

Bumpkin's Rich Handsome Husband

Chapter 1321

He was at a loss for words, unsure of how to respond. Their eyes met, filled with complexity. But for some reason, Shirley Wilson could sense a tinge of sadness and melancholy in Skyler Robins' eyes, as if he had suffered a great blow.

Her heart suddenly tightened, as if it was being gripped tightly, causing a sharp pain. Initially, Ben knew that Sofia Green would be furious and slap him after he got engaged to her.

Because based on the timing of Sofia Green's pregnancy, she was still with Skyler Robins at that time, but Skyler Robins actually slept with Sofia Green.

Faced with his despicable behavior, Shirley Wilson felt a mix of anger and sadness. But in this moment, Skyler Robins appeared even more melancholic. Seeing his self-deprecating smile, Shirley Wilson felt devastated.

"I just want to ask you..." Skyler Robins said, tilting his head and looking away, raising his hand to touch his nose, as if he couldn't bring himself to meet Shirley Wilson's gaze, "Have you ever loved me?" Unbeknownst to himself, when he asked this question, his voice choked up. Shirley Wilson's fingers holding her handbag trembled slightly, her clear eyes gazing at Skyler Robins' handsome face with a hint of longing and arrogance, a face she had yearned for day and night.

How many nights, in her dreams, she held onto the man in front of her tightly, telling him....

Ky, do you know how much I miss you?

Ky, do you know we have a child together?

We have three precious babies, a gift from heaven. But everything fades away when she wakes up from her dream, and even her tumultuous heart is restrained and calmed.

"The question you asked is really childish and laughable."

Shirley Wilson looked away, unable to meet his gaze. She was afraid that if she looked at him for a moment longer, she would not be able to hold back her tears.

Her heart was in turmoil, with countless emotions tormenting Shirley Wilson, and she didn't know how to face Skyler Robins.

On one hand, she loved him deeply and had his child; on the other hand, she faced Sofia Green's threat to her loved ones; on one hand, Sofia Green was pregnant with his child and they were about to get married; on one hand, her family was ordinary and her appearance was ruined, the Robins Family would not accept her.

Skyler Robins asked her if she had ever loved him. Little did he know, at this moment, Shirley Wilson also wanted to ask Skyler Robins a question, did you ever love me?

"Childish... laughable?"

Skyler Robins turned around, his lips forming a straight line, and Matt's cold gaze stared at him without blinking, as if trying to see through her. In her heart, emotions seemed childish and laughable.

"Heh."

Skyler Robins laughed.

When she was abandoned by Sofia Green years ago, he underwent a drastic change in personality and became the playboy in everyone's eyes.

But it was all a facade, a facade of indifference. Finally, he met Shirley Wilson, who gradually helped him emerge from the shadows. However, he never expected that in the end, he would be manipulated by a woman.

"Yes, childish."

Shirley Wilson took a barely noticeable deep breath and pretended to be indifferent. "I told you from the beginning that I didn't like you. It was you who insisted on taking me to the hidden clan. If it weren't for you, would I have disfigured myself? Skyler Robins, why do you think I would love you?"

"If you don't love me, then why have you been clinging to me every day since we returned from the hidden clan, constantly saying that you love me?" Skyler Robins felt unwilling and, more importantly, confused.

"Why else? Of course, it's for the money of the Robins Family," Shirley Wilson pretended to be nonchalant, "Ben wanted to get some money from you and also fix my disfigured face as compensation. But Wade advised me to give up because he said that the 7.5 million we received as compensation was already enough. After careful consideration..."

As she spoke, she reached out and touched the scar on her cheek, then adjusted her scarf to cover the scars on her face. "Prone to scarring, Ben can't heal the scars on my face. In that case, why should I waste any more time on you?"

Chapter 1322

The more experiences one goes through, the more they engage in acting. Shirley Wilson remained calm and composed on her face, unaware that every word she spoke caused her heart to be pierced with pain like needles.

"Skyler Robins, I don't owe you anything. You slept with me, you gained something, and I won't make you take responsibility," Shirley Wilson sighed, a serene smile on her face. "Now that Sofia Green is pregnant and you are about to get married, I sincerely wish you happiness. You and I are in the past, I hope we both find our own happiness in the future."

Veronica Murphy had once told her that love is best when both parties are well-matched. Grey Lady could marry into a wealthy family, but she would also suffer a lot of pain.

At that time, she was indecisive, immersed in her liking for Skyler Robins, and in the end, she couldn't 'settle down'. Therefore, the pain she suffered was self-inflicted. Now, Shirley Wilson just wanted to live a simple and ordinary life.

