Chapter 151

Chapter 151 Herman Found Paige

Paige did not talk nonsense with Olivia She took out her phone and called Patricia directly. The speaker was turned on

When Paige returned to the Lusk family for the first time, Patricia insisted Paige save her phone numbers in front of their parents

Patricia said Paige and she could go to the spa and have teatime together someday

Paige did not want to act like having a good relationship with Patricia. However, in order not to make things difficult for their parents, Paige saved Patricia's number and never called her

After a while, the phone was connected.

"My dear sister, Paige?"

Patricia answered the phone with a sweet voice. How she called Paige made Olivia shocked

Why does Patricia call the sister?

Olivia wondered, what happened?

Are they really relatives? "Do you know who I am?" Paige's voice sounded a little unhappy.

"Aren't you Paige?" Patricia was puzzled. Patricia was at home. She pretended to be a nice person in front of her parents.

Patricia asked, "Paige, aren't you in the competition today? Is there something I can help you with?"

Donald and Danica were next to Patricia. They asked Patricia to turn on the speaker and told Patricia to ask Paige if she had forgotten to bring the registration information or ID card. Or if there was something urgent, they could help.

Patricia turned on the speaker hurriedly. She wanted to perform well in front of her parents.

"Let me ask you, whose fiancé is Martin?"

Patricia didn't know what was going on.

Donald and Danica did not understand why Paige asked this question so suddenly before the competition.

The sudden question stunned Patricia. Patricia wondered why Paige called her to ask this question.

"Can you answer me?"

Although Patricia did not know what Paige was up to, Patricia still showed her gentleness and cuteness in front of her parents.

Paige's question pulled Patricia's thoughts back.

Beep...

Paige hung up the phone and looked at Olivia as if she was looking at an . It seemed that Paige was laughing at Olivia who was being used Olivia seemed to be struck by lightning and she froze in place. Olivia couldn't believe what Patricia just said.

"Martin is your fiancé. Of course, he is my brother-in-law."

Why did she say Martin is her brother-in-law?

What is going on?

Olivia wondered, how could Patricia call Paige sister?

It was clearly Patricia's voice just now.

In *Villa....

Patricia was baffled. She did not understand why Paige hung up the phone suddenly. When Patricia called Paige again, no one

"Patricia, what's going on? Paige sounds unhappy"

"*and Dad, please don't misunderstand. Nothing happened between me and Martin," Patricia was also confused. She explained huredly. "I don't know why Paige was in a bad mood suddenly. And I don't know why she even asked me this question.

Dont worry, I will send her a message later."

What happened between Martin and you?"

"The competition is about to start. Don't disturb Paige and let her concentrate on the competition," Danica said, but she felt that there was something wrong. Danica thought it was necessary to wait for Paige to come back and ask her clearly.

"Okay." Patricia suppressed her uneasiness temporarily. She had no idea what Paige was doing. If Patricia knew that Paige would ask this weird question, she wouldn't have turned on the speaker.

At this *, the competition bell rang.

*The competitors from No.1 to No.20, please get ready to go on stage!"

Hearing the staff's words, the competitors who were in Lounge A were ready to go on stage. They all looked nervous.

The male host in a suit walked up to the big stage.

"There are many people watching you when you're doing live broadcast. Now there are only two hundred audiences. How could you be so nervous?" Paige said while she was playing games.

Many designers' faces turned pale with fear.

"What should I do? What's the use of being nervous?" Paige asked casually. Mariela shook her head.

"Since it is useless to be nervous and it will affect your performance, why don't you adjust your attitude and face it bravely?"

Mariela thought, how can Paige still have the mood to play games on her phone?

They wondered why Paige had such a clear mind even though she was pretty young. "Today, there are 120 designers in the competition. Now, I will announce the rules of the first round. Every 20 designers will be

The competitors were nervous. "There are 120 competitors in total. In the end, only 30 can enter the second round. Three-quarters of them were cut off!"

The surrounding designers heard Paige's words. They realized what Paige said made sense.

"I heard that the designer who changed the design on the live broadcast that day, Mariela Robins, is also today.

"Isn't that too terrifying?"

"What? Is that so? I really like her. What number is she?" "I don't know either."

The host announced with a smile, "Now, let's invite the first group of competitors to the stage with the warmest applause."

There were 20 designers and 20 assistants in the first group. Hernan glanced at the designers, but none of them looked like

Stanley looked confused and asked, "Paige? I have never heard of her. Mr. Lusk, do you know her? Wait a minute, let me check

"I heard that a few famous private designers are in the competition today. I wonder what kind of designs they will bring."

Paige. "What is Paige's number?" Hernan asked the person beside him in a low voice.

"Let me have a look." Hernan took the documents and scanned the designer list first. Hernan couldn't find Paige's name and wondered if Paige was an assistant.

Hernan, who was the judge of the competition, was looking at the big screen with a straight face.

Stanley looked through all the documents, but he could not find Paige's name on the list.

Hernan checked the name list again. And he found that Paige was No.16.

Hernan looked up immediately. He made contact with Paige, who had a beautiful and outstanding face on the stage.
