Chapter 581 Kill Veronica Murphy

Since Matthew took Veronica's health very seriously, he didn't want to urge her to take the wedding photos.

So, he unlocked his phone and showed her the arrangements he had made for their wedding. "I got someone to check out some dates, and the best one is in two weeks' time, so I decided on that day. However, the wedding dress isn't finalized yet. So, tell me, which design do you prefer?"

He started scrolling through the pictures on his phone and showed Veronica several designs that caught his eye.

"I... May I try out some wedding dresses?" Veronica pouted. "There's only one wedding a lifetime. So if I don't try out a few dresses, I'll definitely regret it."

Antheena didn't receive an answer to her question, and she leaned against his back just like that with a sad look underneath her thick, long lashes. After a while, she said, "What would it take for you to forget her?"

"Perhaps only death can cut off my yearning for her." There was a time when Xavier was labeled as a Casanova, but he had always been a faithful person, and all that was just a cover-up.

In the Crawford Family, everyone looked down on him, and Veronica was the only one who was nice to him besides his sister. During the darkest period of his life, Veronica showed up and gave his lonely soul a sense of belonging.

After Veronica repeatedly proofread her story and edited the text until she was satisfied, she attached the pictures, which were more than a dozen pictures of them from when they first started dating, as well as the gif and video of her disguise process.

Veronica's social media handle was called 'Little Roni, the Master of Disguise'.

This was an account she started using since high school, and because she constantly updated it with videos, she had accumulated quite a considerable following. That was why she hadn't changed her handle before.

“That’s fine.” Matthew shook his head, stood up, and picked up his jacket from the coat stand before heading out. A confused head of the PR department stammered, “President Kings, then I... Huh? President Kings?”

There were still things he wanted to say. Unfortunately, Matthew didn’t give him the chance as he left the office without even looking back, holding his jacket in his hands.

He was in the hospital ward carrying a bag in less than thirty minutes. After he placed the bag on the bedside table, he gazed at Veronica affectionately.

Veronica was leaning against the bed’s headboard and had her laptop on her lap as they met each other’s eyes. Then, they smiled and didn’t mention what happened on the Internet.

Chapter 586 Yvonne Is In Trouble

Veronica looked rather ridiculous as she still had a fork in one hand and the dessert in the other, as his sudden kiss entirely caught her off guard.

She was so stunned that she couldn’t even return the kiss as she merely blinked and stared at Matthew, who had his eyes shut and was utterly engrossed in it.

His face was directly in front of her, and his skin color wasn't fair but more mature and masculine.

In addition, his skin condition was excellent, so smooth that she couldn't see his pores. In such close proximity, she could clearly see his fine hairs instead.

"That seems unlikely." Veronica held her phone nervously in her hand. "I already sensed something amiss when I was on a call with her the other day, but I couldn't point out what's wrong."

So, she pushed herself off the bed, went out of the ward, and borrowed the nurse's cell phone to call Yvonne. In the end, the call kept ringing, but nobody picked up. She continued to make several calls until someone picked it up finally.

Unfortunately, there wasn't any sound coming from the other end of the call, and she gulped anxiously. Since she knew something was wrong, she didn't want to alert anyone by using her actual voice, so she spoke in a man's voice and asked, "Am I speaking with Miss Yvonne? I'm calling from the gym, and your membership has expired. There's a promotion in conjunction with our anniversary tomorrow. If you sign up for a year, you have another year for free. Would you like to take part in this?"

"No, thanks." Someone finally answered from the other end, but it wasn't Yvonne. It was very distinctly male.

Xavier held the wine glass by its stem and clinked it with Zac's glass. "By making Matthew lose fifty billion this time, it's akin to causing him heartache. Hahaha."

"If you hadn't provided such reliable information and leaked all of his secrets, Matthew wouldn't have lost this badly." Zac raised his head with a smile. It was apparent he was in a good mood.

Chapter 590 Matthew Has Left

After the failed business deals in Castron, he had no choice but to personally meet the other party and attempt to salvage the situation.

The person whom he felt the most worried about after leaving was Veronica. He was not afraid of her safety, but he couldn't say the same for her emotions as it would affect the child she was carrying.

Veronica was leaning against the headboard and staring outside the window as she was deep in thought about Yvonne's kidnapping. It was evident that she was despondent.

Yet, the man had said that he was going on a business trip. She understood the kind of person that Matthew was. He would usually accompany her whenever she was down in the dumps, but now that he was leaving, he definitely had to attend to something important.

Veronica nodded. "Go ahead. I'll take the next two days to consider Yvonne's matters."

"The flight's leaving in an hour's time."

"Let me see you off."

"Why? Are you treating me like a child who needs a guardian to send him off?" He gave her a gentle smile as he raised his hand to brush the loose strands of her hair on her forehead aside. "I'm a little reluctant to part with you, though."

"And you have the nerve to say that you're not a child. What a boring idiot. You are no different from a child, you know," Veronica deliberately teased. Afterward, she waved her hand. "Alright, let's quickly be on our way. Don't miss the plane. Shirley and Monica will be swinging by later, so it'd be inconvenient for you to be here."

"Sure."