Skyler Robins tapped his chin lightly, gritting his teeth as he repeated the phrase 'find your own happiness' four times. Anger surged within him as he grabbed Shirley Wilson's wrist and pulled her closer. "You say you don't need to take responsibility? Shirley Wilson, what the hell do you think of me, Skyler Robins?"

He exploded in anger, startling Shirley Wilson.

"I... I..." She stammered, feeling so nervous that she was almost suffocating. "What should I think of you? Or, are you willing to accept me as your mistress? If you don't mind me sleeping with Wade every day and then being intimate with you, I have no objections. As long as you provide money, I can accept it."

In order to make Skyler Robins give up on her sooner, she degraded herself to the point of worthlessness. Skyler Robins furrowed his brow, a dangerous glint appearing between his eyebrows. "You weren't like this before!"

"That's because you were too foolish to even recognize a performance," Shirley Wilson said, shaking her head. "No, maybe you saw me as a consolation. A consolation for the emptiness in your heart after being abandoned by Sofia Green."

As she spoke, Skyler Robins tightly gripped her wrist, exerting so much force that it felt like he was about to crush her wrist bones.

It hurt.

A piercing pain.

"Shirley Wilson, you..."

Skyler Robins began to speak, but suddenly raised his hand to cover his chest. His face tilted slightly to the side, and his body suddenly leaned forward. "Pfft..."

With bloodstains on the corners of his lips, Skyler Robins covered his chest and looked at Shirley Wilson. His lips trembled as he spoke, "Shirley Wilson, you... have such a cruel heart."

After saying that, his vision went black, and he fell forward onto the ground. Shirley Wilson took a step forward and hugged him, letting him rest on her shoulder. One second, two seconds, three seconds...

After a long few seconds, Shirley Wilson snapped back to reality. She immediately took out her phone from the pocket of her down jacket and dialed 911 with trembling hands. "Hello, 911? Someone here is vomiting blood..."

After clearly explaining the situation to the emergency operator, she hung up the phone. Skyler Robins fainted, his body weak and gradually sliding down. Shirley Wilson supported him and gently laid him on the ground.

She sat down on the floor, cradling him in her arms.

"Skyler, Skyler..."

Touching his slightly cold hand and pale face, Shirley Wilson nervously skipped a beat in her breath. "Skyler, please don't scare me, okay? You... um... don't scare me..."

Chapter 1323

Her blood-stained hand gently caressed Skyler Robins' cheek, her fingers trembling uncontrollably. The wind blew relentlessly, chilling her to the bone.

But Shirley Wilson was more concerned about Skyler Robins' condition. She took off her white down jacket and covered him with it. "Ky, don't scare me... Please, nothing can happen to you."

She held him tightly, leaning over with her cheek against his forehead, terrified to the core. Shirley Wilson knew that Skyler Robins had suffered severe internal injuries, but even after staying in the hospital for so long, he still hadn't fully recovered.

As a doctor herself, she couldn't believe that she had failed to take care of her own well-being.

Shirley Wilson gave all her warmth to Skyler Robins, while she herself wore only a knitted sweater. The cold wind seeped through the sweater, making her shiver uncontrollably, oblivious to the cold.

With one hand around his neck, she let him lean against her chest, while the other hand held his, constantly rubbing his fingers to keep him warm.

"Ky, I'm sorry for leaving without saying goodbye."

"After leaving Bloomstead, I regretted it. I wanted to go back, to find you again. But I realized that you never looked for me, not even once. I know you must have seen the video of me with Wade Yoder, and you must have thought I was unfaithful."

"So, I didn't dare... I didn't dare to turn back."

"You asked me if I love you..." Shirley Wilson's eyes turned red, tears streaming down her face. She held his hand against her chest. "I want to tell you. I love you, very much."

Her chin rested on Skyler Robins' forehead, filled with sadness and despair. "But how can I love you when you won't let me?"

With tears and a trembling voice, Shirley Wilson sobbed, "Do you know, when I found out I was pregnant with your child in the hospital, I wanted... I wanted so badly to tell you. I wanted to tell you, Ky, that I'm carrying your child. No, our child! But I didn't dare."

"I was afraid that if you knew, Sofia Green would find out too. And at that time, I was afraid that Ben and I wouldn't be able to protect our child."

"But as I daydreamed and fantasized about the possibility of turning back to find you someday, I found out that she was also pregnant with your child, and that you were planning... planning to get married..." At this point, Shirley Wilson couldn't hold back her sobs any longer. It seemed like all the sadness and emotions of the past two months poured out of her.

