Chapter 167

Chapter 167 Only a Few Days Is Left

Two days later.

Parge and Martin returned to the Riverside Villa to visit Killian. They heard that Rosa had moved back

In the past, Killian was in poor health and often had to stay in the hospital. He could not even take care of himself, and Rosa was thus sent to an advanced sanatorium. There were professional doctors and nurses looking after her 24 hours a day and working hard for her treatment.

Those famous doctors had spent all their efforts but to no avail. Killian recovered, so he brought Rosa back and took care of her in person

Neil held a bowl of the decoction in his hand. “Mr. Stowe, take the medicine.”

“Take it away!” Killian frowned and said with disgust, “Paige will come later. If my carries the bitter taste, how can I talk to her?”

At that moment, a reported loudly, “Mr. Killian, Mr. Martin and Ms. Paige are here!”

Seeing Martin holding Paige’s hand and walking into the courtyard, Killian was suddenly in high spirits “Paige, you finally came to see me!”

He ignored the tall and handsome Martin next to Paige.

“Killian,” Paige smiled. She saw Neil and also greeted him politely. “Neil, is the decoction ready?”

“Yes, Ms. Paige, Neil smiled respectfully. He thought, Mr. Killian, I’ll wait and see what you can do next

Paige took the bowl and brought it to Killian, “Killian, you have to drink it while it is warm. You look more spirited than before.”

“That’s right. It’s all because of your superb medical skills. I feel refreshed every day when I get up! I was about to drink it, but Neil was talking nonsense just now. I forgot about it for a moment.”

Killian took the bowl hurriedly and defended himself, “I am obedient every day.”

The were all shocked.

Killian found various excuses and refused to take medicine every day.

However, he actually pretended to be obedient in front of Paige!

Killian asked overbearingly after taking the medicine, “Why is there only half a bowl today? Are there any more in the kitchen?”

Neil held back his laughter. “Half a bowl is enough. Mr. Killian, I will go get some sugar and snacks for you. You can chat with Mr. Martin and Ms. Paige for a while.”

“Go.” Killian Neil away and said warmly, “Paige, come to me quickly. Have you been busy lately?”

“No,” Paige said as she sat down.

“Did this brat you? If he did, I would help you vent your anger.”

“He is quite good.” Paige glanced at Martin. From the time they met until now, he had been taking care of her.

“Really?” Killian was not convinced. “If he doesn’t do something well, you have to tell me. I will support you.”

Killian looked at Martin. “You have to treat Paige better. Be careful not to be defeated by a young man who is more outstanding than you. It’ll be too late to regret it!”

“Paige likes a matured one.” Martin sat down and asked softly, “Where’s Grandma?*

“She was just basking in the sun. The took her to change clothes. Why hasn’t she come yet?”

Neil served tea and snacks.

“Go bring Rosa över

Nel pushed Rosa out of the inner room.

Rosa was dressed well and sitting in a wheelchair. She looked kind and elegant

It could be seen that she was taken care of very well. Her hair was neatly combed, her fingernails had been carefully trimmed, and her clothes were her favorite style.

If she could move and speak, she must be a kind and gentle old lady.

“Rosa, Paige, our granddaughter-in-law, has come to see you,” Killian took Rosa’s hand and introduced Paige to her with a smile. “I have often mentioned Paige to you. How is she? Is she beautiful? Not only is she beautiful, but she also can play the piano and save people. Martin is really lucky to date such an excellent girl like Paige.”

Killian added in his heart, I heard that Paige is also Vallorie Walker, the piano master

Paige looked at Rosa and said gently, “Hello, Rosa. My name is Paige. I am happy to see you.

She touched the necklace on her neck and said, “Thank you for the gift. I like it very much.”

She took out another gift. “This is for you.”

“What is this?” Killian took it and opened it. It was a beautiful jade bracelet.

Last time, Paige bid for a piece of jade for Cassie and designed two bracelets. One was for Cassie as a birthday present, and the other was for Rosa as a greeting gift.

“The jade is quite good, and the design is unique Thank you, Paige You are so generous.” Killian took the bracelet in front of Rosa and said, “How beautiful it is! I will put it on for you.

He put the bracelet on Rosa’s wrist. “If Rosa can move, she will hold you excitedly at this time.

Unfortunately, no one could treat her illness.

Although she could blink and breathe, she was almost the same as a vegetable

Martin did not know when Paige had prepared such an expensive jade bracelet as a gift for Rosa. He was moved and also felt sorry for her generosity.

In the past, some rich young ladies came to Killian in the name of visiting Rosa and only bought things to please Killian. They thought subconsciously that a vegetative person did not need any gifts.

Even if they prepared a gift, it would be a waste.

On the contrary, Paige regarded Rosa as a living person and treated her with respect.

This was the difference between Paige and others.

Paige held Rosa’s wrist. “Rosa, when you are better, let’s go out and enjoy ourselves. We can go shopping or go on a trip to see the outside world together.”

Killian heard Paige’s words, and his eyes turned wet. He looked away and held back the tears in his eyes..

Martin reached out and patted Killian’s back as if he was comforting Killian.

Paige finished checking on Rosa and was clear about Rosa’s overall condition. “I believe that you will be better soon.”

As Martin had said before, Rosa really had brain damage.

A long time ago, Paige had treated a patient who had also become a vegetable because of brain damage.

Although the patient was finally cured, he needed various medicinal herbs. Some of them were rare, and some were in the Triangle harder it was a dangerous place, and if someone went there, they might not be able to come back alive.

The difference between Rosa and the previous patient was that her life would end a few days later.

Paige discovered it when she checked Rosa’s condition just now.

However, Paige did not say it. She planned to go back and think of a way.

If she said it out loud, Killian and Martin would be anxious..

On the way back to the Villa, Martin asked in a soft voice, “What’s the problem?”
