Chapter 168

Chapter 168 Triangle Area

Paige was surprised

Martin noticed that she was feeling Rosa's pulse just now!

"Grandma really has brain damage. It is difficult to recover," Paige did not hide anything and said truthfully

Martin did not expect Parge to figure it out by only feeling Rosas pulse. Her medical skills must be much more outstanding than many famous doctors.

Paige knew that if she wanted to cure Rosa's illness, forty-nine herbs were needed,

These herbs were hard to find, and one of them, named Heavenly Ginseng, was even rarer.

It had once appeared in the Triangle Area, but that place was too dangerous.

Even if Paige had her force over there, she would not break into that area casually.

What was more, she did not know if there were any Heavenly Ginseng.

At night.

Paige got someone to find a lot of herbs that had similar effects to the Heavenly Ginseng. She tested them for a long time but failed. It seemed that she had to make a trip to the Triangle Area tomorrow.

In the Riverside Villa...

Killian called Martin and said, "Martin, your grandmother's breathing today is different from before. Just now, I asked the to measure her blood pressure and found that it dropped a lot. I don't know if her condition has improved or worsened..."

"I'll ask Mr. Williamson to take a look," Martin heard the anxiety in Killian's words.

Todd's medical skills were well-known at home and abroad, and he happened to be in Chicago recently.

'Don't panic. I will go back later."

"Okay, come back quickly."

"OK."

Martin finished his work in the company and rushed back to the Riverside Villa. Todd had just finished taking Rosa's pulse.

He sighed and said helplessly, "This is the omen of a vegetative person dying. In other words, not much time is left for Mrs. Stowe." Killian suddenly fainted after hearing the bad

"Mr. Stowe? Mr. Stowe! Dr. Williamson, please save Mr. Stowe! Neil was frightened.

Todd checked Killian and said, "He's fine. He just got a little stimulated. Send him back to his room to rest."

"Mr. Williamson, is there any other way?" Martin asked in a deep voice.

Rosa was the backbone of the Stowe family. If Rosa died, Killian would most likely give up on himself...

Rosa was especially important to Killian,

It could be said that she was more important than Killian's own life.

it is unrealistic!" Todd said, 'A medicinal herb called Heavenly Ginseng may be effective, but it is rare. Many

"There is a way, but doctors have never heard of it in their lives, let alone seen it. It is difficult to find it."

In the world, few people knew what it looked like.

"Is this medicinal herb helpful to Grandma's illness?" Martin asked seriously.

"Yes. But your grandmother might not be able to wait any longer Todd took a sip of tes. He stood up and said, Tm sorry for being unable to do anything. If be leaving

"Send Mr. Williamson off," Martin instructed

A stepped forward and gave Todd a blank check. Todd waved his hand and refused, "I didn't help anything at all if i check, I will feel uneasy. By the way, you can try to look for Skylar. Perhaps he will have a way

"We have been sending people to inquire about Skylar's whereabouts for the past half year, but there is no news of him," Martin said truthfully.

Todd shrugged. "Then I have no more advice."

Martin cast a glance at the *. The caught up to Todd and insisted on giving him the check.

"Your advice is a great help to the Stowe family!"

Todd had no choice but to accept the check. He planned to write a small number on it.

Martin took out his phone and made a call. "Find out where there is Heavenly Ginseng

"Mr. Stowe, why are you looking for it?" Rhys was confused.

"Grandma needs it," Martin said, his eyes darkening

Rhys immediately sent someone to inquire about it.

The next morning, he called Martin and said, "Mr. Stowe, there's finally news. The Heavenly Ginseng once appeared in the Triangle Area, but that place is very dangerous. Although we have power over there, it's better not to take the risk."

Martin's eyes darkened. The Triangle Area?

"Mr. Stowe, what if the Heavenly Ginseng is just a legend? Why don't we look for some other herbs that can replace it?"

*There is no time.

"I don't know w how I

Grandma's life.

long it will take if we try it one by one. It is better to find the Heavenly Ginseng directly. At least it can save

"Arrange to go to the Triangle Area."

"What?" Rhys never expected that Martin would indeed plan to go to that place. "Is there any change to Mrs. Stowe's illness?"

"Yes. Only a few days are left."

Rhys finally understood why Martin wanted to go to the Triangle Area.

While sending Paige to work, Martin found that the wound on her right wrist was getting worse. He felt distressed and asked, "What happened?"

The ointment he applied to her every day was the best one in the world, and it was impossible for it to have no effect at all,

"Have you overused your hands recently? Playing the piano or drawing?"

Paige retracted her hand and said disapprovingly, "I'm just a little busy at work."

In fact, she had been in the Knapcoll Villa last night testing the medicine to save Rosa. She had been working all night and indeed overused her hands.

"Don't be busy anymore." Martin felt pity for her. "I have something urgent to do and have to go abroad. When I come back, I want to see your hand get better."

"Okay." Paige did not know Martin's plan to go abroad. Originally, she was still thinking about what excuse she should find to go to the Triangle Area...

Now, there was a good opportunity.

"Don't worry, I will take good care of myself."

Looking at Paige's expression, Martin raised his eyebrows and said, "I feel that you are a little happy."

He was going to leave, but Paige was actually a little happy.

Was it his illusion?

"You are wrong." Paige said calmly, "I am not happy.

Was that so?

The corners of her lips had clearly curled up just now.

When they arrived at the company, Martin packed up the ointments and handed them to Paige. "It's the same as before. Use this one first, and use this one after it. Twice a day. Don't touch water."

"Got it."

Martin hugged her for a while. He then lowered his head and kissed her for a long time before letting go of her, "Wait for me to come back."

"OK." Paige got off the car and waited for his car to drive far away. She took out her mobile phone and said, "Pick me up at the coffee shop next to the Daybreak Clothing."

"Okay, Boss."

"Prepare a private plane in the Knapcoll Villa. I want to go to the Triangle Area.

"Triangle Area?" The person on the other side of the line was stunned. "Boss, you are finally going to help us teach those a lesson? That's great!"

He thought happily, with Boss there, no one dares to be presumptuous!

They have never seen Boss' power. If they did, they would probably be scared to have a heart attack...