Shirley Wilson couldn't bring herself to hate Skyler Robins for "playing both sides" and having a child with another woman. Her love for him had surpassed everything, to the point where she couldn't find it in her to hate a man she loved deeply.

After what felt like an eternity, the ambulance finally arrived. Shirley Wilson accompanied the ambulance to the hospital, and once he was admitted, she waited outside the emergency room.

After a long and agonizing wait of over half an hour, the doctor finally emerged from the room. Seeing the doctor come out, Shirley Wilson immediately approached and asked, "Doctor, how is he... how is he doing?"

"The patient has internal injuries, and Ben hasn't fully recovered, which is why he coughed up blood. He's out of danger now, but he still needs to stay in the hospital for treatment," the doctor explained. Shirley Wilson anxiously inquired about Skyler Robins condition in more detail, and the doctor answered each question.

Knowing that he would have to stay in the hospital for a while to receive treatment, Shirley Wilson felt a pang of heartache, but at least her worries were somewhat relieved. As long as he was okay, that was all that mattered.

In the meantime, Skyler Robins was wheeled out. Lying on the hospital bed, he remained unconscious, and Shirley Wilson followed the bed as it was pushed, accompanying the nurse to the ward.

Once he was settled, he was hooked up to an IV drip. Shirley Wilson sat on the bedside chair, holding his hand, and watched Skyler Robins, who remained unconscious. Her heart ached so much it felt like it was breaking.

Chapter 1324

"Shir... Shir... Please don't go, don't go!"

Suddenly, the man lying unconscious on the hospital bed murmured her name, his hand trembling uncontrollably, and then tightly gripping her hand. His delirious murmurs, like a tear-inducing agent, caused Shirley Wilson's tears to burst forth.

With one hand holding Skyler Robins' hand, she covered her face with the other and bowed her head, crying in pain. Shirley Wilson's mind was in complete chaos. She wondered, does Skyler Robins truly love her?

If he does, then why does Sofia Green have his child?

If he does, then why is he already engaged to Sofia Green?

Or is it that, under the pressure of the Robins Family, he can only choose to marry Sofia Green?

But regardless of the situation, it is clear that she and Skyler Robins have no future together. Shirley Wilson stood up, leaning slightly forward, and planted a kiss on his lips.

A kiss, imprinted on his lips.

For a long, long time...

Reluctantly, she finally straightened up. She reached out, took off a necklace from her neck, and placed it in Skyler Robins' palm.

Shirley Wilson closed his fingers one by one, kissed each of his fingers, and then placed his hand under the blanket. Only then did she turn around, quicken her pace, and decisively leave.

She walked hurriedly, afraid that if she slowed down, she wouldn't have the heart to leave. Fate often plays tricks on people. Less than five minutes after Shirley Wilson left, Skyler Robins, lying on the hospital bed, woke up.

Opening his eyes, all he saw was the plain white surroundings, with the smell of disinfectant lingering in the air. Looking at the IV drip hanging by his side, Skyler Robins knew that he was already in the hospital. His heart felt inexplicably empty.

Images of Shirley Wilson's face floated in his mind, sometimes with a beaming smile, sometimes charming and cute, sometimes silly and innocent, everything was so beautiful.

But they all existed only in his memories. He slowly moved his head, his eyes scanning the empty hospital room, devoid of any presence. That woman, she truly has no heart.

Even when he was spitting blood and hospitalized, she didn't want to stay a moment longer to accompany him. Skyler Robins thought to himself like this, and suddenly he noticed that there seemed to be something in his palm.

He raised his hand and took a look, it was a white jade pendant. The jade pendant, the size of a thumb, was made of high-quality Hetian jade, with a transparent and flawless texture. The jade pendant was carved with a circular relief resembling a flower wreath, simple and elegant.

This jade pendant, which Shirley Wilson obtained from the church in the hidden clan because she was not adapting well to the hidden clan and was easily frightened, contains a tiny talisman inside to bring safety and peace.

However, he hesitated after lifting his hand and instead tightly held the jade pendant, pressing it against his chest and closing his eyes, motionless.

As night fell, Sofia Green and Zephyr Robins appeared in the hospital room. Sofia Green approached him with deep concern upon seeing him lying in the hospital bed again, "Skyler, what happened? Why are you hospitalized again?"

She was dressed in a light gray wool coat, wearing a black beret and a scarf around her neck. With her good temperament, she became even more eye-catching with a slight touch-up. No matter how attractive she was, Skyler Robins didn't want to look at her for a second longer.

