Chapter 133

Chapter 133 Solution

When Nigel heard this, he immediately choked.

“The second is how to solve this matter.”

As soon as Paige finished speaking, Deon handed over an iPad, ‘Ms. Paige, I searched online. These are Layton’s previous awarded works”

Paige glanced at them. They were all some unknown small competitions. The style of her design was not like the fresh ladylike style of Manela’s design.

“Everyone can take a look at the style of the designer. It is obvious that he plagiarized Mari’s work.” Paige placed the iPad on the conference table.

Everyone saw that and found it was true.

“His design style is more like a foreign style. It is different from Mari’s style!”

“It looks like he really copied Mari’s drawings...’

“But he is a famous designer! How could he plagiarize a junior’s works?”

“Famous?” Paige thought it was funny.

“Yes, he has won hundreds of awards over the years...”

Paige sneered, “It depends on what award he gets. For some awards, one award is worth more than a hundred. But for some, you’d better not have one.”

well,

“But Mari has not participated in any competitions. After graduation, she works in our company and devotes herself to design. How does he know her and her drawing?” Someone did not understand.

“That’s why I said that there is a mole in the company. The drawing has been leaked. The other party has gotten the drawings and produced them before us, holding the debut ahead of us.” Paige said.

“*! How dare this person do it!”

“If I find out who this mole is, I will beat him to death!”

“They must have given him a lot of benefits...”

ww

“Ms. Paige, what’s the point of you leading everyone to discuss this now?” Nigel, who was at the side, could not help but ridicule, “The most important thing is the debut tomorrow! Even if you have no way, please don’t waste time...”

“Who says

I don’t have a way? Paige raised her eyebrows, and her whole body revealed a confident vibe.

Everyone was stunned, thinking, Ms. Paige still has a way out in such a condition?

Nigel was stunned for a moment and apparently did not believe it. “Then tell me, how can you make the company not lose money. not damage the reputation, and make a profit instead?”

Everyone felt that it was impossible. More or less, there would be financial and credit losses. It was impossible to make a profit!

Nigel was just messing around!

“There is indeed a way. We can earn a profit instead of losing money and our reputation...”

Hearing Paige’s words, everyone was even more astonished. Was there really such a way?

How could Paige have such a way to help the company?

“Then tell me what it is. Don’t keep us in suspense!” Nigel did not believe that she could come up with any good ideas.

Paige stood up. Thave my own way. The meeting is dismissed!”

Everyone was stunned. Parge herself?

How could she make so many new clothes in one day?

When Paige walked out of the conference room, Deon hurried to catch up with her. “Ms. Paige, you are not trying to make fun of us, are you? is there really a way? Hundreds of malls of Daybreak Group have reserved clothes from us, and many customers have also paid in advance on the official website. We shall ship the goods tomorrow. There are also some business partners and foreign customers. If we can’t take out the clothes...”

“Who said I can’t ship them out?” Paige looked at him and slightly smiled, “The debut will be held as usual!”

She already knew in her heart that this matter had something to do with Nigel!

She was confident that she could find out the evidence today!

“Ms. Paige... Do you really have a way? They are 110 thousand new products...”

‘It’s not like we have to sell them all at once. Don’t panic.”

Paige raised her eyebrows. The hope that Deon had finally ignited was extinguished.

Deon thought Paige was just teasing him...

Tomorrow, it would be over!

Just as Paige was about to enter the office, she saw Mariela standing at the door, looking as if she had been wronged but still trying to face reality

“Ms. Paige, L.

“Come in,” Paige knew why she was here.

Mariela followed in her footsteps and closed the office door. She wiped her tears and said, “Ms. Paige! It wasn’t me. I didn’t copy Layton’s work! Before this, I didn’t know who Layton was! The 23 new products were all designed by myself! I swear!”

“I believe you.”

Mariela was stunned. She didn’t even finish speaking, thinking, Ms Paige believe me?

“I believe in you, and I believe in your character even more.” Paige said gently, “Have a seat.”

Only then did Mariela pull out the chair, “Ms. Paige, before I designed these drawings, I saw many of Master Quinn’s works, and after your guidance, I designed these styles....

Mariela could guarantee that these styles were unique and would not have any similarities with any works.

“Now think about it carefully. Who have you shown these works to?”

Mariela thought for a moment and said, “Everyone in the Design Department has seen them because Mr. Gardner has projected all the drawings in the department and asked everyone to vote for them. My drawings are ranked very high, so they all get chosen.”

“That is to say, everyone in the Design Department has seen your works...” Paige’s slender fingers tapped the table a few times.

Mariela thought for a while and said hurriedly, “Oh, right! Before I showed Mr. Gardner the drawings, I took them to you... That day happened to be my father’s anniversary, so I was deeply impressed!”

Paige remembered that day. Mariela came to her to show her the drawings with red eyes. Paige asked why her eyes were red, and Mariela said it was because her father’s grave had been dumped with trash.

Later, Mariela was worried about her mother, so she asked for a temporary leave. Paige just happened to have a partner to see, so she asked Deon to drive.

“The drafts were placed on the desk at that time. After I dealt with my business, I made some changes to them and brought them to you. I remember that the one you put on the top was a pink dress?”

“No, no.” Mariela recalled and was very sure, “The first one is a pure ***dress. Because I am most satisfied with that dress, I put it on the top...”

“A ***dress?” Paige recalled, “The last one I saw was a ***dress.”

They suddenly realized something.

“Someone must have come in at that time.”

Mariela was shocked, thinking, someone dares to come into the president’s office without permission?

“Doesn’t that mean we’ll know the person once we check the CCTV?” Mariela suddenly had hope.

But Paige said lightly, “He entered and saw the drawings, or maybe he left with them. There are only two possibilities if he can swagger out of the office. One is to turn off the surveillance camera, and the other is to delete the surveillance footage.
