Chapter 165

Chapter 165 |

Stry

Heman was surprised

He didn't expect that the pink diamond that he wanted to give to Paige would be sent by Martin First

Til go meet him "

Heman had just left the main hall, even without walking out of the door. Then he saw Martin holding Paiges face and saying something affectionately from afar

His eyes were filled with displeasure, then he quickened his pace. But the two had already gotten into the car and left before Hernan approached.

In Daybreak Clothing

When Deon saw Paige, he immediately stepped forward and said, 'Ms. Paige, you are finally here! So many orders! A lot of people want the clothes designed by Mariela at the competition. There are also some manufacturers who want to order thousands or tens of thousands of the clothes at once!"

"Then what are you waiting for? Carve out a production line to increase production."

As those clothes were designed by Mariela and the copyright was in their company, they could produce the clothes at will. "Also, the clothes that Mariela had designed in the past were sold out in all the major shopping malls. They are all out of stock! Should we take the opportunity to produce more?"

Deon used his hand to block the elevator door. After Paige entered, he reached out and pressed the highest floor

"Of course." Paige made a prompt decision and said, "Let Mari come up with some new clothes. Strike while the iron is hot. Tell the company's official website and online store to set up a special column for Mari. In addition, the headquarters said that they would give Mari ten times her monthly salary. Confirm it with them right now. Make sure Mari can get it from next month."

"Ten, ten times... Deon opened his eyes wide. Mariela's salary was 1,500 dollars at present. Ten times was 15 thousand dollars?"

This was too much!

"She won the national championship. 15 thousand dollars is nothing."

At the competition venue that day, someone offered 20 thousand dollars and even 25 thousand dollars for Mariela to come to their company.

But Mariela did not agree.

"Oh, right, Ms. Paige. In the morning, a customer asked us if we authorized other shops to sell the new products designed by Mariela for this season."

The elevator doors opened with a ding. Deon followed Paige and reported as they walked.

"Because the design style is very similar. The packaging box is exactly the same as ours in the past. It also has the trademark of our company, but the price is much lower than our previous price.

"At present, the shop has sold thousands of new products, but those new products are not from Mariela.

"I am worried that these products would implicate our company and affect Mariela's reputation.

"What do you think..."

Paige pushed open the door of her office and said, "It's nothing. Ask some trusted employees to pretend to be customers, and order in their shop. Then you will know their delivery address and mobile phone number. Then call the police, and leave the rest to the police.*

Paige wouldn't investigate this kind of trifle personally. Anyway, with the basic information, the police could fix it.

"Yes, I will do it right away!"

After a while, Paige's mobile phone rang

"Boss, big news! David has revealed the scandal of his family to the media reporters."

"What scandal?" Paige sat in her office chair and turned on the computer

"David said that many years ago, after his uncle John got into a car accident, his family robbed John's company and ***Evelyn and Mariela out of the house."

"They have done all kinds of evil. On the anniversary of John's death, David and Jessie splashed oil on his grave and threw *to ***Evelyn and Mariela. After that, their family of four had a high fever and bad luck."

"He also said that he dreamed of John every night. In his dream, John became a fierce ghost and pestered them without peace. His parents and Jessie could not bear to be disturbed. They were ***weak and chose to commit suicide. He was the only one left Therefore, he decided to give the company and the house back to Mariela to beg for the forgiveness of John."

Paige raised her eyebrows. "Who believes this kind of news?"

'So many people. Everyone says that David and his family have suffered retribution and they deserve it! At the same time, the public opinions are all on Mariela's side. They say Mariela is such a strong girl as she could study hard in such an environment and win the championship. They all praise and support her!"

Paige knew that this news should be related to Herman. Yesterday, Hernan gave the Robins family time to give back the things they robbed to the original owner.

It should be Dow

I who came up with the idea himself. It was not forced by Hernan..

But the cause of death of Ernesto, his wife, and Jessie was definitely not as simple as suicide!

"I have checked. Ernesto, his wife, Jessie, and the 22 gangsters who attacked you that night suddenly disappeared from this world. There is no news about them."

There was only one person in the world who could do this.

Jairo and Paige thought of the same person at the same time: Martin.

Paige remembered last night, Martin said that he was in an emergency temporarily. Did he go out for her?

As she thought of this, her eyes deepened a little.

The Design Department.

Many people surrounded Mariela and chatted non-stop.

"Mari, you actually won the National Championship. You're amazing!"

"You're the pride of our company!"

"You're the daughter of the Robins family? You never told us before! You hid too deeply!"

"You are the owner of the Robins family's garment company, right?"

"I didn't expect Jessie and the others to be so bad. They stole all your property and even bullied you! Fortunately, your father helped you in their dreams! Otherwise, this group of heartless people would ***you for a long time. I can't imagine how much pain you will suffer!"

Mariela knew that it was not her father, but Paige and Heman helped her. Thus, she had profound gratitude for them.

"Mari, what do you plan to do next?"

"You are the national champion, and Ernesto has returned the company to you. Have you ever thought about operating the company alone?"

"Take over the company and establish your own brand."

"Mari, don't forget me when you are successful in the future!"

"If one day Ms. Paige fires me, you have to take me in!"

Mariela looked at the colleagues around her and smiled, "I have this day because of Ms. Paige's guidance and help. I will not leave here. My current ability is not enough to manage a company, so I will stay and learn more from Ms. Paige."

"What about your company?" everyone asked.

"Those experienced seniors would run the company. If there is any problem, I will ask Ms. Paige." Mariela checked the time.

"Alright, I won't talk to you anymore. I am going to find Ms. Paige."

Mariela took the elevator to the twentieth floor and knocked on the office door.

"Ms. Paige, it's me."

"Come in."

Mariela pushed open the door and returned the key to Paige with a smile. "Ms. Paige, David has just given back my house. Thank you. for renting the house to me!"

Paige raised her eyebrows. She was surprised that Mariela knew this.