He glanced at Sofia Green, his gaze bypassing her and directly focusing on Zephyr Robins behind her, "Why did you bring her here?"

"We were looking for you everywhere with Wu Yan. Someone called us and said you were hospitalized, so we came over," Zephyr Robins furrowed his eyebrows, "What happened? How could you faint on the street? Luckily, someone saved you this time. What if you faint and no one notices in time next time, especially if it happens in a car?"

Chapter 1325

"You won't die."

Skyler Robins felt slightly annoyed and contemplated checking out of the hospital. However, the thought of facing Sofia Green after being discharged made him reconsider and want to stay in the hospital a bit longer.

Suddenly...

A terrible idea crossed Skyler Robins' mind. He yearned to escape from the chaos of the world, to be away from everything.

"Miguel, help me with the discharge procedures," Skyler Robins said to Zephyr Robins, and added, "Let's return to Bloomstead for treatment."

"I'll go. I'll assist you with it."

When Sofia Green heard that Skyler Robins wanted to go back to Bloomstead, she was overjoyed and couldn't wait to take him home.

The two of them didn't exchange any words, and Sofia Green tearfully left the ward to help Skyler Robins with the discharge procedures. Zephyr Robins sat down by the bedside and asked, "The person who saved you, was it Shirley Wilson?"

He didn't know how Shirley Wilson obtained his phone number, but from the voice, he was certain that it was Shirley Wilson.

Skyler Robins had been investigating Shirley Wilson, and the news happened to reach him.

Zephyr Robins was also making an assumption.

On the hospital bed, Skyler Robins had lifeless eyes, staring blankly at the ceiling. "Miguel..." he paused, "I know that you've been taking care of the family all these years, and I've been reckless, causing our parents to worry."

"I... I don't love Sofia Green. Even though she's carrying my child, I don't want to marry her."

"Speaking of which, it's my fault. I feel guilty towards her," Skyler Robins sighed, "I repeatedly asked for a low-key wedding, but now it has become a big fuss. Everyone knows about it. I can't think of any way to cancel the engagement without causing Sofia Green any grievances, but... I can't even protect myself."

Listening to Skyler Robins' words, Zephyr Robins was a bit confused. But he had a vague sense of a bad premonition.

"This kind of life is quite exhausting," he sighed.

Suddenly, Skyler Robins laughed and looked at him with a tilted head. "Miguel, I haven't eaten anything all day. Can you get me some food? I don't want to eat light dishes anymore. Can you make me some meat dishes?"

"It's not suitable for you to eat right now. You should focus on receiving intravenous fluids," Zephyr Robins refused.

Skyler Robins glared at him, "It's not a big deal. I won't die. Stop being so dramatic. Besides, look at how skinny I've become."

Even though Zephyr Robins was principled, he couldn't resist his younger brother's coaxing. He shook his head, "I really can't do anything with you. Just lie down and receive your IV fluids properly. I'll be back later."

"Oh, hurry up then. If you make me wait any longer, I'll starve to death, and you'll lose your little brother," he teased. Zephyr Robins sensed from his tone that he was in a good mood, but there was something vaguely strange about it.

He couldn't quite put his finger on what was wrong. After all, it wasn't the first day that he didn't want to marry Sofia Green. Zephyr Robins didn't dwell on it too much. He simply wanted to quickly get some food for Skyler Robins.

He left the hospital and went to a nearby private restaurant to order some meat dishes. He packed them up as quickly as possible and carried them back to the hospital. However, on the way, he received a call from Sofia Green.

"Zephyr Robins, where is Skyler?" Sofia Green asked anxiously on the other end of the phone. Zephyr Robins paused for a moment, "Isn't he in the ward?"

"Skyler is not in the ward. His IV drip hasn't finished, but he's gone," Sofia Green said in a panic. At that moment, Zephyr Robins finally realized why he felt that something was off with Skyler Robins earlier. It was because Skyler Robins wanted to leave!

Skyler Robins had disappeared. The news quickly spread among their circle of friends, and the Robins Family discreetly searched for Skyler Robins.

Matthew Kings, Caleb Shaw, and Miguel Lynch also received the news. They all tried calling Skyler Robins but couldn't reach him.

Chapter 1326

They knew that Skyler Robins wasn't murdered, but was deliberately avoiding reality. Several people were sent out to search for Skyler Robins, and they all tacitly agreed not to rush.

However, as time passed and there was still no news of Skyler Robins, they became anxious and started sending more people to find him.

