"Mr. Lusk, please adjust your collar. And Mrs. Lusk, lower your chin a little."

"Ms. Paige, give us a big smile, OK?" Paige smiled, and the camera kept snapping.

The fireworks in the night sky became their background. The two of them held Paige's hand and smiled brightly.

"Let's change our positions." Danica exchanged positions with Donald happily

Paige had never been so close to the love of her parents. They held her lovingly as if she was their most precious treasure.

"Okay, let's go to another place."

Paige was held tightly by them, and her heart seemed to have never been so warm,

After taking a dozen or so scenes, Danica still wanted to continue.

The photographer finished taking photos in the garden and went to the living room.

But Donald smiled and said, 'Let Paige rest for a while. It has been a long time."

"In the future, when the five brothers come back, let's take some more photos. Donald lovingly gave Danica a massage. "Is there anyone? Bring some tea."

The next day, after finishing breakfast, Paige was ready to go to work. But she found that Patricia's face was very dark

It should be that Patricia knew about the photos.

At this time, Patricia was somewhat resentful. She stared at Paige and desperately endured her anger. It seemed that there was Only then did Alonso realize that one of his feet had already stepped onto the flight stairs.

"Which brand is most favored by girls now?' Hernan asked lightly. "Of course, it's PQ Fashion," Frank thought for a moment and said.

Three years ago, PQ Fashion appeared out of nowhere. Because its style was unique, and the clothes it produced were

The tall, handsome, and cold man had just stepped onto the plane when Alonso Thornton quickly caught up to the top floor. "Mr. Lusk, wait. There is a problem with the project in the city center. Can you stay for a few more days?" Herman's face was indifferent, and there was a cold vibe around him. When he heard this, his eyes froze. Frank immediately said, "Mr. Lusk is in a hurry to go home to see his sister. Because of his work, he has been delayed for more ten days. You and Trevor Kane follow up on this project. If there are any problems, report to Mr. Lusk." "Frank, you don't know..." Before Alonso finished speaking, he noticed that Frank's eyes were on his right foot. He hurriedly took a step back and bowed respectfully. "Have a nice journey. Mr. Lusk. Take care, Frank." The helicopter took off and set off a gust of wind. "Have you picked any gifts?" Hernan asked softly. "Mr. Lusk, everything is ready." Frank replied respectfully. "There are three sets in total. One is a limited-edition perfume set, one is a limited-edition lipstick set, and the other is a limited-edition skincare set." Because he was not sure which one Hernan wanted to give to his sister, Frank had prepared everything he could think of. No matter if it was perfume, lipstick, or skin care products, they were all what girls liked the most.

Hearing Amily's words, Patricia bit her lower lip and made up her mind. It was in Britain. A private helicopter rolled up a strong wind and slowly landed on the top floor of a towering office building.
