Chapter 128 A Gift

Paige...

"Two minutes are up."

Paige hung up the phone and blocked the number. She was about to enter the laboratory when another unknown number called Paige was speechless.

Tyrell must have changed a new number and called her.

Paige hung up, blocked it, and stepped into the laboratory.

Tyrell had already expected that she would not pick up the call again. Before he called her, he had already asked someone to buy more than ten numbers. He kept calling her. If Paige Blocked the number, he would change to a different one.

Paige turned off her phone, and Tyrell was completely at his wit's end.

"What's wrong?" Lindsey saw Tyrell's defeated look and had a bad feeling. She still won't pick up your call, night?"

"Her phone is off," Tyrell sighed and glanced at Abbigail

Abbigail lowered her head and looked like she had done something wrong.

She looked pitiful.

"*... She's gone too far" Lindsey gritted her teeth She hated Paige so much. "No matter what, this matter can't be reported on the news. Otherwise, the reputation of Abbigail, and even the Tale family, will be ruined"

Tyrell thought, isn't it just 9.6 million dollars? Im the richest man in Dolton, and I can afford it easily!

Tyrell was silent for a while. He took out his phone and ordered his subordinates to sell a few mansions and a dozen shops under his name. "The buyer must pay the full amount."

Otherwise, when the bank s series of loan procedures were approved, they would not be able to get the money in three days!

"Hurry up. If it doesn't work, you can lower the price appropriately..." After Tyrell finished speaking, he looked at Lindsey and Abbigail with a dejected gaze. "After we sell these properties, we only have this apartment and a few shops left under our name."

When the *holding the tea tray beside him heard this, she was shocked. The tray in her hand fell to the ground.

"What are you doing? Lindsey noticed her sneaky look and scolded, "Do you want to scare us to death?"

I'm sorry, Mrs. Tate. I didn't manage to hold it well... The *thought to herself, why is a person who is about to go bankrupt putting on airs in front of me? No, I have to find another way out... Not long from now, the Tate family will definitely be done for

"Dad, *****, I'm sorry..." Abbigail sobbed, tears falling from her eyes, looking extremely guilty.

Tyrell sighed. Once the mansions and shops under his name were sold, he would no longer be the richest man in Dolton.

At that time, the Tate family's business would be in even more danger....

"It's all my fault." Abbigail knew how much trouble she had caused. She cried and said, "If I didn't return to this family, Dad would still be the richest man. ****would still live a life of luxury... It was me who ruined this family! I'm sorry! I'm really sorry!"

If she did not apologize, she was afraid that Tyrell would complain and kick her out.

She could tell that Tyrell was disappointed in her. Even though she was crying like this, Tyrell did not say a word to comfort her!

*****girl! You are the child of our family. You have been living outside for eighteen years and have suffered too much!"

Lindsey touched her head lovingly and said, "You didn't learn the piano before, but it's different now! You have to learn well. As long as you still want to learn piano, I'll definitely hire a tutor for you!"

Abbigail cried and shook her head. It seemed that she was saying that she did not want to learn piano anymore

Lindsey felt even more guilty "It's fine. As long as we give them 9 6 million dollars, this matter will only be known to the people at the awards ceremony It will soon be over. It won't spread....."

Abbigail nodded with a guilty look

"The examination results will be out in a few days. With your grades, it won't be a problem for you to go to a famous college!

"You can learn a lot during your four years in college. Even if you don't want to learn piano, you can study painting, fashion design, and golf. In short, you can improve your taste and become a real and talented rich lady.

"When you graduate, you can go to our family business. You will be a capable and educated woman. However, Davon..."

It was a little tricky.

Lindsey could tell that Davon was very disappointed with Abbigail today and was even dragged away by Greta...

"The marriage between the Tate family and the Elinor family may not be progressing for now..."

Abbigail knew in her heart that Davon was disappointed in her.

She was not the only one who had been humiliated today!

She bit her lower lip. No, she had to find a way to keep him, even if she had to pay the price..

In the laboratory

When Paige successfully extracted Sarolian, the surrounding experts and doctors were shocked and praised her one after another.

"Amazing..."

"We were busy for more than ten days, and you finished it in one afternoon!"

"In terms of medicine research, you are the best expert"

Paige looked at the extracted Sarolian and was somewhat dissatisfied. "It has not been completely extracted. The ingredients are not pure enough. I will come again tomorrow night"

Danica had a lot of cooking done for Paige to celebrate. Now it was dark and Paige had to go back or they would wait a long time. Hearing that Paige would come tomorrow night, several doctors and experts were excited. "Great"

"It's pretty impressive that you were able to extract some of it!"

"I thought I was going to be forced to call it a day on this project. I didn't think you'd make this much progress"

"I believe that success is just around the corner!"

Paige looked at the composition of the equipment. "You can observe it tonight and see how long it can survive the heat."

If it couldn't take the heat, it was for nothing.

"Don't worry, we will definitely follow up on this matter."

Paige got in the car and left. Not long after, she returned to *Villa. As soon as she entered the living room, she saw a brand-new diamond piano, glinting a charming light.

"Paige?" When Donald saw her, he was extremely happy. 'Come here and try this."

Patricia was extremely jealous. She had just asked the person who delivered the piano to find out that such a piano was worth at least 16 million dollars and was very valuable.

The person who delivered the piano thought that the recipient of the gift was Patricia and even flattered her. She was furious, but she couldn't do anything about it.

Paige touched the piano keys and gently pressed them with her slender fingers. The sounds were excellent. This piano must be worth a lot of money.

"Ms. Paige, I heard that you are a piano master. I wonder if we have the honor to listen to you play a song?"

"I heard that you are Ms. Walker. To be honest, I am your fan!"

"Ms. Walker, sorry, Ms. Paige, can I listen to you play a song?"

"Your piano music is particularly good. Before going to bed every night, I will listen to your piano pieces."

Paige smiled. Did her piano pieces have a hypnotic effect?