Three days later, Caleb Shaw and Miguel Lynch were sitting in Matthew Kings' office discussing the various problems faced by Matthew Kings' company when Caleb Shaw received a phone call. It was a call from one of his police station subordinates. "Boss, we have found Young Master Skyler."

"Found him?"

Caleb Shaw instinctively looked up at Miguel Lynch and Matthew Kings sitting across from him. "Where is he?"

"He...he..." the officer on the other end of the phone hesitated, "He is...at the Cloud Terrace Temple."

"This guy, we searched all over the world for him, and he's enjoying his leisure time, hiding in the Cloud Terrace Temple." Caleb Shaw couldn't help but complain. But fortunately, knowing that Skyler Robins was safe and sound, he didn't dwell on it.

"No...that's not it."

The officer felt that the captain had misunderstood and quickly explained, "Young Master Skyler...he... he got married at the Cloud Terrace Temple."

"What? Became a monk?!"

Caleb Shaw stood up from the sofa in an instant. "Are you sure you're not mistaken?"

"What a joke. You can question my character, but how dare you question my ability to handle things?" The officer retorted with some displeasure.

"Which Church of Heavenly Yew?"

"The Church of Heavenly Yew in Riversouth."

"Damn it! Got it, I'm going there now."

Caleb Shaw couldn't help but curse. After hanging up the phone, he looked at the two buddies sitting across from him and shrugged. "You both heard that, right?" "Let's go, to the Church of Heavenly Yew."

Matthew Kings stood up, took off his coat from the hanger, and the three of them left the president's office together. Because it was urgent, Matthew Kings called Thomas Ritter to arrange a helicopter.

Two and a half hours later, the helicopter arrived at the Riversouth Church of Heavenly Yew. The three of them didn't have time to climb the stairs, so they directly purchased cable car tickets and took the cable car up the mountain.

The Church of Heavenly Yew was the largest mountain in the southern region and one of the most well-preserved churches. It not only had many priests but also attracted a large number of visitors who came to burn incense and worship Buddha every day.

After a ten-minute cable car ride, they finally arrived at the Cloud Terrace Temple of the Church of Heavenly Yew. The Cloud Terrace Temple had a dozen churches of different sizes, scattered on the top of the mountain.

The main church, the Great Hall of the Great Buddha, and several other churches were open to the public for visitation, but the church at the back was where the priests chanted scriptures and resided, so it was not open to the public.

Matthew Kings' buddies and a few others walked to the back of the Heavenly King Hall and were stopped by a priest guarding the entrance.

"Visitors are not allowed to enter the back," the priest said, bowing with his hands clasped together.

Before Matthew Kings could speak, Miguel Lynch directly asked, "Hello, we are here to find our buddy Skyler Robins. He came to your Cloud Terrace Temple a couple of days ago to become a monk, and we just wanted to see him."

"Skyler Robins?" the priest pondered for a moment and said, "Are you referring to Dustbreaker?"

"Dustbreaker?" Caleb Shaw furrowed his brow.

The priest nodded and calmly said, "Dustbreaker came to our church three days ago, requesting to become a monk. Our abbot initially refused, but he knelt outside the hall for two full days without getting up. The abbot was moved by his sincerity and allowed him to enter the monastic life."

"Can we go in and see him?" Caleb Shaw asked.

The priest shook his head, "According to the rules of the church, outsiders are not allowed to enter the Heavenly King Hall. And Dustbreaker has already severed his worldly ties and stated that he doesn't want to see anyone."

Matthew Kings understood that Skyler Robins was troubled by something, and he remained calm, saying, "Please inform your abbot that I would like to make a donation to renovate the Cloud Terrace Temple."

Chapter 1327

Matthew Kings couldn't forcefully enter the church, so he had to find an alternative approach. The priest hesitated for a moment and understood that Matthew Kings intended to make a substantial donation. Unable to refuse, he said, "Please wait a moment, I will go inside and consult with the abbot."

"Thank you," Matthew Kings replied calmly. The priest turned and entered the main hall, while Miguel Lynch and Caleb Shaw, who stood at the door, looked at Matthew Kings and gave him a thumbs up. "Quick thinking."

"Great idea, I didn't even consider it," Caleb Shaw sighed and admired the grand church. He couldn't help but appreciate, "The air on the mountaintop is refreshing, with lush green mountains and clear waters. Becoming a monk could be seen as a form of enjoyment."

Miguel Lynch couldn't help but retort, "I support you. Drew happens to need a companion."

Matthew Kings raised an eyebrow and glanced at Caleb Shaw, "How could he bear to leave Abby Wright, that Little Roni?"

