Springs, without stops, if you see rogues, kill them, leave no witnesses. Here are some masks that Nate had left, and a protector" says my father as he hands them to my brothers, the protector seems to be something like a bulletproof shield.

"Stay there, I'm sure Alpha Asher will go to town, tell him what has happened. Defend your sister with everything you have," says my father, while my brothers are already prepared.

Lost in the world of this story? Make sure you're on Novel5s.com to catch every twist and turn. The next chapter awaits, exclusively on our site. Dive in now!

"Dad! But... what about you? What will happen to you?" I asked anxiously.

He was much better, but still...not strong enough to take on our enemies. He smiles at me and kisses my forehead.

"My little girl... the goal was never for me to go with you. I will stay to give you an advantage, and to make them lose track. You will have a chance, also I will protect Naomi and Andrew..." he says, and I feel panic.

"No Dad, please..."

"Don't come back, no matter what you hear, straight to Belle Springs," he says, and I see a tear come out of his eyes. I had only seen him cry when my mother died.

"No, please... not this again..." I say desperately, but my brothers are very good at taking orders, and in a short time they were carrying me again.

And once again with ran. Soon I heard screams and my heart broke, I kept crying the whole way.

The road was now much more complicated, my brothers were going at a devilish pace, while from time to time they carried me. I was tired and despondent, and when I saw the town approaching... I felt a little better.

However, Belle Spring seemed lonely, and I could see that there were signs of fighting, it was nothing like the quiet town I had been to. Broken streets, destroyed houses and traces of gunshots. What had happened here while I was in Moonstone?

"Who's there?" We hear a voice that asks us, and it seems extremely familiar to me. A skinny man comes out with a rifle and is expectant.

"Jack?" I asked excitedly.

"Penelope? Have you returned?" He asks with hope, and other voices appear, and little by little I see that people from the town appear, all very armed and prepared. Beyond, I can see barricades and people pointing, armed, from different houses and places.

Belle Spring has decided to fight, and I was proud.

"Is it really you, Penny?" I hear a sweet voice and in minutes I have Marianne in my arms, squeezing me excitedly, and I am crying now with happiness.

"I thought I was never going to see you again..." she says, and I hear sighs behind me.

When I turned around, my brothers had strange expressions, their eyes were shining, and they were panting. And I heard clearly when they both said at the same time.

"Mate!"