"Hahaha, Matthew is right," Miguel Lynch laughed. As they laughed, they couldn't help but sigh, "Love is a complicated thing. You see, Drew used to be so cheerful, but now he wants to become a monk. Sigh..."

An indescribable bitterness filled their hearts. Before long, the priest led a monk in a kasaya out. The monk had a face that showed the marks of life, with white eyebrows and a kind and friendly expression. He walked to the door and bowed to the three of them, "I am Ven. Shi Qing, the abbot of the Church of Heavenly Yew. May I inquire as to why you have come and what brings you here?" The three of them also clasped their hands together and respectfully bowed.

Matthew Kings said, "My wife is a Buddhist. She made a wish at the Church of Heavenly Yew before, and it was granted. She told me to donate some money to your temple as a gesture of goodwill and to contribute to the church's restoration."

"Hahaha, this gentleman is truly virtuous. Please, follow me inside," Ven. Shi Qing gestured and led Matthew Kings, Miguel Lynch, and Caleb Shaw into the main hall.

After entering the main hall, the compassionate abbot took them on a tour and shared the history of the Cloud Platform Monastery.

The three of them patiently listened to the abbot's explanations, and in the end, Matthew Kings donated two million yuan for the renovation of the Cloud Platform Monastery.

Once everything was settled, Matthew Kings finally got to the point, "Ven. Shi Qing, my friend Skyler Robins..."

Matthew Kings immediately adjusted his tone, "Yes. My friend's name is Skyler Robins. He came to this temple three days ago to become a monk. The priest earlier mentioned that he is inside the temple, practicing meditation, and his Buddhist name is 'Duan Chen'. I wonder if it's possible to meet him?"

Master Shi Qing nodded, "Follow me."

He led the three of them through the Heavenly Kings Hall and arrived at the back of the church, where they saw Skyler Robins sitting cross-legged on a yellow cushion, dressed in a monk's robe. Master Shi Qing gestured for them to enter and then turned and left.

The three of them ascended the steps, entered the temple, and stood behind Skyler Robins, observing him bow his head and recite scriptures. The friends felt a heaviness in their hearts and found the scene before them deeply moving.

"Drew?"

Matthew Kings called out and approached, "Did you not consider us as friends? Why didn't you inform us?"

"Hmph, in his heart, Ben is the only friend he cares about, not us," Miguel Lynch put his hands in his coat pockets, sounding displeased.

"Drew, you were too impulsive," Caleb Shaw sighed with regret. Skyler Robins, who was reciting the scriptures, paused for a moment, slowly closed the book, and without turning his head, said, "There is no 'Drew' here, only Duan Chen."

"You..."

Chapter 1328

Miguel Lynch stood in front of him, pointing his finger. "Is it worth it for a woman? Look at yourself, what have you become? You used to be a renowned medical genius in Bloomstead, but now? As a doctor, you don't even take care of your own health. Have you forgotten all your years of medical expertise?"

Only true friends would reprimand him so honestly. Matthew Kings looked serious and instinctively reached for a cigarette. However, he realized he was in church and reluctantly put the cigarette back in the pack.

"Although Sofia Green is carrying your child, no one will force you to marry her. Drew, you're putting too much pressure on yourself," he advised Skyler Robins.

Caleb Shaw, the silent jerk, stepped forward, slightly kneeling down, and placed his hand on Skyler Robins' shoulder. "Big bro is right. If you don't want to marry Sofia Green, you should directly and decisively talk to the Green Family instead of avoiding reality here."

"I have made up my mind."

Skyler Robins looked straight ahead, lowered his gaze, and seemed calm and resigned. There wasn't much emotional fluctuation on his face.

Since he had come here, he had already made a firm decision. After kneeling outside the church for two days, he really wanted to break free from worldly desires.

"Nonsense, you haven't made up your mind!" Miguel Lynch angrily took off his glasses and pointed at him. "Is it worth it for a Sofia Green? If you don't want the child, just let her go to the hospital to have it. Why do you have to degrade yourself?"

"You can't force matters of the heart. Your mistake is..."

Caleb Shaw wanted to persuade Skyler Robins, but he interrupted him, "Whether it's avoiding or being incapable, it's my choice."

"It's because of Shirley Wilson, right?" Matthew Kings frowned. "I've already called Roni, and she will contact Shirley Wilson to come and find you."

Matthew Kings didn't believe that a mere Sofia Green could hurt him so badly. When Sofia Green left him and resolutely went abroad, Skyler Robins also endured it. So why would he willingly become a monk because of Sofia Green's pressure to marry?

"I don't want to see anyone."

A scene from a few days ago when Skyler Robins met Shirley Wilson flashed through his mind. He never wanted to see that heartless and ruthless woman again in his life.

"Do you not want to see her, or do you want to avoid her?" Matthew Kings asked. Skyler Robins looked indifferent. "I don't want to see her."

"Do you believe what you just said?" Matthew Kings pointed to the jade pendant hanging around his neck. "This jade pendant, if I remember correctly, was obtained for Shirley Wilson at the Hidden Clan Church. Is it because of her?"

Matthew Kings had never seen Skyler Robins wearing this jade pendant before. Its sudden appearance could only mean that Skyler Robins had seen Shirley Wilson before coming to the Church of Heavenly Yew.

She was packing her things, preparing to return to Bloomstead, when she received a call from Matthew Kings. She had no choice but to embark on the journey with Eleanor Gomez to find Shirley Wilson. Upon learning that Skyler Robins had become a nun, Veronica Murphy was shocked and intended to find Shirley Wilson to find a way to console Skyler Robins.

At this moment, when Veronica Murphy saw the message from Matthew Kings, she suddenly wondered if Skyler Robins' decision to become a nun was related to Shirley Wilson. "What's wrong?" Eleanor Gomez asked as she drove, noticing Veronica Murphy's serious expression.

Veronica Murphy put away her phone and sighed. "Matt said Skyler Robins saw Shirley Wilson before becoming a nun. I guess there must be some connection between them. Now that I think about it, Shirley Wilson's sudden departure might not have been as simple as we imagined."

Chapter 1329

Church of Heavenly Yew. Skyler Robins had already made up his mind and was determined not to turn back, despite his friends' attempts to persuade him.

Miguel Lynch quickly found a soft votive candle stand and sat across from Skyler Robins. "Matthew is in a difficult situation right now and really needs our help. How can you abandon us at a time like this?"

He glanced at Caleb Shaw, who stood beside him, and gave him a signal. Caleb Shaw understood and nodded. "Yes, our second brother has offended the Black Ace Mob and is facing constant retaliation. Moreover, his biological father is causing trouble, and Conrad Kings and Anthony's third brother are planning to go after him. He is in a desperate situation. As friends, can you really just turn a blind eye?" They used

Matthew Kings as a pretext to convince Skyler Robins. After speaking, both of them looked at Matthew Kings, who stood silently beside them.

Matthew Kings furrowed his brows and said to Skyler Robins, "They're right. You know, the Hidden Clan group has severely injured me, and now I'm no match for Ben. If... if you don't come back to help me soon, I'm afraid it won't be long before you can help me cross over."

He portrayed himself as pitiful, cooperating with Caleb Shaw and Miguel Lynch's earlier words.

"Yes, yes, that's the situation," Miguel Lynch nodded. Caleb Shaw sighed deeply. "Ah, just thinking about losing two friends in the future makes me feel hopeless." Losing two friends?

Miguel Lynch and Matthew Kings stared at Caleb Shaw with sharp eyes, a hint of killing intent emerging. It seemed like they were scolding him for being a jinx.

Caleb Shaw's mouth twitched, and he awkwardly rubbed the back of his head. He glanced sideways at Skyler Robins, who sat cross-legged, as if silently explaining: Don't take it seriously, I was just saying it for his sake.

Sure enough, Skyler Robins slowly lifted his gaze and looked at Matthew Kings. He tugged at the corner of his lips, as if wanting to say something.

"Second brother, I apologize." Besides "I'm sorry," he really didn't know what else to say.

"I'm sorry?"

Miguel Lynch suddenly exploded in anger and reached out to pull at the tight collar of his sweater. "I've said so much to this taciturn person just to get an apology from you? We've known each other for years, and you're just emotionally distant! Whether it's Sofia Green or Shirley Wilson, they're just women, but we're your friends. Friends are like brothers, have you ever considered our feelings?"

He became more and more agitated as he spoke, and in his anger, he kicked Skyler Robins. Matthew Kings reached out to pull Miguel Lynch away, but he was a step too late.

Skyler Robins was kicked to the ground by Miguel Lynch, but he didn't feel angry or upset. He calmly reached out and propped himself up on the cold floor, continuing to look at the scripture in his hands. "Miguel, calm down," Caleb Shaw walked over to Miguel Lynch, worried that if he didn't intervene, Miguel Lynch would beat up Skyler Robins again.

"Four buns? Four buns!?"

Suddenly, a woman's voice came from outside. Everyone looked outside and saw a group of people walking in, with a woman leading the way, running towards them. That person was Sofia Green. The three of them saw Sofia Green and their faces darkened simultaneously. Sofia Green was wearing a thick down jacket, one hand covering her abdomen, and she ran over, looking at Skyler Robins kneeling on the ground in monk's robes. She went straight to him and knelt down in front of him, embracing him tightly. "Wuwu... Skyler, why would you do this? You've become a monk, what am I supposed to do? Wuwu... What about our child?"

She never expected that Skyler Robins would want to become a monk. Why did he choose to become a monk?

Was he trying to escape their marriage?

Chapter 1330

Sofia Green was overwhelmed with frustration, hating and pitying herself for her unfortunate situation

"Let go

Skyler Robins said calmly. "This is a church, please behave appropriately."

"Sibing, you... you...." Sofia Green hesitated for a moment, loosening her grip on Skyler Robins, looking at him as if he were a stranger, "You want me to behave? I... I am your fiancée."

She cried with a sense of injustice, feeling heartbroken. At that moment, Garrick Brennan stormed in. He angrily approached Skyler Robins, grabbed his robe without saying a word, and pulled him up, "Skyler Robins, my sister....

"What are you doing!"

Garrick Brennan clenched his fist, ready to attack Skyler Robins, but Matthew Kings stepped forward and firmly held Garrick Brennan's fist, staring at him with cold eyes, "This is a church, you can't act recklessly here!"

Garrick Brennan is Sofia Green's brother. He even wasted his time pursuing Shirley Wilson in order to let Sofia Green be with Skyler Robins. However, Shirley Wilson and Skyler Robins disappeared together. And now, he finally hoped that Sofia Green would marry Skyler Robins, but unexpectedly, Skyler Robins caused trouble again and wanted a divorce. He felt like he was being driven to madness by Skyler Robins!

"Hmph, Matthew Kings, this is a family matter, it's none of your business." Garrick Brennan replied with a gloomy face. Matthew Kings's gaze remained indifferent, "Try me."

He spoke concisely, not saying much. Miguel Lynch and Caleb Shaw also approached, staring at Garrick Brennan with a warning in their eyes.

Garrick Brennan was furious, but he could only shake off Matthew Kings's hand and angrily pointed at Skyler Robins, "Are you even a man? You got my sister pregnant, and now you want to become a monk?" "Brother, shut up!"

Sofia Green shouted at him with teary eyes, then held Skyler Robins's hand, sobbing and crying, "Sibing, can we go home? Sob... both me and the child are waiting for you, Sibing, let's go home, sob... Facing Sofia Green, Skyler Robins didn't even want to look at her for a second. He slowly closed his eyes and said, "I sent you a message before I came to Yuntai Temple. The engagement is canceled, and the child... you can go to the hospital to terminate the pregnancy yourself. I'm sorry, Sofia Green!"

"Skyler Robins, are you even speaking like a human being!"

Garrick Brennan's anger surged, and he raised his fist to strike Skyler Robins. But before Skyler Robins could defend himself, he was pulled aside by Matthew Kings. "What do you think you're doing?" Being held by Matthew Kings, Garrick Brennan suppressed his anger, which was burning inside him. He punched Matthew Kings in the face in a fit of rage. He was fast, but he was no match for Matthew Kings. Matthew Kings remained calm and composed, calmly raising his left hand to hold Garrick Brennan's fist, while his right elbow struck his chest. Garrick Brennan winced in pain and took a few steps back, clutching his chest with an expression of agony.

"Stop it, both of you!"

Skyler Robins and Miguel Zephyr Robins entered and tried to intervene when they saw Matthew Kings and Garrick Brennan fighting.

Seeing Zephyr Robins enter, Garrick Brennan redirected his anger towards him. "Zephyr Robins, perfect timing. Take a look at your brother, who got Wan Yan pregnant, made a marriage proposal, and now wants to break it off. What's the matter? Do you think Wan Yan is easy to bully?"

Garrick Brennan felt sorry for Sofia Green. After all, she was his only sister, and even though they had different fathers, it didn't affect his love for her.

In public, he was a gentleman, but today, because of Skyler Robins' words and actions, he lost his composure and became an impolite and hot-tempered person.

Sofia Green's mind was solely focused on Skyler Robins. She tugged at his sleeve, unwilling to let go. "Four of Spades, can we go home? W-w... I know you don't want to get married now, and I won't force you. We don't have to get married, okay? But the child... the child is innocent. We can't end a life like this, don't you think?"
